Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

Many of our fine citizens firmly believe in voting for the man rather than the party. This is a very fine procedure in small groups such as clubs, where there is no party system. However it does not work well in a two party governmental system designed as our United States system is. Our system depends on responsible government. I will try to show you that voting for the man not the party will not give you responsible government.

Our system is designed so that if the official does not do what is expected of him, the public can vote him out at the next election. We fix responsibility on him for his actions during his term of office and make him answer to his record at the polls. The point now begins to become apparent. Governmental officials such as a governor cannot accomplish what they want to without the cooperation of other officials or agencies like a congress. A Republican governor and a Democrat congress will spend their time pulling against each other with not nearly enough attention paid to good government. Thus neither one can be judged at the polls because it is difficult to judge which one is responsible for what.

Therefore, the only way to get responsible government is to give officials people of their party to work with so that the bickering of politics does not destroy good government. This way, there can be no excuses and judgment at the polls is fair and accurate.

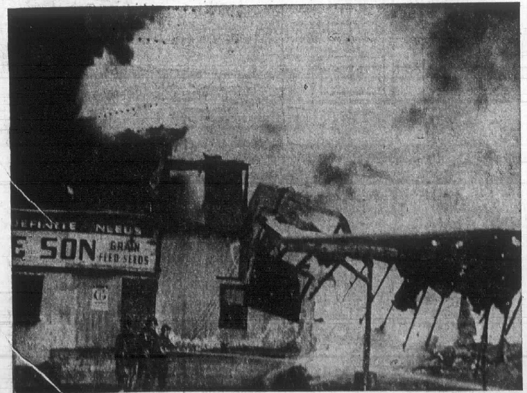
These two local members of the CAP were among the members throughout the State called to aid in rescue operations at the recent disaster when the Consumers Power building collapsed in Jackson. Both of these men served as radio operators for the hospitals. There job was to notify a hospital so it could be readied if survivors were found.

The Britton Elevator Burned Sunday A. M.



The J. J. Walper and Son grain and feed store and elevator in Britton burned to the ground Sunday in the areas worst fire in years. An estimated 80,000 bushels of grain in storage was destroyed. Elevator manager William Mukensturm stated the damage at approximately $750,000. Only a grain dryer and two silos were saved.

The Tecumseh fire department was one of the 17 fire departments from Lenawee and Monroe Counties who helped the Britton force fight the blaze. They were called at 2 a.m. Sunday morning. The eight firemen who went to Britton battled the fire for 5 hours. Three firemen stayed at the Tecumseh station and 6 others were on call. The pump truck and tank wagon were taken to Britton.

YANKS BEAT DODGERS

After tying three games each, The New York Yankees beat the Brooklyn Dodgers yesterday to end the series and take the pennant.

A Dundee Man Finds Old Herald

Mr. R. T. McMullen, of Dundee, was kind enough to bring us a very old copy of the Herald. The copy is a November 3, 1881 issue. Along with this copy of the Herald, is a 1872 copy of the Raisin Valley Record.

Several things of interest can be noted by the old copy of the Herald. One interesting thing is the fact that the advertising rate was the same then as it is now despite the difference in the value of the dollar and quality of the Herald between that time and now.

At that time, the Herald was owned by the Stacy Brothers. It was published every Thursday evening. The particular issue brought in by Mr. McMullen was 8 pages.

3400 Registered In Tecumseh

City Clerk, Naomi Sallows, reports that registrations totaled 401 more than last years. This makes the total registration approximately 3400 people. There were 26 cancellations this year.

Tecumseh Township Clerk, Al Merz, reports that township registrations total 305. This is 49 more than the 256 registered for the last election.

These increased figures show that this years campaign to register has paid some dividends. However there is plenty of room left for improvement. Voting is not only a privilege but is also is a responsibility. Remember, only those who vote can justly complain about the quality of the government.

Please Address Mail Carefully

Postmaster Jack Metcalf has announced that, due to the approaching holiday season, all mail should carry street and number addresses. Only if this is done can fast and efficient service be accomplished due to the increase in mail, substitute carriers etc.

Polio Rate Seen Half of 1955's

There were 655 new polio cases reported by 47 states last week. No report was received from Rhode Island.

The total is 110 less than all the states reported in the week ended Sept. 22. A Public Health Service spokesman said indications are that the 1956 total of cases will be about half the 1955 number.

The Tecumseh Indians squelched all doubt of their superiority last Friday afternoon when they mauled an overrated Cranbrook team, 35-0. Since the Indians had never played Cranbrook Boys' School before, there was some question as to how Tecumseh would fare in the contest scheduled to be played on the Cranbrook gridiron. Some sportswriters even went so far as to rate Cranbrook over the Indians by ten pooints. However, Tecumseh did the unpredictable by turning the game iinto a complete rout, tallying five touchdowns, three extra points, and a safety during the contest. Cranbrook was unable to score at all throughout the game.

The Indians scored their first touchdown the first time they got their hands on the ball. Taking a Cranbrook punt early in the first quarter, Bill Hansen romped for 45 yds. deep into Cranbrook territory.

A few plays later, Ray Larned scored from the 4 yd. line. Larned missed the extra point, so the score remained at 6-0. Tecumseh scored again later on in the first period when Al Dickinson, taking the pigskin on the Cranbrook 40, skirted right end in one of the most spectacular runs of the afternoon for a touchdown, making it 12-0. Larned again failed to convert.

Right end Lee Marsh accounted for the Indians' only touchdown in the second quarter ,scoring on a pass thrown by Hansen. The play covered 33 yards. Larned booted the extra point, making it 19-0. There was on more scoring in the first half.

In the third quarter, the Tecumseh gridders added nine points to their score to give them a total of 28 to Cranbrooks none.

Larned was responsible for two of these nine by tackling a Cranbrook back, behind the goal line for a safety. Toward the end of the third period, Hansen connected on another pass to Marsh, who scored his second touchdown of the afternoon. This play originated on the Cranbrook 7. Larned kicked the extra point.

In the last period, Tecumseh scored one last touchdown. Hansen once again connected on a pass, this time to left end Bob O'Neil, in a play which covered 19 yards. Larned again split the uprights to make the final score 35-0, Tecumseh.

During the game, Tecumseh ground out 10 first downs while Cranbrook made only two. The Indians' opponents never penetrated Tecumseh territory beyond the Tecumseh 32 yard line. Almost the entire contest was played on the Cranbrook end of the field. No doubt, this was partly due to the fact that a number of Cranbrook's varsity players were ineligible for the game.

Hansen, with a substantial lead, was able to try out his passing arm. He completed six out of ten passes thrown, three of these for touchdowns. This could be a very effective weapon against future opponents.

Twenty-three of the Indians' 35 points were scored by Larned and Marsh. Marsh made 12 points on two touchdown passes he caught while Larned accounted for 11 points with one touchdown, three extra points, and a safety. Coach Breniff and his coaching staff awarded these two players the priv-

The Tecumseh Cam Twisters would like to thank the Tecumseh Products Company for the use of the airport. It is a fine act to donate these fine facilities to get drag racing off the streets and turn it into safe, organized, competitive activity. Some of the others who have given support and deserve thanks are: Collins Funeral Home, Butler Motor Sales, John's Gulf Service, Easton's Friendly Service, The Tecumseh Herald, The Tecumseh Police Department, The Michigan State Police and the Lenawee County Sheriffs Department.

This was the last race of the season, but there will be a Rod and Custom Show October 25 through the 28th. Watch the Herald for further announcements.

Study Committee To Make Public Suggestion Survey

The Tecumseh Area Study Committee is making a survey to ask residents here what they think is needed most to make the city a better place. Answers from the survey will be used by the group in accomplishing its objective of making Tecumseh a better city.

Tecumseh residents will be receiving post cards with the following wording inscribed on them: "We think Tecumseh is a wonderful City in which to live! What, in your opinion, is needed to make it better?" They are to tear off this half and send the other half back with their comment on it.

This study is being sponsored by the Tecumseh Chamber of Commerce, the Tecumseh Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Tecumseh Exchange Club, the Tecumseh Rotary Club and the Tecumseh Kiwanis Club. Its only objective is to help create constructive community thinking with the end result of providing community action to make Tecumseh an even more progressive community.

Your help is needed. It is difficult to make improvements if you, the public, do not make known what you would consider improvements. Please fill out the card when you receive it and return it as quickly as possible.

Letter to the Editor

FAREWELL OLD SCRATCH

(NOTE: The old steel Post Office pen has now been replaced with a Ball-point.)

Post Office pen, I don't know when
I've been so disappointed—
That you should fall to brother Ball,
Relinquishing your time-kissed thrall
To him, machine-annointed!

With you, my sweet, 'was joy complete
To wander to your shelf;
To ponder; dip you deep in ink;
Regale you with a lusty drink;
Then watch you shake yourself.

Despite your age, each eager page
Across which I would shepherd
Your blithesomeness, was soon a mess.
Besprinkled and interpretless,
You left it like a leopard.

Farewell old Scratch. No more you'll ratch
Your way through my addresses.
This docile sphere will be the gear
That, spineless, glides from there to here.
It irks me. It depresses.

Synthetics Are Not Like Cotton

The introduction of the many new blends of synthetic and natural fibers into the washable textile field can cause housewives many headaches.

Laundering and textile technicians at American Institute of Laundering, research and educational center for the professional laundry industry, point out that cottons have set the pace for housewives on maintenance procedures. Many housewives tend to treat all garments as though they were cotton. This will result in trouble both in washing and finishing.

For example, a great number of cotton-nylon blends are used in washables today. If such a garment is dried in an automatic drier, the fabric may have wrinkles set in it by the spinner. If the garment is ironed with a cotton setting, the nylon in the blend can be damaged by heat.

As a general rule, A.I.L. authorities advise handling according to the capabilities of the synthetic in a blend. This means that if a nylon is in the blend, the temperature of the washing water should be less hot than if the garment was 100% cotton. It also means that the synthetic setting should be used during ironing.

Two Calls For Fire Department

The Tecumseh Fire Department was called October 4 to the John Bolden home at 519 N. Evans Stret. An electric clothes dryer was the cause for the alarm. There was some smoke damage.

October 6 a call was answered at the Thomas Jacoby place on Bidwell Street. A hot washing machine motor was the cause of the alarm.

Polio Vaccine Available For Everyone

All Michigan residents through the age of 20 years and pregnant women should be immunized immediately against polio, Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissoiner, recommended today.

"Sufficient quantities of polio vaccine are now available through regular commercial sources so that everyone who wants the shots can obtain them," Dr. Heustis said.

Vaccination of all persons up to 20 in addition to pregnant women would provide protection for more than 75 per cent of the people who are susceptible to paralytic polio, Dr. Heustis said.

"As the younger age group becomes immunized, health officials probably will issue revised recommendations on the basis of their experience with polio in the future," Dr. Heustis said.

So far this year there have been three polio deaths in Michigan. The first two were those of a 16-year-old girl in February and a 39-year-old man in July. Neither had received polio vaccine. The third death was that of a 9-year-old boy early in September. He had received two doses of the vaccine.

He said the polio caseload so far this year indicates the number of polio deaths in Michigan in 1956 will show a sharp drop under 1955, when there were 31 polio deaths. Deaths in other recent years have been: 1954—89; 1953—108; 1952—213.

Although polio vaccine can now be purchased by physicians through regular drug outlets, state-supplied vaccine will continue to be made available through local health departments and physicians' offices for children of ages 1-14 and for pregnant women. Persons in these categories are most susceptible to the disease.

There are an estimated 2,000,000 persons in the high-risk group in Michigan, and an estimated 1,500,000 of them have received at least two doses of the vaccine.

Dr. Heustis said it would not be possible to draw definite conclusions about the influence of polio vaccine on reducing the number of paralytic polio cases or reducing deaths from polio until after the polio "season" ends in late October or early November.

Baptist Society Met Monday

The Baptist Women's Society met in the Youth House Monday night with Mrs. Clifford Curran presiding, Mrs. Lula McConnell presented devotions and Mrs. Earl Wood gave a very informative review of "Hoffman's Mission, U. S. A." A lovely gift of $16.96 was received and another $200.00 paid on the building fund pledge. $5.00 was voted to the Ladies Association, and $10.00 to CROP. Rummage sale dates were set for Oct. 25, 26, and 27.

Thanks were given to the chairman of the Fair project and all who helped in any way to make it a huge success. A special thanks to Girl Scout Holly Troop No. 16 and their leader, Mrs. Robert Smith and co-leader Mrs. Charles Beland for their fine help through each dinner hour of the fair. The troop is sponsored by the Women's Society of the church, and the girls are working on the community service badge by helping with the fair project.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses from a lace covered table with seasonal decorations with Mrs. Mahlon Lord and Mrs. Loren Forrester pouring.

Mrs. Vern Manwaring will be chairman of the hostesses for the Nov. meeting and Mrs. Robert Gillespie will be in charge of devotions. Mrs. Lee Prettyman will present "Producing Fine Pearls".

Doctor Robert Horton Addresses Hospital Aux.

Dr. Robert Horton of the School of Public Health in Ann Arbor was guest speaker at the Hospital's Auxiliary meeting Tuesday at 8:00 p.m. in Fellowship Center, at the Presbyterian church. Dr. Horton outlined briefly what the suggested research study of Tecumseh's past, present, and future health would possibly include and consist of in their planned future health questionnaire and survey. The Auxiliary members, realizing the importance of such a survey in our midst, asked the doctor numerous questions and his answers were very informative. The Auxiliary is very much in favor of such a study in Tecumseh, and feel that the city should be very proud to be asked to participate.

A panel discussion on the subject of "reorganization" followed led by Mrs. Sam Sisson as moderator. After the discussion it was decided that a committee, appointed by the president, would make up a questionnaire to be read at the next meeting; and then to be sent out to each member. From that a more complete answer to the question or reorganizing into Guilds or groups of a lesser number or continuing as one group now numbering over 400, may be had. It is hoped that a good attendance will be had at the November meeting to discuss this most important issue.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting with Mrs. Vern Manwaring, Mrs. Harold Kelso, Mrs. R. J. Cooper, Mrs. Louis Schneider Jr., and Mrs. Maxwell Smith as hostesses. The table was beautifully decorated with a horn of plenty and fall fruits and flowers.

He is a Past President of the Lansing Rotary Club and Past District Governor of District No. 219. Mr. Toaz has been Secretary of the Lansing Rotary Club for the past 9 years.

UNTIDY LAWNS

Nothing is conducive to general carelessness, slovenliness and neglect as ill-kept and untidy exteriors. Likewise, nothing is more elevating and uplifting to a community than well arranged artistic properties with well kept lawns and gardens. The effect of such surroundings is magical in its influence, and creates an insistent desire in others for the equal possession of that which is pleasing and beautiful.

QUESTIONS and ANSWERS

Now for your questions and my answers to your garden problems. I shall try to answer as many as possible. Kindly sign your names as I may direct the answers to you.

Q. How can I save Austrian and Red Pine that have an insect or worm in the buds?

A. The worm is the grub of the European pine shoot moth, it emerges as a reddish, white marked adult in June. Control on small trees, break off and burn the infested shoots. (Readily told by light color, crooked bend or mass of resin.) Spray middle of June and early July, with lead arsenate and nicotine sulphate.

Q. Why are the needles chewed off my pine twigs leaving only a brush of new growth at the tip?

A. This is the work of a European sawfly, which is becoming a serious pest of pines in Michigan. The larva hatch from scale like eggs on the needles late April or early May. They work in groups of hundreds clean up one branch before moving to another.

Control—spray with lead arsenate or chlordane emulsion at first sign of feeding.

Q. ast spring after getting its foliage in full my Norway Maple began to die out in small branches. What caused this?

A. Verticillium wilt, a serious fungous disease of Maples works that way, with the sudden dying of a branch. Maples sometimes recover from mild cases of wilt if the infected branches are promptly pruned out. Often, however, the tree must be removed and destroyed as quickly as possibly. Plant another kind of tree in that location.

Note: Fertilize trees at least once every 2 years.

Q. Where can soil be sent to have its acidity determined?

A. To your State Agricultural Experiment Station, College or University.

Q. Is moss an indication of acidity?

A. Moss may result as often from a poorly drained condition of the soil, or from heavy shade, as it does from an acid condition.

Q. Which ground cover might be used under large elm trees?

A. Ajuga reptans, cavado yew, English ivy, Enonymus fortunei, ferns. Best of all, Pachysandra terminalis, the Japanese Spurge.

Q. Little green lice are on my house begonia plants, what shall I do?

A. Make a sudsy solution with ivy soap; add 1 teaspoonful of black leaf 40 to a gallon of water, invert plant, and dip foliage and stems so they are thoroughly wetted.

Q. Which are the best nut trees to plant in Michigan?

A. Black Walnut, hickory and butter nut. Also hazel and filberts may do very well.

Cub Scouts Enjoy Party

The Cub Scouts and their parents of Pack 4 recently enjoyed a family roller skating party.

The first Pack meeting with "The Cub Scout Naturalist" as a theme, will be held October 15, at 7:30 p.m. at the Baptist Youth House. All boys who have made applications to Pack 4 are urged to attend with their parents.

A group of mothers of new cubs met informally at the home of Mrs. Richard Dustin where they were introduced to cub scouting. They were shown the quarterlies, books and pamphlets available and had ceremonies, games and handicraft demonstrated. Mrs. R. Douglas Hall, Mrs. Glenn Work, and Mrs. Fred Butler volunteered to be den mothers of the newly formed Den 8.

Similar meetings for parents of prospective cubs will be held Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 8:30 p.m. this week.

Mrs. Lillian Fielder is a new den mother for the boys in Den 4 who are in their third and last year of scouting.

U-M Will Enroll Over 25,000

Fall enrollment at The University of Michigan is expected to reach 25,473 credit students, according to Edward G. Groesbeck, director of the Office of Registration and Records. Classes at the U-M opened on September 20.

The 7956 enrollment figure sets a new record. It breaks the former top mark of 24,232 set in the fall of 1949. The figure compares with a final figure of 23,914 students in the fall of 1955.

The expected final enrollment figure includes approximately 22,000 students taking residence credit courses in University Centers throughout the State.

The U-M expects an additional 9,000 people to enroll in "certificate" courses taught across the State.

Albion College Homecoming Oct. 12-14

A closely scheduled weekend will draw Albion college alumni back to campus October 12-14 for Homecoming, which college officials believe will be one of the most memorable in its history.

The traditional parade of floats will begin the Saturday, October 13, festivities. Its theme will be "Broadway Hits and Musicals".

Immediately following this the cornerstone for Goodrich Chapel will be laid on Ingham and Perry streets. Among those who will participate in the ceremonies will be Bishop Marshall R. Reed of the Methodist church; Dr. Mark Putnam, executive vice president and general manager of the Dow Chemical company; Frederic S. Goodrich III and Frederic S. Goodrich IV; Dr. Howard C. Lawrence, president of Albion's board of trustees; and President W. W. Whitehouse of the college.

At 2:30 on Alumni field the Britons of Albion will meet the Comets of Olivet in an MIAA tilt. After the game openhouse will be held in the three new halls on the women's residence campus, recent gifts of the Kresge Foundation.

Alumni will gather at six for fraternity, sorority and independent dinners. The curtain will rise in chapel at 8:15 on the college play, George Kelly's popular character comedy "Show Off", which has been periodically re-staged on Broadway, in the movies and on television. This will be the second performance of the drama at Albion, the first occurring the previous evening. At nine on Saturday night the Homecoming Party with dancing and refreshments will be given in Baldwin hall.

Sunday morning Dr. John W. Tennant, college pastor, will conclude the weekend with his Home coming sermon in the First Methodist church.

"When you can figure some way to give me $5 without raising my taxes $10—let me know!"

To do good to all because we love all, and to use in God's service the one talent that we all have, is our only means of adding to that talent and the best way to silence a deep discontent with our shortcomings.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Field and Stream

Summertime isn't the only time for fishing.

When fall frisks over our state, most fishermen stack poles in the corner and take up their 12-gauge mesmerizers. New glimmers stir the eyes of these men. A vagueness enters their speech.

But certain cagey fragments of the fishing fraternity carefully holding their own counsel, shuffle and feint toward woodlands and hunting, disappear, then suddenly turn up with a stringerful of big fish in tow.

These alleged gentlemen of the outdoors maintain that they harbor no secrets from their gun-toting brethren, that, in fact, anybody could have done it.

Conservation Department fish specialists are inclined to agree.

They say a lot of fine fishing is being missed in Michigan waters during late September, October and November.

Menominee whitefish and rainbow trout, for example, are two fighters that annually give a few fishermen razzle-dazzle sport on northern waters during fall months.

Both species provide sporty fly and bait fishing in the Great Lakes and in streams tributary to the Lakes.

The Menominee looks much like the now-extinct Michigan grayling, except the dorsal fin is shorter. In recent years the fish has become a prime target for fly fishermen and users of light tackle and much of their fishing success against the Menominee comes during Indian summer months.

The special fall rainbow season—September 10 through November 30 annually attracts a limited number of fishermen who find the migrating 'bows hungry, the scenery rich and the streams low enough to wade.

Conservation officer W. R. McDonald of Trout Lake recently witnessed a peculiar wildlife drama.

McDonald, who is stationed in Chippewa county in the upper peninsula, said he was watching a group of 13 deer feeding in a field when a coyote approached the deer.

A fawn ran toward the coyote and stopped within 20 feet of the animal. While they eyed each other, a large doe—presumably the mother—charged over and attacked the coyote, slashing it with her front feet. The other deer immediately joined the doe and frightened the coyote off into the woods.

A VOTING YARDSTICK

Before one gets carried away with enthusiasm by all the things political candidates promise to have the government do for us, it might be well to consider what has made this country what it is as a yardstick in making a choice between candidates.

Most of the social and economic gain in this country have come from the efforts and initiative of the individual and not from government planning: Fulton invented the steamboat; Bell developed the telephone; Ford built the first low-cost car; Franklin discovered electricity; Wright created the airplane; Whitney designed the cotton gin; and so on, ad infinitum. Without the work of the individual, we would still be living under a feudal system that allowed us only a bare subsistence. It is the accomplishments of the individual that have lifted us to present levels—not the accomplishments of government.

Yes, American progress rooted in individual freedom. That points to a yardstick that can well be used in judging those candidates who would bring about a society where "do-all" government would reduce the individual to the status of a statistic.

SCRAPS OF PAPER

It would be impossible to describe adequately the human and material destruction that, in modern times, has followed the cynical abandonment of pledged agreements and obligations among nations. A particularly callous example was Wilhelm II's "scrap of paper" declaration when he tore up the German-Beligium treaty at the beginning of the First World War. There have been many comparable examples since, with fateful consequences for the guilty and the innocent alike.

Premier Nasser's seizure of the Suez Canal makes one remember such events. Nasser has attempted to assuage the other powers by declaring that the canal will be kept open and that its former owners will be recompensed for nationalization. But that is a minor matter, in the long view, when set beside the plain fact that Nasser violated Egypt's pledged word, as expressed by treaty.

Under that treaty, the canal would have gone into the possession of Egypt in the relatively near future—in 1968. But Nasser, would not wait. That attitude of his—whatever happens in the current crisis—may cost his country dearly.

Egypt—like all the Middle East—is desperate for Western capital. But will private capital from this or any other Western country be invested in Egypt when it is known that she will respect treaties and obligations only if they happen to suit her mood of the moment? It is hardly likely.

Will Egypt still expect aid from the U. S. government? In this connection, a suggestion made editorially by The Saturday Evening Post is apt indeed. It is that out government "...announce that as of now the foreign-aid barrel is closed to countries which refuse to accept their responsibilities or stand by their agreements."

10.000 INVESTMENT CLUBS

Investment clubs have been growing in number at a great rate. It is now estimated that there are more than 10,000 of them in operation with more than 100,000 members. Some of the clubs have been in existence for many years, but the main growth has taken place in recent times.

The idea behind an investment club is simplicity itself. A group of people get together and agree to periodically invest a part of their savings in stocks. The sums are often as little as $10.00 or $20.00 each a month. Club members not only thus pool their financial resources but, of much greater importance, pool their knowledge and research activities. Advice is sought from reputable brokerage houses and other sources. Decisions are arrived at carefully—on the basis of available facts, not tips or rumors.

Because of the widespread interest in these clubs, the New York Exchange has prepared and distributed to its members an informational kit. It discusses the idea behind the clubs, and shows how they can be started. It also lists some of the legal problems which should be considered before a club is formed, and suggests ways in which brokerage houses can be of service.

The Exchange's president observes that "investment clubs are a sort of laboratory in practical economics." And he makes another point every member should take to heart: "...Investment club experience also brings members face to face with the fact that stock prices go down as well as up. A club's unprofitable investments are educational, too."

Dear Mr. Renter:

I'm writing this open letter to pass along a bit of philosophy I discovered in a book called "The Secret of The Ages".

The author asks "Why take promissory notes for happiness?" Then goes on to show it isn't necessary.

For example, suppose you have promised yourself a home of your own "someday". With an indefinite goal, you keep stalling and postponing. Instead of the contentment and family happiness your own home would bring, you keep accepting your own mental promises—"promissory notes"—instead of happiness.

Yet, as the author reminds, every day you postpone means one day less that you will have to enjoy your own home if you ever get around to buying.

The answer lies in action. A definite goal. A savings program for the down payment. A firm resolve to quit accepting "promissory notes" when action is needed. When you buy your own home you will experience the day by day happiness of home ownership.

Start now! Let us assist you in locating the right "happiness" home for you and your family.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Happy Swap

More and more farmers—who badly need hired help sometimes, but can't afford a full-time hand—are making deals with young town workers and the employers they work for.

For instance, young Hap Hooper now lives rent-free on Easy Roberts' farm. In return he works about 100 days a year for Easy—for a farmhand's pay.

The rest of the year Hap works for his "regular" boss . . . Buzz Ellis, the electrician. Buzz just speeds up his business when Hap's on hand—slows it down when he isn't—and, like Easy, pockets healthy savings in wages.

From where I sit, it's great how people with different backgrounds—and different viewpoints—can co-operate. How about more of us trying that? I live in a town—maybe you're a farmer. I'm partial to a good glass of beer—you may prefer coffee or milk. But we can make things pleasanter by ignoring differences and giving each other a "hand."

Living Rules at Services Sunday

The vital importance of applying the rules for living taught and practiced by Christ Jesus will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (37:22-25): "It is possible,—yea, it is the duty and privilege of every child, man, and woman,—to follow in some degree the example of the Master by the demonstrations of Truth and Life, of death and holiness."

The Golden Text is from II Corinthians (5:18): "All things are of God, who hath reconciled us to himself by Jesus Christ, and hath given to us the ministry of reconciliation."

LOCALS

Mrs. Fred Marsh, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Hartsell and sons, Chummy and Larry and Mr. and Mrs. James F. Hartsell were in Pontiac, Sunday where they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dernberger. The occasion was the fourteenth birthday of Larry Hartsell for whom Mrs. Dernberger had a birthday dinner.

The 10th Annual Michigan Turkey Festival is scheduled for the Civic Center in Lansing, Dec. 4-6.

School News

Central School

The children at Central have taken a renewed interest this year in the large show case in the main floor hall with the result that there have been some attractive exhibits already and more promised. Mrs. Becker's Sixth Grade presented a Safety display; Mrs. Callahan's Fourth Grade arranged a colorful model of the County Fair, and now Mrs. Van Winkle's Second Grade is showing the result of their Farming Unit.

Mrs. Neitling's first graders are finding the dates and learning to count the days on the October calendar which they made. In numbers the children are learning about "tall" and "short", "small" and "large". They have found Dwight Stinett to be the tallest boy in their room.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth graders have been busy completing their model of the old Fort of Boonesborough. They constructed their model of cardboard, milk cartons, sand, twigs and clay. Some of the children made miniature conestoga wagons from matchboxes, cloth, and wire. This activity is in conjunction with the Fifth Grade reading and social studies. Other News notes from Mr. Sawyer's room tell of a new world globe in their room; a game that aids in learning the Roman Numerals, a spelldown won by the girls and a display of milkweed pods brought by Vickie Lord.

During the time Mrs. Weitenhagen's third grade was studying pets in Science Billy Hadley and Janet Pickford brought their cats to the room for their classmates to see. The children in this room have started an extensive insect collection and are adding more specimens almost daily. They also have done some nice animal posters. Edward Brazee won the last week's spelldown.

Billy Watson brought an unusual cocoon to Mrs. Miller's room recently. When strange things began happening the children investigated and found that a wasp had laid eggs on the caterpillar before it spun its cocoon and now the larvae had hatched. Instead of a beautiful moth next spring, this room is the surprised host to some wasp larva.

Mrs. Becker's Sixth Graders are studying rocks and minerals in Science and are making collections. They also have an aquarium of tropical and gold fish as an interest center. Joel Bailey brought a huge bullfrog one day, but he returned it to its home in the pond after the children had seen it. This group has organized a Citizenship Club with Sherry Packard, the president and Gail DeMass, the secretary.

Mr. White reports that his Fifth Grade is studying about Daniel Boone and the class has enjoyed depicting events in his life in a series of murals. In science these children have been introduced to antimony and magnesium. They have found that magnesium burns brightly and among other uses is good for signaling.

Randy Work, who is in Mrs. Bailey's [illegible] from an appendectomy and is back in school.

In Miss Luken's first grade room signs of Autumn can really be seen. The children have been bringing in pretty leaves and Meryl Eaton brought some Hickory nuts. The children have cut leaves, apples, and colorful baskets in preparation for the hall bulletin board display which is their responsibility for mid-October. These same boys and girls have been working hard in their reading, too. They are working in "The Big Book about Dick and Jane" and are learning about this storybook family and the fun they have together.

Gary Easton's parakeet, "Petie" and Louann Geringer's turtle "Timothy" were recent visitor's in Miss Luken's room.

Mrs. Crawford's sixth grade saw some interesting slides of Norway last week. Debby Holden brought them and her mother visited and added comments about the pictures.

It may seem to our readers that school children are interested primarily in science and social studies. It is only that these topics offer such fine opportunities for units and project work that the children like to write news items about them. For second grade science Mrs. Puffer's boys and girls have been learning about how seeds are scattered in the autumn. They found that some fly, some hitch hike while others are carried from one place to another by people and animals. The children have brought various kinds of seeds to the classroom and have arranged them in an exhibit. It was a surprise to find how many kinds of seeds are food for people.

The fourth grade in Mrs. Callihan's room worked hard on pictures showing things near or far away. Mrs. Westdyke came to our room to help us. Our "Good School Lunch" mural is growing. We hope this will help us all to be healthier this winter. Each time we come in our room we are pleased again with the colorful pink desks. Even the teachers desk is in the same color. After using the darker ones, these are fun.

Just a reminder — The Central P.T.A. will meet Thursday, October 18, at 8 p.m.

Grade School News . . . . . .

The Central P.T.A. is planning an evening of frolic and fun to be held on Thursday evening, October 18th. Keep the date in mind and lets all try to be on hand to get acquainted and start the year with a burst of enthusiasm. You will be hearing more about it at a later date.

Mrs. Neitling's first grade has divided into three reading groups. Some of us have read two stories from "The Big Book." We think it is the largest book we have ever seen.

On Monday afternoon we go to the library room and enjoy a story. We also take books back to our own room to enjoy the following week.

In Miss Luken's first grade the children have brought many interesting things to school. Trudy Curtiss brought in her collection of small dolls. Several of the dolls are dressed in costumes to represent different countries and she even has a doll that was made in Mexico. Several other children brought in dolls to show and one day Miss Luken read the story, "Dolls of Other Countries." Each child then drew a picture of a doll in costume. Some were Scotch, Mexican, Japanese, Indian and American. Others were dressed as cowboys, clowns, Red Riding Hood and bridesmaids.

In their reading readiness class the children talked one day about tthe train Dick has, with its many different cars. Several could correctly identify the cars, such as, the engine, caboose, tender, flatcar, boxcar and tank car.

The children in Mrs. Puffer's second grade, have decided to keep all the paper picked up from Central Schools south lawn as a Citizen project. Have you noticed how neat the lawn looks now-a-days?

Mrs. Van Winkle's second grade have almost finished their farm and country school. We still have a few fences to build, the mailbox to put up and some play groun equipment to make. Mr. Kaiser said that we could use a school bus and visit a real farm. We are very excited about this as many of us have never ridden on a bus or been on a farm. We are also making a little book all about our work.

The children in Mrs. Thomas' third grade are making a picture map for Social Studies. The map is of Chicago Blvd., the main street in Tecumseh. It shows many of our business places and we are very proud of it.

Fred Kachur brought us some beautiful pictures of Washington, D. C. our nations' capitol.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Schwartz room laughed when they came back from fire drill Wednesday to find that the spelling they had just been studying was "fire".

Mrs. Miller's fourth grade children are happy to have Joan Langham back in school again after her visit to the hospital.

They have also been bringing their own "special objects" from home to share. Carolyn Purple brought a plastic globe and a map of the United States for us to enjoy.

In Mrs. Whiting's fourth grade Linda Easton has a birthday this week. We also have several more things on our hobby shelf. Bobby Smith brought some guppies and Susan Hohenstein some miniature dolls. Joel Rutherford has made a miniature well complete with a bucket and pulley, which we think is very ingenious.

Ensign Lloyd Whaley a Nevy jet pilot, visited Mrs. Crawford's sixth grade this week. He told the class about Japan and Honolulu, many interesting facts about flying jet planes, and even described the weather five miles above the earth. The boys and girls asked many questions about his uniform and decorations.

KINDERGARTEN NEWS

Dorothy Updike, teacher

The kindergarten children are planning a kindergarten newspaper to be taken home once each month. This little paper will keep our parents well informed of all of the activities in our room.

We have our little grocery store built and well stocked with groceries. It is next door to our play house and is very convenient for our small housekeepers, as well as for the grocery man and delivery boy. We have a favorite story, it seems, for this month. It is about a selfish old cat. Wonderful and amazing pictures have been made of him as well as clay models. We were pleased that so many of our mothers and fathers attended our first P.T.A. to hear about all of the things we hope to accomplish this school year. We will be looking for those of you who were unable to attend this time at our next meeting. We feel that it is to our children's advantage for the parents and teachers to work closely together. Gala Radman joined the morning group, September 24. We are so glad to welcome her. Nancy Anderson and Stephen Kring have been transferred to the afternoon group Mothers may add these names to their list which was in our September news. Brenda Cooper is a new member of the morning group and Skipper Broseke in the afternoon.

FIRST GRADE

Mrs. Buttolph, teacher

The first graders have been having a lot of fun bringing things from home to show. We always like to see all kinds of toys. We like especially well the toys that "go" when we learn the word "go". Stuffed toys always like to stay on the tables of good workers. So we each try very hard to be a good worker.

The other day Gussie Bishop very proudly told us that he had a new sister. Later he told us they had named her Mary Kathryn.

THRID GRADE NEWS

Our third grade here at West Branch has 15 boys and nineteen girls in it. We welcomed Diane Coak and are glad she came to work in our group this year.

We have been having fun in our science classes. We discovered that this is seed traveling time. We have made three posters of seeds—the hitchhikers, the popping pods, and those that float and fly.

For social studies we have been making a map of the businesses in our town. We have finished two blocks downtown. We are learning the owners names and discussing the work they do.

Linda MacGeorge brought a chamelion to school and we watched it change its color.

During story hour we are reading "Wonder Tales of Dogs and Cats" by Frances Carpenter. The book is dedicated to Timmy. So we are remembering our own "Timmie" as we read it.

Glenn Barton had a birthday and so did Gloria Green. Jeffrey Robison is a year older this month too.

In arithmetic we have reviewed the combinations through ten. We have made pictures to show these combinations. Some are cut-out pictures and some are made with crayons.

Language class has helped us find out what a sentence is and each week we write an original story. Some of us write just one line and some of us a whole page. We sure have to learn to spell a lot of new words.

FOURTH GRADE

Mrs. Colson, teacher

The fourth grade children have made some very pretty covers for their science notebooks. We are learning how to put plants and animals in groups and why each belongs in that group.

In our reading classes we have been learning how the pioneers lived. Some of us made very nice cut paper pictures, showing the inside of a pioneer home. We also made a covered wagon to show how they traveled.

THIRD GRADE

Miss Baker, teacher

Our seed collection in third grade has grown quite a bit. We are still bringing seeds to school.

Susan Whitney let us borrow a praying mantis which she found for our science class. None of us had ever seen one.

All of us have been weighed and measured. We are keeping a chart to see how we gain in both weight and height.

John Roe celebrated his ninth birthday.

SECOND GRADE

Mrs. Garlick, teacher

In second grade we are beginning to learn about our city of Tecumseh. We have decided that we want to see the post office, the bakery, the fire station and the library. We are looking forward to visiting these places.

We have a sign on one counter top which says "Out Our Windows" and we are bringing many things which we can see out our windows. We let our tree toad "Jumper" go back to his trees because we felt he would be happier there than in our screened case. Merton Boss found an insect which looked as though it belonged to the beetle family and when we looked it up in our insect book we found it to be a Giant Water Bug. He was very interesting to observe.

Carl Collingsworth brought a birthday treat for us last week. We enjoyed it very much.

Rusty Leist broke his collar bone while playing at home, but has been able to be in school except for one day.

FIFTH GRADE

Mrs. Osburn, teacher

We are trying to build a pioneer settlement for our Social Studies class. We have some nice log cabins, covered wagons, woodpiles, trees and animals.

Three parakeets, two kittens, and a chamelion have visited our room lately. If you want a kitten or a puppy ask any fifth grader. They can tell you where to get one.

Multiplying by using zeros has given us quite a lot of trouble. Now most of us can use them very well.

Next week we are going to make scarecrows in art class. We expect to have scare crows that anyone might want to use next summer.

SIXTH GRADE

Mr. Gilliam, Patterson, teacher

Our sixth grade social studies class has been studying about the very early beginning, or existance of man. We have just completed a project whereby we collected two sets each of "Epic of Early Man", as printed in Life Magazine. We have all five Epics spread across our bulletin board. It has added tremendously to our knowledge concerning the life of the first people to exist on earth.

At present we are collecting and making things for the hall display case which we are to decorate for the month of October. Our theme will be "Fall Hunting".

We now have our room aquarium filled with beautiful tropical fish which were brought in by Barry Hall.

Science Aids Breeding Program

Improvements in all phases of artificial insemination found through modern veterinary medical research have resulted in a great increase in the success and use of artificial breeding in cattle, according to a report in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

"The average first service, nonreturn breeding amounted to about 70 per cent in 1955," the report said, citing figures from artificial insemination organizations in the United States and Canada. "As recently as 1940," the report said "less than 55 per cent of the cows settled at the first service, by artifician breeding."

Corn Poisoning Strikes Cattle

This is the season when veterinarians often run into an increasing number of cases of green corn poisoning in cattle, according to a report from the American Veterinary Medical Association. Often these cases are caused by cattle breaking through fences to get at the corn or by a farmer over feeding cut green corn, the association says.

Because cattle have what veterinarians call a "touchy" stomach, they are liable to suffer stomach upsets and severe indigestion from a sudden change of feed.

In cases of green corn poisoning, the rumen, the largest compartment of the stomach, becomes paralyzed and the animal stops chewing its cud and acts depressed.

Farmers who observe either of these symptoms or who know that animals have eaten a large amount of green corn should call a veterinarian at once. He often can save the animals by injecting stimulants or detoxifying solutions, providing he sees the animal soon enough.

The best recommendation is to prevent the condition by providing the animals with plenty of feed and keeping the pasture fences in good repairs, especially when pastures are poor and the green corn is very tempting. But in the event of trouble, prompt action is needed to prevent losses, the association says.

The poorest time to purchase a cow is when she is springing or fresh. Normal swelling of the udder at that time makes it almost impossible to detect old, chronic mastitis leisons that may be present.

Farm Families Improve Homes

America's farm families are upgrading their homes and living quarters. In a 1955 survey, it was found that 80 percent of all farm homes are ten years and older, and many are in need of modernizing.

The survey showed that 44 percent of the farm home owners plan additions or changes in fixtures and appliances. Another 47 percent plan majoring carpentry changes and 55 percent in lesser carpentry and 3 percent in all other forms of remodeling and modernizing. The total is more than 100 percent because some of these farm owners plan on improvements in more than one area.

Well over 95 percent of all farm homes are frame construction, H. V. Simpson, executive of the West Coast Lumbermen's Association, points out. "It is therefore very easy to remodel these older farm homes and bring their styles up to contemporary thinking. Wood frame walls are easily moved, cut through and changed."

The lumber leader said that farm owners as well as city dwellers could remodel their homes with assurance that there would be an ample supply of all grades of construction and finish lumber to do the job. He pointed out that in West Coast forests where over half the nation's lumber originates, there is a supply of old growth timber ample to supply the nation for another half century, but more important that a perpetual supply of timber is being grown on millions of acres of tree farms in almost every state which will insure a supply of lumber, like Douglas fir, west coast hemlock and western red cedar for centuries into the future.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Making ear corn silage is one way for Lenawee County farmers to use corn that failed to mature because of early frosts, suggests County Agricultural Agent Louis Hall.

Ear corn silage offers a chance to use soft corn for livestock feed where storage space is limited and the corn is distinctly soft, Agent Hall believes.

This silage is made by removing the husking rolls or covering them with sheet iron or otherwise adjusting the picker to leave as many husks as possible on the ear. The snapped ears should be run through a silage cutter and blown in a tight, well constructed silo. An upright silo, bunker silo or trench silo may be used. Temporary silos are not recommended for ear corn silage.

To cut spoilage, distribute the chopped material uniformly so that the husks will not be blown to the outside. Packing and covering with green plant material, sawdust or paper to form a protective seal will be helpful in reducing spoilage.

Agent Hall says that ear corn silage made from soft corn may be fed as part of the grain for dairy cattle. However, additional grain and protein supplement may be necessary to balance the roughage portion of the ration. Liberal amounts of good quality alfalfa-brome hay should be fed when using ear corn silage.

"Ask the farmer first," are words of caution directed at farm game nimrods by Louis Hall, Lenawee County Agricultural Agent.

Farmers have a right to grant or refuse hunting privileges on their lands, he points out.

This right is guaranteed under Michigan's Horton Trespass Law. It states that no person can hunt lawfully on farmlands and connected woodlots without consent of the owner or lessee.

In agricultural areas the law also includes roads and highways. The agent says it applies to farms even though they may not be posted against hunting.

Agent Hall offers these tips to farm game hunters: "Ask the farmer first . . . Do not hunt with a large group . . . Learn where the farm boundaries are . . . Close gates . . . Protect the farmer's property . . . Observe rules of gun safety . . . Keep dogs under control . . . Don't be a nuisance. All these add up to using common sense and observing the golden rule"

Proper ventilation is the key to keeping poultry house floors dry during the winter months, reminds C. C. Ingerson, Lenawee County Ass't. Agricultural Agent.

A dry floor helps increase the production of clean eggs and preserves the health of the laying flock.

These suggestions will help keep the house warm during the winter months: Provide maximum floor area with a minimum of wall area (wide houses do this); insulate ceilings, walls and floor adequately; remove wet droppings often and keep the house filled with birds to the maximum capacity.

Don't put your lawnmower away for the winter yet.

Your lawn needs mowing just as long as it continues to grow in the fall, points out Louis Hall, Lenawee County Agricultural Agent.

Agent Hall terms "old fashioned" the idea of letting lawn grass grow long in the fall to stay that way for the winter. The best idea, he insists, is to keep a lawn in such a condition that no more than an inch of top growth is ever cut off at a time.

Recent research at Michigan State University and at other experiment stations has shown that it harms grass to cut off too much of it at a time.

Another good reason for keeping the lawn mowed in the fall, Agent Hall says, is that insects and plant diseases can hibernate over winter easier in tall grass. Still another big reason is that tall matted grass isn't pleasant to clean up in the spring.

Angus Dairy Men Will Meet at MSU

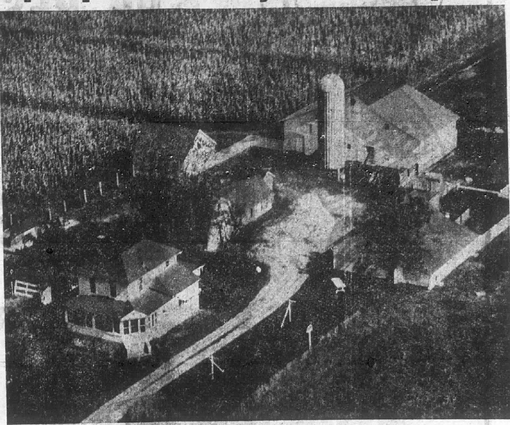
The nation's Aberdeen-Angus breeders will convene at Michigan State University for their annual business meeting, March 10, 11 and 12, 1957.

The Michigan Aberdeen-Angus Breeders' association will sponsor the event in cooperation with the national organization. Dr. R. H. Nelson, head of the M.S.U. department of animal husbandry, and Byron H. Good, superintendent of the M.S.U. farm, are in charge of local planning and will work together with officers and members of the state's Aberdeen-Angus group to prepare for the meeting.

Sudden and prolonged sneezing in the swine herd could be the warning of a serious swine disease . . . infectious atrophic rhinitis.

Newcastle disease in poultry is now believed to have been present in the United States as early as 1938, according ot the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Mystery Farm Belonged to the Boyd's



The Mystery Farm in last weeks paper,is Plain View Acres belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Boyd who live on M-52, at 7543 N. Adrian Highway, 1 mile South of Billingtons corner, 7 miles North of Adrian. The Boyd's purchased the farm in 1929 from Mr. Boyd's parents, David and Carrie Boyd.

Lawrence Boyd and his wife, the former Mabel Pelham of Brooklyn, were married August 5, 1923. They have one daughter, Mary Lou, now Mrs. James Feight, of Tecumseh. They attend the Tipton Community Church.

They are engaged in general farming on their 82 acres. They raise sheep, pigs, poultry, and have 12 head of Holstein cattle.

All of the out buildings were built during the present ownership. The house was remodeled.

The abstract shows that the farm was first deeded from the United States in 1884 to Dan Billiller. Other owners were Thomas Sisson, Albert Tilton, Jacob Cairns, Eliza Jordon, Elyah Wilson and John Preston. David Boyd owned it 43 years before selling it to his son Lawrence and his wife in 1929.

County District Enters Program

Lenawee Soil Conservation District has entered the national Soil Conservation Awards program sponsored by the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron, Ohio, it was announced today by District Chairman Hal Brenner, of R. No. 1, Clayton.

Members of the Lenawee District will compete against other soil conservation districts in the state. Non-partisan judging committees, selected from Michigan's outstanding exponents of the soil conservation movement, will determine the state's outstanding district for the period May 1, 1956 and April 30, 1957 on a basis of total points scored in performance of regular district duties.

Grand award for one member of each winning district governing body and the top cooperating farmer or rancher named by the district will be an expense-free, vacation trip to Goodyear's fabulous winter resort, the Wigwam Guest ranch on Goodyear Farms, Litchfield Park, Ariz., in November or December 1957.

Members of the Lenawee District governing body who will compete for the Goodyear award are: Mr. Benner, Clarence Kleidinst, Clarence Ehlert, Lloyd Ruesink and Leland Brighton.

National winners of the Goodyear Soil Conservation Awards will be honored at the seven regular area meetings of the National Association of Soil Conservation districts. Plaques will be awarded at State conventions to the hundred first and second place winning districts.

Ohio Turnpike First Year Operations Are A Success

Columbus, Ohio — Increasing traffic during the past few months has brightened the Ohio Turnpike financial outlook and Turnpike Commission Chairman James W. Shocknessy forecast a $700,000 surplus for the project's first full year of operation.

The 241 mile Ohio Turnpike opened in October of 1955. Traffic during winter months was light but increased sharply this Spring, to an August monthly peak of $1,925,000 in revenues.

"With a little over eleven months of the first year of operation complete, it is safe to say the total revenue of the Ohio Turnpike for its first year of operation will be approximately $14,825,000," Shocknessy said. "Operating expense plus interest requirements on outstanding bonds will be slightly over $14,0000,000 leaving an estimated profit for 12 months of operation of over $700,000."

Shocknessy declared the "precursors of doom" for the Ohio Pike "could now slither back into their caves and wail their heads off because the Ohio Turnpike is now an assured success."

A general over-all increase in traffic volumes in Ohio next year is expected to further increase the Ohio Pike's revenues in its second year of operation.

Our amateur athletes are getting a raw deal! That is, they would be getting a raw deal if amateur standing rules were strictly obeyed and enforced. As it is now, college and other amateur athletes are compelled to undergo hardships or else compelled to receive various kinds of illegal "under the table" renumeration.

The code states that college athletes as well as other amateur athletes are not to receive renumeration for their services. This is not only unrealistic but undemocratic. It forces some of our athletes to engage in practices that are certainly not going to improve their attitude toward life nor their scruples.

The history of this code is as follows. At one time, amateur sports were for the wealthy only. Those that were "low" enough to do work with their hands were barred from sports. Thus the idea arose that it would not be proper to receive any sort of money for sporting activity. After all, that would make athletes as "low" as those who work with their hands. It seems that no one conceived the idea that someday sports would be open to any boy. They did not realize that there would be boys participating in sports (at the college level and above) that would also have to put themselves through college.

As any college athlete will tell you," Saturday's game" is only the culmination of a week of hard practice. Barely

Members Hear Dr. Horton Explain Proposed Study

Dr. Horton, director of the University of Michigan's proposed health study for Tecumseh was introduced to the City Council by mayor Hanna.

He explained the nature of the study to the Council. (For a detailed explanation of the study, see the Octeober 4th issue of the Herald). Dr. Horton stated that he had been well received everywhere he visited in Tecumseh. The Council went on record as approving the study.

The Council approved the final plat of the Carsons Gardens Subdivision. A hearing was held for residents living on Sunset from Cairns to Occidental Road that had petitioned for city water. It was decided that the residents should give the matter further consideration and circulate another petition including both sewer and water.

City Manager Ed Nelson reported that seal coating was completed last week. This should make conditions fairly good on our city streets this winter. The storm sewer has been installed on Maumee Street and the hill is now being cut down. This should make conditions safer there. Pipe has been received to install storm sewer from Logan to the alley behind Baldwin's Hardware. The next job will be to run storm sewer from Evans Creek north on Union St. to the Cemetery building. The city will soon be ready to draw up sanitary sewer plans for Tecumseh Acres.

Grassfires Keep Tecumseh Firemen Busy

Tecumseh firemen are photographed as they answer one of the many grass fires reported in the last two weeks. This particular one was Friday at the corner of Evans Street and West Kilbuck. Firemen in the picture can be identified as follows: Bob Seitz is in the foreground, Ralph Sager is standing on the truck, Gale Hooton is in the truck and Rodger Linger is on the left with a fire cap on.

City Manager Ed Nelson comments as follows on the leaf and grass fires: He says that the city thought that there would be some rain so that the loader could pick up the leaves faster. However, since there was none, leaves should not be burned on the city streets or in yards. The city equipment will try and pick up these leaves as fast as possible. Everything should be done to prevent any serious fires.

Return Cards To Study Committee

The Tecumseh Area Study Committee survey to ask residents here what they think is needed most to make our city a better place in which to live (see last week's Herald) has had only 48 of the 1450 cards they sent out returned. This would tend to indicate that either the vast majority of the people feel that no improvements are needed or else a general lack of interest. I hope the later is not true.

Please return these cards with your sincere opinions on them. In this way, you can do your part to make the study a true indication of what is needed to make Tecumseh a better city. This is a chance for everybody to be heard and put their points across.

Bedford Mules Are Stopped By Indians

The Tecumseh football team added another scalp to its belt last Friday night by over-whelming the Bedford Mules 35-0 in a game which the Mules are not likely to forget for some time. This victory boosted the Indians' winning streak to four games and kept them in first place in the Southeastern League competition.

In the first quarter of the game, Tecumseh scored two touchdowns. The first one was made possible by a Bedford fumble recovered by Dick Baker, one of Tecumseh's defensive guards, on the Bedford 9 yard line. Two plays later, Ray Larned bulled his way through the center of the Bedford line for six yards and Tecumseh's first score of the game. Larned then kicked the extra point, putting the Indians ahead, 7-0.

Three plays later, Dave Merrilate intercepted a Bedford pass and scampered 25 yards for the second Tecumseh score in two minutes of play. Larned again converted and at the end of the first quarter, the Indins led, 14 to 0.

Tecumseh racked up a third touchdown halfway through the second period when Dave Merrilate and Ron Gurtzweiler opened a hole in the left side of the Bedford line, springing Al Dickinson loose on a 58 yard gallop for the score. As the result of a 15 yard penalty against the Indians, Larned had to attempt the extra point from the 25 yard line. His try was good, splitting the uprights perfectly to make it 21-0. There was no more scoring in the first half.

Tecumseh completely dominated the second half, permitting the Mules to have possession of the ball for only seven plays in the third quarter and one play in the fourth.

Shortly after the beginning of the third period, the Indians scored another seven points. Dickinson, running the same play that he had scored on in the second quarter, rambled 36 yards to the end zone to raise Tecumseh's score another six points. Larned again successfully applied his talent to make the count 28-0.

The Indians tallied their final TD in the closing minutes of the fourth period. Taking control of the pigskin on their own 7 yard line halfway through the third quarter, the Tecumseh gridders moved down the field. Finally, with minutes to go until the conclusion of the game, Dickinson connected on a 11 yard pass to Bill Hansen for the touchdown. Ray "The Toe" Larned once again converted, making the final score 35-0, Tecumseh.

A strange fact about the Indians playing was that they did not make a single first down during the entire first half. In the second half though, they tallied seven while Bedford made only four during the whole game.

Knowing that Bedford would be out to stop the Indians' straight "T" offensive plays, Coach Breniff supplied his team with a few single wing plays. These were very effective in keeping Bedford's defense shaken up throughout the game. Although they didn't account for a great deal of the Indians' yardage gained on the ground they made it possible for the straight "T" plays to click.

Tecumseh completed five of 13 passes thrown during the game while the Mules threw six, one of which was intercepted. The other five were incomplete.

Coach Breniff and his coaching staff awarded the most valuable player award to two Indians last Friday night for their outstanding performances. They were Ed Covell and Al Dickinson. Covell is

Tecumseh Residents Salute The Local Service Stations

We notice that thousands of communities across the nation have taken the occasion of this year's Oil Progress Week observance (Oct. 14-20) to pay tribute to their service station operators as "ambassadors of good will" from the oil industry to the people of America. Here, for example, is what one local chamber of commerce says about these hard-working, courteous, and progressive men:

"We salute the men from whom visitors get their first impressions of our town, the first local residents most visitors meet, and the only residents many travelers talk to.

"They send a stream of customers to our restaurants, stores, hotels, and other businesses; and by professional competence in a complex modern trade, have themselves become representative of our leading merchants."

Oil progress week is being observed in Tecumseh and the following service stations are sponsoring a large ad, giving information that every citizen should know. They are: Hooton's Cities Service, John's Gulf Service, G. H. Fisher Pontiac Motors, Jim's Refinery Station, Bihlmeyer Standard Service, Easton's Mobil Service, Sohio Service and B. & B. Service.

MRS. THOMAS R. BRUCE

The St. Elizabeth Catholic church was the setting of the wedding of Miss Kathleen Kutzner of Britton, Michigan and Mr. Thomas R. Bruce of Milan Michigan. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Julia Kutzner of Britton, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bruce of Milan. The ceremony took place Oct. 13 at 10:00 a.m. with the Rev. Father Thomas Collins performing the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with vases of flowers on the altar, two hampers on the side of the altar and green palms at the altar entrance. Ribbons marked the family pews.

Mr. Edward Boudrie, brother of the bride, gave her in marriage, and nuptial music was played on the organ by Mrs. Ben Hammack before and during the ceremony. She also accompanied Mr. Wallace Whiting, who sang, "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother," as the bride placed flowers on the altar of the Blessed Virgin.

The bride was lovely in a floor length princess styled gown of petti point lace over net and bridal satin. A queen Anne neckline and long sleeves ending in points over the hands were featured in the bodice, and the back was fashioned with alternate layers of lace ruffles tulle and lace covered buttons. She carried an arm bouquet of eucharis lilies and fluffed mums centered with baby pink rose buds. The pearl necklace and earrings worn by the bride were a gift from the groom.

Catherine Lewis, the maid of honor wore a dusty rose gown featuring a rounding neckline, and fitted bodice with little cap sleeves. Emilie Korican, Patricia Reed, and Irene Ammon, the bridesmaids all wore aqua, floor length, crystallette gowns over taffeta, worn over hoops. Their bouquets were of contrasting colors. Mary Lou Boudrie, little niece of the bride, was the flower girl dressed in a yellow gown with a round collar. Her gown was made from net over taffeta and was worn over a hoop. Timmy Eby, nephew of the bride was the ring bearer, Anthony Korican, cousin of the groom served as best man, and John Korican, Kenneth Goldi, and Richard Bruce were the ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Kutzner wore a gown of powder blue crepe with a lace jacket, navy accessories, and her flowers were pink roses. Mrs. Bruce, mother of the groom, wore blue crepe with winter white and black accessories. Her flowers were red roses.

A wedding breakfast, following the ceremony, was served in the V.F.W. Hall in Dundee with Darlene Purple, Marie Short, Anne Rebottaro, and Judy Whiting assisting. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boudrie were host and hostess at the reception in the evening at the same hall, when approximately 300 guests were received.

The beautiful 4 tier wedding cake was made in the shape of a church with miniature attendants on the steps, and decorated in colors to match the colors of the attendants gowns. The cake was cut by Mrs. James Griffin from a table covered with a pure silk tablecloth brought from Japan by Mr. Boudrie.

The bride wore a blue grey suit with navy accessories and a shoulder corsage of mums for their wedding trip into Northern Michigan. She is a graduate of Britton-Macon school and is employed as a waitress at Millies restaurant in Britton at the present time. The groom is also a graduate of Britton-Macon high school and is employed at Clinton Machine Co. After their return Mr. and Mrs. Bruce will reside in Britton, Michigan.

enough time is left for studies. No time is left for a part time job to help pay the athletes way through college unless the boy is one of the talented few. Thus if the boys parents can afford to send him through school, he can participate in sports with no worries. However if the boy must pay his own way through school he must resort to illegal forms of payment unless he is brilliant enough to take more time away from his studies to take a part time job.

Thus a custom brought over with the "dunking stool" is still perpetuated in our athletic codes today. It is neither right nor realistic. It does not help the development of the kind of citizen we strive for. I hope this problem at least receives some thought on your part. It certainly deserves it!

There was considerable activity by the Tecumseh Police Department this past week.

Elsie Arlene Nearhood, 34, of Adrian fell out of a car on Adrian street, receiving cuts, bruises and possible skull fractures. The driver of the car was Harold Nearhood of 1118 Vine Street, Adrian. It is reported that she fell while leaning against the door when it was not locked tight. She tried to close the door and fell out trying to do so.

A car belonging to John Sexton, Tecumseh was hit while parked on W. Chicago Blvd., Tuesday, by one driven by Ruby Lister, Tecumseh. The front end of the car was damaged.

Jimmy Hurst was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital, Monday at 2:20 a.m. with head injuries received when a group of fellows dragged him out of his car and beat him up in Adrian. The Tecumseh Police were called and they turned him over to Adrian police because the incident occurred there.

Richard Ray Mohler of Adrian was ticketed for failing to stop at a stop street at the corner N. Union and Chicago Blvd.

Guns were taken away from boys for shooting out a light, Monday. Police Chief George Kilbourn states that children should refrain from this practice or their guns will be taken, also that parents are held responsible for all damages done by guns.

The Music Club Met Tuesday

The Tecumseh Music Club met at the home of Miss Bess Pulver and Elizabeth Wilson Tuesday evening. Mrs. Wilfred Waldron presided and appointed Mrs. Arthur Swartz, Mrs. James Danforth, and Mrs. Clyde Smith as a committee to investigate the contest sponsored by Grinnells for a piano student. Some members will be attending the concert in Adrian Tuesday evening using the season tickets purchased by the club and available to those who wish to use them and pay for the one evening's concert.

Elizabeth Wilson presented an interesting program on "The Violin," concerning the origin, and the various methods of playing and teaching the instrument. Summaries of the lives of Heifetz, Morini, and Menuhin were enjoyed as well as some readings played from Heifetz and Morini's works. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Waldron and Mrs. Thomas Gallant with Mrs. John Wintersteen and Mrs. George Wittrup pouring.

Anxious to Raise $5,000 for CROP

CROP, the Christian Rural Overseas Program, is a nation wide appeal for food and fiber. It is a way of sharing our surplus with the hungry and needy in foreign countries. The countries to be helped in 1956 are Korea, Japan, Hongkong, the Phillipines, India, Pakistan, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Turkey, Greece, Italy, Austria, and Germany. CROP was started by a minister and is becoming recognized as one of the churches responsibilities because it is an agency of the Church World Organization for distributing foods and other commodities whereever needed.

This year the U.S. Government has released a larger percent of the surplus to be used in this way. Therefore, Lenawee County is anxious to raise its full share of cash for CROP this week which should be $5,000. The cost of distribution is less than a penny a pound. The ministers throughout the county have received authenic information about the program and were asked to stress the importance of CROP in their services last Sunday. With that information as a back ground, all churches in Tecumseb will have envelopes this Sunday for the contributions of their parishioners.

All checks should be made payable to CROP and sent either to Willis Moore, Treasurer, Court House, Adrian, or to the local chairman, Mrs. T. Rentschler. CROP contributions are deductible for income tax purposes. There will be no house to house canvass in Tecumseh this year. However, contributions from all interested people will be greatly appreciated by CROP. Fay Van Valkenburg is chairman of Tecumseh Township and Mrs. Ted McConnell is a member of the Lenawee County CROP Board.

Here! New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

Performance-proved in a history-making test on the ALCAN Highway to Alaska

Here are the trucks that conquered the ALCAN Highway—one of the world's most challenging roads! Six new '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded with cargo, roared north from Dawson Creek, B. C., through 1,520 miles of mountains and mire, rain and hail—every conceivable natural roadblock—to Fairbanks, Alaska. Running around the clock, they made this tortuous trip—normally a 72-hour run—in less than 45 hours.

Like a carelessly unwound ribbon, the Alcan Highway twists and reels for 1,520 miles. It tumbles over towering mountains of awesome beauty and wanders through desolate Yukon forests.

It's the road where trucks grow old before their time. The road where gravel endlessly sledgehammers the life out of trucks. Where a fog of superfine dust chokes engines, and vicious ruts jolt and jar each chassis unit.

This is the road that was chosen to give the new '57 Chevrolet trucks a supreme test of stamina, performance and handling ease. The results of that test made hauling history!

Six new Chevrolet trucks—representing light-, medium- and heavy-duty models—traveled the length of the Alcan highway in less than 45 hours. They ran day and night—but this was no test of speed. The Chevrolet Alcan fleet made normal stops, and maintained safe and legal speeds all the way. As a special additional test during the run, two of the trucks went the entire distance without once having their engines stopped!

It's all down in the AAA record book. Never before has a new truck been so thoroughly proved. Come in and see how well these new Alcan champs measure up to your job.

FIRST WITH THE MOST MODERN FEATURES!

New 283-cubic-inch Taskmaster V8 delivers 160 high-torque horsepower. Standard in Series 5000, 7000 and 8000, optional in Series 6000 at extra cost. Horsepower ranges up to 210 in Chevrolet's complete line-up of modern V8 and 6 truck engines.

Revolutionary Powermatic Transmission—exclusive with Chevrolet trucks—is an extra-cost option in Series 5000 and 6000 and all heavy-duty truck models. Hydra-Matic is offered in 3000 and 4000 Series models at extra cost.

L.C.F. models outdate the C.O.E. because they're lower, handsomer, easier to get into and out of, and save time in routine engine maintenance. Yet they offer all C.O.E. advantages.

Heavyweight Champs with Triple-Torque tandem are rated at 32,000 lbs. GVW, 50,000 GCW. And Chevrolet's advanced tandem axle unit offers a built-in three-speed power divider.

AAA

The Chevrolet Alcan run was sanctioned and official results certified—by the AAA.

Proved on the Alcan Highway . . . CHEVROLET Champs of every weight class!

Alcan fleet reports up to 18.17 miles per gallon! That's the mileage reported by the Cameo Carrier, with Thriftmaster 6 and Overdrive (optional at extra cost).

All the way in DRIVE range with Powermatic! This Powermatic-equipped 10000 Series tractor traveled the Alcan Highway in a single forward-speed range!

New Super Taskmaster V8 flattens Yukon mountains! This Series 3000 truck with its new 283-cubic-inch V8 climbed towering grades with ease.

How NOT To Visit A Sick Friend . . . .

Bourbon toasts to the patient's recovery do little to help his case. Telling a sick friend all of your woes is no help toward recovery either. Hospitals have long known that no measure short of solitary confinement correctly protects the sick in some instances.

Visitors can do a patient a world of good by following simple rules. Be certain that visitors are permitted. Don't bring food unless approved by the Doctor. Don't stay too long. With such care, visits to the sick are very helpful.

LAWN CARE

A common fault of home owners appears every fall. That is the feeling that winter is just around the corner. They start putting away their garden tools, mowers, fertilizers, spreaders and let the lawn take care of itself. However, they should start preparing the lawn in the fall for the coming spring.

We should not stop after the first sign of frost, for we do have at least 30 days more of good grass growing weather. Our lawn work actually starts right now. These are my recommendations.

1—Rake lawn clean of leaves, grass clippings with a dandelion rake or a good stiff bamboo rake.

2—Airify lawn two or three times.

3—Apply fertilizer (organic 50-60 or 100%) if possible.

4—Above all do not stop mowing your lawn. Mow as long as possible.

5—After last mowing, clean off mower, do not put away, but have mower overhauled and sharpened to be ready for spring cutting.

Note:

Due to the unusual dry weather this fall, water is very essential to plant growth especially trees, evergreens and shrubs. Water them thoroughly before winter.

FERTILIZER QUESTIONS

(Q) How can an amateur tell what formula—such as 10-6-4 and 8-5-3 mean?

(A) 10-6-4 and 8-5-3, etc. are used to express the percentage of the major ingredients in fertilizers namely, nitrogen, phosphorus, and potash. A 10-6-4 fertilizer denotes 10 per cent nitrogen, 6 per cent phosphorus, and 4 per cent potash.

(Q) Is bone meal a good fertilizer for all plants?

(A) No Bone meal is a safe fertilizer to use, but it contains no potash. Based on amount of essential ingredients contained, it is more expensive than some chemical fertilizers. It's better to put on 5-10-5.

(Q) Why are plants grafted?

(A) To propagate horticultural varieties which do not "come true" from seed; to increase plants which are difficult to propagate by other vegetative means, such as cuttings or divisions, to modify growth of scion by use of dwarfing understocks, etc. to hasten flowering, and to produce plants of special form as when "weeping" trees (mulberry, elm, cherry, etc.) are worked on a tall understock.

(Q) What would be a good low deciduous hedge, not above 2 ft. high to put around a sunken garden?

(A) One of the dwarf barberrie (Berberis thunbergi minor), slender deutzia the dwarf Cranberry-bush Viburnum (Viburnum opulus nanum).

(Q) What is the appearance of rose plants when the soil is too sweet or alkaline? J.R.

(A) The veins of the leaves become dark green and the area between mottled with yellow. In severe cases, the leaves may become almost pure white.

(Q) Do you recommend the use of white clover in the lawn? A.B.J.

(A) The use of white clover in the lawn is a matter of personal preference. Some like it, others dislike it. It will grow in dry weather, but is often killed out when using weed killers for control of broadleaf weeds.

Field and Stream

Michigan's 1956 hunting seasons got off to a warm, but fairly successful, start.

Waterfowl and grouse hunters had fair to good success, though generally hampered by warm weather.

Archery deer hunters reported little success. Woods were generally dry and noisy.

The upper peninsula had about the same number of waterfowl for the opener as last year, mostly local mallards and blacks. Hunter numbers were about the same.

Grouse hunters reported a few more birds in the west end this year, with fewer hunters throughout the region. Foliage was still too heavy for good hunting.

In the northern lower peninsula, 1754 hunters contacted had 1513 ducks and one lone jacksnipe. The ducks were mostly local birds—blacks, mallards and bluewings. Waterfowl numbers were same to fewer than last year, hunter numbers were same to fewer, success was same to poorer.

Grouse numbers were the same to fewer than last year, hunter numbers were same to fewer, success was poorer. Weather was too warm and foliage too thick for good hunting.

In the southern lower peninsula, about the same number of hunters as last year took fewer waterfowl in the Kalamazoo marshes and the Fennville area.

At Pointe Mouillee marshes south of Detroit, 375 hunters bagged 541 ducks—mostly blue-and green-winged teal, blacks and mallards—and 129 coots. Last year, 298 hunters took 1001 ducks and coots.

On St. Clair Flats, more birds, more hunters and better success was noted. Department field men counted 483 hunters with 281 ducks, mostly teal, mallards and blacks.

In the Sebewaing-Wildfowl Bay area, 460 hunters contacted had 587 ducks, slightly poorer success than 1955.

Eight fires were reported during the last week on state and private forests and grasslands, with damage to approximately 26 acres.

The latest fires boosted the damage total to date to 2335 acres, but losses still are far below the level of recent years.

The southern lower peninsula was hit hardest last week as three fires damaged more than 23 acres. Five smaller fires were reported—four in the northern lower peninsula and one in the U.P.

Junior Varsity Beats Bedford

A week ago today, the Tecumseh JV football team met the Bedford JV squad here on the Tecumseh gridiron in their third game of the season. The contest was very tight, the Indians managing to eke out a victory, 7-6.

Bedford drew first blood, scoring their lone touchdown in the second quarter. It looked as though this would be the only score of the ball game, but the Indians, with two minutes left in the game, became fired up and snatched the victory from their opponents. The Tecumseh touchdown was scored by Lloyd Watson, who caught a ten yard pass thrown by quarterback Dick French. The all-important extra point was tallied by Jim Howell, who caught another pass thrown by French.

The Tecumseh JV's now have a three won, none lost record.

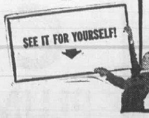
"Six or V-8 the going is great"



SEE IT FOR YOURSELF!

What put the magic in the new kind of FORD?

The new Ford Fairlane 500 (118-inch wheelbase). Longer, lower, larger than many medium-priced cars, yet lower in price than most of them!

Here's what put the magic in the new kind of FORD!

It started with the "Inner Ford." When Ford planned this baby, they thought in terms of a car through-and-through new.

The wheels got smaller. This Ford is so new that even the wheels have changed. Now smaller and broader, they help you take off quickly.

The wheelbase got longer . . . so now you can choose between a Ford that's over 16 ft. long—or one over 17 ft. long!

The frame got wider. Side rails bow out to give a more stable, safer riding platform . . . a lower, sleeker silhouette.

The ride got smoother. With new suspension, new springing front and rear, the ride this new Ford gives is the smoothest ever.

The handling got easier. Poised and balanced like a panther, this car has swept-back front suspension that works its magic when you need it most.

The power got hotter. There's a wide range of Silver Anniversary V-8's to fit every horsepower need* . . . plus a new Mileage Maker Six.

The roof got lower. And it's designed to let you make the easy entries and graceful exits you've always known.

The body got quieter. It's the strongest body built for a low-priced car. No car in Ford's field has such generous sound-proofing.

The room got bigger. There's head room to spare for a tycoon-type hat. There's real stretch-out leg room, too.

The lines got sweeter. They have the Touch of Tomorrow. Each graceful contour says, "Let's go!"

The style got smarter. With this new-look Ford you have a car that belongs anywhere! All Fairlane models look like hardtops.

The value got greater . . . the price is still Ford-low.

*A Special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

So now you know the magic of the '57 FORD!

Letter To The Editor

To the Editor, Interested People, and The City Government of Tecumseh:

To the people who sympathize with us on this problem, we thank you.

We are in the city limits. (We know this by city limit signs and taxes) but all we have gotten so far are street lights. If we had known that being in the city meant only street lights, we could have stocked up on flash light batteries.

As you remember, we came into the city being promised and expecting water and sewage. We are paying for the privilege of having these, but for some reason the newest Subs get these instead. We are glad other people have these, but could it be that we live on the wrong side of our city?

Some of us have been told that if we were an interested group, we would have water. We wonder if the city government doesn't remember getting call after call, or could it be they are waiting for us to get up a petition?

As for a health issue, it could be. A huge hole in the front (water) or in the back (septic) yard isn't exactly the safest or most pleasant yard for children, and how would you like the experience of getting up to find no water to bathe or water to cook with? That happened and is still happening here. This means we try to find a well-driller (which may take a week). In the period of waiting for water, we impose on our neighbors' water problem, besides being handed a bill for drilling, new pipe, points, fittings, and a plumber. We pay our bill while still paying for city privileges.

Remember promises made and a coming election!

Signed by some of the interested people of Tecumseh Acres.

Mr. and Mrs. Billy Wojtowiz, 807 Murray Dr., Mr. and Mrs. Clare J. Loucks, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Work, Mr. and Mrs. Amos Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Helms, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

You can estimate the value of any cow in your herd or any that you are thinking of buying by using a "Cow Valuator" prepared by agricultural economics staff members at Michigan State University.

Most of the factors which determine the value of a cow are taken into consideration in the planning of the "Cow Valuator," according to C. C. Ingerson, Lenawee County Assistant Agricultural Agent.

One of the first things which a farmer thinks of when he wants to buy a cow is her productive capacity. Some of the other obvious things which the "Cow Valuator" also takes into account are the effects of relative prices of meat and milk production items such as feed ,labor and housing on a cow's value.

When milk prices increase in relation to the cost of production items, the dairy cow's value increases. The longer the cow's productive life, and the greater her capacity to produce, the more she is worth.

The money that the farmer has available, the interest rates which he must pay or could get if the money was invested in something else, and the risk of the investment are also things which the "Cow Valuator" takes into consideration.

For example, if the cow would return 8 per cent on the investment, and the same money invested in fertilizer would bring a return of 15 per cent ,the money should not be spent for the cow.

Add factors such as herd size, managerial ability ,and the size of the operation, and the farmer can determine what kind of investment the cow would make. The "Cow Valuator" will help you to determine the answer quickly and accurately, and is available at a nominal cost at the Lenawee County extension office located at the courthouse in Adrian, or through the Cooperative Extension Service, Michigan State University, East Lansing.

Failure to get an early diagnosis of disease outbreaks can cut heavily into poultry profits, warns C. C. Ingerson, Lenawee County Ass't. Agricultural Agent.

Finding out early what the disease is can save poultrymen time in caring for the flock and money in costly drugs. When birds first show any signs of disease, diagnosis should be made, he insists.

Diseased birds may be taken to local veterinarians or to the Poultry Diagnostic laboratory at Michigan State University for diagnosis.

The poultryman should take typically infected birds along for diagnosis. If diseased live birds are not available, those that have died recently are satisfactory.

For small flocks, take enough birds to account for 2 to 3 per cent of flock up to a total of 6 birds. If the diseased birds are under four weeks of age, take at least six along.

38% of Farmers In Nonfarm Jobs

More than 3¼ million farm residents, representing just under two out of five persons in the agricultural working population, were employed in a nonfarm job in April of this year, according to data made public jointly by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the Bureau of the Census.

This is in keeping with a long-term trend, and reflects the increasing decentralization of industry combined with the big growth in off-the-farm job opportunities in recent years.

The figures show 3.3 million persons in the farm labor force, or 38 per cent of the total, holding down a nonfarm job in the Spring of this year. The comparable figure in 1950 was 2.9 million, or 29 per cent.

Attempting to dry up a dairy cow by limiting her water intake is a serious mistake, veterinary authorities say. Such a practice may lead to digestive upsets and calving difficulties.

Watch Out For "Silo Disease"

Farmers who will be filling silos this fall were reminded by the Michigan Department of Health today to be on guard against a poisonous gas produced by new silage.

The gas, nitrogen dioxide, is given off during the first 10 days after corn, alfalfa and clover are placed in a silo. Other silage materials also may generate the gas.

Several deaths from the poisoning, known as "silo-filler's disease," have been reported in Minnesota and other Midwestern states, but no fatal cases have been reported in Michigan. Four known cases of the poisoning have occurred in Michigan in the last six years but all recovered.

"Silo-filler's disease" is contracted by entering a silo within 10 days after the silo is filled. Symptoms of the disease are not immediately recognizable and a man may work in the gas for several hours without realizing he is in danger.

The gas has no odor and ranges in color from yellow to reddish brown, depending on the temperature. It is heavier than air and has been found at the bottom of silos in concentrations of 151 parts per million parts of air. Top safety allowance in industry is 25 parts per million.

The gas either can cause the lungs to fill with liquid or can cause formation of scar tissue in the smallest bronchial tubes. Death can result quickly in the first case and slowly in the second. In less severe cases, recovery is difficult and lengthy. No effective treatment is known.

Plants Need Use Of Phosphate

Soil scientist Kirk Lawton says that some of the new fertilizers on the market don't let phosphorus become available to plants quickly enough.

Some fertilizers, which include phosphates only slightly soluble in water, are being granulated to make them easier to handle. Some high analysis fertilizers also have phosphates of low water solubility.

Soil Scientist Lawton points out that as a consequence the phosphorus availability in some of the new fertilizers is being reduced to a critical level.

Lawton asserts that studies, both in the greenhouse and field, have shown that granulated fertilizers with a high proportion of their phosphorus soluble in water are best for developing vigorous young sugar beet and corn plants.

Farmers, he suggests, would do well to learn the various kinds of phosphates in fertilizer, some of which are soluble in water and some insoluble. Under the law, phosphates are classed as soluble if they break down in a certain acid but not in water.

If a pulverant or powdered fertilizer is broadcast or disked in, the solubility of the phosphate seems to make little difference, Lawton concludes. But the solubility should be fairly high if a powder fertilizer is banded. The same goes for grandular fertilizers that are broadcast or disked in.

MCP Will Control Yellow Rocket

Farmers don't have to contend with that pesky yellow rocket in alfalfa and clover any longer. MCP applied after killing frosts, will kill the yellow rocket without damage to the dormant legumes, points out Boyd Churchill, a Michigan State University weed researcher.

Yellow rocket is a yellow-flowering perennial weed that has spread over large areas of lower Michigan. It usually appears in legume hay fields but is often found in grain.

Churchill says the fall application is recommended for use on old plantings of alfalfa or on new or established stands of red clover. The chemical shouldn't be used on new seedings of alfalfa, though, he cautions.

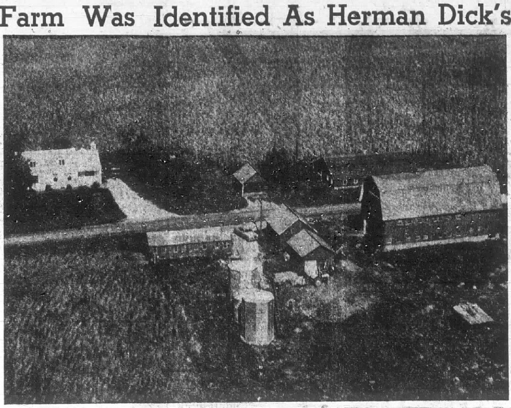
The recommended application is one half pound of MCP acid equivalent as amine salt per acre. Weeds should be given a good spray coverage.

At least 40 gallons of spray should be applied to dense growth or as little as 20 to 25 gallons will cover areas which have been grazed short. Applications should be repeated annually for a time to kill new seedlings.

Any field that has shown yellow rocket infestation should be treated. The plants do not show up well in fall and are easily missed in inspections then. He also points out that the weeds do not die quickly when treated in fall. They may even green up and seem to show growth in the spring, but they will die later.

Mixing pullets with the old laying flock exposes the younger birds to diseases that may be carried by the old hens.

Farm Was Identified As Herman Dick's



....The Mystery Farm in last week's Herald belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dick who live 5 miles Southwest on M-52. They have been on the farm 12 years.

Mrs. Dick is the former Hilda Witt. Mr. and Mrs. Dick have three children. They have Herman, 26, who owns a nearby farm, Alfred, 16, who lives at home and James, 23, who is a second year student at the University of Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dick belong to St. John's Lutheran Church in Adrian.

The Dick's do general farming on their 180 acre farm. They raise poultry, namely white rock broilers and caponets.

Poultry Farms Will Get Larger

Poultry flocks will continue to get larger, and will be the only enterprise on more farms in the future.

At least that is what a group of economists, poultrymen, and researchers from 13 north-central states agricultural experiment stations think after doing extensive research on current trends in the poultry business. They agreed that:

Large flocks are more profitable than small ones. Eggs are usually of higher quality, there is less expense in handling them, and the layers often get better care.

Producers with a large number of layers can afford labor saving equipment, which makes the operation both profitable and attractive. The trend is the same in broiler and turkey flocks.

The small farm flock, however, will probably be here to stay, and for several good reasons ,according to the experiment station workers.

Co. Conservation District Sponsors Speech Contest

The Lenawee Soil Conservation District is sponsoring two activities of interest to FFA members and farmers of Lenawee, Mr. Hal Benner, Chairman announced.

An award of ten dollars will be made to the Soil Conservation District Cooperator who writes the best speech on the subject "My Soil Conservation District — Its Value to My Community". The winner will be entered in the State contest. State winners will participate then in the National contest which is sponsored by the Spencer Chemical Company and The National Association of Soil Conservation Districts. An award of $1000.00 will be made to the National winner.

Judging will be based on context of essay and credit will be given for the kind and amount of soil and water conservation work done on entrant's farm.

Rules and entry blanks are available from the Soil Conservation District office in the Court House. Entries must be in the District Office by December 1, 1956.

The annual Land Judging Field Day for FFA Chapter members will be held at 1:00 P.M. Wednesday, October 17, 1956 on the farm of Robert Hanke located on Academy Road in Section 36 of Adrian Township.

This event is for the purpose of training to recognize land capability hazards. Since the best use of land can be attained only by recognizing its limitations this is valuable training for the youth of Lenawee, "Mr. Benner said."

An award of fifteen dollars will be made to the FFA Chapter with the three highest scores in land judging.

A shortage of copper in the ration will cause a marked decrease in a sheep's wool production.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Barnyard "WHOOdonit"

The Barn Owl Controversy still rages in our town. One group claims owls should be protected because they eat vermin. The other faction holds that those little howlers also eat chickens . . . and should be shot.

Now Pops Parker claims both parties are right. All owls clean up vermin. Some owls also clean out an occasional hen yard.

The way to spot a bad owl, according to Pops, is to put up a 10-foot pole in the chicken run with a No. 2 trap on it. A marauding bird generally perches to look over the situation before he strikes, giving you your evidence, and the culprit!

From where I sit, I doubt if this will end the owl argument. People have different opinions on the subject—just as they have different opinions about whether beer, tea or what-have-you makes the best thirst quencher. Examine the facts and make up your own mind, I say . . . and be thankful we live where that's possible.

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL NEWS

The first meeting of the Central P.T.A. will be Thursday, October 18, at 8 p.m. in the Central School gym. This meeting will provide an opportunity for parents and teachers to become better acquainted. There will be four meetings this year. The teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8:00 before each meeting to answer any questions or to discuss individual problems.

Miss Luken's first graders have been talking and studying about animals; where different animals live, how some walk, fly, swim. They have a unit on animals in their science books which is very helpful. Several of the children brought in animals to share. They were turtles, caterpillars and a parakeet.

The children are learning some Halloween songs from Mrs. Caterina. Miss Luken's group also enjoyed rhythm band instruments last week.

Patricia McCluchean is new in Mrs. Neitling's first grade. She has moved from Addison.

Mrs. Neitling's room has been reading about how animals get ready for winter. They saw a squirrel outside hiding a nut for winter.

The third graders in Mrs. Schwartz's room made leaf prints using their erasers to rub color from an outline of their leaf. They are now using the same process to put monagrams on their language folders.

Larry Jacobs is new in Mrs. Weitenhogen's room. He moved from Talledega, Alabama.

Mrs. Miller's fourth grade have just finished the unit in Social Studies that tells about the men who discovered our country.

They have several new cocoons that were spun in the room.

In Art we are busy on a Halloween Project as we are making a display for the hall showcase for the last of October.

Mrs. Whiting's room enjoy film strips each Friday afternoon. They are about Social Studies, Nature Studies, Health, Conduct and Behavior, History or Art. We look forward to these each week. We also have two fiction films each time.

Mr. White's fifth grade made some murals for the Revolutionary War and also some for the settlement of Kentucky.

We lost Patricia Patterson.

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade have been making a rock and mineral collection for science.

For Art they have been observing and trying to capture some of the beauty of autumn — drawing pictures, waxing and making prints of leaves.

In English they are gathering material, preparing notes and making an outline from which they will write a report.

Transportation is the theme for their reading unit. The boys have been bringing models of cars, boats and planes.

Dean McCauley has moved to Tecumseh from Ridgeway. He was welcomed back by his classmates since he had attended Central in the fifth grade.

Invitation To Bid

Please take notice that sealed bids will be received until the 19th day of October, A.D. 1956, for the purchase of the Bradley School Building (as is) situated and being on the East side of Tipton Highway, approximately three-fourths (3/4) of a mile south of U.S. 112.

All bids will be examined at a meeting of the School Board to be held on the 22nd day of October, A.D. 1956, at 8:00 o'clock in the evening, at the Tecumseh High School Building. The successful bidder will be given thirty (30) days for the removal of the building, and the Board reserves the right to reject all bids.

Voters' Guide For November 6

Of the more than 340 candidates for federal and state offices in November, about 74 are lawyers and only 30 are farmers. Eight women are running for federal or state offices in Michigan and all of the candidates have about 660 children among them.

Whichever way the election goes, there are bound to be new faces after the first of January. All seven of the present Democratic Congressmen are running for reelection, but three of the 11 Republican incumbents are not candidates in November. Twenty of the 23 Republican incumbent State Senators and eight of the 11 Democratic Senators hope to be reelected. In the State House of Representatives, 45 of the 59 incumbent Republican members and 44 of the 51 Democrats will be on the November ballot.

There is one woman running for Congress, none for the State Senate and seven for the House of Representatives. Among candidates for the House, two of the Republicans and 24 of the Democrats have union affiliations. Eighty-nine candidates (39 Republicans and 50 Democrats) are under 40-years-old and 46 candidates (32 Republicans and 14 Democrats) are more than 60-years-old.

School Enrollment Reaches 40,000,000

Now that all the students are back in school the nose count shows that 40,000,000 students, or one in every four Americans in enrolled in grade school, high school, or college. The net gain in students this year was 1,200,000, or slightly less than antipicated.

The record school construction program still has not produced enough classrooms to hold all the students, but progress is being made. Two hundred and fifty thousand new classrooms were needed, and 67,000 have been built. More new schoolrooms are available than ever before, but half-day sessions and crowded classes are going to be common this year.

A bright note. About 96,000 of last June's college graduates were trained to be teachers. Seven out of ten of these graduates will actually end up instructing in grade and high schools. The average salary of teachers is now $4,000 a year, about $1,000 better than in 1950 — a good omen for future teacher supply. But the sour note: even with 65,000 teachers this fall, the schools could hire another 100,000 if they were available.

The high schools are worried. Within ten years their enrollment will shoot up from 8,000,000 to 13,000,000. Two out of three high school students now stick it out through four years. Only yesterday half the freshmen quit before graduation. These pressures will make the present problems of high schools look almost trifling in the years ahead.

Colleges too, are unhappy. Not only are there more people of college age coming along, but more of them get college educations — about 30% now as against 14% in 1939-40.

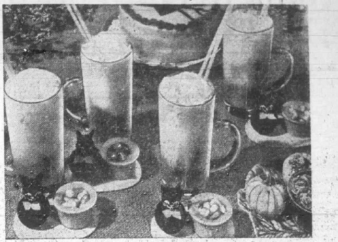
Hallowe'en Party Drink



Hallowe'en is an exciting time for children. Every child loves and wants to give a Hallowe'en party. Traditional games are fun, ducking for apples, fortune telling games and, in some communities, dressing up in ragamuffin costumes. When those ragamuffins ring your doorbell, be sure to have something to give them or you'll be "tricked." A cookie and a glass of pale dry ginger ale will please.

For Hallowe'en refreshments a decorated cake with a fortune-telling symbol contained in each slice provides merriment. An ice cream soda always makes a "party" drink. You might provide the youngsters with a choice of soda flavors—orange, black cherry, grape or root beer—add a big scoop of vanilla ice cream to any of them for a fine soda.

A can of purple plums combines with cream soda in an unusual and delicious drink that would be excellent for a children's party.

Purple Plum Fizz

- 1 No. 2½ can (3 cups) whole, unpeeled purple plums
- 1 cup light cream
- Cream soda

Remove pits from plums; put plums and juice through sieve or food mill. Add cream; mix well. Divide among 8 tall glasses. Fill each glass with ice cold cream soda. Stir gently to mix.

WHAT ABOUT NASSER

There are two irreconcilable views of President Nasser of Egypt. One is that he is a wise and courageous patriot, who will lead the Middle Eastern people from century-old chains imposed by Western imperialism. The other is that he is a ruthless and unprincipled dictator, with the ego and ambitions of a Hitler.

An exceptionally interesting — and apparently authoritative — account of Nasser, and what he is doing to and for Egypt, appears in the September 20 issue of The Reporter. The fact that the article was printed by that magazine is significant in itself — for The Reporter's editorial policy is strongly liberal, is adamantly opposed to imperialism, and is in favor of aid of all kinds to the underdeveloped nations of the world.

The article's author, Claire Sterling, writes, "There are more photographs of Nasser in Cairo today than there were of Farouk in the era of that degenerate king." You see them everywhere, in all forms and sizes — from great billboards to match books. You also see martial figures of soldiers — one is actually five stories high.

Along with this, acording to Mr. Sterling, "... the habits so familiar in every dictator's capital have come into use in Cairo's cafes: the oblique method of political conversation, the glance over the shoulder, the careful silence at the approach of a waiter." The concentration camps are full, with an estimated 30,000 inmates. In some documented cases, dissidents from the regime have suffered barbaric tortures.

In his many promised reforms, Mr. Sterling goes on, Nasser has signally failed — the hospital program, the school program, the land reform program, industrialization. The dream of the huge Aswan Dam seems as far from realization as ever.

What Nasser has done is to build up his army. According to Mr. Sterling, the new defense budget is officially put at $60 million while, off the record, it has increased to at least four times that. Compulsory military training reaches down to the primary schools. Mr. Sterling states: "For a country whose people earn an average of $100 a year and whose population increases by 1500 daily, this kind of totally unproductive expenditure is an intolerable, suffocating weight."

Egypt is simply not getting the new income she needs — and "no private investor would put new money into Egypt today." So, of course, Nasser has turned to Russia, with this dubious result: "In exchange for his cotton, he gets arms, machinery, and consumer goods when and if the Russians are willing and able to send them; whatever rubles he may come by are of no use to him in the western market."

What of the future? In Mr. Sterling's view, "It is with the army that he (Nasser) will have to have his reckoning." And Mr. Sterling, clearly, does not think Naser has any real assurance here. The closing words of his article are: ". . . . the army officers looking at Britain, Russia, and Israel . . . will have the last word. Time might do more for British interests after all than the airborne troops Britain could drop along the banks of the Suez Canal."

PROUD RECORD

Some of the biggest jobs are done in a quiet, matter-of-fact way. As a result, comparatively few of us know the magnitude of the achievement.

The oil industry, over many years, has provided fine examples of that.

In World War II, for instance, the oil people were presented with tremendous problems. Skyrocketing military demands made vast increases in production essential—right now. Some of the services, such as the air force, had to have extremely specialized products, and in unprecedented quantities. To make matters tougher, manpower was in ever-shortening supply—as were all manner of materials. And transportation agencies were strained to the limit.

What happened in the face of all this? No less an authority than the Army-Navy Petroleum Board of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said: "... At no time did the services lack for oil in the proper quantities, in the proper kinds and the proper places ... No government agency and no branch of American industry achieved a prouder war record."

All this is ancient history now. But the knowledge, the spirit, and the drive that made the oil industry's wartime achievements possible have not changed. These characteristics spurred by the competitive system of doing things, give us the incredible quantity of oil products we use in ordinary life—and at the same time are always improving the quality. Last, but certainly not least, competition sees to it that prices are kept to the lowest possible level.

"What are the chances of selling my home?" Sammy Maughen asked nervously. "I'm nearly sure I'm going to leave town and take a fine job offered to me in Ohio. It's so good I can't pass it up. But, naturally, I'm worried about disposing of our home here."

"You haven't owned it long, have you Sammy? I seem to recall you bought it within the last year."

"That's right. It'll be a year in November. I've got a big loan on it. $1,500 would buy my equity."

"Fine," I replied. "The fact that the large mortgage can be assumed, makes it especially appealing now. In a normal mortgage market, it wouldn't make too much difference. But right now, while new loans are comparatively hard to get, it will help a lot. How soon do you want to sell your home?"

"How about today?" Sammy replied with a smile.

Within a week, Sammy's house was sold.

Right now, we need many more homes of this type with large loans established. If you are thinking of selling, talk to us. Chances are good we can help you sell quickly.

FICK—UYTTENHOVE

The Tipton Community church was the scene for the wedding Friday evening of Mary Ann Uyttenhove, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Uyttenhove of Route 4 Adrian, and Karl S. Fick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fick of Adrian.

The Rev. David M. Holly performed the double ring ceremony against a background of lighted candelabra and baskets of white and yellow chrysanthemums. The altar was decorated with the vases filled with white and yellow pompom chrysanthemums. The candles in the side aisles were lighted and white bows marked the family pews. The church organist, Mrs. Harold Every, played a prelude of nuptial music.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. The lace bodice was accented with long sleeves and a Scalloped neckline. A ruffle of Chantilly lace marked the skirt of nylon tulle over satin. Her fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins. She carried a white pearl Bible, the gift of the bridegroom, topped with a white orchid and white pompom chrysanthemums. The bride wore a single strand of pearls and earrings.

The bride's attendants were Miss Betty Howe as maid of honor. Miss Sally Uyttenhove, the bride's sister ,was the junior bridesmaid and little Vicke Jayne Cook, a niece of the bridegroom, was the flower girl. Jerry Uyttenhove ,the bride's brother, was the ringbearer.

Miss Howe's dress was of rose taffeta and velvet. Her rose slip veil was trimmed in rose sequins with a matching velvet edge and her flowers were a cascade bouquet of cream colored Fuji and pompom chrysanthemums. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls with matching earrings, the gift of the bride. The junior bridesmaid and the flower girl were dressed similarly in pale green taffeta and carried baskets of shaded yellow chrysanthemums and Bells of Ireland.

Dean Cook of Tipton attended his brother-in-law as best man and the ushers were William Weitenhagen, Herbert Sanderson, Charles Mohr and Gerald Summers.

After the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church basement. The bride's mother greeted the guests wearing a royal blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink edged white chrysanthemums. The mother of the groom wore a brown dress flecked with black and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow chrysanthemums. The table was covered with nylon over yellow and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom surrounded with bells. Yellow candles in crystal holders completed the decorations. Mrs. Mary Alice Weitenhagen had charge of the guest book. The punch was served from a silver punch bowl on a yellow covered table by Mrs. Charles Mohr. Mrs. Herbert Sanderson served the coffee. Assisting in the serving of the cake and ice cream were Miss Creda Lapham of Onsted, Carol Shaw, Sharon Skinner, Phyllis Weitenhagen and Donna Berry.

The bridal couple left for a trip to York, Pa., and will make their home in their newly furnished apartment in Tipton. For traveling, the bride wore a powder blue knit dress trimmed in white angora with black accessories and her bridal orchid. The bride graduated from Onsted in 1955 and is employed at Bridgeport Brass Corporation. The bridegroom is a graduate of Adrian high school and is employed at Auto Parts Co., in Adrian.

THIS WEEK
—In Washington

With
Clinton Davidson

One of the most important election choices you make will be your congressman. He, more than anyone else in Washington, will know how you want the government run, and he will not hesitate to speak up for you.

Next month, there will be elected to the 85th Congress 32 Senators and 435 Representatives. Chances are the Representative-elect will live not more than a few miles from you. You may know him personally.

But of one thing you can be sure: If elected, he will know what you want him to do. He'll be doing his best to do what most of the people in his district want him to do.

Congress plays a much more important role in the affairs of government than most people realize. The popular conception of a congressman's job as a lawmaker only is far from accurate. His is one of the most important jobs in our system of government.

Department heads and other high Administration officials are appointed by the President, but they soon find that Congress is their real boss. And, because a congressman speaks for you, you have a voice in how the government is run.

There are more than 1,000 jobs in Washington which the President fills by appointment, but on about 200 of the most important the approval of the Senate is required. Many of those appointees are highly capable in their fields, but few of them have ever been elected to a public office.

One of the first things they learn in Washington is that if they displease Congress they can be in for a very unpleasant stay in government, if they stay at all. Congress will have some pretty firm ideas about how they ought to run their departments.

There are more than 100 congressional committees, and many of them devote their full time to keeping tab on how the Administrative Branch of the government is being managed. And if it isn't being managed to suit them they take steps to see that changes are made.

When a department head gets an "invitation" to appear before a congressional committee, he drops everything else so as to be there. He may be complimented, or verbally spanked; he can never be sure which is coming. He may be asked to give advice, or he may get some.

The Appropriations Committees are a good example of how Congress keeps a firm grip on Federal spending. Each department budget request first must be approved by one of the 11 sub-committees in the House before it goes to the general Appropriations Committee. After the appropriation has gone through the House, this procedure is repeated in one of the 16 Senate Appropriations subcommittees.

Then, just to make certain that money isn't spent needlessly, there is the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures, headed by economy-minded Sen. Harry F. Byrd of Virginia.

It is through your vote for your congressman that you have a voice in directing the administrative offices of the government.

The main reasons for this are the constant technical improvements and the new, better methods of doing business in the oil industry that have grown out of the intense competition among thousands of oil companies — competition in the search for oil, in research, in refining, in transportation, and at your service station.

1957 Chevrolets Introduced To The Public Tomorrow

Fuel injection and a new triple-turbine automatic transmission made their debut on the 1957 Chevrolets.

The Chevrolet Motor Division announced that fuel injection will be introduced on the Corvette engine, a lively new V8 of 283-horsepower that is to be available as an option throughout the line of Chevrolet passenger cars. Also unveiled for the first time is the new transmission, known as the Turboglide.

The 1957 Chevrolets go on display at Schneider Brothers, Friday, October 19. In addition to the RAMJET fuel injection and the new transmission, the latest models present a multiude of other styling and performance features.

Fuel injection, a long-time objective of American automotive engineers in their quest for ideal flexibility in performance, replaces the customary carbeurtor. Because of quicker power response and faster warm-up, it is expected to gain almost universal adoption within a few years. Chevrolet pioneers the device in its field and will be one of the few makes, regardless of price, to offer the advance on engines this year.

The Turboglide transmission is on Chevrolet only. It carries the principle of torque conversion — first introduced in Chevrolet's Powerglide in 1950 — to a new peak in efficiency. The triple-turbine—with infinitely variable ratio characteristics—produces an uninterrupted driving force at all speeds. There is no feeling of "shift."

Turboglide incorporates a hill retarder, one of many new safe-driving improvements on the latest Chevrolets. The retarder aids braking on steep downgrades. With larger glass area, surer traction, stronger frames and a re-design of steering wheel and instrument panel to reduce possible injuries on abrupt stops, the cars set new standards of safety.

In eye-appeal the 1957 Chevrolets differ strikingly from 1956 models. While two and one-half inches have been added to overall lengths, the horizontal sweep of new styling motif gives the impression that the car is even longer than its 200 inches. All bodies are lower, with a reduction of an inch and a half in height of the cowl and substantially increased windshield areas.

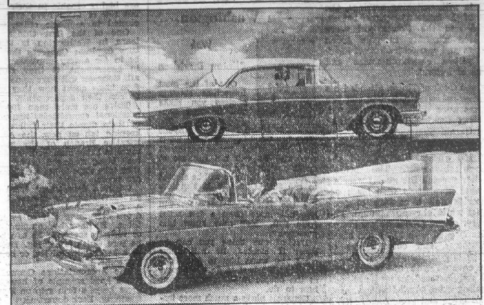
We should endeavor to be long-suffering, faithful, and charitable with all. To this small effort let us add one more privilege — namely, silence whenever it can substitute censure.

—Mary Baker Eddy

1957 Chevrolets Carry Individual Beauty



Distinctive styling and trim treatments for each of the three series of 1957 Chevrolet passenger cars are emphasized dramatically in this two-level photo of the "Two-Ten" sport sedan, at top, and the Bel Air convertible. Bodies plus wide range in color choices total 460 for the line.

Three Billion Tons of Steel Produced

This year's production of steel includes the three billionth ton made in the United States since the "Age of Steel" began to take shape about a century ago, said American Iron and Steel Institute today.

Although the three billionth ton cannot be picked out and pointed to, the 1956 production achievement adds interest to the 100th anniversary of the dawn of bessemer steelmaking.

While steel had been made in small quantities in ancient times, the inventions and events of about 100 years ago led to the making of large tonnages, speedily and economically. William Kelly of the United States, Henry Bessemer of England and Robert Musket, a Scot, were the men who paved the way for the "Age of Steel."

Kelly and Bessemer — independent of each other and thousands of miles apart—developed the process of blowing air through molten iron to remove impurities. Musket discovered mow to add manganese in the form of spiegeleisen to strengthen the steel.

Eventually these discoveries brought about the making of steel

Prior to 1860, the statistics for steel production in this country were not too accurate. That is one reason it is difficult to pin-point the three-billionth ton in 1956. However, the three-billionth ton was probably made in mid-1956.

The bessemer process has accounted for about 455,000,000 tons of the three-billion-ton total. The open hearth process, which became the leading process in this country about 1908, has about 2,447,000,000 tons of the total. Other processes electric, crucible, cementation) account for about 99,000,000 tons of the estimated total.

Bessemer steel predominated until 1908. Then the open hearth process exceeded it in tonnage produced.

The billionth ton of steel in the United States was produced around 1927.

The third billionth ton was produced between the end of World War II and the middle of 1956. The latter includes over 122 million tons of steel made in 12 consecutive months for the year ending June 30, 1956.

Let thy discontents be thy secrets.

This Sunday

Mankind's need for spiritual growth and progress will be stressed at Christian Science services this Sunday.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will comprise the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Probation After Death."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (37:37): "Mark the perfect man, and behold the upright: for the end of that man is peace."

Among the selections to be read from Science and Health is the following (291:12-13): "Universal salvation rests on progression and probation, and is unattainable without them."

The Golden Text is from John (5:25): "The hour is coming, and now is, when the dead shall hear the voice of the Son of God: and they that hear shall live."

New MGM Story Is Very Colorful

The story of one of America's most colorful figures is told on the Strand screen in M-G-M's "Somebody Up There Likes Me." Plays Oct. 23-25.

It is the story of Rocky Graziano, the New York East Side hoodlum, who overcame seemingly insurmountable obstacles to become a respected member of society, largely through the aid and encouragement of the girl he married.

Paul Newman, one of Hollywood's most exciting newcomers, portrays the role of Rocky, the rebellious delinquent who blasted his way to the world's middleweight boxing championship after a number of dramatic detours on the way up.

The role of Norma, the young Italian girl with whom Graziano fell in love and who inspired him to lead a "legit" life, is played by Pier Angeli, with a large supporting cast.

The other fellows problems affect too many of us only as they overlap our own problems.

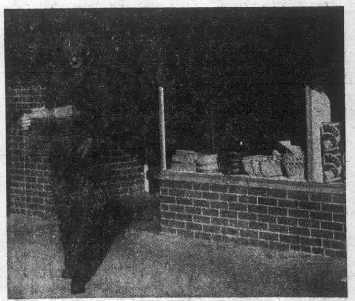
Friday October 26 Is Proclaimed Van Vleet Day

Herald Staff Photos

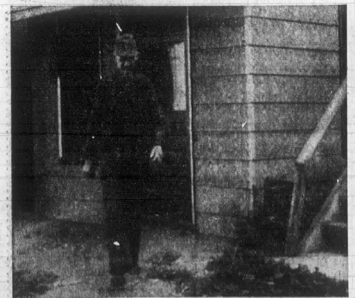
It is 9:00 a.m. and Ernie Van Vleet leads "Bob and June" out of the barn and prepares to hitch them to the delivery wagon.

The horses are all hitched and Ernie is ready to start his daily grocery delivery service.

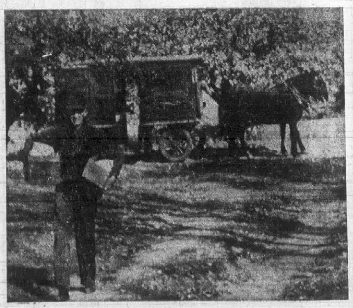
First stop is Marv's Market. Ernie and Marv carry out a portion of the groceries to be delivered.



Next stop is French's Market. Ernie is shown here cheerfully carrying one of the many boxes to be delivered.



Ernie is shown at the back entrance of Linger's Market. The next and final grocery stop will be at Jack's Market.



Ernie has now driven to the East side of town and is shown walking the first delivery to the door.

Mrs. Anna Grigg of 519 East Chicago Blvd. is shown receiving Ernie's first delivery of the day.

Many deliveries later, the day's work is done and Ernie pulls into the last driveway of the day, his own.

By Clara Waldron

The mail man who is not "stayed from his appointed round" by rain or hail has a counterpart in Tecumseh's "Ernie" Van Vleet. For, in the fifty years of his horse drawn delivery service, he has missed only two half days because of the weather. In fact, the worse the weather the heavier has been his work, as many a housewife can testify who has watched his welcome approach with the day's dinner through icy downpour or drifting snow.

That is one of of the reasons why the mayor has designated Friday, October 26 as "Ernie Van Vleet Day" and why plans are being made for a morning send-off parade and an evening community reception. All of Tecumseh is invited to "walk a block with Ernie" at ten o'clock Friday morning and to attend the testimonial reception at 8 p.m. in the American Legion Home. Tickets for the latter are now on sale at French's and Marv's Markets and at Bancroft's Cleaners. They will also be sold by individuals and at the door.

An informal program is being planned which will begin shortly after eight o'clock

When Ernest VanVleet came to Tecumseh in 1906 there were five groceries, Frank Avery and Co., Lowry and Sons, Anderson Bros., C. M. Gilbert and Williamson Bros. and two meat markets, Millers and Marsh's, all privately owned, and, until a year or two before, all had maintained their own delivery wagons. All were high wheeled and canvas covered with the grocers name painted on the side and all of course were horse drawn. Competition was sharp so the delivery schedules depended largely on the needs or whims of the customers and the wagons scurried about town all day and into the evening, criss-crossing each others paths. One meat market made its deliveries in a two wheeled cart with only a covered box between, the driver standing on a step at the rear.

A central delivery system had been established about 1903 by Charles Shaw and it was this business that VanVleet purchased in partnership with Floyd Freeman. Then for a number of years, two wagons were used and the entire town was covered four times each day. If the harassed housewife had forgotten a loaf of bread, she was sure to get it before the day was over. Bert and Floyd Waring ran one route for some time and later Floyd maintained it alone for several years. After 1916 VanVleet was the sole owner and while he has kept the one wagon, there were many years when he delivered twice each day to every part of the village.

Probably no other person has know the town and its kitchens so well and no one could have kept his knowledge to himself better. Newcomers, especially city dwellers, have been startled to have a man walk into their kitchens and leave their groceries on the table. But they quickly learned to appreciate having meat and butter put away in the refrigerator if they were absent. Deliveries have changed greatly since he began and one change has been much appreciated. When kerosene and gasoline were sold in the grocery stores a separate lower deck on the wagon had to be used to carry the cans and this was one service "Ernie" thoroughly disliked. There have been spills and accidents over the years that now seem very funny. Like the hot day when a can of molasses exploded all over the interior of the wagon and the time defective handles came off two jugs of maple syrup as he was crossing the sidewalk. But the crowning catastrophe was the winter day when his covered sleigh was literally blown over on Brownville hill, leaving him standing on his helper and all the groceries.

He has had many helpers in the past, including boys who are now important citizens. He estimates that in all he has owned nearly forty horses. His present team, "Bob and June" have been members of the family for 16 years. It is June who is the tempermental show-off, prancing the last block going home or bucking if turned away from her stable.

The VanVleets had been married only three years when they came to Tecumseh from Northville where he had been employed by the U. S. Express Co. Mrs. VanVleet was formerly Minnie Freeman and they are the parents of one daughter, Mrs. Dale Tingley. They have two grandchildren, Dale Tingley Jr. of Albion and Mrs. Boyd Baird of Gaylord. There are two great grandchildren.

Is Ernie going to retire after fifty years? Not as long as his horses can still travel the route.

Fuller-Johnston Marriage In St. Peter's

MRS. EDWARD FULLER

Judith Sue Johnston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Johnston, 5747 Ridge Highway, Britton, Michigan, and Edward E. Fuller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fuller, 388 E. Monroe St., Dundee, Michigan, were married in the St. Peter's church in Tecumseh, Oct. 20 at 7 p.m.

The Rev. E. C. Dickin performed the double ring ceremony and Mr. Johnston gave his daughter in marriage.

The bride was lovely in a gown of Chantilly lace and tulle over satin. The lace bodice, with long sleeves, had an illusion yoke and mandarin collar. The lace appliqued to yoke and collar were traced in seed pearls and sequins. A wide lace band circled the full, floor length, tulle skirt which was worn over a hoop. A double finger tip veil of illusion was held in place by a jeweled lace cap, and she carried a lace covered prayer book topped with white carnations and stephanotis in a shower arrangement.

The matron of honor, Mrs. John Theodore Sisson of Tecumseh, and the bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Hiser of Dundee, wore identically designed floor length, princess style gowns of spruce green taffeta and Venice lace. The lace bodice had a rounded neckline and short sleeves. A fold of silk outlined the high waistline and formed a tailored bow in back. Matching lace caps and short white gloves completed the costume. They carried flat, wicker baskets filled with fall shades of pompoms and foliage, tied with streamers of bronze satin. The flower girl, Margaret Ann Barrett, in a floor length gown of white crystallette worn over a hoop, carried a tiny wicker basket filled with yellow and white flowers. Her cap and sash were of green taffeta to match the gowns of the maid of honor and the bridesmaid.

John Theodore Sisson was best man, and the ushers were Jack Rise from Tecumseh and Alex Rise from Dundee.

Music was presented by Mr. Donald Hertsuff of Brooklyn, who sang "Ave Maria," "Because," and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride's mother, Mrs. Johnston, wore a pink crepe gown and turquoise hat; she wore a shoulder corsage of white orchids. Mrs. Fuller, mother of the groom, wore a turquoise gown, winter white hat and a shoulder corsage of pink cympedium orchids.

The altar rail was banked with palms, cathedral candelabra, and hampers of white gladiola and white chrysanthemums. Gold altar vases filled with white poms and white mums further beautified the altar.

A reception immediately following the ceremony was held in the Parish House for 200 guests. The serving table was centered with a beautiful, four-tiered wedding cake, topped with a colorful nosegay of fall flowers and around the base was a bridal wreath of fall foliage and yellow pompoms. On either side of the cake were crystal candelabra filled with yellow candles.

Mrs. Donald Filter and Mrs. Robert Retter, aunts of the bride, cut and served the cake. Mrs. Ira Manwaring and Mrs. Seymour Barrett, also aunts of the bride, poured coffee, and Miss Dianne Filter, cousin of the bride, had charge of the guest book. The Misses Beverly and Sandra Rise assisted with the opening of the gifts.

Before leaving for their wedding trip to northern Michigan, where they will spend a week, the bride changed to a green suit with white accessories and wore a corsage from her bridal bouquet. When they return they will live with the bride's parents until their own new home is finished. The groom is employed by the Tecumseh Products Co.

14 Tecumseh Gray Ladies Are Capped

The first capping ceremony of the Tecumseh Gray Ladies was held Tuesday evening at the St. Elizabeths Hall. The ladies in the above picture, taken just before the capping ceremony, are from left to right: Mrs. Audrey Elder, Mrs. Betty Zoe Kaiser, Mrs. Dorothy Hoffman, Mrs. Glyde Wittrup, Mrs. Margaret Aebersold, Mrs. Julia Titley, Mrs. Marjorie Tonneberger, Mrs. Shirlie Fielder, Mrs. Lois Henricks, Mrs. Betty Brooks, Mrs. Frances Hewlett, Mrs. Marie Brenke, Mrs. Betty Lake and Mrs. Gwen Quigley.

Mr. Orrie Gilbert, Superintendent of Herrick Memorial Hospital, addressed the group. He spoke of the work the girls have done and how much it has been appreciated. Mrs. E. T. Armstrong stated that there were only 4 Tecumseh Gray Ladies a year ago. Today there are 34 who have put in over 1000 hours of works during the past year. Nobody has put in less than 40 hours.

Decorations consisted of a centerpiece of Chrysanthemums and roses which were a gift from the hospital. There were also baskets of chrysanthemums. A four tier decorated cake was made by Shirley Fielder and Mrs. Betty Brooks. It was served with tea and coffee after the ceremony at the reception.

Tecumseh now has its own council of the Red Cross. There will be a meeting next Thursday evening. The Tecumseh Gray Ladies are the ones on the above list as well as Miss Frances Gorny and Mrs. Golat. Mrs. Miller, Superintendent of nurses at the Hospital, and Mrs. Gertude Golat, Chairman of the Tecumseh Council of Gray Ladies, are soon going to start a program of occupational therapy for the patients in the Hospital. The Gray Ladies now help nurses and do about anything but administer medicine.

I have a notion those who talk about "the good old days" are those who have let time erase details to the point where only glimpses of the better things in life remain. However, I do not think that this is to be criticized. Personally, I look forward to the time when the problems of the past are forgotten.

Study Committee Needs Response

The Tecumseh Area Study Committee reports that many people still have not returned the survey cards mailed to them asking what they thought would make Tecumseh a better place in which to live. Again you are urgently requested to return these cards so that your complaints can be heard.

Residents of Tecumseh Acres were not forgotten on purpose when the cards were sent out. They did not get cards because the addressing was done from the city's water billing list and residents in this area do not have city water. Steps are being taken to make sure that these people participate in the survey.

Alcohol Offenses 60.66% Of All

Over 60 per cent of all arrests reported to the FBI for the first six months of 1956 were alcohol related, according to figures published in the Bureau's semi-annual Uniform Crime Report.

Out of 2,945,216 total arrests reported from 1,771 cities, 60.66% were for the four liquor-related offenses of drunkenness, disorderly conduct, driving while intoxicated and liquor law violations.

The percentages do not include arrest figures on charges of assault, rape, vagrancy, and offense against family and children. Liquor is often a major factor in the commission of these crimes.

These FBI figures serve as a rough illustration of the amount of time spent by the Nation's police forces to control drinkers and those who sell to them.

The Common Cold Here For Years

There's very little that the traditional hot toddy or any other treatment except bed rest can do for a cold.

That's the word from Dr. F. S. Leeder, disease control director for the Michigan Department of Health.

"The common cold probably will be with us for many years to come," Dr. Leeder said. "We now know that groups of viruses cause the colds but we don't know exactly how. About all we can do is to avoid upsetting the body's equilibrium and go to bed as soon as a cold starts. Hot toddies and other home remedies provide no benefit."

Colds usually occur in three waves in Michigan—first after the season's initial severe temperature drop in late October or early November, then again around Thanksgiving or Christmas, and for the third time in the early spring.

Temperature drops have no direct effect on the viruses, Dr. Leeder said. But they do lower a person's resistance and indirectly enable the virus to invade the human body through the mucous membranes of the nose and throat.

"Anything that upsets the body's equilibrium such as sudden chilling, fatigue, overeating or emotional upset causes a drop in the mucous membranes' resistance to the cold virus. The result," Dr. Leeder said, "is that another person falls victim to a cold."

Colds are most infectious during the first 24 hours after onset, Dr. Leeder said. Effects of the virus end after 48 hours. Then secondary bacterial infections take over.

$22,639.30 Is Collected So Far

Secretary of State Hare today announced the collection of $22,639.30 in short weight license plate fees during the period of July 21 through August 31 of this year.

"This money," he said, "represents additional fees that should have been paid at the time 1956 plates were purchased. In some instances, vehicles had been remodeled and the owners simply forgot and used the previous year's registration. When we required that all vehicles be reweighed beginning May 15, 1956, the oversight was discovered.

"In other cases there is evidence of a definite attempt to short weight the State. Our Enforcement Division currently has an extensive re-weighing program underway, and we expect a very sizable increase in collections before the 1957 license plates go on sale."

The Secretary said that total collections for the first eight months of 1956 exceeded $130,000 in short weight fees. Individual items ranged from $9.45 on a single truck to $22,000 on a large fleet. More than 400 owners were required to pay the additional fees.

Boy Scouts Will Climax Get-out-the-Vote Campaign

The nation's 4,175,134 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, Explorers, and adult leaders will climax their nationwide Get-Out-the-Vote campaign beginning Saturday, November 3.

On that day and on Monday, November 5, they will call on a total of 35,000,000 homes and leave on front doorknobs a Liberty Bell hanger urging citizens to vote.

They have been conducting a nonpartisan campaign, without reference to any candidate or party. It has been sponsored jointly with Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge.

The message on the Liberty Bell hanger reads:

"Heed youth's call. Vote as you think, but vote November 6, 1956. Use your freedom to vote." Householders will be invited to display these hangers in their windows indicating their intention to vote.

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, Chief Scout Executive, said that "the greater number of people that turn out to vote, the greater will be true democracy in action."

"Recognizing the importance of free elections," Dr. Schuck continued, "nearly four million members of the Boy Scouts of America are participating in a nonpartisan Get-Out-the-Vote campaign. Scouts will demonstrate that they are participating citizens by doing their best to instill in adults a determination and responsibility to exercise their rights as free people taking an active part in our government.

"This Get-Out-the-Vote Good Turn, and the spirit which prompts it, can reach deep into the hearts of boys, helping them to become more thoughtful members of their community and their nation. We are eager that Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers shall receive spiritual values of dedicated citizenship through participating in this project."

Dr. Kenneth D. Wells, President of Freedoms Foundation, says:

"The 1956 Get-Out-the-Vote program, involving more than four million Boy Scouts and leaders in all precincts in America, is the greatest single effort for good citizenship in the principles and duties of our American system. It will vastly enlarge the total vote in every state in the nation."

Throughout the nation Boy Scouts placed 1,250,000 posters on display. These urged citizens to register. It is a known fact that a principal reason for not voting is the failure to register.

Scout leaders believe that organized boyhood can exert a strong influence among parents, relatives, and neighbors in doing their share in rolling up a record vote this year.

TECUMSEH, MICH.

BOARD

serve these needs as formulated by the Board of Education.

Using school census figures and projecting them to the fall of 1958 it appears that there will be a need for a complete elementary school at Tipton to serve the original Franklin Center, Pink, Grubb, Paragon, Bradley, and Lamkin School districts. As projected there would be, not counting additional children who might move into the district, 24 in the Kindergarten; 25 in the first; 20 in the second; 16 in the third; 20 in the fourth; 20 in the fifth; and 25 in the sixth. The Kindergartners would be picked up by bus and brought to Tecumseh because Kindergarten rooms are more expensive than regular classroooms to build and because the kindergartens meet for half days only. Also, there are not enough kindergartners in that area to fill a kindergarten room both morning and afternoon. The Board is planning a new six classroom, all-purpose room, hot lunch kitchen and library building at Tipton similar to the Patterson School in construction to serve the needs of this area.

The projection of the classes in the original Culbertson, Macon, and Bird districts shows that by the fall of 1958 there will be at least 18 in the kindergarten, 16 in the first, 16 in the second, 9 in the third, 11 in the fourth, 18 in the fifth, and 9 in the sixth grades. The Board tentatively is planning to build an addition to the Macon School similar in construction to the Patterson School so that when the present frame constructed building at Macon is obsolete, it may be torn down and replaced with a modern brick structure. This addition would contain two classrooms, an all-purpose room, and a hot lunch kitchen. When completed this school would adequately serve the Macon and Culbertson areas and in addition about half of the Bird area. The kindergartners would be transported to the Ridgeway School.

When projected to 1958 the census in the original Ridgeway, Bird, Centennial, Kelley and Holloway districts, indicates that there will be 27 in the kindergarten, 37 in the first, 29 in the second, 29 in the third, 19 in the fourth, 28 in the fifth and 32 in the sixth grades. The Board is planning to build an addition to the present four rooms of two classrooms, a kindergarten, all-purpose room, hot lunch kitchen, and library to make a complete elementary unit.

In the former Colvin, Sutton, and Lanning districts, when projected to 1958, there will be approximately 33 in the kindergarten, 38 in the first, 33 in the second, 29 in the third, 34 in the fourth, 28 in the fifth, and 31 in the sixth. The Board feels that at present the Sutton area is developing so rapidly that the present location may not be the center of population in the area and the architects reported that the cost of remodeling the present school and the cost of the needed additions would be equal to the cost of a completely new school more centrally located as far as the school population of the area is concerned. Therefore, the Board feels that since it is necessary to build a school on Adrian Street to serve the Tecumseh Acres and South Union Street area that for the present they would keep the Sutton School open and transport the children that cannot be served at that location to the Adrian Street School.

The children from Newburg School District would be transported to Tecumseh and the Newburg school closed.

The West Branch School, Brownville, and the grade rooms at the Library and Baptist Church would be closed and the children housed in buildings adjacent to their respective areas.

The Board plans six additional rooms at the Patterson School because there will be children enough to fill it within walking distance by 1958.

The Adrian Street property purchased by the Board several years ago is planned as the location of a thirteen room school which will serve not only the Tecumseh Acres area but also the North Union Street area, part of the West Branch area, and other children as mentioned above.

There are at present 861 secondary pupils housed in the present high school, which was built to house 500 pupils. Due to the rapid growth within the community and also to the fact that all rural seventh and eighth grade pupils of our area are being transported to the high school, the building is over-crowded. Since secondary schools cost more per unit than elementary schools and since the Central School was formerly the high school, the Board feels that it would be more economical to use the Central School for a Junior High. This would relieve the pressure in the high school at a minimum of cost. By 1958 there will be approximately 1000 children in grades 7 through 12. Following considerable discussion led by President Touborg, the tentative plans received the approbation of the entire group. Additional information about each of these projects will be published during the following weeks.

The Board discussed the football schedule and expressed a desire that games be scheduled with teams in Class B either in the county or to the North or West. Since Adrian and Blissfield are the only other "B" schools in the county and neither has as yet signified that they will schedule Tecumseh, the problem is very diffciult.

There are only four schools in the present league and most other "B" schools are in their own respective leagues making it impossible to schedule games with them. The problem is the result of the rapid growth of the Tecumseh High School and is not new. Every possible effort has been and will be made in the future to schedule schools of about our own class.

A letter from the Lenawee County Pomona Grange concerning a change in Fair dates was read and discussed. The Board feels that there are certain educational values to the 4-H and F.F.A. programs at the fair and that children should have released time for these activities. However, since less than 10 per cent of the children participate the Board voted to continue the policy for 1957-1958 as of this year: that is, school will not be closed for the Fair if held in September and pupils in 4-H and F.F.A. will be released from school as needed for their activities at the Fair.

The Explanation Behind Our Halloween

Witches, gobblins, bobbing for apples, ghosts — Iall are synonomous with Halloween, but do you know why?

Once a year, around October 31, a University of Michigan associate professor of history tells his students the historical background of Halloween.

Back in the Ninth Century, Prof. William R. Leslie points out, the Roman Church celebrated the vigil of the Allhallows Mass on October 31st, which was Allhallows Eve—hence the name for the day. The following two days were All Saints Day and All Souls Day, when the church would celebrate the memory of the whole company of the dead.

"We think of Halloween, in this respect, as a Christian festival," Professor Leslie says, "However, it was originally adapted from the Druids celebration of the Harvest."

In ancient times at the Druids festival in Ireland, Saman, the lord of death, called together all the wicked souls that had been condemned to occupy the souls of animals. So, in many parts of Ireland, Halloween is called the Vigil of Saman.

Years ago in England on this day, the bones of the dead people were burned in a funeral fire, or "bone fire." This is where the name "bonfire" originated.

"On the night of this fire," Professor Leslie relates, "everyone attending would put a stone with their name on it around the base of the fire. Those whose stones were turned over the next morning were expected to be dead within the year!

In direct contrast to the Christian celebration of Halloween was the Witches Sabbath and the celebration of the Black Mass in old Europe. Instead of honoring Christ, all of the evil people would honor Satan. "This is the night that evil spirits, gobblins, and such would march around," Professor Leslie says, "so this is why witches and gobblins are so popular on Halloween."

Bobbing for apples, another Halloween tradition, got its origin back in medieval times when the children would play a game with a candle and an apple. They would form a circle, with their hands tied in back of them, and one person would stand in the center twirling a stick with an apple on one end and a lit candle on the other. The trick was to bite the apple and avoid getting burned.

Local Churches Plan Halloween

Halloween, the U.N.I.C.E.F. way, is Halloween with a heart, and the Tecumseh churches are participating in this program next week, Oct. 30. Children from kindergarten on up are invited to come to the Methodist church Tuesday after school and pick up their cannisters, so that they may share their treats with the needy children throughout the world. Details will be explained at the church, and the cannisters are to be returned to the same church after school Wednesday, Halloween night.

New Front in 'Cold' War

Science has opened "a new front in the cold war" against sniffles and sneezes—as Zahra Norbo, Miss Sweden 1955, illustrates here—with a basic new drug extracted from orange and lemon peels.

Discovered by a Nobel prizewinner and called citrus bioflavonoids, they are termed in recent research "the most promising weapons yet" against man's most costly, widespread ailment.

Taylor Center Gives Tecumseh 13-0 Loss

The Tecumseh Indians were handed their second defeat of the season, 13-0, last Friday night by a powerful, hard-hitting Taylor Center team in a bitterly contested game played on the Taylor Center gridiron. This loss snapped Tecumseh's four game winning streak, giving them a four won, two lost record.

Statisticwise, the Indians won the first half. They tallied five first downs during the first two quarters of play while the Rams gained only one. This was due mainly to the large number of penalties called. Both teams were assessed 80 yd. penalties in the first quarter alone, while the Rams were assessed 30 yds. in the first period and 50 yds. in the second. Penalties received by both teams for the entire game totaled 20 yards.

The Indians also gained three times as much yardage in the first half on the ground as Taylor Center, making 91 yards to the Ram's 32. However, Tecumsehs' opponents connected for a total of 55 yards gained in the air during the first two periods while the Indians did not gain a yard through passing.

Things didn't seem to go Tecumseh's way from the start of the game. Taking the Ram kick-off on their own 15, the Indians scored two quick first downs in succession. On the next play, Al Dickinson romped 35 yards to the Taylor Center 10. But the play was called back and Tecumseh assessed 15 yards for offensive holding. In the next two plays, the Indians received an 11 yard loss and another 15 yard penalty. Then Tecumseh's quarterback, Bill Hansen, took the ball and, due to a mix-up in the Indian backfield, was forced to attempt a pass. However, before Hansen could throw the ball, it was knocked from his hand by a hard-rushing Ram lineman. The slippery pigskin bounced into the end zone where an alert Taylor Center end, Ray Cox, pounced on it for the Rams' first six points. The try for the extra point failed. Although the Indians got inside their opponents 25 yard line twice more during the first quarter, they were unable to score the equalizer.

Taylor Center's second touchdown was tallied late in the second period. Ram quarterback, Steve Polander, pitched a touchdown pass to Larry Barron in a play covering 53 yards. However, a clipping penalty was called against Taylor Center on the Tecumseh 17, nullifying the touchdown. Two plays later ,though, Polander again hit Barron with another touchdown pass. This time, the play covered 32 yards. The Polander to Barron passing team also clicked for the extra point, ending the scoring at 13-0, Taylor Center.

In the second half Barron scored twice more for the Rams, once on a 52 yard pass play with Polander doing the pitching, and once on a 30 yard run. However, both touchdown were nullified by penalties. The Indians failed to penetrate beyond the Taylor Center 44 yard line during the second half.

The bright spot of the entire Taylor Center team was right halfback Larry Barron who displayed his ability to run with the ball and catch passes very well. Tecumseh's chief ground gainer was left half Al Dickinson, who averaged 4.6 yards per try.

Altogether, the Indians totaled 147 yards running and passing to the Ram's 238. Tecumseh made seven first downs to Taylor Center's five.

The Indians' passing attack was especially poor last Friday night. They completed none of eight thrown, but had three intercepted. The Rams completed four of 11 thrown and had one intercepted.

Tomorrow night the Indians have an open date, but a week from tomorrow night they meet Hillsdale here on the Tecumseh field. The Hillsdale game is the homecoming game. This is a very important game as it will decide the winner of the Southeastern League championship. Neither team has been beaten in league competition yet.

Fox Shot While Pheasant Hunting

Lou Caterina is shown with a fox he shot Saturday while pheasant hunting on his farm at 8800 Newberg Rd. Mr. Caterina is an automobile salesman for Butler Motor Sales.

He was hunting with Jim Spooner whose dog brought the fox out of a marsh. Lou was on the other end of the marsh and shot the fox once with a 12 ga. shotgun as he ran out.

When this picture was taken, he was on his way to the Conservation Department in Adrian to turn the fox in for the bounty.

Legion Auxiliary Stresses America

The "Americanism in the Home" program is being stressed by the Legion Auxiliary this month. There are many days throughout the year when home owners should display the American flag, and use the opportunities to teach the children in the home, patriotism. Some of the days in the immediate future when the flag should be flown are Nov. 8, Election day; Nov. 11, Armistice Day; Dec. 8, Pearl Harbor Day, and Dec. 25, Christmas.

For the convenience of anyone wishing to replace their present flag or purchase a new one for their home, the Auxiliary has on hand this month a number of light weight flags for sale. They may be purchased from Florence Howe at Bancrofts or from any Auxiliary member. The flags are three by five feet and the standard bracket and all fixtures for immediate installation are included. Mrs. Harold Easton is Americanism chairman for the Auxiliary this year.

Indian J.V.'s Win Five Straight

The Tecumseh Junior Varsity football team increased their winning streak a week ago today to five games by dumping a strong Monroe Catholic Central squad, 14-7, in a game played at Monroe.

Going into the contest, both teams were undefeated in competition. There was some speculation as to who would be victorious.

Monroe drew first blood in the opening period, scoring on a 70 yard drive which featured a 50 yard run by a slippery Monroe back. The Indians opponents also made good their attempt for the extra point to make it 7-0.

Tecumseh didn't start to roll until the second quarter when right halfback Ron Roe broek away on a 55 [illegible] gallop to the Monroe one-foot line. Then Roe punched the ball over for the score. Ray Miller dived through the line for the extra point to tie the score at 7-7.

The Indians went ahead for good in the scoring when, in the third period, Dick French, Tecumseh's quarterback, flipped a 15 yard pass to Jim Howell for a touchdown. This time, Fred Metzger carried the pigskin over for the extra point, concluding the scoring at 14-7, Tecumseh.

FORD TRUCKS COST LESS

...less to own...less to run...last longer, too!

● Before you buy your next truck, look at both sides of Ford's story of value. You'll like what you see.

Look at costs. Ford's first cost is low. Resale value is high. Modern Short Stroke engines—V-8 or Six—are designed for less friction, less wear, lower running costs. Maintenance costs are lower, too, because Ford trucks are built stronger for rugged long life.

Look at what you get and you'll see you get more for your money in a Ford. For example, only Ford gives you modern, gas-saving Short Stroke power in every truck, V-8 or Six. More comfort with a Driverized Cab. More safety with Ford's exclusive Lifeguard features.

Look carefully . . . consider everything. You'll agree Ford trucks cost less, give you more. If you want a great deal—a great deal more for your money—see your Ford Dealer.

TULIPS

There were so many questions in the past few weeks on planting and care of Tulips that I felt a need to compile all questions on Tulips and answer them in this week's article.

For the May garden would surely indeed be dull without tulips. They are valuable in many kinds of garden planting. Their use along borders, small intimate groups about the garden where they may offer friendliness and charm, formal and semi-formal flower beds. Because they are unsurpassed in wide array of harmonious colors in your garden landscaping.

Soils and Fertilizers:

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

(Q) What kind of soil suits tulips best? F.K.

(A) A fertile, well-drained light loam, at least 12 in deep. They grow satisfactorily, however, in a wide variety of soils.

(Q) How should soil be prepared for a tulip bed? D.B.

(A) Dig to a depth of 10 or 12 ins. Place 2 ins. of well-rotted manure in the bottom. A dressing of bonemeal or commercial fertilizer—5-10-5, worked into the bed, is also beneficial.

(Q) Is it well to put manure on my tulip bed? L.B.

(A) Manure is practically wasted when put on the surface. It should be used only in the bottom of the bed. Best winter cover for tulip beds are salt hay, clean straw, peatmoss, and shredded redwood bark.

(Q) When is the best time to plant tulips? J.R.

(A) October 15 to November 5th, a good general rule is to plant 1-3 weeks before the ground freezes. Giving the newly set out bulbs an opportunity to make some root growth and to become better established.

(Q) Can I still plant tulips after the ground has frozen? If so, how? If not, what can I do with the bulbs to preserve them out of the ground until next fall? F.B.

(A) Build a fire over the frozen ground and thaw it out, or else chop through the crust. Tupils cannot be held a full year out of the ground.

(Q) My tulip bulbs are very soft. Would it be advisable to plant them? M.B.

(A) Soft tulips result from too early digging or hot, dry storage. They can be planted, and should recover by the second growing season.

(Q) What happens if you plant tulip bulbs too deeply or too shallow? P.M.

(A) If planted too deeply, they will waste their strength pushing through to the ground level. If too shallow, they may heave out of the ground, or freeze completely.

CULTURE:

(Q) Is it true that American grown tulips are very poor and that only about 40 per cent will grow? R.H.

(A) Definitely false. oGod quality, American-grown tulips bloom 100 per cent. They are more disease-free than imported bulbs; and usually are earlier blooming.

(Q) Will tulip bulbs bloom again if flowers are cut? M.P.

(A) They should bloom the following year providing most of the foliage is left to die naturally.

DISEASE

(Q) Are tulips subject to disease?

(A) Tulip disease include fire blight, gray bulb rot, shanking, root rot, and mosaic. For all of the above, destruction of infected stock and a change of soil or sterilization of the infected soil are the only effective remedies.

In a poor man's garden grows,
More than herbs and flowers
Joy, contentment and peace of mind.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Formula price, blend price, premium, Class I and Class II milk, and butter-powder formula are terms people interested in milk prices should understand, says C. C. Ingerson, Lenawee county asst. agricultural agent.

A handler in the Detroit milkshed pays one price for Class I milk—the kind used for drinking. He pays a lower price for Class II milk—used for ice cream, butter, coffee cream and other manufactured products.

The price paid by dealers for Class I milk may be established by bargaining or by federal order. In the Detroit milkshed bargainers have fixed the price at $5.35 per hundredweight for the next six months. After that it could again be determined by federal order.

Under the order, the Class I price is determined by starting with the highest of these three formula prices:

1. The average price paid by 13 selected midwestern manufacturing plants during the marketing period.

2. The average price paid by eight manufacturing plants in the Detroit area. (This is the price paid for Class II milk.)

3. The butter-powder formula — a device to show what 100 pounds of milk is worth if made into butter and powder. Average manufacturing costs are substracted.

Then, under normal conditions, $1.43 premium per hundredweight is added to arrive at the Class I price. The premium varies with the supply and demand for milk.

So, the final price that a farmer is paid for his milk depends on the proportion of Class I milk the dealer sells. If he sells a high proportion of Class I, the price will be higher than if a larger amount of Class II goes on the market. When the dealer receives more milk than people will buy for drinking purposes the excess goes for manufacturing.

Lenawee County farmers would still be wise to consider building wheat storages, insists County Agricultural Agent Louis Hall.

Many farmers, he points out, do not have good storage facilities and they hesitate to build bins that meet the requirements of the new clean grain program.

So, indicates Hall, there is no need for good storage facilities on farms in order that a large amount of Michigan's soft wheat will not be shipped out of the state during next summer's harvest.

That's because there is not enough commercial storage in Michigan to supply the state's millers with wheat when they want it, he adds.

And wheat storages are generally profitable to build, points out Dale Butz, extension farm economist. If wheat can be stored on the farm and held for several months it can be sold in the winter months at a considerably higher price.

The difference between the harvest-time price and the highest price has averaged 32 cents for the 1951 to 1955 period, Butz indicates.

And not much cash is needed to build the storage because the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office will lend up to 80 per cent of the cost.

The loan may be paid in four installments over five years. The first installment is not due until a year after the construction is completed. The load rate is 4 per cent, according to the local ASC office.

Way Fertilizer Applied Matters

Crop yields are directly affected by the way fertilizer is applied, according to tests made by soil scientists and agricultural engineers.

In muck soil tests, the researchers found that method of application made as much as 103 per cent difference on onion yields and up to 50 per cent on spinach yields.

From the research, the scientists concluded that fertilizers for these two crops should be placed in a band two inches below the seed level or in a band one inch to the side and two inches below the seed level.

If more than 800 pounds per acre of a fertilizer like 5-10-20 is to be applied with low spacing of 16-18 inches, the excess should be put on ahead of planting with a fertilizer grain drill, be broadcast on the surface or plowed under.

The amount of fertilizer that can be applied safely in a band two inches below the seed depends on the amount of moisture in the seedbed at planting time, the row spacing and how well the applicator maintains the depth of two inches below the seed. The wider the row spacing the less fertilizer per acre should be placed in the band.

The researchers think that a good way to fertilize the crops is to put the nitrogen and phosphorus in a band two inches below the seed and broadcast the potash. With the higher analysis fertilizers coming on the market the method can mean less dry fertilizer to handle at planting time. The potash can be applied with a bulk spreader.

The researchers who made the tests are J. F. Davis and L. N. Shepherd of the soil science department, W. C. Hulburt of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and C. M. Hansen of the agricultural engineering department.

The new Bulk Tank Truck pictured above, belonging to Hayden Flour Mills, Inc., is the latest thing in aids to the farmer. Formerly, delivery trucks delivered feed to the farmer in bags or other containers that had to be carried to the storage bin, dumped etc. This required a considerable amount of labor as well as bag cost.

However, this bulk truck holds up to 10 tons of feed. It has 4 bins and thus can hold up to 4 different kinds of feed. The truck carries the bulk feed to the farmers storage area, and unloads it into the desired place through a built-in augar system. Thus the labor of handling is vastly reduced and the cost of containers eliminated. Hayden's do not charge for this delivery service. For further details see their page advertisement in this issue.

The truck chassis is a Ford T-700 purchased from Butler Motor Sales.

Your Wiring May Be Overloaded

The boost in the use of electrical appliances and motors on Michigan farms is causing an overload on much of the wiring.

Richard Pfister, extension farm safety specialist, estimates that at least 25 per cent of the farms have inadequate wiring.

With more electricity being used each year, he points out, a good deal more of the wiring will become obsolete. Pfister indicates these symptoms that tell of a wiring problem: Lights flicker noticeably when electrical motors start. Television picture shrinks when you turn on other appliances. Fifteen-amp fuses blow on regular circuits. You get electrical shocks, not caused by static, from metal parts or switches.

If you note any of these symptoms, better call a reliable electrician—don't do the job yourself unless you have the know-how.

Closing Date Is November 30

The final date of accepting Conservation Reserve contracts starting this year has been extended through November 30, 1956, T. O. Brittain, Chairman of the Lenawee County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, has been advised by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The previously announced closing date for signing such contracts was October 15.

This means, says Chairman Brittain that farmers in Lenawee County wishing to sign Conservation Reserve contracts which go into effect this year has through November 30 to do so. Those who have such contracts accepted will receive their first year's payment for the land placed in the Reserve after compliance has been determined. Contracts starting in 1957 may be signed up to March 15, 1957.

Sniffling Pigs May Be Diseased

Sneezing and sniffling in pigs may be relatively harmless, but all too often, the American Veterinary Medical Association warns, they may be the early signs of the disease, atrophic rhinitis.

This is a disease which has spread in recent years, despite repeated warnings from veterinary medical authorities. It is a condition which causes a wasting away of the bones in the nose. The stricken animals show a peculiar dished in or twisted face and often are very susceptible to respiratory diseases. However, the greatest loss comes from poor feed utilization and general unthriftiness.

There is little that can be recommended in the way of treatment that offers any great deal of hope. However, veterinary medical scientists have developed a program which will prevent and eliminate the disease from most herds.

This program calls for drastic action. The farmer must be willing to either destroy or isolate the affected pigs then market the entire herd. Then the hog house and equipment must be completely cleaned and disinfected before more hogs are purchased. Breeding stock should be purchased from a herd known to be free of the disease.

However, a farmer may save valuable blood lines if he will isolate at weaning time, the healthy pigs he wishes to keep as foundation stock. These pigs are often examined with a "rhinoscope," a device which checks the nasal cavities of each animal and indicates any diseased pigs. This examination should be repeated at breeding time and all animals which are not "clean" should be removed.

Chopping fresh forage and hauling it to fattening cattle didn't pay in grazing and feeding tests. Cattle on alfalfa-brome pasture gained 1.98 pounds per day compared to 1.52 pounds daily gains for steers fed the chopped forage.

Complete eradication of brucellosis by 1960 is the goal of the Michigan plan.

Egg production drops off within five to eight days after a flock of laying birds becomes infected with Newcastle disease. It often takes three to six weeks for the number of eggs to get back to normal after the flock recovers.

New Plymouth To Be Shown To The Public October 30

The 1957 Plymouth will be displayed by dealers throughout the nation beginning Tuesday, October 30, Plymouth President J. P. Mansfield announced today.

Lower, wider and more powerful, the new model represents a complete change in styling, body structure and chassis.

"The car we are about to introduce has the style and features of the car we had thought, only a few years ago, as possible for about 1960," Mansfield said. "We have moved faster than we had hoped. The public has shown an eagerness to accept dramatic change."

1957 Plymouth models are as much as five inches lower than corresponding 1956 models. The wheelbase has been lengthened from 115 inches for all models in 1956 to 118 inches for standard models and 122 inches for Suburban station wagons in the 1957 line.

The new car has the appearance of greater length which comes from functional styling. A broad hood, soaring tail fins and forward thrusting headlight brow all contribute to the impression of length.

In chassis design, Plymouth has accomplished its most significant change since the introduction of independent front wheel suspensions with coil springs in 1934. The feature is called Torsion-Aire.

In the overall re-design of the front suspension, coil springs have disappeared. They are replaced by torsion bar springs which together with other equally basic improvements in both front and rear, produce a new kind of ride and new handling.

Blackleg Disease Can Be Stopped

That an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure certainly applies to the blackleg disease of cattle which has appeared recently in some Michigan cattle herds, according to the state veterinarian, Dr. Lee A. Davisson.

The ounce of prevention in this case, is vaccination by the local veterinary practitioner.

The disease has occurred in Michigan sporadically since 1888, and while there is no greater incidence this year there have been reports of cases in Clare, Mecosta and Isabella counties and also in some sections of the Upper Peninsula, Dr. Davisson said.

Cattle of 6 to 18 months of age are usually the ones affected. Younger animals are apparently relatively immune to the disease, which comes from an organism in the soil. The disease is seldom contracted by cattle past the age of three years.

The blackleg disease organism enters the body through the digestive tract where it gains access to the blood stream and various tissues of the body. Following an incubation period of one to five days there is acute lameness accompanied by depression and fever. Swellings develop in the muscles of the hip, chest and back. The disease is usually fatal in 12 to 48 hours following onset.

Patterson P.T.A. Fun Night Truly Justified Its Name

Patterson PTA Fun Night, held at the school on Thursday evening, October 18, successfully justified its name. Stirring recorded music set the mood as approximately seventy-five members joined in the evening's fun, first becoming acquainted with each other by means of "PTA Bingo." PTA President J. D. Cook was the prize winner for the Bingo game.

The members were then assigned to small groups for the progressive games of skill set up around the gym. Score cards at the end of the evening showed the following winners: Mrs. Lucy Shutt, Warren Filter, R. T. Gilliam. Mrs. Mona DePuy, Bill DePuy, Phil Colgrove, Kennard Wise, Mrs. Lois Zorn, Lyle Grigg, Ralph Easton, Leon Shaffer, Mrs. Kate Redman. Appropriate prizes were awarded the winners.

Mrs. Richard Dustin was chairman of the program and her committee members were: Mr. and Mrs. Hugh DesErmia, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Pihl, Mr. and Mrs. Don Nettleman, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Fero and Dr. Dustin.

Refreshing cider and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Byron Goodman, assisted by Mrs. Howard Morris and Mrs. Raymond Kempf.

Cub Scout Pack Number 4 Committee Met Monday

A committee meeting for Cub Scout Pack No. 4 was held in the home of Cub master, Dr. Richard E. Dustin, Monday evening. The new officers for the year are Dr. Dustin, Cubmaster; Earnest Oliver, assistant Cubmaster; Mrs. Don Johnson, secretary; George Kilbourn, treas.; George Derby, pack committee chairman; Richard Brighton, institutional representative; Harry Beland and Frank Boike, property managers; and Mrs. Lillian Fielder, publicity.

Plans were made for the Nov. 19 Pack meeting which will be a minstrel show. It was announced that Nov. 12 will be the next Pack committee meeting. Pack No. 4 will participate in the "Door-Knob, Get out the Vote" campaign November 3.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Central P.T.A. Hears Rollins

The Central P.T.A. held their first meeting of the new year on Thursday, October 18, and it was a huge success. There were over 150 members present to enjoy the very interesting speaker, Mr. Kenneth Rollins, director of guidance and adjustment in the Jackson Public Schools. He discussed "Emotional and Mental Readiness for Learning" to a very attentative audience. He brought many factors of actual experience into his talk, showing by graphs the different kinds of growth children make. Muzzle-loaders Outshoot Marines

Two marines with modern firearms (foreground) lost a close contest in marksmanship with eight muzzle-loaders from the First Michigan Artillery Volunteers of Detroit at the Second Annual Muzzle-loaders Turkey Shoot at Greenfield Village. The slower old-time marksmen broke 16 balloons 50 yards away only seconds ahead of Tech. Sgts. Phillip Sanborn, Flint, Mich., and Leroy Wallace, Evansville, Ind., representing the Marine Air Detachment at Grosse Ile. The First Michigan, a Civil War commemorative unit, won top marksmanship honors at the meet, taking two firsts and a second in competition with two similar groups. Ninety-seven shooters took part in individual competition and 15 won turkeys as prizes.

THIS WEEK

With
Clinton Davidson

There is an old saying that "figures don't lie, but liars do figure," and that might be a good one to remember when you listen to the political candidates talk about farm problems.

In getting at the facts, you will, of course, make allowances for the normal inclination of the party in power to "point with pride," while the other "views with alarm." We wouldn't say that either side is lying, but both are doing a lot of figuring.

With the election less than a month away, this might be a good time for all of us to take a close look at some factual figures, without political bias. The big question, of course, is: Is the farm recession over?

Republicans say "yes," and base their optimism on official statements by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. They point out that the average of farm prices increased by 10% in the first half of this year, and that this was the first increase in 5 years.

They cite growing export markets for U.S. farm products, and place their faith in the $1.2-billion-a-year soil bank program aimed at helping farmers take some 25 million more acres out of cultivation next year. They say we are about to lick our biggest farm problem, surpluses.

Democrats charge that Republicans favor low farm prices and they point to the flexible price program as encouraging lower prices. They can show that farm operating costs have gone up more than prices during the past year, as has been the case in each of the past four years.

They quote latest USDA figures, showing that while prices received by farmers are 2% higher than a year ago, following declines in July, August and September, that farm costs are up 3% over a year ago, and that farmers now are getting 82% of parity, compared with 83% a year ago.

Both statements are correct, but neither is the whole truth. They are like two sides of a coin. You see one thing on one side and something else on the other.

The whole truth is that we still are a long way from being out of the farm recession, but there are encouraging signs that the future may be better than the past. Net farm income this year will be just a fraction higher than last. There are good reasons to hope that the worst of the farm recession is over.

We've begun to regain some of our export markets, but we are loaning our customers most of the money they use to "buy" our products. That'll amount to about $2 billion this year. That can't continue indefinitely, but while it lasts it can cut surpluses.

Our stockpile of surpluses, however, is four times as large as it was in 1952. Total farm production hasn't been reduced yet, and it'll be about equal to the largest on record this year. The soil bank hasn't helped this year, but prospects are good it will next year.

Per-capita farm income this year will be higher than last, due mainly to the fact that about the same amount of income will be distributed among fewer farmers . . . about 50,000 fewer.

We aren't out of the woods yet, but we can begin to see patches of daylight.

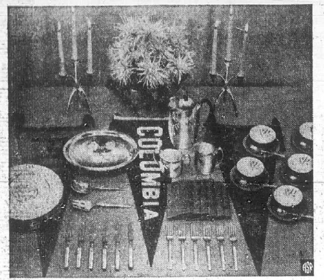
A Pennant Buffet After The Game



KEEP UP THE OLD SCHOOL SPIRIT after the game with a table which is decorated in the school spirit, too. A bit of the sports theme makes dinner a festive occasion. It's easy to serve your guests when your after-the-game buffet table is well-planned, and the menu kept very simple.

After the gridiron, the "iron grille" can help make a festive occasion at home. It may be just the family and the next door neighbors back from the high school football game, or you may have gathered a large group from a big-time game. But no matter how many guests you have, dinner at twilight will be more fun if you plan a decorative table.

Marian Marsh, of Oneida's Table Planning Service, offers these helpful hints. She suggests that the decorative theme for your dinner table be in keeping with the spirit of the day and feature colorful pennants and traditional chrysanthemums. Plan your menu ahead, too! Feature the kind of casserole dish you can put in the oven, and pop on the table at the last minute. Then, when you and your guests arrive home from the game, rosy-cheeked and with whetted appetites, it won't be long before you can serve yourselves at a buffet table, which has been planned for easy service.

Simplest of all menus is spaghetti—serve it from the kitchen — and meat sauce, which your guests will find hot in a silver bowl on the table. A tossed green salad and last-minute hot bread will make a wonderful meal.

Ideal for serving after-dinner coffee . . . and again the guests help themselves . . . is the hot beverage service in the new "Achievement" pattern. (We assume that the holloware matches team achievement.)

"Twilight", in Community silverplate, also carries out the theme. It will be about twilight when you arrive back at a warm house to dine with your friends.

The main thing is that after-the-game dinners should be decorative and informal to carry out the old school spirit.

Field and Stream

Michigan faces a serious forest fire threat as thousands of hunters seek outdoor recreation in tinder-dry woodlands and fields.

Recent dry, warm weather ha greatly increased the hazards o fire in most areas of the state.

Last week's fire record one o the worst of the year, listed 5 fires which damaged 289 acres The latest fires boosted the annua damage figure to 2673 acres.

The southern lower peninsul was the heaviest hit region las week as 24 fires burned 153 acres Most of this damage was in the Plainwell district, an 11-count area in southwestern Michigan. where 18 fires damaged 130 acres

Damage from 18 fires in th northern lower peninsula amounted to 55 acres. The upper peninsula, with 16 fires, suffered losse totaling 81 acres.

Hunters and others using th outdoors are urged to take particular caution against fires durin the hazardous autumn months.

Yellow, not red, is the safes color for hunters to wear, according to tests conducted in Californi recently.

Army personnel, who took par in the tests, reported that brigh yellow is the most readily visibl color under all light condition The tests reportedly were conducted in typical deer terrain unde simulated hunting conditions.

The color study was conducted by the National Rifle Association working with the California Gam and Fish Department and the California Optometric Association.

Hunting prospects appear to b generally good for the October 2 opening of southern Michigan' popular pheasant and rabbit seasons.

With favorable weather conditions, small game hunters are expected to bag about 1,000,00 pheasants during the October 20—November 10 season—despite an estimated 15 percent drop in pheasant production this year. Cold, wet pring weather hampered nesting, ut the over-all pheasant outlook s about on a level with the 1951-53 seasons.

Last year—an excellent pheasant season—hunters took approximately 1,180,000 ringnecks.

Conservation Department studies ndicate another good rabbit hunting season, with southwestern counties continuing at the best cottontail-producing area. Hunters bagged about 1,600,000 rabbits during the 1955 season.

Rabbits and snowshoe hares are egal game during an October 1—March 1 season in the upper peninsula and northern lower peninsula. The southern lower peninsula rabbit season is October 20—January 31.

The population cycle of the snowshoe hare apparently is turning upward in the upper peninsula and winter hunting should improve somewhat in that region.

The southern Michigan squirrel hunting season also opens October 20, with indications of an even better season than in 1955 when hunting was good. Last year, hunters hroughout the state bagged 675,00 fox and gray squirrels. Gray squirrel hunting in the northern ower peninsula is expected to b above average.

A complete summary of Michigan hunting seasons and regulations is listed in the 1956 Game Law Digest, available without charge from any license agent or Conservation Department office.

Congressman Meader Tells Of Academy Appointments

The Second Congressional District of Michigan will have two vacancies at the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis for the class beginning in July of 1957, Rep. George Meader of Ann Arbor said today.

In addition, said Meader, 10 young men from the Second District will be nominated to compete for 10 vacancies allotted the State of Michigan for the third class at the United States Air Force Academy to be enrolled in July 1957.

Also, 10 candidates from the Second District will be nominated to compete for the 11 vacancies allotted the State of Michigan for the 1957 class at the United States Merchant Marine Academy under a new appointment system established for the Merchant Marine Academy by legislation passed in the 84th Congress.

There are no vacancies for the Second District in the 1957 class at the United States Military Academy at West Point. The reason, said Meader, is that federal law permits only 4 young men to be enrolled from a Congressional district at any one time in all four classes.

Meader will make nominations to the service academies based on merit and will ask all candidates to take a qualifying physical examination, a Civil Service preliminary examination and to submit high school academic records.

Young men in the Second District interested in competing for the appointments should submit applications to Congressman Meader as soon as possible. The Civil Service examination is scheduled for Tuesday, November 20, 1956, and will be given at Ann Arbor, Adrian and Jackson.

Application blanks are being sent to high school principals. They also may be obtained from Congressman Meader's Ann Arbor office at 798-710 Ann Arbor Trust Building, or his Washington office at 305 House Office Building.

Understanding Overcomes Evil

How spiritual understanding of God's goodness overcomes evil will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Everlasting Punishment" will include the following selection from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (571:15): "At all times and under all circumstances, overcome evil with good. Know thyself and God will supply the wisdom and the occasion for a victory over evil."

Among the passages to be read from the King James Version of the Bible is the following (Isa. 35:-10): "And the ransomed of the Lord shall return, and come to Zion with songs and everlasting joy upon their heads: they shall obtain joy and gladness, and sorrow and sighing shall flee away."

The Golden Text is from Lamentations (3:39, 40): "Wherefore doth a living man complain, a man for the punishment of his sins? Let us search and try our ways, and turn again to the Lord."

What do these famous products have to do with Tecumseh

...besides give homemakers tasty new pancake dishes?

"Leaving out money entirely, one indication of how much you are worth as a person is the way you handle your responsibilities. Few responsibilities are bigger than the one we all have to vote. In America's free elections, it's a privilege as well as a duty. I hope all good Quakers, and our neighbors, will vote for the worthy candidates they freely choose. No matter how you vote, VOTE," says one of our civic-minded Quaker Oats employees, Otto H. Teske, in Tecumseh.

Pancakes for dessert? That's only one of the Aunt Jemima pancake ideas that have made these world-renowned products mean something special in this community. The real secret of Aunt Jemima Pancakes is a blend of four flours. Makes 'em light. Makes 'em tender. Makes 'em so tasty they disappear fast as they come off the griddle. You can't duplicate this famous blend in a homemade batter or get it in any other mix.

A lot of folks right here work for The Quaker Oats Company—the Company that makes so many well-known products, including Aunt Jemima Pancake Mix. These folks are all part of a widespread "family." And they share a nice feeling of pride in all the products their Company makes.

"POLICING PEOPLE INTO PERFECT HAPPINESS"

Those who have been attracted by the idea of a do-everything government, providing cradle-to-grave security for all, would do well to read and reread this paragraph from one of Dorothy Thompson's columns: "There is no way of creating and maintaining a 'perfect' society without, first, imposing upon its members an ideal of perfection, and then getting rid of all who do not share that ideal or fail to cooperate for its fulfillment. All utopias must, in logic, be police states, policing people into perfect happiness. Policemen with clubs and pistols, policemen licensing this and forbidding that, psychological policemen, using more subtle and devasting methods to keep people from getting ideas into their heads."

In this, Miss Thompson has brilliantly and briefly provided the reason why socialism and its variants always destroy individual liberty and always must. This is not to say, of course, that all socialists are bent on dictatorship. Some of them, such as Norman Thomas, are men of the highest principle, dedicated to human freedom and justice. But men of this stamp are few and far between, and in the power state control soon passes into the hands of the ruthlessly ambitious—and to the fanatics who, at any cost, are determined to make man over in some image of their own devising. There is no room in that state for those who do not fit this image. For the dissenter, there can only be the firing squad or the slave labor camp.

To end on a lighter note, some time ago a story made the rounds concerning an agitator addressing a London crowd. Among other things, he promised that, come the Revolution, all workers would ride in Rolls-Royces. A Cockney spoke up and said he didn't want to ride in a Rolls-Royce. The agitator glared at him and answered,"Come the Revolution, you'll ride in a Rolls-Royce whether you like it or not."

If socialism ever takes over here, you'll do exactly what you're told in every respect, whether you like it or not.

CENTER OF POWER

Politically speaking, how important are the smaller communities of the nation—those with less than 25,000 population?

Town Journal, working from the best available data, has provided the answer.

Small-town and farm residents hold a clear voting majority in 42 of the 48 states. They control 84 of the 96 U. S. Senate seats—and dominate 275 of the 435 Congressional districts. And—of very great political importance under the rules that govern our Congress—they elect 18 of the 19 Senate committee chairmen and 15 of the 20 House committee chairmen.

The grass-roots is the center of power in this republic.

NOT A BAD WORD

"Spread", it seems, has become a bad word in the minds of some people. The word describes the price difference between what producers are paid for raw materials—and what consumer's must pay at retail for finished, ready-to-use products. "Spread" would not seem a bad word if there were a better understanding of what its significance is.

A spokesman for a grocery manufacturers association has said: "Without spread not only manufacturers and distributors—but farmers as well—would be out of business. Our bread would be wheat on a Kansas farm; our cheese and butter would be milk in a pail in Wisconsin; and our breakfast juice would be on the trees in a Florida or California orange grove. Without spread there would be no food business as we know it. The food business would consist of local farmers selling direct to local consumers."

This is true of all business—clothing, appliances, household wares, drugs, and everything else. Someone has to take the raw materials, transform them into articles people need and want, and offer them for sale. That's where spread comes in.

There is complaint because in many cases the spread is larger than it used to be. This overlooks the fact that people want, demand and get infinitely greater convenience in the form of processed foods and in other ways—and to "build-in" that convenience takes much labor and costs a lot of money. The fact that all production and retail businesses are intensely competitive guarantees that the spread will be as low as possible.

"I sure do appreciate the way you handled the sale of our home," Mr. Arnold said recently. "I've learned why it pays to let a competent Realtor handle the sale.

"For example. Your firm encouraged the buyer to go ahead since you knew it was in his best interests. Yet, if I'd done it, he would have thought I was over-anxious and would have offered less for the property.

"Another thing. When prospective buyers mentioned the manner in which they wanted to buy—on small down payment, trade, new loan, etc.—you helped me judge the best deal under present market conditions. I think that was a real service, because I frankly didn't know the implications of all the methods suggested.

"Finally, you arranged a new loan for the buyer. Without your help, I doubt if the loan would have worked. But you knew where it could be placed and explained the details to both the buyer and me.

Mr. Arnold concluded, "I'm sold on your selling service."

How about YOU? Will you give us the opportunity to prove the value of our Selling Service? Call or drop in at our office!

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Witches and goblins are in the air. Pumpkins are being carved into jolly Jack-O-Lanterns. Hallowe'en is almost here and the children of Central School can hardly wait.

Miss Luken's first grade has enjoyed the Hallowe'en chalk mural which Barry Lamkins mother drew for them on their blackboards. Visit their room and see the old witch high in the sky, peering down at all the strange sights she sees on Hallowe'en night.

Mrs. Neitling's first graders are learning about cotton. Dwight Stinnett, who visited in Alabama last week, brought back some cotton, a seed ball, and some seeds. He earned 50c picking cotton while there.

The boys and girls in Mrs. Schwartz' third grade made Hallowe'en string drawings for art.

It has been a busy week in Mrs. Thomas' third grade. Janice Sinkey brought her parakeet to live in their room. Since they have been studying about birds, Mr. Kaiser brought one of his son's homing pigeons to show and letl them about. Fred Kachur brought an elk antler on a human-size cardboard skeleton. Cathy Merx brought her bells and played the children a tune. All children made spatter prints of leaves for art.

Since Carole Winfield was born on President Eisenhower's birthday, the children in Mrs. Bailey's fourth grade had a treat. They are all getting ready for Halowe'en, making bats, black-cats, and jack-o-lanterns.

Mrs. Callihan's fourth grade have been studying about the parts and uses of the eye, ear, nose, and teeth. They are all making reports on this unit because they realize how important these parts are to them.

Carolyn Purple's mother brought her pet mouse to school to show Mrs. Miller's fourth grade. They fed it with a bottle because it was so tniy. The class are all trying hard to learn the mysteries of long division.

In Mrs. Whiting's room the boys and girls have been making scarecrows for art. Our science scrapbooks are almost completed. We have been drawing pictures of mammals, birds, reptiles, fish, amphibians, and insects and noting their different structure.

The fifth graders in Mr. Kelty's room are making a blockhouse of cardboard to show how the pioneers sought protection from the Indians. In art they are constructing papier-mache animals which they are studying in science.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade have finished a model of the Boonesbourgh fort. We are now reading about the great Louisiana Territory purchase. We have made maps to color in each stage of growth of our country.

Keith Kruse brought a bee hive to school which all believed to be free of bees, however after being in the sun for a short time, we began to notice a few of our little friends flying around the room. We enjoyed seeing the hive though.

Carol Campbell brought a large starfish to class which her grandmother brought from the Pacific Coast.

Karen Heberline has a large cut-out map puzzle of the United States which we enjoyed.

Our room is currently decorated with colored pictures depicting various beauty spots throughout our United States.

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade is making a time line for social studies. It will be filled in with pictures to show events as they happened in history.

The Safety Patrol had their regular meeting Monday after schoo to discuss problems and discuss regulations. The refreshment committee served doughnuts and cider.

For art we made modern designs with scraps of paper. All different shapes and objects were cut out and pasted in any design pleasing to the pupil.

We have a new globe which we enjoy using very much.

We were very pleased to see the wonderful turn-out for the first meeting of the year of the Central P.T.A. Out next meeting will be Thursday, November fifteenth. We hope you will be present again and bring other parents with you.

Tecumseh Grange To Hear Horton Speak On Project

There will be an open meeting of Tecumseh Grange Thursday evening, Oct. 25th. A potluck supper will be served at 7 o'clock by the chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Long and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Drewyer and their committee.

Following the potluck supper, there will be a short business meeting after which Dr. Robert J. Horton will speak. This should be of interest to everyone in the community.

The University of Michigan, School of Public Health has been given funds to study the health patterns of a community. This project is under the supervision of Robert J. Horton, M.D.

Inasmuch as Tecumseh was selected as the community to participate in this very interesting study, the Grange feels that it is advisable that everyone in the community have an opportunity to deliberate what is being considered. It seems that this study will be an all inclusive determination of the pattern of healtth service existing in a community, whether they be personal or community health service It is understood that this study will be carried on for a considerable time.

He has spoken to several urban groups but this will be the first meeting with a rural group thus we solicit the attendance of every one in the community, so that all may hear what he has to offer and also ask any questions that you wish concerning same. Everyone is welcome and urged to come and learn about this (first of its kind) project.

Remember this coming Saturday night Oct. 27th is dance night at the Tecumseh Grange Hall. Come and bring your friends for a good time.

An announcement of decisive importance to anyone about to buy a new automobile

The most exhaustive endurance test ever given an automobile has just been completed by two stock '57 Fords—identical in every respect with cars now being offered by Ford Dealers.

Under the supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile, each of these two '57 Fords traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days. Ford No. 1 averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . Ford No. 2, over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

In all, the '57 Ford smashed 458 national and international records.

This test was run on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah . . . it was the longest left turn in history.

A car, like a man, is known by its deeds, not words.

That is why, we at Ford, despite our confidence in our '57 cars, let their deeds of accomplishment speak for themselves.

Therefore, we engaged an independent engineering organization to test our '57 cars more thoroughly than any other cars have ever been tested before—in this country or abroad.

We provided them with '57 Fords—cars identical with those now offered by Ford Dealers. The rest we left up to them.

Here is what they did:

They took these cars to the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah.

Here, twelve of the world's greatest drivers took over.

In relays they drove these cars night and day for a distance greater than twice around the world . . . a distance equal to 5 years of normal driving.

Not in all history has a man-built machine traveled so far in so short a time—by land or sea!

But this was not a test of speed—but of endurance of the "Inner Ford." A trial to take the measure of Thunderbird Y-block V-8 power without qualification of any kind. A test of running gear—of brakes, of materials in body and chassis. Of steering and roadability, yes, and comfort, too!

A test, indeed, such as no other cars have ever undergone, let alone successfully concluded.

Surely they have told you, in decisive terms, that they are worth more when you buy . . . and when you sell!

Your Ford Dealer will gladly place at your disposal the new kind of Ford that means a new kind of value for your car-buying dollar—the greatest the world has ever seen.

Kindergarten, Mrs. Updike

We have been with the first grade to a movie! We all enjoyed it so much and we hope to invite them in our room soon. We think we would like to play our band for them. Our kindergarten room is getting to look more and more like Halloween. We are planning a party and we will all be dressed up funny. Mrs. Updike tells us that we will never be able to guess who she is.

First Grade, Mrs. Buttolph

The first graders have been busy decorating their room for Halloween. They, also, have made some pretty leaves to put in their room.

Second Grade, Mrs. Garlick

Gregory Wegner treated the second grade to ice cream and cup cakes on his birthday, last week.

We have been reviewing the meaning of the numbers 1 - 10 and practicing the addition and subtraction combinations for each one.

The second grade has learned how to finger paint and we are making box pictures using our finger painting in some of the scenes.

Fourth Grade, Mrs. Colson

The fourth grade made some very pretty water color pictures of fall scenes. We also, colored maps of North America, showing the areas claimed by explorers from Europe.

Karole Davis invited all of the children in our room to a skating party last Sunday. Most of us went and everyone had a very good time. We would like to thank Karole's parents for inviting us.

Fifth Grade, Mrs. Osburn

Susan Whitney was absent from school, Wednesday, because of having her tonsils out.

Monday we started our Ivory Inspection Patrol. We all hope to have a paper bar of Ivory soap placed after our name each day.

The girls are bringing unusual dolls to fill our display case. We have dolls from France, Japan, Germany, Mexico, Scotland, Alaska, England and several from the U.S.A.

We are writing letters in our Language class to different cities trying to get information. Also, learning to write business letters.

Sixth Grade, Mr. Gilliam

In our room we, now, have a home-made barometer. A barometer measures air pressure. If the air pressure increases, it means story weather. If it decreases, it means fair weather follows. We, also, have made a hygrometer which measures the realitive humidity. Last week we made wall plaques out of plaster of paris, and this week we painted them in bright colors. Thursday of last week our sixth grade football team played Manchester's sfixth grade. Manchester won by a score of 24 to 12. This week we played at Manchester. This time we won by a score of 12 to 6.

Health Dept. Warns Hunters

Hunters looking forward to enjoying small game season in southern Michigan were urged by the Lenawee County Health Dept. today to "have a ball but stay alive this Fall."

Based on figures compiled in recent years, 25 persons will die from firearms accidents in Michigan during the next 12 months.

Hunting provides excellent recreation both physically and mentally, the health department said. But the hunt for game can end in tragedy for persons who aren't careful with their guns and don't avoid other hunting hazards.

The health department urged all hunters to:

1—Use firearms carefully to keep from wounding themselves and other persons.

2—Avoid overexertion and the possibility of heart damage.

3—drink only from posted water sources and pass up the streams. The clearest of the crystal-clear brooks can spread typhoid fever or other water-borne diseases.

4—Watch for diseased animals and avoid touching them. Wild rabbits and squirrels sometimes carry tularemia. Foxes and skunks found in the wild may have rabies.

These dangers in themselves aren't great enough to make a hunter stay at home, but they should be kept in mind so they can be avoided, the health department said.

BETTER AIM IT

"I shot an arrow into the air, it fell to earth, I know not where." Good poetry (by Longfellow) but poor advertising. Much better to put a selling message right on the target of the most responsive market via newspaper advertising.

MPA Upheld In Decision

Circuit Judge Thomas J. Murphy, in an opinion for a declaratory judgement, upheld the Michigan Milk Producers' Association on all issues raised in the court action brought by Harold Fritz, Romeo minority faction leader.

Judge Murphy upheld the delegate system of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association, the practice of electing directors for staggered terms, the system of voting, and other MMPA procedures which Fritz had sought to change. The court also ruled against the Romeo member on the legality of applying certain provisions of Michigan corporation statutes to the dairy cooperative.

Dealing with Fritz's claim that only members had the right to vote at the annual meeting of the Association, Judge Murphy declared, "delegates were members of the corporation and had the right to vote at the annual meeting, and any action taken by them would be action of the members. As long as all of the members consented that some of the members should vote for them, I do not see how it can be said that this is illegal. There is no evidence in this record that any member ever objected to the delegate system until the year 1955."

ELECTION POLLS OPEN TUESDAY

Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

"It is in the uncomprisingness with which dogma is held and not in the dogma or want of dogma that the danger lies." This is true of settled opinions of any kind from the largest international issues, such as world communism, to the most minute local issue.

No amount of factual content or logical persuasion will convince a Communist that he is supporting an untenable belief. In issues of any kind where opinions are fixed, facts and logic loose out to dogma.

I don't think that this is a problem to be thrown off as one of the inevitable aspects of human nature. I believe something can and should be done about this deplorable situation. The fault lies in many places but the long run solution can easily be pointed out. However, it is not easy to point out a short run solution. In the long run, we must teach our young people the lessons to be learned from the scientific method. Many of them know them now. Perhaps the big majority of them do. However the small minority that do not grasp the valuable trait of logical, scientific thought, are the ones that will stand in the way of a better world tomorrow. They are the ones that will pick up a dogma like Communism and hold on to it regardless of the consequences. They are the ones that will never be able to accept any changes regardless of their merit just for the simple fact that they are changes. They are the dogmatic, static blockades to progress. We must do everything in our power to prevent this.

The educational system can and has done a lot to alleviate the situation for future years. However more attention is needed along the lines of broad minded, creative thinking. School can easily become a fact learning institution for a child rather than a training ground for intelligent and responsible citizenship. In many cases, responsible thinking is fostered in the home. However, if the parents are dogmatists, the school is one of the only other avenues of training for the childs development. The child must grasp the scientific method during his formulative years and combine it in later life with sound and creative thinking.

The dogmatist of today might as well be given up as a lost cause. He will not listen to reason, or subject himself

Indians Face Hillsdale Hornets For Homecoming Friday

This coming Friday night, the Tecumseh Indians will be trying for their first football championship in nine years. The Indians won their last championship in 1947, when they tied with Hudson for top honors in the LCAA League.

Tecumseh's opponents in this deciding game of the season will be the Hillsdale Hornets. Neither team has been defeated in Southeastern League play, though both squads have been downed in nonleague competition.

This meeting of the two powerhouses of the Southeastern League, which is to take place under the lights on the Tecumseh gridiron, will have special significance to many Tecumsehites if the Indians win for a number of reasons. Last year, the Hornets managed to slip by Tecumseh, 14-6, and many would be delighted to see the Indians revenge that loss by depriving Hillsdale of the league championship. During this past week, Tecumseh High has been preparing for homecoming, which takes place Friday. Nothing could be a more fitting conclusion to this annual celebration than for the Indian gridders to defeat the foe which has deprived them of more than one victory.

Since Tecumseh played no game last Friday, Coach Breniff has had 2 weeks to polish his team's offens-

350 People Attend The Van Vleet Reception

Not since Tecumseh won the championship of the Southern Michigan Baseball League and burned red fire on top of the standpipe or since the jubliant community parade which marked the opening of that long sought first unit of the Tecumseh hospital has the town known such spontaneous enthusiasm as was shown last Friday for "Ernie Van Vleet Day".

No sooner did the hopes of the unofficial committeee become known than the community responded to the call to honor a citizen who had won so much respect and affection.

Nearly 350 people attended the program and reception held Friday Evening in the Legion Hall honoring Ernie Van Vleet. Guests were welcomed at the door by Mayor and Mrs. Hanna and City Manager and Mrs. Nelson.

The program was started off by a barber shop quartet composed of Wallace Whiting, Arthur Swartz, Duncan Olliphant and F. C. Dickinson. This group also led the assembly in singing, "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow". A "This is your life" sequence conducted by Rev. Bashore followed the singing.

Important persons in Mr. Van Vleet's life participating in the sequence were the following: Members of the family participating were Mrs. Dale Tingley (daughter), Dale T. Tingley Jr. (grandson), relatives from Plymouth, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dicks and Claire Freeman. Former grocers including Ed. Lowry, Leon Williamson, C. M. Gilbert, John Snow and Kenneth Hall. Former helpers on the wagon including Rude Meade, Harry Duncan, Bill DePuy, Dean Jones, Harry Beland, Clyde Smith and his father William Smith from Flat Rock. Former council members who served with Ernie were present including Ed. Heilman, Ernie Campbell, Lester Rodgers, Yale Kerby and Ed Nelson. Members of the K. of P. present and participating in the program in the place of Arthur Harding, who could not come, were Luther Wood, Carl Kempf, Duncan Olliphant, Carl Thompson and H. H. Hanna. Fred Sheldon represented the Baptist Church.

The Van Vleet's received a number of gifts. They received a plant from the Pythian Sisters, an Emblem from the K. P.'s, a Television set from "All Your Friends at the Tecumseh Products," fifty silver dollars and more than $400 additional from friends in the community. The above picture shows the presentation of the Television set.

All arrangements were made by the "unofficial committee". People who did not participate can still do so by contacting any member of the committee. Information can be obtained from the Herald concerning who these members are.

Everybody connected with this event is to be congratulated for the wonderful event their efforts resulted in.

Local Property Owners Pay 4th Lowest School Tax

The need for additional school facilities to serve the total area now composing the Tecumseh School District No. 11, Tecumseh Public Schools, was presented to the public last week. In order that Tecumseh area citizens may consider their present property tax rates and their educational program with that of other high school districts in the county, a summary is presented on page 3.

You will notice that, even though 40c/1000 is included in the operation cost of the schools for the operation of the Tecumseh Public Library, Tecumseh operational millage is still third lowest in the county. Adrian with $10.00/1000 and other districts with greater millage for operation should be able to give their children better educational advantages except for school buildings than those with less money with which to operate.

The Tecumseh Board of Education has done exceptionally well in the past in providing Tecumseh children with a

Community Fund Drive Underway

The Community Fund Drive is underway in Tecumseh. (see last week's Herald) The local goal has been set at $13,244. All receipts collected in the Community Fund Drive will be split between 44 different agencies. It makes a lot more sense to give once to all these various agencies than to give to each of them separately. None of the 44 agencies will solicit separately in Tecumseh.

Remember to give generously and give once for all. If you have not already been contacted, workers in the various areas will soon do so.

Township Board Approves Study

The Tecumseh Township Board recently was visited by Dr. Horton, from the University of Michigan's Dept. of Public Health. Doctor Horton is the director of the study in community health proposed for our city.

The Township board heard Dr. Horton explain exactly what the study will consist of. They voted to approve the study and pledged their cooperation in any way that it might be needed.

Doctor Horton has visited many groups in Tecumseh and explained to them the nature of the study. He wishes to address any group that would like to hear him. So far, the response to the study has been excellent. Barring complications, it looks as though we will fortunately be the location for the study.

Auto Dealers Help Voters

A large ad entitled "It's Everyone's Privilege . . . Vote" appears in this issue of the Herald, sponsored by four Tecumseh automobile dealers, who will also furnish transportation to the polls on election day, Nov. 6, to anyone needing transportation.

For this fine service, which is free of charge and done only as a community service in the interest of every voting citizen, call the auto dealer listed below that you wish and they wil pick you up so that you may cast your vote and return you to your home. Participating dealers are Butler Motors Sales, phone 289, Wilson Motor Sales, phones 887-888, Schneider Bros. Garage, Inc., phone 65 and G. H. Fisher Pontiac Motors, Inc., phone 563.

Playing More Games Impossible At Present

Scheduling of games for Tecumseh High School is very difficult at present in all sports. Superintendent McDowell reports that he has been asked many times by our fans, "Why don't we play Blissfield and Adrian any more and why do we schedule teams from places of which we have never heard?" Well, its a long story, but here goes: The Tecumseh High School Principal who is also the business manager for athletics and assists the athletic director in scheduling competition for Tecumseh, and the athletic director have both done a fine job particularly since the rapid growth of Tecumseh has put us out of the class of most of the schools in the county.

The Michigan High School Athletic Association sets rigid standards for classification of schools relative to athletics. Class A schools have 900 or more pupils; Class B have 375-899, Class C have 150-374, and Class D, less than 150. There are 81 schools in Class A in the state; 146 in Class B; 241 in Class C, and 183 in Class D. In schools similar to Monroe Catholic which is made up of all boys, the enrollment is doubled for classification purposes. It is evident that there are not as many schools to choose from now that we are in Class B as when we were in Class C.

Several years ago when Tecumseh High School first became large enough that it was classified in Class B rather than in Class C, the Board of Education through consultation with the administration and athletic department decided that if Tecumseh High teams were to progress, particularly in the State Basketball Tournaments, that the Athletic Director should schedule games with Class B teams if possible. Therefore, since the Lenawee County League was composed of all C and D teams except Tecum

Scheid-Burke Autumn Wedding Sat.

MRS. DONALD R. SCHEID

The St. Elizabeth Catholic Church was the scene of the beautiful autumn wedding of Miss Joan Burke, 108 Monroe St. Dundee, Michigan, and Mr. Donald R. Scheid, 2910 Mill St. Ida, Michigan, last Saturday morning at 11:30 a.m. The altar and cathedral vases were filled with white pom poms and mums, and the altar rail was banked with white hampers of the same style. Lovely flowers and satin bows completely marked the center aisle for the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Burke Sr. and the late Mr. Burke, of Dundee, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Scheid of Ida, Mich. Rev. Father Charles Kraus, pastor of St. Irene's Catholic Church in Dundee, performed the double ring ceremony, and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Richard Burke Jr. She was lovely in a gown of handclipped chantilly lace and Italian silk taffeta formed a cumberband effect to the lace bodice which featured a rounded neckline and long sleeves. The scalloped lace at the neckline was traced with seed pearls and sequins; and the floor length skirt was of teffeta in unpressed pleats, the back of which was fashioned from the lace and was drawn back with a wide drape and a large bow of silk. The double finger tip veil was attached to a pleated illusion and jeweled lace cap, and the only jewelry she wore was a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom. As she walked down the aisle the bride carried a lace covered prayer book topped with phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis in a shower arrangement.

The maid of honor was Betty Kennedy, cousin of the bride, and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Frank Willets of Monroe, Mrs. Joyce Laurent of Cadillac, and Mrs. LeRoy Bater of Tecumseh, Michigan. They wore identical princess style, ballerina length, dresses of wine crystalette over taffeta with self pleating forming the rounded neckline and cap sleeves. Head pieces and shoes matched in color, and they carried flat wicker baskets edged with dark red oak leaves, and filled with pale pink fuji mums and cream pom poms centered with tiny pink rose buds. The brides attendants wore silver jewelry and white gloves which were gifts from the bride.

Linda Scheid, of Ida, niece of the groom, and Patricia Burke, niece of the bride, were the flower girls, and Master Russell Burke, nephew of the bride, was ring bearer. The little girls were dressed in floor length hoop dresses of white crystalette with wine velvet bows at the back, and their head pieces were like the other attendants. Each carried a tiny white wicker basket flounced with tulle to which tiny nose gays of fall flowers were attached in a shower of narrow ribbons. From these baskets, they dropped rose petals down the traditional aisle runner proceeding the bride.

Gerald Scheid of Ida, brother of the groom was best man, and the groomsman was James Burke of Saginaw, brother of the bride. Ushers were James Jennings of Dundee, and Harold Heidan of Petersburg, who are friends of the groom.

Mrs. Ben Hammack was the organist and accompanied Mr. Wallace Whiting of Tecumseh as he sang Ponis-Angelicus, "Mother at Your Feet is Kneeling".

Mrs. Burke wore a dress of Dior blue for the wedding, with pink accessories and a shoulder corsage of a pink cypedium, orchid. Mrs. Scheid wore a dress of navy blue lace, with rose accessories and a pink cypedium, orchid corsage.

The wedding reception, immediately following the ceremony, was held in the Tecumseh Products Union Hall with approximately 600 people attending. A four tier wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was decorated at the base with dark red, oak leaves, and pompoms. Silver candlabra with white candles flanked the cake on either side, and in front of it was a large anniversary candle which the bride and groom lighted before cutting the cake.

Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Tressler of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. William Kuhlman of Dundee were the hosts and hostesses for the afternoon, and Mrs. Elwyn Sell and Mrs. Gerald Scheid attended the guest book. Pouring punch and changing through the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kampmuller, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Hamilton, and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Cregar, of Tecumseh, Mr. Gerald Laurent of Cadillac, and Miss Josephine Rebottaro of Detroit. Serving the luncheon were Mrs. Richard Burke Jr. of Dundee and Mrs. James Burke of Saginaw cutting the cake. Mrs. William Rhoades of Clinton and Mrs. Earl Taylor of Milan poured, while Miss Virginia Getty of Azalia and Mrs. Paul Boyce of Dundee assisted with the serving. Miss Marilyn Babcock and Mrs. Alex Perdian of Dundee had charge of the gift table.

For their wedding trip throughout the northern part of Michigan, the new Mrs. Scheid was wearing a black and gray suit dress with avacado green accessories and an orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Dundee High School and has been employed with the Tecumseh Products Co. as a switchboard operator and receptionist since her graduation in 1947. The groom graduated from Ida, in 1949, served four years in the U.S. Air Force, and is presently employed with H. and H. Construction Co., as an engineer.

Marvin Higgins Married To Wilma Bumpus Saturday

Large white hampers of white Supreme mums and white Bebe mums decorated the sanctuary of the Tecumseh Methodist church Saturday evening for the wedding of Wilma Marie Bumpus, 306 S. Evans St. Tecumseh, and Marvin C. Higgins of Route 2, Tecumseh, Mich. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Richard Eggleston, of Tecumseh, and Mr. Clarence Bumpus of Tipton; and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Higgins of Route 2, Tecumseh. Rev. Horace James performed the double ring ceremony at 2:30 p.m., and Mr. Bumpus gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Patricia Davis attended the bride as maid of honor, and Shirley Larned and Betty Barton, and Mrs. Linda Vanderpoole were the bridesmaids. Jerry D. Henry attended the bridegroom as best man, and Dale Willis, Raymond Pate, and George Clark were the ushers.

Mrs. Herbert Dillion played nuptial music on the organ preceding the ceremony, and accompanied Miss Julie Crawford as she sang "Bless this House" and "Because"; and as the couple knelt at the altar Miss Crawford sang, "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride was lovely in her floor length gown of chantilly lace, fashioned wtih a basque waist, long sleeves, and a scoop neckline embroidered with sequins; the skirt was very full and fashioned in lace and tulle tiers. The veil of the finest French type illusion was attached to a heart shaped crown edged in pearls on matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white Butterfly roses and white frenched mums enhanced with a white orchid and tufts of white nylon tulle, accented with ivy in a graceful, sweeping line.

The bridesmaids were identically gowned in ballerina, princess style, gowns of irredescent red taffeta with the bodice featuring a V neckline, and a bow in the back with streamers reaching to the hemline. Matching half hats with short veils completed their costumes and they carried flirtatious black lace fans studded with Blue Mist Frenched Carnations and caught with black velvet ribbon. The Maid of honor was gowned in irredescent red taffeta of the same design as the bridesmaids and she carried Blue Mist Carnations accented with Red Garnet sweetheart roses on an intricately patterned black lace fan with loops of black velvet ribbon. Beverly Eggleston, sister of the bride, was the flower girl and she wore a floor length white gown in similar design to the brides. She carried a dainty white lace fan with Blue Mist Frenched carnations, and wore a circlet of tiny, white, frenched mums in her hair.

Mrs. Eggleston, mother of the bride, wore a gown of deep ice blue with winter white accessories and a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Higgins, mother of the bridegroom, was gowned in navy blue with pink accessories, and wore a corsage of pink cymbidium orchids.

A reception immediately following the ceremony, was held in the church parlors for about 300 guests. A six tiered bridal cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom and flanked with crystal candelabra, was served by Mrs. Alice Henry from a white table decorated with blue crepe paper. The groom's cake was served by Luella Bishop, coffee was served by Beverly McClain, and punch by Mary Pat McCann.

The new Mrs. Higgins is a graduate of Tecumseh High School in 1956, and is employed by the Tecumseh Products Co. The groom attended Tecumseh High School and spent four years in the U.S. Navy before being employed by the Tecumseh Products Co. They will reside in the apartment of the Loveless Nursery and Gift Shop.

Letter To The Editor

Fluoridation of Tecumseh water supply.

To those people who are debating about addition o fsodium fluoride to our drinking water please go to a drug store and take a look at Skull and Crossbones the words poison, the warning do not use around children or pets. It is on every package and you cannot buy it until you sign your name to the list of poison buyers.

Sodium fluoride is about 12 cents a pound or 453,592 milligrams. The usual dosage is one milligram or enough for 1000 children for 1¼ years yet if we put it in our general water supply it will cost about $1500. I think the city could have our local druggists dispense sodium fluoride capsuls to anyone that wishes to use it and use the other $1499.88 for sewers, water supply or pavement.

It is only beneficial to those under 16 years and extra bad for those with heart trouble or rheumatism.

I doubt if many people would go to a lawyer for a shot of pennicillin yet if we have fluoride in our water supply who is going to put it in?

Vote next week and let your conscience be your guide.

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Football Week End

Want a wonderful little vacation and reunion in the fall? You can have one without taking any time from work or school. Here's how.

Get in touch with those friends you've been wanting to see (but somehow never do) and plan a football week end. You don't have to be a super-loyal alumnus or a cousin of the star half-back to enjoy it. When you're part of a football crowd you find any good game is a show worth seeing.

You—or your friends—reserve rooms for headquarters at a hotel or motel near the game. Then arrange to meet before the game—perhaps for a picnic of cold chicken and biscuits. (I remember how marvelous this tasty combination tasted at an Oklahoma-Arkansas game). Visit with your friends through the game, then for dinner and the evening. The next day, after a holiday away from home, you can both start back.

Plan it all for easy going. Pick a game you can get to with a reasonable drive; check a road map and note a couple of spots you've never seen. Then, going to the game and coming home the next day, get off the main road long enough to see them.

It's a comfortable combination—leisurely travel, the excitement of the game, plus the pleasure of seeing old friends and some new sights besides.

Best of all, it helps stretch your vacation fun beyond the usual summer season.

A parking lot accident occurred October 27 when a car belonging to Emily Pocklington, Tecumseh and Hazel L. Jeffery, Tipton, were damaged. Two other cars were involved and had been removed when the Officer arrived at the scene. Thomas Murphy was arrested for leaving the scene of the accident.

Ten tickets were issued during the past few days for illegal parking.

SCHOOL TAX

sound educational program at a minimum of cost. However, with rising operational costs, especially those involving teacher shortage, Superintendent McDowell states that additional funds must be made available either through property taxes or increased state or federal aid.

The 1952 Bond Debt will be completely paid off by Christmas of 1957. This means that, due to the annexing of seventeen rural districts and increased evaluations due to new homes, factories, and other real estate in the area, Tecumseh will have paid a debt which was to have run for 13 years in 6 years. In fact, the bond debt millage to Tecumseh property owners was cut from $6.00 per thousand in 1955 to $4.60 this year on state equalized evaluations. On local evaluations this is a cut of $7.10 per thousand over last year since laste year property owners paid $13.60 per thousand on the debt and this year will pay $6.50 per thousand. However, property owners should also keep in mind that there was a property re-assessment program in the city this year, therefore, some property owners will find their school taxes cut considerably while others will pay increased taxes. Four other high school districts in the county pay less on bond debt and six pay more than Tecumseh.

Only Addison, Adrian, and Clinton property owners pay less than Tecumseh taxpayers for their total school tax and in an amount less than $1.00 per thousand of state equalized evaluation. Also included in the total tax bill for Tecumseh schools of $12.00 per thousand is 40c per thousand for the operation of the Tecumseh Public Library. No other Lenawee County school district supports its public library with its school operational funds.

All citizens living in the Tecumseh Public School District are urged to consider the changing needs of children today and to join the Board of Education in planning the best possible facilities and opportunities for learning situations for all, keeping ever in mind that a well-educated citizenry is necessary if Democracy is to be maintained in these United States and educational costs are comparatively small as opposed to Communism.

Senator Potter In Tecumseh

The Honorable Senator Charles E. Potter will be in Tecumseh Friday, Nov. 2, between 5 and 6 p.m. for the purpose of meeting his friends and making new acquaintances. In case of inclimate weather, Senator Potter will be at the Republican headquarters.

The worship most acceptable to God comes from a thankful and cheerful heart.

O. E. S. Installation Held Last Saturday Evening

Installation of the newly elected officers of the Tecumseh Chapter of the Eastern Star was performed at a special meeting last Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple. Brenda and Sharon Gallant, grand daughters of the newly elected worthy matron, acting as pages, lighted the tapers for the candle-light service. Mrs. Norris Morehouse, retiring worthy matron, opened the meeting and welcomed the 150 members and guests; then followed the presentation of the American flag by Mrs. Cecle Viele. Mrs. Morehouse presented the distinguished guests and then the installing officers. They were Mrs. La Vern Russell as matron, Mrs. Owen Partridge as marshall, Mrs. Vera Driffill as chaplain, Mrs. Kenton Hunt as organist, and Mrs. Thomas Gallant as soloist.

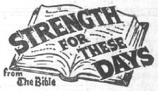
The officers installed were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Westgate as worthy matron and patron, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Smith as associate matron and patron, Mrs. Lynn Harris as secretary, Mrs. Vera Driffill as treasurer, Mrs. Donald LaBounty as conductress, Mrs. George Rhinehart as associate conductress, Mr. Lawrence Hoagland as chaplain, Mr. LaVern Russell as marshall, Mrs. Glenn Driscoll as organist, Mrs. Essie Bonnell as Adah, Mrs. Stanley Miller as Ruth, Mrs. Hugh Browne as Esther, Mrs. Harry Beland aa Martha, Mrs. Cecle Viele as Electra, Mrs. Dorothy Hindes as warder, William Butler as sentinel, Mrs. Thomas Gallant as soloist and Mr. Cecle Viele, Mrs. William Butler and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland as flag bearers.

Mrs. Westgate was escorted to the East by her son, Mr. Jack Wilson of Maumee, O., through an honor line of officers. As she knelt at the altar her daughter, Mrs. Gallant sang "Give Us This Day." Mr. Westgate was escorted to the West through an honor line of fellow Masons and Mrs. Gallant sang "Walk Hand and Hand with Me." Mrs. Smith was escorted to her station by her young son, Robert, and Mr. Smith was escorted by the other son, Jon. As Mr. Hoagland, the chaplain, knelt at the altar, Mrs. Gallant sang "The Lord's Prayer."

The Past Matron's Club presented the new matron with a gavel, and the chapter gave her a bouquet of red roses presented to her by her grandson, Thomas Gallant, Jr. The song of the year, "Pass the Plate of Happiness Around" was sung by Mrs. Gallant during the presentation. The retiring matron and patron, Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse were presented with jewels by Mr. and Mrs. Westgate, and the Past Matrons Club welcomed Mrs. Morehouse to their membership with an impressive ceremony at the altar. A circle of matrons each presented her with a yellow rose so that in completing the circle she had an armful of roses as Mrs. Gallant sang "Only a Rose."

After the installation service, refreshments were served in the dining room at tables beautifully decorated with fall flowers. The chairmen of the committee were Mr. and Mrs. Bert Klappick, and the co-chairmen Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Smith.

Thursday night will be Obligation Night for the O.E.S.



And though I bestow all my goods to feed the poor, and though I give my body to be burned, and have not charity, it profiteth me nothing. — (I Corinthians 13, 3.)

The grand gesture and the big gift, even though they be generous, are not so great in the sight of God as the smallest thought or act that comes from a heart filled with loving-kindness — for therein is the real and true charity.

seh and Blissfield, the Board decided to drop out of the Lenawee County League and to attempt to form a League with B schools similar to ours. The South Eastern Michigan League was born in 1952 with Hillsdale, Bedford, Monroe Catholic Central, and Tecumseh as members, since all had similar unique problems, rapid growth or no competition close by. Blissfield was also also invited to join since it had a larger enrollment, and still has, than Tecumseh and some of the other schools in the League but they refused to drop from the Lenawee Co[illegible] Adrian also was invited, but decided to remain in the Twin Valley League although it required much more travel. In 1954 Airport joined the League.

Last spring an attempt was made at a gathering of most of the Superintendents, Principals, Athletic Directors, and Coaches of Lenawee County to reorganize the county into three leagues of six teams each. Jack Finn, then Hudson coach, had previously formulated a fine plan for this division which he presented to the group.

By inviting schools which already played Lenawee County Teams, three leagues of schools of nearly equal enrollments could have been planned. However, in order to form these league it would have either been necessary for Blissfield to drop out of the Lenawee County League which they refused to do, or to disband the League entirely, which was opposed principally by Blissfield and Morenci. Therefore, nothing was done to change the inequalities of competition in the Lenawee County League or to promote additional members to the South Eastern Michigan League of which we are members.

The inequalities of enrollment in the Lenawee County League are best shown by the following table:

Lenawee County League

School	Enrollment 1956-57	Class

Blissfield	537	B
Clinton	164	C
Hudson	341	C
Morenci	251	C
Onsted	252	C
Pittsford	220	C
Summerfield	195	C

It is obvious that Blissfield being a middle-sized B school has a much greater potential athletics than does Clinton, a very small C school. In fact Clinton was in Class D last year. The Tecumseh Board feels that Tecumseh should be competing with schools in its own class or larger. We now are scheduling in our League:

School	Enrollment	Class
Hillsdale	558	B
Monroe Catholic	350 (All boys)	B
Bedford	585	B
Airport	462	B
Tecumseh	534	B

This means that in football we play four league games and must find, free-lance, four other games. This is very difficult as most schools are in league and particularly since when Onsted was accepted in the Lenawee County League it made an eight team league, playing seven football games within the league. Therefore, only one game with one of these schools can be played by Tecumseh since all their other dates are filled with League games. With the addition of Onsted, Blissfield dropped Tecumseh from their schedule as they had previously scheduled Dundee as their opening game and Bedford as a ninth game. Therefore, Tecumseh scheduled Hudson on our opening date. Unless Blissfield drops Class C Dundee and reworks its schedule so that they may play Tecumseh or withdraws from the Lenawee County League it seems improbable that athletic relations with the only B school in the Lenawee County League may be resumed.

Tecumseh has been attempting to schedule Adrian which is also in Class B since it does not have its 9th grade pupils in the same building with the high school and thus according to Michigan High School Athletic Association rules counts only the upper three grades, 10, 11, and 12 for a total of 841 pupils. If the 9th grade were counted in the Adrian High School the total would be 1188. However, Adrian is in an eight school league and has only the opening date to offer outside its league play. Monroe High, although not in their league, has been their opposition for years and although Tecumseh is a natural as far as competition is concerned, it is not likely that Adrian will drop Monroe or play a 9th game. Most schools do not desire to play a football game on the 9th date in the fall because then the season runs to nearly the middle of November and basketball and swimming coaches are anxious to get under way with their programs.

As far as Tecumseh is concerned, we'd like to play Adrian in all sports but we can also see their position. We certainly do not want to go back to playing schools half our size.

Tecumseh now has scheduled football games with Hudson, Monroe Catholic, Airport, Bedford, Hillsdale, Willow Run, and Milan. All except Hudson are in Class B and Hudson even now lacks only thirty-four pupils of being in Class B. Tecumseh desires two more games with Class B schools to fill its schedule for 1957-1958. We still hope that both Adrian and Blissfield will decide to complete our schedule by playing us on our open dates, October 11 and November 1 or get together with us to arrange for other dates.

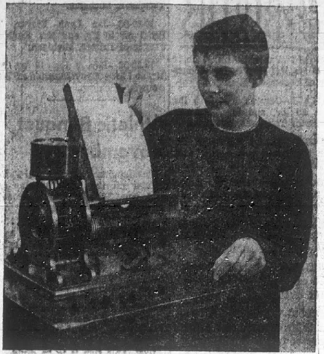
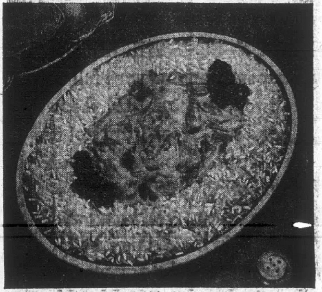
Granddaddy of Voting Machines



Millions of Americans will be casting ballots in the Presidential election next week, many on the latest smooth-working voting machines, but how many know that it was Thomas A. Edison who first mechanized the vote casting process? Betty Dul shows a device perfected by Edison called an electrographic vote-recorder and register, now in the Henry Ford Museum's Edison collection, Dearborn, Mich. The patent, granted him on June 1, 1869, was the first in his long inventive career. Designed as a time-saver, Edison said its purpose was to record and register "in an instant, and with great accuracy," the votes of legislative bodies. But it was shelved after a committee of the National House of Representatives decided after a demonstration that it would put an end to filibustering, and who wanted to see that happen? Wound by a key, the clock-work mechanism rotated on a drum containing names in metal type that were imprinted on chemically prepared paper by means of an electric current. A switch on a legislator's desk was moved to either of two positions for an affirmative or negative vote. Edison placed the switches that would be used by the legislators at the front of the stand in this working model.

Chicken Supreme in a Rice Ring



A suggested menu to serve with Chicken Supreme in a Rice Ring is golden squash, molded lime and carrot salad, hard rolls and berry cobbler.

CHICKEN SUPREME IN A RICE RING

⅓ cup butter or margarine
¼ pound fresh mushrooms, sliced
⅓ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper dash nutmeg
2 cups chicken broth
¾ cup cream
2 cups diced cooked chicken
4 cups hot cooked rice
⅛ teaspoon paprika

Melt butter in saucepan, add mushrooms and cook until soft but not browned. Stir in flour, salt, pepper, and nutmeg. Add broth and cream all at once, stirring constantly until smooth. Cook until thickened, stirring occasionally. Fold in chicken.

Pack rice lightly into a buttered 8-inch ring mold. Let stand in a warm place about 5 minutes. Loosen sides with knife. Unmold onto a warm platter.

Fill center of rice ring with creamed chicken. Sprinkle with paprika. Yields six servings.

Homecoming

ive and defensive play. This extra week of concentrated training may mean the difference between victory and defeat. Hillsdale wasn't lucky enough to have an open date before this important contest. Last week, the Hornets were defeated, 37-0, by Hudson in a very hard-hitting game. This Hornet defeat could prove a decided advantage to the Indians in tomorrow night's game.

Coach Breniff had this to say when he was questioned about his team in connection with the nearing contest.

"I feel we have come a long way together. This game will determine the future of football at Tecumseh. I feel the boys are higher for this game than any game in the two years since I've been here. We realize we are playing a very good team Friday night and they will also be fired up for this game. But Hillsdale has been up for the championship before, tying for it once, winning it once, and finishing no farther down than third ever, while Tecumseh, through the efforts of these seniors, is now in the position to win their first Southeastern Conference championship and also to finish with the best season in nine years. Realizing all the things that these boys have to win, I feel more confident of victory than in any game since I have been at Tecumseh."

Three senior backfield men who Coach Breniff is definitely counting on for tomorrow night are Bill Hansen, Ray Larned, and Al Dickinson.

Hansen, as quarterback, will be running the team on offense. In past games, he has shown his ability to pick and call plays which are successful, and has demonstrated adeptness for running the ball.

Larned and Dickinson have been Tecumseh's two leading yardage gainers this season. In six games, Dickinson has gained 579 yards on 94 carries for an average of 6.1 yards per try. He averages 96.5 yards per game. Larned, the Indian's 220 lb. fullback, has traveled 411 yards in 76 plays this season for an average of 5.4 yards per carry, and 68.5 yards per game. Dickinson has scored six touchdowns for 30 points so far, while Larned has racked up four td's, 13 extra points, and a safety for a total of 39 points. Larned's accuracy at kicking extra points may prove invaluable if the score of this crucial game becomes so close that a one point difference means a win or a loss. To date, he has successfully kicked 13 of 17 conversion attempts.

Tecumseh has assembled a very outstanding record for the first six games of the season. The Indians so far have amassed 1572 yards gained, which is 489 yards more than their opponents, who have, to date, made only 1083.

In the first downs department, Tecumseh, in all six games, has outtallied the opponents, even though two of these games were defeats for the Indians. All in all, Tecumseh has made 62 first downs to the opponents 38.

Total points so far for the season show the Indians leading their opponents, 117 to 43. It is interesting to note that in three of the four games which Tecumseh was victorious, their opponents were unable to make even one touchdown, while the Indians were held scoreless in the two contests which they lost.

Whether or not these pleasing statistics mean anything or not will be found out tomorrow night, when Tecumseh and Hillsdale clash.

A message from Ralph Hodges, 'Your Pharmacist'

DIABETES (DIABETES MELLITUS) is a condtion which develops when the body cannot make full use of all the foods we eat, such as sugars and starches. The pancreas does not secrete enough insulin to turn these foods into energy or to store them for future use. These foods increase the blood sugar until the sugar passes through the kidneys into the urine. Too much sugar in the blood and urine is a sign of diabetes.

IF THERE IS A PAST HISTORY of diabetes in the family, an overweight condition increases the tendency to acquire the disease.

DIABETES CAN BE CONTROLLED by diet, exercise and insulin, if needed.

NOVEMBER 11-17 this year is DIABETES WEEK when you and all the other members of your family should be checked for signs of diabetes. You can obtain from us some inexpensive diabetes testing material which will determine if sugar is present in the urine. This I Believe

FLUORIDE IS A POISON—SO IS THE AIR WE BREATHE — in fact our surroundings are full of POISON, but in the proper amount all these things are put to a good use. Now I am not a SCIENTIST — I am just another guy around town. My DOCTOR and my DENTIST are people that devote their lives to our well being and they try day after day to help make this a better world for us to live in. They start the day we are born. That is the time to develop good health habits. Now today I feel fine and really ready to go — BUT if I went to the DOCTOR or DENTIST and they said "We think you need an operation or a tooth pulled "I don't argue with them because I have faith in them. When our children get their shots I don't ask why are they getting them, we just do it because our doctor tells us to. These men are with us to help prevent sickness, which they work at every day. When some one tells me that DENTISTS are not going to help prevent decay in teeth because they will lose money, that is like telling me that DOCTORS will give no more shots for Polio — Whooping cough — Diphtheria or the many many others they give because they will lose money by preventing these things. I grant you that by increasing our FLUORIDE content it won't do the voters personally a lot of good — BUT if you have children, grandchildren, nieces or nephews, THINK of them, this is GOOD for them, not because I say so but because YOUR DOCTOR AND DENTIST tell us so. Let's all stop and THINK — use common sense — VOTE YES on increasing the FLUORIDE content of our city water supply for the good of our CHILDREN.

TIMING POLIO VACCINATION

Polio has brought needless tragedy to thousands of Americans this year — needless because we now possess the means of preventing better than four out of five cases of paralysis from this cause — and more will be stricken next year. Just how extensive the human damage will be in 1957 depends on how many of us act now to protect ourselves and our families.

The time element is vital because it takes eight months to space out properly the vaccine shots required for maximum protection. Only by starting at once will you have time to complete the three-shot series before warm weather brings another uptrend of the disease next year.

Each of the three shots is important. The whole effect is to enable the human system to produce the antibodies that destroy the polio virus before it can reach the nerve centers. The third is the clincher; it provides long-lasting protection at the highest level attainable — a level comparable to the immunity conferred by a natural attack of the disease itself.

Medical authorities recommend that the second shot be administered four to six weeks after the first, and the third, seven months after the second. If you have already begun the series you should get the remaining shots according to schedule. If you haven't started yet, there is no better time than the present.

Don't be put off by that old misnomer, "infantile paralysis." Your children need this protection, but if you are under 36 years old you should have it too — for their security as well as your own. Polio's attack has been shifting in recent years. It is striking more frequently at adults and as a rule it hits them even harder than it does children. This may mean disaster to the whole family.

Don't let it happen to you and yours. Get in touch with your doctor now.

IF YOU'RE LIKE ME

You try to drive carefully and respect the speed laws and don't take big risks — but you can remember taking some little chances — like slipping through on a yellow light, jay walking when you were in a hurry, or cutting a few corners such as failing to come to a full stop at a stop street.

Something like little white lies on your own conscience you can get away with them some of the time, and if you are lucky these little risks will only bring an occasional traffic ticket or two. But what happens if you are involved in a serious collision?

People who take small chances may be guilty of "contributory negligence." This very old legal doctrine is followed by Michigan courts. Since the days of the common law the English and most American courts have held that in order to place liability on a person who has been negligent, the injured party must be free from fault. In other words, your negligence or carelessness must not contribute to the accident. So even though the other fellow may have been more at fault, if you went through that yellow light or failed to come to a complete stop, or were jay walking, it may cost you money. The courts won't compare degrees of fault. The law will not attempt to adjust loss between wrongdoers.

So watch out when you travel the highways and byways! Keep your eyes open, head up, drive carefully, obey the traffic laws, and never, never cross the yellow line.

If it really is the other fellow's fault, you don't want your contributory negligence to deprive you or your loved ones of money which may be needed for medical bills or property damage; and more importantly——

The life you save may be your own.

IF THE CANAL WERE CLOSED

The productive abilities of the U. S. oil industry is one of the economic wonders of the world. These abilities are well highlighted in an interview conducted by U. S. News & World Report with the head of a major American oil company which operates on an international scale.

Europe requires 3 million barrels of oil a day, of which 800,000 go to the Mediterranean via pipeline and the remaining 1.2 million barrels travel through the Suez Canal The oil leader was asked this big question—if the Canal were closed to traffic and Europe could no longer get those 1.2 million barrels a day from the Middle East, how much of the loss could we make up and send to Europe by tanker?

The oil mans' answer was this: "We would have to step up production in this country by about a million barrels a day—a little less than that, possibly. We would have to increase production in Venezuela. We would be able to get a little bit out of Canada. On that basis—and without converting the 'Little Inch' pipeline back to oil from gas—we could take care of the needs of the United States and Europe with the world's present tanker fleet."

Closure of the Canal, of course, would be a calamity, and all hope that it will come to pass. In addition, as a matter of national policy we could not indefinitely provide Europe with oil out of our own continental resources. However, this statement provides vivid proof that the American oil industry is capable of meeting an incredibly high normal demand for oil—and, if necessary, meeting a great new emergency demand at the same time.

"Would you like a listing on my home at a price of $15,000.00? asked Ted Staples, as we completed an inspection of the property.

"Yes, Ted," I said, "but strictly on an exclusive listing basis."

"Why an exclusive?" Ted asked.

"Because we like to concentrate our efforts on good properties, especially with a fair market price and a cooperative owner. It only takes one buyer, and by working diligently on the listing, we are nearly certain to produce one."

I continued, "You see, Ted, we are in an unusual business. We get paid only for results. Naturally, with an exclusive, we realize we will be fairly compensated for our services before it's all over. Therefore we can afford to invest extra time, effort, and advertising in promoting your property."

"You think it helps me, too?" Ted asked.

"Sure ,because we'll attempt to leave no stone unturned. It will give you a full measure of service from one responsible firm, rather than the 'half-heated' attempts of several. The proof is that it works. We sell most of our exclusive listing properties."

"Fine," Ted replied, "go ahead." May we sell your home too?

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Fastest "News Service" in Town!

Had a frantic wire from Washington yesterday—saying that the local Congressman was making a surprise visit and a short speech. Could I get the word around fast?

No time for a special edition of the Clarion, so I turned to the fastest "news service" in town... Windy Taylor. He spent an hour mobilizing his Lodge and Court House cronies—all pretty fair talkers—and the rest is history. Biggest turnout ever.

As a newspaperman, I hate to admit it—but facts are facts. The Windys of this world aren't only quicker news spreaders than our paper . . . they've even got better circulation.

From where I sit, some of us would rather talk than eat, while others are close-mouthed ... just as some of us like coffee and others prefer a glass of beer. There's a lot to be said for both attitudes. But if you go in for gab—don't talk against someone just because you don't happen to agree with him on some question of personal choice. Use your own "good censorship."

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Callihan's fourth grade along with the other three fourth-grade sections enjoyed films shown by Roger Beal's father. One was of Canada, one of the places in Michigan and Kentucky, and another was a clever comedy of the Three Bruins.

The fourth graders have been finding multiplication and division of fours almost fun and hope they can remember them.

Mrs. Miller's fourth graders have been spatter painting in their art class. Every person's painting turned out fairly well. They put some of their work in the display case.

In science Mrs. Miller's boys and girls are learning that air and water can be found nearly everywhere and are needed by all living things.

In Mr. White's fifth grade the girls treated the boys at the Halloween party. In geography they are learning about the westward expansion of our country and are making murals concerning it.

Josilyn Snook, Christine Solarski, and some others are making a poem so the class can remember how many days there are in a month.

In English they are learning how to write letters.

They had a science experiment in which they learned how to extract mercury from a mercuric salt by using a penny. They learned this was possible because copper and mercury react with each other. They had a very shiny penny after the experiment was done.

Mrs. Crawford's sixth graders are enjoying the reports written by the class. They spent two weeks preparing the reports. For some, it was the first experience with source material and note taking.

Their thanks to the many parents who came to P.T.A. and visited their room before the meeting.

PATTERSON SCHOOL NEWS

Gary Tietsema treated the fifth grade Monday in honor of his tenth birthday.

The first grade are reading in their first pre-primer. They think it is a lot of fun.

Bruce Des Ermia and Arthur Brazee recently celebrated their sixth birthday. Arthur's mother and Bruce's grandmother each brought treats for the class.

All of the kindergarten children were weighed and measured one day. We are going to do this each month and see how fast we grow. We know that boys and girls who drink their milk, eat their vegetables and go to bed early will grow very fast. Our November newspapers were taken home. We made our own covers.

Nancy Mead, in the fourth grade, has a birthday on Friday. She is planning a treat for us.

Mr. Kilbourn will come on Friday to talk to us about bicycle safety. Many of us ride bicycles to school so we need to know all the rules for safe riding.

One of our reading group is starting an Eskimo project. We are going to make an Eskimo village to show how the people live on Baffin Island.

Kingsley Dunn and Emily Manwaring celebrated their birthdays and treated the third grade.

In arithmetic we are working with the number zero and also column addition. The zero is a tricky number we find.

We had twenty A's on our Friday's spelling test and hope to better it each week.

In health we are having a clean hands contest. We made a poster showing a clean and a dirty hand. If our hands are clean, we put a star on it, but if our hands are dirty, we put a star on our dirty hand. So far, all the stars are on our clean hands.

We enjoyed a very nice Halloween party. Many of us won prizes for various things.

Excerpt from editorial in The Detroit Free Press, Oct. 23, 1956.

"By injecting his own ideas and preferences, Premier Bulganin (of Russia) took sides in the campaign. He currently endorsed Adlai Stevenson's position on the issue, if he did not endorse Mr. Stevenson. But any American is entitled to the opinion that he did.

"The President's reply to Bulganin was an equally well-deserved rebuke to Mr. Stevenson.

"The latter invited Russian interest by raising, in the heat of a political campaign, an issue which is so closely related to the defense of this Country that it has no proper place in politics.

"Bulganin took advantage of the opening which Mr. Stevenson provided him; it was as improper as if the Communist leader had offered his advice to the Democratic aspirant about any other phase of United State defense policy, including the size of the Air Force.

"It can hardly be thought that Bulganin's preferences in regard to H-bomb tests would not conform to Russia's interest.

"What Bulganin said in his letter, in effect, was that he would prefer to do business with Mr. Stevenson on the bomb issue, rather than with President Eisenhower.

"The implication of this should not be lost on the American voter. Twice before, at Yalta and Potsdam, the Russians dealt with heads of Democratic Administrations on matters which shaped the course of history to the Reds' advantage. They have not done so well with the Eisenhower Administration. It is understandable that the Kremlin would be happier dealing again with Democrats in charge of our foreign policy."

. . . but people have increased it. Yes the whims of people seeking thrills, taking chances, enjoying speed and just failing to take care brings the unnecessary tragedy of the funeral every day. We truly regret this unnecessary grief.

Mercifully, science in the form of medical research offsets this with lifesaving medications that have lessened our work. In this we rejoice.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

It is interesting to note both political parties in their platforms deal with subject of high taxation.

* * *

In fact, both platforms reflect the views of the nation's independent businessmen as expressed through the National Federation of Independent Business, as well as news on balancing the budget. In both parties there was recognition of the soundness of these views.

C. W. Harder

Strangely, no one comes out for higher taxes; no one comes out against a balanced budget, yet somebody must hold such feelings. Last session of Congress passed biggest peacetime appropriations in nation's history. These money bills were signed into law by administration. Majority of Congress was of party opposite to that of administration.

* * *

So mystery deepens. Just who is for higher taxes; against a balanced budget? Last session of Congress gave everybody ample opportunity to do something to both lower taxes, balance budget. For example, concrete action still waits on Reed Dirksen proposed amendment to Constitution to limit, except in times of war, income tax on both individuals and corporations to a maximum of 25%.

This amendment would also knock out $10 billion in government spending; close government out of 700 to 800 business enterprises ranging from coffee roasting to electric power generation, which represents a total of $50 billion, or $1,250 per average American family.

Then Congress had before it an amendment proposed by Sen. Harry Byrd, Virginia democrat, and Sen. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican, which would require Congress to stay in session each year until it balanced the budget.

This is sometimes called the "put up or shut up" amendment. If Congress wanted to go hog wild on expenditures, well and good. But before scooting off to mingle with the home folks, Congress would also have to levy new taxes to meet the new expenditures. This would be a powerful force for governmental economy, its sponsors believe.

Then there is the Reed-Walters amendment unacted upon. This would clarify the Constitution by permitting states to initiate amendments to the Constitution. Thus when 32 states sent resolutions of identical content requesting an amendment, Congress would have to submit it to all the states. If 36 states ratified the amendment, it would be part of the Constitution.

* * *

This would give the states power to limit federal expenditures and taxes, and thus return government more closely to grass roots control.

In fact, many state, county and city governments are limited in the amount they can tax. Usually such laws were passed through the initiative and referendum system on those states.

So the problem of taxes, the problem of a balanced budget, are perhaps not so great as campaigning oratory would imply.

* * *

There are ways to solve these problems, and solutions have been proposed by some very sound American statesmen. Now that both party platforms are committed to these objectives, it is possible action will result.

Real Selfhood Sunday Service

Man's real selfhood as the spiritual image and likeness of God, not subject to sin and sickness, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Adam and Fallen Man" will include the following (Genesis 1:27): "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them."

The unchanging perfection of God's man will be brought out in passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, including the following (476:28-32): "When speaking of God's children, not the children of men, Jesus said, 'The kingdom of God is within you;' that is, Truth and Love reign in the real man, showing that man in God's image is unfallen and eternal."

The Old Timer

"When a man starts bragging that he has a lot on the ball, he's inviting somebody to bat him around!"

The Tecumseh J.V. Gridders Push Winning Streak To 5

A fired-up team of Tecumseh jv gridders pulled another game out of the fire last Thursday night, slipping by Hudson, 13-6, in the last two minutes of play. The Indians, going into the game sporting a four game winning streak, really had their hands full during the second half of the contest.

In the first two periods, neither opponent was quite able to cross the others goal line. Then, in the third period, the Tecumseh jvs came alive. Left halfback Ray Miller sparked a drive deep down into Hudson territory and then concluded it with a seven yard romp around right end for the score. The Indians, missing the extra point, led at the beginning of the fourth quarter, 6-0.

Then Hudson began to move. Refusing to be denied, they rolled down to, and ever the goal for their only touchdown of the night. However, they missed the crucial extra point and, with three and one-half minutes left to play in the game, both teams were deadlocked at 6-6.

At this point, Tecumseh went into high gear. Dick French, the Indians' quarterback, unlimbered his throwing arm, and six plays and 92 yards later, Tecumseh had another touchdown. Three of these plays, covering 84 yards, were passes to Jim Howell, Lloyd Watson, and Mike Walters. The longest was a 58 yard pass to Howell. French ended the drive, tallying the touchdown from one yard out. Miller added the extra point to make the final score 13-6.

The bright spot of the Tecumseh defense was Tony Kasik, who made approximately half of his teams tackles.

Top ground gainer for the Indians was Jim Howell who, in only two pass plays, racked up 121 yards. Ray Miller was second highest, plugging out 103 yards.

This victory extends the Tecumseh jvs winning streak to five games. They hope to defeat their two remaining opponents, Hillsdale and Manchester, and go undefeated for the season.

Self-love is more opaque than a solid body.

Boysville Team Fourth In League

Last Friday afternoon the Boysville Fighting Knights broke back into the victory column as they went on to down the Hartland Eagles by the score of 20-6.

Eagles Open Scoring

Taking the ball on the second play of the game, the Eagles completed a 70 yard pass play to the 8 yard line of Boysville. It was Dick Gagan's tackle at that point that saved the score. But on the next down Hartland broke through the Knight defense to register their lone touchdown. The Knights countered quickly, however, as Gagan scored following a Knight drive of 45 yards. Mata converted, and the half ended 7-6.

Gagan Gains Ground

Coming back strong in the second half, behind the fine running of Dick Gagan Boysville put on a show of power that netted two touchdowns both scored by Paul Carry. The win placed Boysville in fourth place in final league standings.

"You're earning too much. I'll just take another 22 per cent as a surtax!"

Field and Stream

Fewer birds, less success, and about the same number of hunters was the picture on opening day of Michigan's 1956 pheasant season.

Conservation Department field workers have thus far reported interviewing 3658 hunters with a total of 1225 pheasants. An estimated 350,000 to 400,000 hunters were afield for the opener.

A late wet spring was blamed for reducing the total pheasant population somewhat this year. Ringneck nests were rained out or washed away and broods that survived were, in general, produced later in the season. Many of these late nesters were still immature and uncolored and provided fewer targets for hunters.

Also, th[illegible] on opening day was far from helpful. Fields were dry and fire-hazardous, enough so that Governor Williams proclaimed a fire proclamation on Friday before the opener. Many farmers posted unharvested crops to prevent all possibility of fire. Dogs sniffed up dust and pollen and were generally unable to locate or tie down birds.

But scattered showers on the opening afternoon made considerable local differences and some hunters reported satisfactory hunting conditions at that time. A fog over much of southern Michigan on Sunday also helped the situation.

Indian summer may be warmly welcomed by most people, but it has ruined many a day this year for Michigan duck hunters.

Unseasonably warm weather is blamed for the poor to fair waterfowl hunting generally reported throughout the state during the early weeks of the season.

Avid marsh hunters slightingly refer to Indian summer as "butterfly weather," or "bluebird weather" while yearning for the cold, blustery days which mean ducks are on the move.

For example, hunters at Pointe Mouillee state game area bagged only 1425 ducks during the first 14 days of the October-1-December 9 waterfowl season—compared with 2650 during the same period last year. Hunter numbers during the two weeks at the popular Lake Erie hunting area were about the same as in 1955.

Waterfowl specialists explain that ducks spend much of their time out on the open water of Lake Erie in mild weather and don't head for the marshes unless the weather is rough.

Some flight ducks have been reported at Saginaw Bay and Houghton Lake, but not in large numbers and are not offering much shooting.

Meanwhile, an estimated 2700 geese are scattered through the Swan Creek-Fennville area in Allegan county, but kill figures are still low. The goose hunting season is off to a normal, slow start with 54 birds bagged at Swan Creek in the first 14 days of the season by 962 hunters. During the same period last year, 775 hunters took 31 geese.

At Fennville, 1115 hunters took 22 geese during the first two weeks of the season, compared with 15 geese bagged by about the same number of hunters during the same period in 1955.

Goose hunting usually gets into full-swing in late October and reaches its peak during November.

Turf Reports . . . .

By Leo Bishop

This will be my final article, of 1956. I've enjoyed answering all the fine letters that were sent to me in regards to lawns, landscaping and garden questions. I do hope that it may have helped many of you home-owners for I really have enjoyed writing these articles very much.

I also want to thank the staff of the Tecumseh Herald for the fine cooperation and help they have given me.

Winter protection for Evergreens, broadleaf evergreens, trees and shrubs:

There is chemical which has been in use by nurseries and greenhouses for the past number of years which would help our home-owners to save time and money if it were used this fall

Trade name—Wilt-Pruf, an anti-transparent for retarding water loss and wilting in plants.

Recommended uses:

(1) Reduces moisture loss.
(2) Helps dormant stock.
(3) Prevents winter-burn.
(4) Provides a sticker.
(5) Prolongs life of Christmas trees and cut greens.
(6) Produces permanent sheen on leafy plants.
(7) Preserves some cut flowers keeping them fresh and more attractive.

For more information on Wilt-Pruf, call me.

Questions and Answers

(Q) What is the best way to care for chrysanthemums after they stop blooming in fall?

(A) Cut stems back close to the ground. If brown foliage appeared during summer, burn stems and dropped leaves—for they harbor insects. Cover lightly with evergreen branches and straw.

(Q) What spray do you recommend for black aphids on out-door chrysanthemums?

(A) Use Bordeaux mixture to which black leaf 40 is added at rate of 1½ teaspoonsfuls to each gallon. This spray used at frequent intervals, kills aphids, controls certain fungous diseases, and repels the leaf nematode.

Q) What is the best time to plant roses?

(A) In our locality spring is best time. Although is is important however, that the planting be done just as early as the ground can be worked.

(Q) What is the matter with my New Dawn when in produced only pure white flowers?

(A) The variety was probably mislabeled in the nursery, because New Dawn always has light-pink flowers.

(Q) Where would you plant a witchazel?

(A) In the woodland, or in the rear of a shrub border, or near a window of a house so the blossoms may be enjoyed from indoors at close range. They are not showy, but valued for their time of bloom.

(Q) Which Vimurnum would lend itself best to foundation planting?

(A) The sweet-scented and early blooming V. Carlesi.

(Q) What colors does the Rose-of-Sharon come in?

(A) Double—white and pink; single—purple, red, blue and white.

(Q) What causes pink hydrangeas to turn blue?

(A) Experiments have conclusively demonstrated that the presence of aluminum in the tissue of hydrangea flowers causes the blue coloration.

(Q) I have read that maple leaves are not the right kind to use for a winter covering. It it true?

(A) It all depends on what is being covered. They could be safely used as a mulch among shrubs. They are not so good as a cover for many perennials, as they tend to make a sodden mass with a smothering effect.

With the final question answered I do hope that you have your landscaping and garden prepared for winter. So till next spring your lawn and garden friend bids you a fond farewell.

Letter To The Editor

Editor of the Tecumseh Herald:

You will find inclosed $2 for my years subscription with the office. I am 85 years old, my father took this paper as long as I can remember and my grandfather also took it. I think ever since it was first printed his name was Daniel Tuttle.

My father will be dead 60 years in January, and in those days every one burned wood, so he would draw a load of wood to Tecumseh to Mr. Stacy, and pay his years subscription to the Herald.

Yours truly

Emily Manwaring Given Party

A Halloween Birthday party was held for Miss Emily Manwaring last Saturday afternoon, at the home of her parents, with 18 little classmates attending. The children came in costume and made Jack-O Lanterns during the afternoon which they took home with them for future use. Games were a part of the entertainment and prizes were received by many of the guests. Mrs. David Faling assisted with the party, and Emily, who is now eight years old, received many lovely gifts from her little friends.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Saturday are usually looked forward to by most youngsters and Saturday, Nov. 10 is no exception for Lenawee County's 1200 4-H club boys and girls.

It is then that they will observe National 4-H Achievement Day, proclaims Ray Peffers, Lenawee County 4-H Club agent. Plans for the day include: A fall crop show, fall achievement.

Michigan's 4-H record for completed projects was highest in the midwestern area last year, Agent Peffers said. In Michigan, 89 per cent of the projects were finished. Here in Lenawee County there were 2296 completed projects last year.

Interesting to both city and rural youngsters, the 4-H program covers home economics, livestock and crop production, conservation, electrical work, tractor maintenance, landscaping, forestry and many others. Lenawee County boys and girls compete on a local level and laterd on a state level at the and later on a state level at the Michigan State University in August.

Scholarships, expense-paid trips to national meetings and many prizes are available to youths who compete at State Show, Agent Peffers explains.

Any young person interested in joining a 4-H club is urged to call the county extension service office, or contact a local leader.

If you're out to kill rats and mice on the farm you'll have the best luck if you mix your own bait.

That, points out Louis Hall, Lenawee County Agricultural Agent, is because baits have to be fresh and attractive to keep the pests nibbling.

The newest, most effective baits are made from the anti-coagulant poisons, he points out. And the rodents have to eat this bait every day for several days to be killed.

The most commonly available anti-coagulants are warfarin, pival and fumarin — sold under many different brand names. You can buy them as ready-mixed bait or in the concentrate form which allows you to mix your own.

Warfarin and pival also are sold as a water-soluble powder that can be used as a liquid bait. This is a good one to use, Hall says, if cereal grains are easy for the rodents to find or where water is scarce or distant from the grain storage.

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service suggests either of these two recipes for effective rodent poisoning: 1. Corn meal, 65 per cent; rolled or ground oats, 20; powdered sugar, 5; vegetable or mineral oil, 5; and a 0.5 per cent concentrate anti-coagulant poison. 2. Corn meal 45 per cent; rolled or ground oats, 45; vegetable or mineral oil, 5; and a 0.5 per cent concentrate anti-coagulant poison.

To protect the bait, and to keep it away from pets and livestock, Hall suggests, use a box-like bait station fastened down and out of the way, one that can be opened easily for adding bait. An entrance hole is cut in each side and the dry bait is exposed in a shallow, flat pan. Liquid baits can be put in a chick fount. Use enough bait so that it is never completely consumed.

To protect grain in storage, put some of the stations near the storage and others along the natural travel route leading to it. These routes are usually along buildings, fence rows or rubbish piles, not across clear areas.

Chick, Poult Quality Boost

Chicken and turkey growers will get higher quality baby chicks and poults as a result of recent changes in national poultry and turkey improvement programs, according to Harry Hathaway, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State University.

All hatcheries who participate in the two national programs have adopted these changes. Both programs work to provide superior young stock for production of both eggs and meat.

Beginning next year, hatcheries will use exclusively a test for pullorum disease that will detect both standard and variant types of the disease. Hatcheries must test all hatching flocks for any infected birds.

Another change will permit flocks participating in the improvement programs to qualify as "U. S. Pullorum-Typhoid Clean" if no reactors are found as a result of the first official test. However, if reactors are found in the first check, two consecutive official negative tests would be needed to qualify a flock.

Hathaway also reports that hatcheries and dealers operating under the two improvement programs will be known in the future as "National Plan Hatcheries" and "National Plan Dealers."

Feed Type Makes No Difference

Whether fattening hogs get ground mixed rations or are fed free choice rations makes little difference in rate of gain after the hogs research 75 pounds.

Up to 75 pounds, mixed rations give slightly the fastest rate of gain. But free choice rations produce the cheaper cost of gain, according to Ed Miller, swine specialist.

As a result, Miller recommends feeding mixed rations until pigs weigh about 75 pounds and then switching them to free choice rations.

In feeding tests, costs of gain were 11 per cent lower when shelled corn was fed free choice along with proper amounts of protein supplement. Savings in grinding costs and less waste made the gains cheaper.

Mixed rations produced the most uniform gains especially when the pigs were young and could not do a good job of balancing their own rations. Miller says that feeding mixed rations during the entire fattening period may be the most profitable practice for feeders pushing to hit the earliest possible market to avoid a break in market hog prices.

The swine specialist reminds feeders that results from free choice feeding depend a lot on the palatability of the feeds offered to the hog.

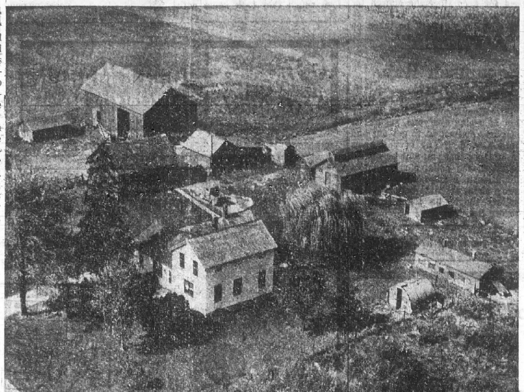
Harlen Johnston Owns The Mystery Farm



The Mystery Farm appearing in last week's Thrifty Shopper section of the Herald, was identified as that of Harlen Johnston of Robbins Rd., South of Tipton. Mr. Johnston has been on the 79 acre farm for three years. It is the old Robbins Farm and has been in the family for many years.

Mr. Johnston married Betty Cunningham in 1944. They have five children: Terry 11, Tim 9, Kathleen 7, David 5 and Denny 7 mo. The Johnston's belong to the Raisin Valley Friends Church at Birdsall, Michigan. Mr. Johnson farms and has worked for the Tecumseh Products Company in Tecumseh for the past 12 years. The main crop is corn and the only cattle consist of one pet Guernsey cow.

The Johnston's will receive a free framed aerial photo of the farm from the Herald and $5.00 of free merchandise from Jim's Hy Flash Station.

Lenawee County Ferris Students

Thirteen students from Lenawee County are among the 1826 students who are registered this term at Ferris Institute.

The Lenawee County students are: Dennis Ray Walker, Richard W. Bailey, William Frederick Green, Larry J. Guyman, John V. Kay, Robert Barnum Mobud, Harold Darnton Reed, Richard E. Reinhart, Gerald Lynford Robinson and James Frederick Tornow of Adrian; Forrest Dean Bailey of Blissfield; William Courtney Nighswander of Deerfield; and James Robert McNabb of Lake Leelanaw.

Students came from 82 of the 83 counties of Michigan, 10 other states and four foreign countries to bring the Ferris enrollment to 1826 which is almost triple the enrollment of 1952 when 648 students were enrolled.

New facilities to accommodate the expanded Ferris enrollment are being opened for the first time this fall. These include a $1,080,000 science building, the first unit of a $1,500,000 Trades and Industrial building, a $900,000 dormitory and 36 married student apartments totalling $350,000.

Soil Bank Sign-Up Moved

Contracts for 1956 conservation agreements under the soil bank program may be signed until Nov. 30.

The Nov. 30 closing date is an extension of the former deadline of Oct. 15. To qualify for the conservation reserve, farmers must comply with any wheat allotment (or have 15 acres or less if his allotment is under 15 acres) and the corn base or allotment.

Any cropland may be placed under the conservation reserve except land covered by an acreage reserve contract. Crops may not be harvested from conservation reserve land.

Conservation reserve contracts will be limited to 10 years except where seedling trees are not available to the farmer every year. In that case, the contract may be extended for the number of years the seedlings are not available but not more than a total of 15 years.

Complete details on the conservation reserve program are available at the county Agricultural Stabilization Conservation office.

13,100 Acres Of Cropland Changed To Grass and Trees

Farmers in Michigan's 75 soil conservation districts last year converted more than 13,100 acres of cropland to grass and trees, according to a summary of conservation accomplishments released today by E. C. Sackrider, State Conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service here.

Mr. Sackrider stated that this shift, which has taken place as part of the regular soil and water conservation program, totaled approximately 26,000 acres in 1954 and 1955 combined.

The Conservation Reserve goal in Michigan for 1957 is 485,000 acres, out of a national 1957 goal of 20 million acres of cropland to be converted to grass and trees. SCS data indicate that in the interest of good land use at least 1,000,000 acres of land now in crops need to be placed in permanent grass cover, and 410,300 acres of present cropland should go in trees. Nationally, 47 million acres of land now in crops need to be in permanent grass cover and 7 million acres of present cropland should go into trees.

In making land-use shifts called for by conservation plans, farmers in soil conservation districts in fiscal year 1956 planted trees on 18,262 acres. Tree planting in districts, in cooperation with SCS and the Michigan Department of Conservation and Michigan State University has now reached a total of 135,355 acres, of which about 53,213 acres were planted during the past three years.

About 1,271 miles of windbreaks have been planted to date in districts, of which 191 miles were planted during the last year alone.

Farmers in districts carried out 35,066 acres of pasture planting in the last three years, the summary indicated.

Last year 108 such ponds were built, bringing the total to date to more than 464 constructed with SCS technical assistance to district cooperators, ACP participants and FHA borrowers.

Some 715,000 farm ponds have been built in districts throughout the nation, serving the multiple purposes of water conservation, better livestock management, and improvement of wildlife and waterfowl habitat. Since they average from 1 to 2 acres each, these ponds have added a total surface water area of more than 1,000,000 acres, Sackrider said.

Other items noted as conservation progress in the past year included 10 miles of terracing. Contour farming was applied on nearly 2,200 acres and strip cropping on nearly 12,000 acres of cropland last year. Plantings and other practices remommended by SCS and Michigan Department of Conservation were established to improve wildlife food and cover on more than 5,800 acres last year, bringing the total of such work in districts to 23,440 acres.

These and many other interrelated practices are carried out, Mr. Sackrider explained, as part of SCS assistance to individual farmers. As of July 1, 1956, there were 29,653 district cooperators in Michigan who operate 3,864,661 acres of farm lands in 75 soil conservation districts. There are now 2,700 soil conservation districts in the nation, including 91 percent of all farms and 86 percent of all farm lands.

Outlook Shows Efficiency Need

If you're farming or thinking about starting, you'll be interested in knowing what farm economists think the farm situation will be like in 1965.

The economists expect an expanded economy in 1965. They forecast a steady increase in population, high economic activity, continued price supports and a continuation of the cold war. They also expect an increase in the efficiency of the American worker and an increase in average real income per person of about 20 per cent.

From these assumptions, the economists make these predictions: Crop and livestock yields will be up about 21 per cent. Food production will also be up 21 per cent but non-food farm products will be down 5 per cent from current levels. Consumption will be about 20 per cent higher for food products and about 3 per cent higher for non-food products. The problem of surpluses will still plague farmers and average prices will decline about 8 per cent.

There will be 15 per cent fewer farms in Michigan and the ones left will be 20 to 25 per cent larger. However, they will still be primarily family farms. These farms will be 15 to 20 per cent more efficient.

If Michigan farms do not increase at all in size and efficiency as farms in the rest of the U. S. are expected to do, the return to the Michigan farm operator for his labor and management could decline to about zero.

The economists present this challenge to Michigan farmers: They must make all the progress they know how to make. They must adopt all the techniques that they can to increase efficiency. Research must be continued and its application must be speeded up.

If Michigan farmers meet this challenge, the outlook for their future is far from dismal, believe the economists.

CROP Chairman Thanks Groups

The chairman of the CROP drive in Tecumseh wishes to thank the ministers, their congregations, and their women's organizations for their interests and contributions to this Christian Rural Overseas Program. Through this fund the Church World Service will be able to distribute surplus foods, released to it by our government, among the disaster victims, refugees and distitute in other lands without question as to race, creed, or nationality. To date Mrs. T. Rentschler estimates that nearly two hundred dollars has been given by people in Tecumseh to this worthy cause. Several churches have not reported as yet but the chairman is hopeful that the total will be substantial. The drive was conducted throught the churches only as no house to house canvass was made here this year. The CROP Board in Lenawee County is expected to raise $5,000.

Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

When talking with one who believes in evolution do not be easily swayed. Ask him where the original spark of life came from that started the process of "natural selection" and "variation". He will probable respond that the first living cell originated through the fortunate combination of compounds in existence at the time. Your next response should be to ask him where the compounds originated from that, through the law of averages, were able to combine to form life.

However, even if he can push his own point only a little further at this stage of the argument, he is not licked. He can turn your argument into an equal advantage for himself. After determining from you that you believe God created life, he will ask you from whence came God. At this point, you find yourself joining your adversary against the proverbial brick wall.

This is an attempt to point out that basically "creation" can be accepted as being as logical as its more scientific rival. Above and beyond logic, I feel that it is superior for one reason because the idea of creation in combination with faith gives us rules of conduct and behavior that enable men to live together in a manner that would be impossible without a guiding factor. Without religion, morality would be that which you could get away with without being caught. Appearances would be the important factor in relations between people. Virtue in itself would be valueless.

$21,696.80 By 1957 In Tecumseh Acres

City Manager, Ed Nelson, reports that things are progressing nicely in the highway and water department for the winter. The storm sewer on Logan St. and up the alley has been completed. This sewer should relieve a bad condition on the sanitary sewer.

In answer to a letter to the editor appearing in the Herald a few weeks ago concerning the lack of facilities from the people of Tecumseh Acres, Mr. Nelson has the following comment. "It would be well to know just what we have done in this area and what we have spent to provide for water and sewer." The city spent $4,919.20 on sewer and water on Sunset and Cairns St. They spent $3,106.60 seal coating Murray Drive and Shady Lane. Storm sewer on Occidental Road cost $631.00. Street lighting costs $1,020.00 for two years of a total of $2040.00 for two years. Money totaling $11,000 is in the budget for sewer and water main from Pottawatamie to Murray Drive.

"By the end of this year, we will have spent $21,696.80 for new construction not considering the regular maintenance which is necessary in that area each week. This year the total City taxes from Tecumseh Acres amounted to $6,758.00. Extra money was spent on the lift station to accommodate this area. I feel that we have gone a long way in getting things set up for this area and if continued, the problem will soon be over. We have sent a drawing to the State Health Department for approval for sewer main to Murray Drive and will start as soon as approval is made."

This week storm sewer north of Evans Creek on Union St. will be installed. The city has been cleaning up leaves around town and have them pretty well under control.

Tree Planting Program Started In Tecumseh

City Manager, Ed Nelson, has announced the initiation of a tree planting program by the City of Tecumseh. S. R. Illeck of 126 Maple Street, a member of the planning commission, was appointed temporary chairman of the program.

First on the project will be the planting of Silver Maple trees from Sunset to Willow Street. The trees will be set approximately 35 foot apart. They are all about 2½ inches thick. Work on the project will begin in about 10 days. This program is designed to provide restoration for old trees as they must be cut down for one reason or another. It is also designed to beautify the city in areas where there is not the proper amount of trees.

Watch the Herald for further reports as this program gets underway.

Property Owners Pay Third Lowest Tax

Mr. McDowell, Superintendent of the Tecumseh Schools, reported too low a rate for the total Adrian School Tax in an article appearing in the Herald last week. Mr. McDowell says, "I didn't notice that in addition to the Building and Site millage of 1 mill per dollar state equalized, and .00005 mill per dollar state equalized for a bond issue, that Adrian also had two other bond issues as follows: — one at 3.2 mills/dollar and another at 3.37 mills/dollar. This makes a total of 17.62 mills per dollar or $17.62 per thousand of state equalized evaluation. This is considerable greater than I quoted which was $11.05 per thousand."

Actually property owners living in the Tecumseh Public Schools District No. 11 pay the third lowest school tax in the county. Adrian pays by far the highest $17.62 per thousand or $3.62 more than Hudson which is second highest in the county.

Police Report For This October

The police report for the month of October is as follows. There were 9 accident reports. Complaints received totaled 32. There were 16 traffic summons issued and 64 meter violations. Arrests totaled 3 and there were 5 liquor inspections.

Revenue collected for traffic fines and costs totaled $203.50. Twenty-two dollars was collected for meter violations. Meter collections amounted to $753.50. Total collections amounted to $979.00.

To many local residents, the results of the local proposal (Fluoridation) were the main point of curiosity.

Wit And Wisdom Program Music And Current Events

A program of music and current events was arranged for the Wit and Wisdom Club Monday evening by Mrs. W. G. Waldron, who with Mr. Waldron entertained the club at their home. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Faye VanValkenburg and Clara Waldron.

A group of vocal solos and duets by Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bennett opened the program to the pleasure of the thirty members and guests present. They were accompanied by Mr. Bill Stinnett who then gave a concert of piano selections which was much enjoyed. Mr. Stinnett teaches piano. They were followed by a story and poem told by the Rev. Alvin Brazee in his usual entertaining fashion and by an account of Howard College, the negro university, in Washington, D.C. given by Mrs. F. C. Dickinson and a brief history of the building of the Suez canal by Clara Waldron. A group of negro spirituals sung by Fred Dickinson, accompanied by Mrs. Dickinson closed the program.

The hostesses served refreshments from a table decorated in keeping with the autumn season with Mrs. Ruth Dustin, also a new member, presiding at the coffee service.

Several People Get Copies Of Genealogy

Several people in this area are receiving their copies of the genealogy of "John and Willnina Hoagland" and their descendants compiled by Marian Foote Stone. The Hoaglands were pioneer settlers in Ridgeway township. The book is about the descendants of three sons who came here from Seneca County, New York from 1834 to 1845. Before that they came from New Jersey. The lineage goes back into the 1600's when they first came from Holland.

It seems to me that not be believe in creation is not to believe in man.

Tecumseh is in need of a Chamber of Commerce. Business men and others daily indicate their interest in such an organization. A group is needed that will promote Tecumseh from the standpoint of the businessman and in turn the consumer.

All that is needed is a leader to step in and start the ball rolling and keep it on the right path.

Other organizations functioning at the present time in Tecumseh accomplish their purpose and function in a manner to be proud of. However there are needs in the areas that only a Chamber of Commerce can fulfill.

Tecumseh Indians Finish In 2nd Place In League

Last Friday night a stunned home town crowd watched the Tecumseh Indians fumble away their chances of winning the Southeastern League Championship to a team of fast-moving, hard-hitting Hillsdale Hornets, 19-8. Hillsdale was able to capitalize on three of five Tecumseh fumbles, scoring a touchdown in each of the first, second, and fourth quarters.

Everything seemed to go wrong for the Indians as soon as they stepped onto the playing field. Hillsdale won the toss and elected to receive.

The game began and, two plays after the opening kick-off, Dave Merilate, one of the Indians first-string guards, was carried off the field and sent to the hospital with an injured knee. The action was resumed and on the next play the Hornets tried a quick kick and caught the Indians napping. The ball rolled to the Tecumseh 40 where the Indians took possession of it. In the next six plays, Tecumseh moved the ball 34 yds. to the Hillsdale 26. Then came the first of the five fatal fumbles which were destined to cause the Indian's defeat. Hillsdale's Tom O'Meara pounced on the ball and six plays later Hornet halfback Ron Coon sprinted into the end-zone from the Tecumseh 21 for Hillsdale's first td of the evening. O'Meara ran the pigskin for the extra point to put the Hornets out in the lead, 7-0.

The Tecumseh eleven took the Hillsdale kick-off on their own 25 and again began to roll down the field. But five plays later on the Hornets 38, the ball again slipped away from an Indian back and into the arms of a waiting Hornet. In five plays, Hillsdale moved to the Tecumseh 28 where the gun ended the first quarter.

Continuing their drive in the next period, the Hornets pushed on to the Tecumseh one yd. line, where Hillsdales quarterback, John McElroy, climaxed the drive by sneaking the ball into the end-zone. The try for the extra point was no good, leaving the score at 13-0.

The Indians, in the rest of the second quarter, almost completely controlled the ball but were still unable to score. During this time, they fumbled again and also had a 43 yd. drive halted on the Hornet 22.

Beginning the second half, Hillsdale kicked off to Tecumseh, who promptly closed the margin to seven points. The Indians did not fumble this time, taking six plays to cover 75 yds. for their first and only touchdown of the night. Al Dickinson, snagging a pass from quarterback Bill Hansen, covered the final 38 yds. for the score. Ray Larned failed to kick the conversion, making it 13-6.

Late in the period, Tecumseh stopped a Hillsdale drive on the Indian 25 and gained possession of the ball only to lose it again on another fumble. The Hornets, capitalizing on this break, moved the pigskin 22 yds. to the Tecumseh 25 where the gun terminating the third quarter interrupted the play.

In the fourth period Hillsdale continued their march to the goal. Climaxing the 53 yd. drive started in the third quarter, Ron Coon punched over from 4 yds. out to increase the Hornets lead to 19-6.

Undaunted, the Indians took the kick-off on their own 38 and moved down the battle-scarred gridiron. This time they got all the way to their opponets one yd. line before they fumbled. The Hornets, recovering the ball, were unable to get out of the shadow of their own goal post and finally McElroy was tackled behind the goal line by Larned, giving Tecumseh two points and making it 19-8, Hillsdale. This ended the scoring for the night. The Indians threatened to score once more, but were stopped on the Hornet 16.

The Hornets victory gave them the Southeastern League Championship with a league game record of 4-0. Tecumseh, as the result of this loss, took recond in league honors with a record of 3 wins and one defeat. The Indians overall record to date is four wins and three losses.

Hillsdales quarterback, John McElroy, displayed his ability at that particular position very well in the final period when his team was forced back to its own goal. Instead of punting and risking an Indian score, he allowed himself to be tackled behind the goal, giving Tecumseh only two points and getting his own team out of the hole.

Outstanding Indians on offense were Dickinson and Larned. These two gained most of Tecumseh's yardage, averaging 4 to 5 yds per try through the line.

Tomorrow night the Indians meet Milan on the Tecumseh gridiron in Tecumseh's last football game of the 1956 season. Last year the Indians edged Milan, 20-13.

VOTERS

The proposal concerning amending section 5 of article 5 of the State Constitution received 122 YES votes and 156 NO votes.

National returns show a resounding victory for Eisenhower and Nixon. Candidate Stevenson conceded victory shortly before 1:30 Wednesday morning. Many states such as Florida, that were heavily counted on by the Democrats were lost to the Eisenhower popularity sweep. The Republican party as a whole did not do as well as the President. At this time, all of the returns are not in but it looks as though the President will have to contend with a Democrat Congress.

In the State of Michigan, it looks like Williams has been returned for an unprecedented 5th term. It also looks like Lieutenant Governor Hart, Secretary of State Hare, Attorney General Kavanagh, State Treasurer Brown, and Auditor General Szymanski, all Democrats, will be returned with Williams. George Edwards and Talbot Smith are leading the Non Partisan Justice of the State Supreme Court battle at this time. In Lenawee County, State Representative George Meader (Rep.) was reelected as was State Senator Elmer R. Porter (Rep.). The amendment to the State Constitution carried.

child's classes on entering the building and will proceed through the school day accordingly. At the end of this program, refreshments will be served in the school cafeteria where parents may confer with the teachers.

The Future Teachers' Club will be in charge of the distribution of class schedules to the parents and will direct them to the proper rooms. Don Brazee, who is chairman of the committee in charge of National Education week and a member of the faculty, is in charge of the arrangements for this meeting.

National Education week is being observed from November 11 to November 17. Inasmuch as its aims are to acquaint the public with what the schools are doing and establish a working relationship between parents and teachers, it is hoped that many parents will participate in the open house at Tecumseh High School.

Tecumseh Junior Varsity Lost To Hillsdale Thursday

A week ago today the Tecumseh JV's dropped the Southeastern League JV championship to the Hillsdale JV's, and spoiled a perfect season. The Indians, dispite a last period [illegible] were unable to close the 20-13 scoring gap, by which they lost.

The Hornets scored their three touchdowns on long drives in the first, third, and fourth quarters. The td's tallied in the first and third periods were accompanied by extra points while Hillsdale's final attempt at scoring an extra point failed.

Tecumseh scored its first td in the second quarter as the result of a 70 yd. drive. Dick French carried the ball over from the one yd. line to make it 7-6. The Indians failed to score the extra point, and half time, Hillsdale still led by one point.

In the third period, the Hornets added another seven points to their tally and going into the final quarter, the score was 14-6.

In the fourth period the Indians went into a high-powered passing attack. French connected on a 40 yd. pass to Jim Howell who traveled the remaining 15 yds to the endzone. Fred Metzger added the extra point to make it 14-13, Hillsdale.

If Tecumseh had gained control of the ball again, perhaps they could have tied up the score, but this was not the case. Instead, the Hornets took the pigskin and marched down the field for their third and last td of the night. The final score was 20-13.

The Indians ended the season with a record of 6 won, one lost. The last JV game, scheduled to be played with Manchester today, was forfeited to Tecumseh.

Boysville Team Played Alumni And Local J.V.'s

Revenge For Alumni

Last Sunday morning the "Old-Timers" proved that they weren't so old or out of shape as everyone thought, as they went on to beat the Boysville varsity by the score of 12-0 in a bone-shattering scrimmage on the Knight practice field.

Licking wounds suffered last year at the hands of the Varsity, the Alumni, led by the hard running of Gene Manning and cool ball handling of Jack Phillips, put on a two touchdown show in the second half as Knights defenses sagged. It was a viciously fought game as evidenced by the alumni charlie-horses, lost teeth and visits to the infirmary following the event. Congratulations to the varsity and the alumni for the fine show they put on in this the second annual "Old-Timers" scrimmage.

The Boysville Fighting Knights scrimmaged the Tecumseh junior varsity squad at Tecumseh last Tuesday afternoon. The scrimmage was in preparation for the Wayne, St. Mary game this Sunday.

The Knight's offense looked strong, however, the Tecumseh junior varsitymen were allowed to score several times. The Knights were not at full strength for the scrimmage.

The price of greatness is responsibility.

Tecumseh Band In Homecoming Parade

Field and Stream

With Michigan's small game hunting seasons in full-swing, there is a corresponding increase in violations of state conservation laws.

Illegal hunting was the most frequent violation included in the latest weekly report of conservation law convictions.

The report listed some 364 persons who were convicted of law infractions. The group paid a total of $5948 in fines and another $2815 in court costs in justice courts throughout the state. Thus, the average law violation cost the convicted person about $24.

Alfred W. Saunders of Holt has added a new twist to the old saw about "killing two birds with one stone."

Saunders opened the 1956 small game hunting season by bagging a pheasant and a rabbit with a single shot.

He was hunting in a field near Holt when a rabbit darted down a furrow. Just as Saunders raised his shotgun and fired, a pheasant took off across the furrow. The blast from Saunders' gun finished off the pheasant and the rabbit simultaneously.

A wandering bird dog recently was returned to its Northville home after some lengthy and puzzling travels.

The dog, a pointer, was found running loose at Gratiot-Saginaw state game area by three hunters from Ohio. The hunters notified two Conservation Department game men who picked up the dog and transported it to Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near East Lansing. There, game workers fed and cared for the frightened animal while they tried to locate the owner through the Northville license the dog was wearing.

When notified of the dog's whereabouts, the grateful owner claimed him at Rose Lake and told how the dog has been lost three weeks earlier during the opening day of the grouse season near St. Helen—more than 75 miles north of the Gratiot-Saginaw area where it was recovered.

THE FREEDOM TO TAKE RISKS

The United States holds unchallenged leadership of the world's oil industry. "Why?."

One answer, of course, is that we were blessed by Nature with vast underground resources of this black gold. But that is far from a complete answer. The head of an American Oil Company points out that oil was discovered at about the same time in both the United States and Russia. Russia also has an abundance of oil underground. Yet, to date, U. S. oil production has exceeded Russian production by the incredible figure of 44 billion (yes, billion!) barrels.

One reason for that, he went on, is that government monopolies, such as Russia has long had, just won't take the risks that American oil men working under our free enterprise regard as routine. He used the state of Oregon, where he was speaking, as an example. Nearly 200 dry wells have been drilled there. Oil hasn't yet been found. Maybe it will be in the future—and maybe it won't be. But the American oil men will keep on trying—just as they keep on trying all over this and other countries.

To quote the oil official once more, "If it were not for democratic form of government and our private enterprise system we could not have this important freedom to take business risks and our economy would stagnate . . . "Natural resources are vitally important—but they are of little value unless there is a climate of freedom that encourages their wise development. That goes for oil and everything else.

IN A LONG LIFETIME

"Fifty years ago each farmer raised enough for himself and for six others" writes Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in his new book, Farmers at the Crossroads (Devin-Adair Company, New York). "Today he produces enough for himself and 19 others."

The Secretary explains how this has happened: ". . . the reason can best be found in the basic independence and self-reliance of our farmers. But partly the answer lies also in greater use of capital and in new farming techniques developed by science. Increasingly, farmers have substituted machines for manpower. . ."

Then Mr. Benson draws a picture in words that does a far more effective job of dramatizing the agricultural revolution than can the statistics. He says, "Had it been possible to transport, by magic, a farmer from Biblical times to an American farm of 100 years ago, he would have recognized almost every implement then in use—the flail, hoe and rake, for example. Today he would recognize hardly any—tractor, hay baler, milking machine or combine."

In other words, science and technology and mechanization, in little more than a long lifetime, have done infinitely more to transform farming than was done in all the preceding centuries of recorded civilization.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

All politicos worry public apathy over forthcoming election may result in a light vote.

Grass roots reports indicate lack of important issues between two parties is creating apathy. According to one wit, "The big debate seems to rage over whether Dean Acheson was a more smartly attired Secretary of State than John Dulles."

C. W. Harder

If lack of excitement over the Big Show draws a light vote that will be reflected in many Congressional contests, it could be very unfortunate.

For there are indications results of many Congressional contests could determine if nation continues toward socialism.

Congressman R. Gwinn (N. Y.) sums up issue by saying, "We must be all socialist, or all free. There can be no co-existence—half socialist—half free. We can't even be one-quarter or one-tenth socialist and remain static at that point."

* * *

Rep. Gwinn points out how federal government, by exercising control over commodities, and by various tax supported schemes, has developed socialism in American business and agriculture.

He says U. S. foreign aid schemes have now taken $1500 from average American family.

"Yet," he points out, "this does not satisfy the socialist foreign governments to whom it is paid. They want it doubled. The political party or parties out of power scold us for financing parties in power and keeping them out. Imagine how mad Americans would be if Great Britain had spent $4 billion to help Harry Truman stay in power and keep Republicans out."

* * *

The people have been sold, he says, on belief unless federal government supplies money for all purposes, nothing can be done.

Proposed federal aid to public schools is cited as case in point. New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan and California would pay 57.6% of the taxes, get back only 35.7%. But Mississippi would get back $8 for every $1 put up by state.

In fact, he reports, federal method of determining school needs was ridiculous. No local school board, or local parent organizations were asked about their local school needs. Instead, Washington asked school superintendents, "What are your classroom needs, assuming, of course, the federal government may pay for them, or part of them?"

* * *

Results of this lop-sided poll were so astounding that even the Washington bureaucrats cut the figure in half to avoid ridicule. And no one today knows if all the auditoriums and gymnasiums requested of Washington are needed or not. Yet, the bureaucrats did their best to get the money out of the last session of Congress.

Thus, if people have feeling it makes little difference who wins the presidential election and thus fail to vote for their Congressman, it could have serious results.

* * *

The course of the American system for the next four years could be largely determined by local Congressional elections, because in both parties there are men fighting the trend toward socialization of America.

Science Has Lessened Our Work . . .

. . . but people have increased it. Yes the whims of people seeking thrills, taking chances, enjoying speed and just failing to take care brings the unnecessary tragedy of the funeral every day. We truly regret this unnecessary grief.

Mercifully, science in the form of medical research offsets this with lifesaving medications that have lessened our work. In this we rejoice.

Realty Views

As an accommodation, we rented Mr. Pouley's house, since he was leaving town but uncertain as to coming back. In a few months, he wrote to us and suggested a sale, and agreed to a "reasonable" down payment.

When they were paying the rent, I asked the tenants (the Fultons) if they'd consider buying the home.

"Perhaps," said Mr. Fulton, as they left.

In a little while, Mrs. Fulton was back. "I'd like to buy the house if my husband would only agree. Since living in it, I know both the defects and advantages. If we bought a different home, it would take awhile to discover what they were. The house we're renting could be made to suit us almost perfectly.

She volunteered they had sufficient funds to handle the down payment. "But, we've rented all our lives. The children all own their homes and have urged us to buy one. Give me the facts on the monthly payment and taxes. Maybe at last I can get my husband to agree to buy."

The next day, they returned — bought the home.

Mrs. Fulton smiled as they signed the Purchase Agreement. "I've waited a long time for this day. I know home owning will be a wonderful experience."

May we help you locate the right home, too?

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car— it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Halloween was a great success. The goblins, witches, skeletons, etc. have well been relegated to the realm of make believe until next year.

In Miss Luken's first grade the children have just finished reading their first pre-primer We Look and See. They were proud to take their books home to share with their families. They are eagerly beginning their second book.

Trudy Curtis and Merly Eaton brought jack-o-lanterns which "watch" the children to see who are the good workers and nice resters!

Louann Geringer brought a guppie to school. Many of the children had never seen one before, and consequently have been very interested in it.

The children in Mrs. Baily's fourth grade have just completed little booklets in science class, which have pictures of different kinds of animals drawn by the children.

Mike Montgomery is back in school after being out for a week because of a tonsilectomy.

Everyone in the room, as in all the rooms, enjoyed the Halloween party. Ice cream, cake and cider disappeared very fast.

Mrs. Whiting's fourth graders have also completed their booklets on animals and are working on plants to add to these.

Halloween was a double celebration for Jimmy Kirk, who celebrated his tenth birthday October 31. Melody Campbell, Sandra McCarley and Timmie Heflin also had birthdays in October.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade are studying about the Oregon country and preparing a mural depicting pioneers on their journey to the West.

Eldon Miller brought in an ear of Indian corn. Both Richard Fielder and Keith Kruse brought wasp's nests. Carol Campbell showed us a picture drawn with crayons on a pillowcase. It was interesting to note how crayon can be adapted to cloth.

In Language we have been studying antonyms, synonyms and homonyms.

For Halloween, we made decorations for our room, including "Spook Pictures" which are made with crayons and water colors. The boys and girls also made some very weird and amusing paper sack masks to wear at our party.

Judy Martin brought in a special report "The Wealth of the Forest" which she had written to share with the class. In relation to a report on the United Nations given by Ronald Jones, a scale model of the United Nations Building was shown to the class by Charles Salng.

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade have been making paper mache masks for Art. They have created many weird designs.

They are dramatizing "Newfangled Notions," which is a story in their reading books.

In Science they are studying electricity and are enjoying doing the experiments.

The tropical fish have multiplied in the aquarium. Some new baby guppies are swimming around.

The children are striving to improve their accuracy in Arithmetic and receive Honor Certificates for extra credit work.

The Safety Patrol received new raincoats from the Automobile Association.

The next meeting of the Central P.T.A. will be an open house during National Education Week. Our meeting will be Thursday, November 15, at 8 p.m. in your child's class room. There will be exhibits of the children's work, and the teachers will explain the course of study and Central School policies. At 8:45 all will go to the auditorium for a brief discussion and business meeting. Attendance will be taken at that time to determine which room will win the attendance prize. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8 p.m. to discuss individual problems.

PATTERSON NEWS

Everyone in the first grade had a lot of fun on Halloween. We were all dressed for the party in costumes. Some of us looked pretty and some of us looked funny. Mrs. Buttolph was an old ghost and she looked very funny. Best of all we liked the games we played and the treats we had to eat.

Second grade, of course, had fun at our Halloween party. Mrs. Garlick just couldn't guess who many of us were and we didn't talk for her because we thought she could recognize our voices.

We took a trip to Van's Pastry Shop last Monday. Mr. Church showed us the machines which are used in baking. We saw the mixers, the bun-divider, the icing tube, and the ovens all in operation. We were able to see the inside of the large ovens because the baking was finished for the day. We saw the big bags of flour and sugar, and the blocks of shortening which the baker uses.

When we left the bakery, Mr. Church treated each of us to Halloween cookies. They were very good and we do appreciate Mr. Church taking the time from his busy day to tell us about his bakery.

Russell Leist has had a birthday and brought a birthday treat to us. We enjoyed it very much.

The third grade room was full of ghosts, witches and goblins of all kinds on Halloween. Prizes were won for costumes and there were favors for all. We liked the games and enjoyed the treats.

We are learning about the structure of birds and animals in science. We colored pictures and wrote a story for each to put in our science booklets.

Gary Boss is in the hosiptal and will be out of school for quite a while.

We had an extra nice Halloween party this year. Everyone had all the cider they could drink. Also, we ate popcorn balls and candied apples. All the children from the Kindergarten, First, Second, and Third grades visited us. Some of the masked teachers from those rooms looked pretty good too.

The girls had a doll contest last week. Several of the dolls won prizes. Mrs. Colson was the judge.

We have just completed our Health Booklets.

Our sixth grade Halloween party was held in the gym. Refreshments were candy apples, cider, and cookies. We square-danced and played a game called Winkum.

We are studying rocks in science, and find it very interesting We learned that rocks are made in three ways. Igneous by fire or heat. sedimentary by great pressure, and metamorphic by heat and pressure.

In art we are all working on a large mural of how the Pilgrims came over, and civilization from that time on.

The Patterson School P.T.A. meeting this month will have as its topic "Mental Health." This meeting will be held on Thursday, November 15.

Mrs. E. Rosacrans Guest Of Honor

Mrs. Eugene Rosacrans of Santa Monica, California who visited friends in Tecumseh last week was guest of honor at a tea given by Mrs. Hugh H. Hanna and Mrs. Don Heesen at the Hanna home, Wednesday afternoon. A large group of Mrs. Rosacrans' friends in Clinton and Tecumseh came between two and four. Mrs. Henrietta Lindsley presided at the tea service. Among the guests were Mrs. Edward Berry and Mrs. Donald Smith of Adrian, Mrs. Edith Cotton Smith of Saline, Mrs. J. M. Hanna of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Faunt Leonardson of Wamplers Lake and Mrs. John Keeney of Tipton.

Tuesday morning Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw entertained a small group at brunch for the pleasure of Mrs. Rosacrans who was then her house guest. On her return to California Mrs. Rosacrans will be accompanied by her mother, Mrs. L. W. Kimball who has been spending the summer in Grand Rapids with another daughter.

Martin And Lewis In New Film

It's Stetsons, saddles and sixguns for Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis in their newest film, "Pardners." Opening at the Strand Theatre, with Lori Nelson, Jeff Morrow, Jackie Loughery, John Baragrey, Agnes Moorehead and Lon Chaney also donning chaps and spurs, the Technicolor picture transplants the pair's always hilarious antics to the wide-open spaces around Arizona's Superstition Mountain in what is bound to be the zaniest Western ever produced.

"Pardners" has Dean and Jerry playing dual roles. They are seen first as turn-of-the-century ranchers whose spread is raided and who died gloriously defending the homestead. Their wives escape with their two sons, Dean and Jerry, Jr., and go their different ways—back to the ranch for Dean's mother, and off to New York, fame and fortune for Jerry's.

Dean next appears as a stalwart, grown-up cowpoke, with a mortgage he can't meet and lovely Lori Nelson as a girl friend, while Jerry bows in again as a wealthy hothouse flower with a secret handkering for the rugged life.

Jerry escapes to the ranch and by blind luck saves dance hall girl Jackie Loughery's life, wins her love and the job as sheriff. Life for the quartet is crazy, of course, but happy — until the descendants of the old raiders get ornery and it's up to Park Avenue badman Jerry to take up the ancient battle against the outlaws again. The ensuing action includes uproarious gun fights, bank robberies, saloon brawls and chases, all the riotous scrapes a bungling tenderfoot is bound to get into.

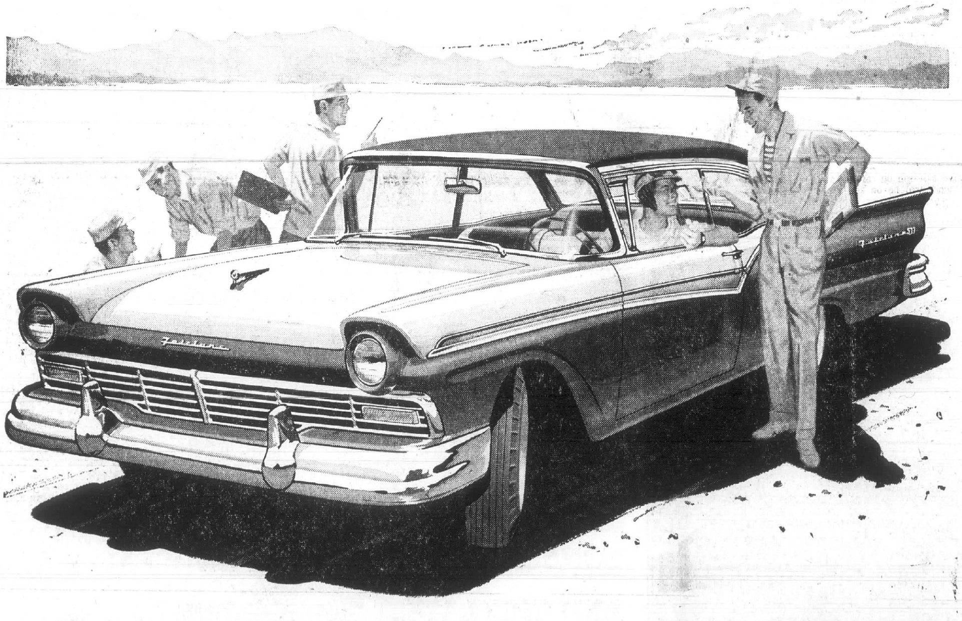
New kind of Ford makes record run of decisive importance to '57 car buyers!



A new 1957 Ford traveled 50,000 miles at an average speed of better than 108 mph. . . . including all pit stops . . . to smash 458 National and International records in a single test! Never before has any car been so severely tested . . . so successfully proved!

Imagine being able to select a new car that's an exact duplicate of the car that faced up to the most exhaustive endurance test in history—and came across the finish line still fresh and eager to GO!

You don't have to imagine it! For now you can have this kind of car in the new kind of Ford for '57.

Just recently—on the Bonneville Salt Flats in Utah—two new '57 Fords completed such a test under supervision of the United States Auto Club and the Federation Internationale de Automobile. They were Ford-prepared pre-production models, exact duplicates of the ones your Ford Dealer now has for sale.

These Fords completed the 50,000 mile run in less than 20 days. One averaged 108.16 mph for the entire run . . . the other over 107 mph. These averages include time for all pit stops.

No such test has ever before been tried, let alone successfully completed!

The test shows without qualification what Ford's new Thunderbird V-8 engines* will do. But this was no mere demonstration of speed! It was a convincing demonstration of the superior quality of the whole Ford car.

It shows the superior endurance of Ford's running gear, brakes, body materials, steering —every part of the car. For without such built-in stamina, Ford could never possibly survive such torturous treatment.

Such a test can't help but make the decision easier for people who prize truly outstanding performance and durability in a new automobile . . . and who want the fullest possible value from their new-car dollars.

*Available in a wide range of horsepowers to meet every need. Includes a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine delivering up to 285 hp.

Tecumseh Grange To Host Educators

Tecumseh Grange will meet Thursday evening. They will be hosts to a group of 34 visiting educators along with one of their instructors from the English Language Institution at Ann Arbor. A potluck dinner will start at 7 p.m.

The supper co-chairman are Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stocking and their committee.

This will be an open meeting. Those who are interested in meeting these educators from foreign lands should be present. This fall group are highly selected teachers and administrators in the field of English from 15 different countries. They are the recipients of U. S. Government grants administered by the U. S. Office of Education in cooperation with the department of state. Their program is specially prepared for these educators which begins Sept. 20th and ends on Dec. 14th.

This group consists of 1 from Belgium, 1 from Spain, 4 from Iran, 1 from Formosa, 4 from Thailand, 9 from Japan, 1 from Argentina, 1 from Bolivia, 5 from Brazil, 1 from Panama, 1 from Venezula, 1 from Guatemala, 1 from Nicaragua, 1 from El Salvador, and 2 from Korea.

The program as seen by Washington:

The public laws providing for this and other Education Exchange programs are the Smith-Mundt Act and the Fullbright Act also Grants from Institute of Internatonal Education, Rockefeller Foundation and Asia Foundation. Among the aims embodied in these public laws are the following:

1. To preserve world peace as essential to survival.

2. To promote a better mutual understanding among the peoples of the world.

3. To provide for advanced training in special educational fields in order to improve instruction, standards, and techniques used in those subjects abroad.

This program has three principal divisions: Academic, Community and Miscellaneous.

The Community program is a varied one and requires the help of civic organizations, schools, rural communities around Ann Arbor, and individuals.

In so far as possible the visiting educators are being housed with American families rather than in dormitories and rooming houses as this will give them a better insight into our life and customs. In addition they expect that many families other than their hosts will entertain them at various times for an evening, dinner or some such occasion. On Thanksgiving many of them will spend the holiday with families in other communities in Michigan. As their contribution to the community the visiting educators are willing to speak to various organizations like service clubs, woman's clubs, church groups, etc.

Tecumseh Grange is taking this opportunity to invite you to join us for the evening and meet this fine group of people. This same group attended Lenawee County Fair on Saturday. They will furnish us with some numbers for our program which we are sure you will enjoy.

There will be another of those enjoyable dances at the hall again Saturday night. Come and bring your friends for a good time.

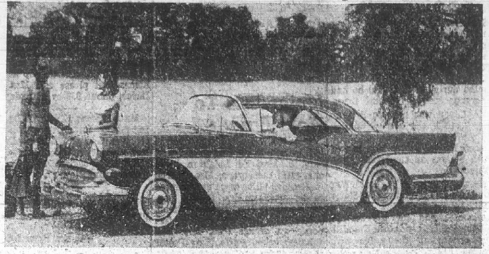
Buick's New Century Hardtop for 1957



The racy lines of Buick's dream car styling for 1957 lend themselves to the grace and beauty of the new Century. Long recognized as one of the outstanding performers on the highway, the nimble Century has been given new agility in the form of a 300-horsepower V-8 engine with 10-to-1 compression ratio. Bigger panoramic windshields, three-piece rear windows, new front and rear design and completely new chassis are featured on the new shoulder-high Century.

Historical Group Has Fall Meeting

More than fifty members of the Lenawee County Historical Society, from nearly all parts of the county, attended the fall meeting held last Thursday at the Tecumseh Methodist church.

The program was planned and conducted by Miss Phyliss Robertson of Blissfield, who is chairman of the historical map project of the Michigan Historical Commission. The main speaker was Mrs. Latham Coffin of Clayton, who told of an almost forgotten school near Addison. Known as the Foster school or the Manual Labor Institute, it was established in 1846 by Prior Foster. He was a relative of the present head of the southern school of Piney Woods. Intended to educate and train colored children, it was later used by whites as well. Only the remnants of one of the original buildings, some impressive trees and a neglected graveyard now mark the site. Other reports were made on the progress of local committees in locating and recording historical spots. A general discussion followed.

The Rev. Horace James of the Methodist church gave the invocation which opened the meeting. There was community singing led by Mrs. Birdsall of Ridgeway and a piano duet played by Mrs. E. H. McConnell and Mrs. W. G. Waldron. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. Waldron in the absence of the president, Mrs. W. W. Cook of Clayton. During the meeting it was requested that suggestions and invitations for future meetings be sent to Mrs. Cook. In keeping with the new policy of having four meetings each year instead of two, there will be a February meeting in Adrian. The time and place will be announced later.

Health Officials Fear Outbreak

Health officials fear recent diphtheria outbreaks show many parents are either failing to have youngsters immunized, or neglecting booster shots.

Doctor Roger J. Hanna, Director of the Lenawee County Health Department, said diphtheria is threatening a comeback and he urged more emphasis on protective treatments, particularly for youngsters from three months of age to ten years old.

Fourteen new cases of diphtheria were reported in Detroit in the last ten days of October, and a girl recently died of diphtheria in adjacent Monroe County. State health department records show an increase in diphtheria throughout the state the past several years, with twice as many cases in 1956, as compared to 1955.

"We can expect trouble from diphtheria in Lenawee County, unless children are immunized and given booster shots on schedule," Dr. Hanna warned. "Protection against diphtheria by immunization is safe, sure and as close at hand as your doctor's office. Your children depend on you for this. Are you failing them?"

The Director added that the source of diphtheria outbreaks is usually "a person or persons who are unsuspectingly carriers of diphtheria, and suffer no ill effects from the disease themselves, but are capable of passing it to others."

Newest Buick Yet

You know all that talk you've been hearing about the 1957 new car models being really new?

Well, in the case of the 1957 Buicks it's true—gospel true.

We mean these 1957 Buicks are new in the precise and literal sense.

We mean new from the ground up, and from gleaming grille to sassy taillights.

We mean new lowness, new styling, new bodies, new windshields, new controls, new safety-padded instrument panels, new safety steering wheels, new seating, new fabrics, new colors.

We mean new front end, new rear end, new frame, new braking, new steering, new handling, new riding, new roadability—a whole new chassis of greater solidity and safety.

We mean V8 engines new from the crankshaft up—engines that deliver an all-time high in horsepower and compression from their 364-cubic-inch displacement.

And we mean, most of all, an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow—so instant in the starting range—so utterly smooth and so totally full-range in "Drive"—that your need for "Low" is practically eliminated.*

So come take in these low-silhouette, these boldly beautiful, these instantly obedient Buicks for 1957.

Then you'll see why you can't blame us for being so fired up about it all—and how catching this excitement can be.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.*

NROTC Exam Nears Deadline

High school seniors and graduates have only until November 17 to apply for the Navy's Reserve Officer Training Corps, Vice Admiral James A. Holloway, Jr., Chief of Naval Personnel, said today. Applicants will take the nationwide competitive examination on December 8 as the first step toward an appointment as midshipman.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises to many parts of the world. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the Regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty with the Navy's far-flung fleets.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1957. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 2,000 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (265:5): "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off."

Among the scriptural selections the following will be read (Matthew 11:28): "Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

Gone Are The Old Fashioned Classrooms

Gone are the days when you walk into an elementary classroom and see a row of identical tulips above the blackboard, says Alex L. Pickens, instructor in art education in The University of Michigan College of Architecture and Design.

The College celebrates its semicentennial this month.

"You're more apt to see freely brushed paintings in primary colors," he says. "Today's teacher doesn't ask the kids to trace snowflakes and paste them on windows as Christmas art projects, or to draw an apple just like the one on the blackboard.

"Instead she's thinking in terms of what happens to the children as they create in paper or wood or clay and she's arriving at a deeper understanding of the creative act."

"First of all," Pickens says, "the really up-to-date teacher knows the value of a creative school atmosphere. She encourages the children to take on responsibilities such as feeding a fish or bird, or watering plants, or preparing paints for an art activity."

"Second, she stimulates the children to express their own ideas and share them with others. This may take place during reading, when someone feels compelled to tell a story, or during an art activity when crayons will not do the job and paint is an absolute necessity. In other words, she places the growth of the child ahead of schedule and the prescribed page in a text," Pickens says.

"Third, she's resourceful in providing a suitable environment for creative activities. Storage space lacking? The inventive teacher stretches plastic clothesline and creates display lines. She covers frames made in shop classes with cotton felt or burlap to create bulletin boards. Or she may hang display cases below the chalk trays or window ledges."

"Again," says Pickens, "She's resourceful about gathering new and unusual art materials. These may be nothing more than sawdust or asbestos cement to be mixed with wheat paste, or a bag of plaster and some field pebbles which will make a mosaic, or some scrap plastic which will be used in mounting leaf specimens or butterflies."

"Lastly," the art educator concludes, "she's wise enough to know that as her students approach adolescence more emphasis should be placed on manipulative art experiences. She shows her students how to master simple hand tools, to explore resistive materials and surfaces, and she answers their questions about perspective and horizons. Of course, at this level, she must provide a great variety in materials and activities," Pickens reminds.

Den 4 Held Regular Meeting

Den 4 of the Boy Scout Pack No. 4 held their regular meeting Tuesday evening at the home of their den mother, Mrs. Lillian Fielder. John Mensing served refreshments. The Den helped with the Get Out the Vote campaign last Saturday, and hung door knob hangers on the doors about town.

Letter To The Editor

This year the UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund) Trick or Treat project only held its own in comparion with last year's record. I and many others feel that this most worthy attempt to replace the doling out of candy and cookies (an everyday treat for American children) with the giving of money to children in other countries where they haven't even any milk is worth supporting and educating the public to support.

If people can only be made to understand that this is not just "one more solicitation for money," but a donation of money for the underprivileged in place of candy which our children already have in too great abundance! The grade school children themselves are enthusiastic if the real meaning is explained to them. It remains to educate the general public.

In many towns this idea has rapidly caught fire, so that it now completely replaces the "old style" Halloween, but still retains the fun of dressing up. The city councils have sponsored and the whole town stood back of the project. In a sense it is comparable to the replacement of hazing with helpful community projects now carried on by so many high school and college fraternities. With more understanding can't we, too, achieve the same spirit of helpfulness on the grade school level? If the children don't think it too great a sacrifice, surely we can appreciate and cooperate with what they are doing.

Some few have seen the Danny Kaye movie describing this effort. We hope to have the film to show more widely here another year, and may we also hope for better newspaper publicity.

Donna Lou Purkey Honored At Party

Mrs. Donald Purkey entertained at a birthday party for her daughter Donna Lou, who was five years old Monday. Nine of Donna Lou's friends attended the party. The table was lovely with bright, gay favors done in nursery rhythms for the children to take home and circus characters dancing through the table covering, a lovely arrangement of pink and white mums centered the table. Ice cream, cake and milk were served for refreshments. The children enjoyed themselves playing games. Donna Lou received many lovely gifts.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible

If any of you lack wisdom, let him ask of God that giveth to all men liberally and upbraideth not, and it shall be given to him.—(James 1,5.)

What is the right thing to do? What shall I do or say about this? Even the wisest man will sometimes have his doubts. But Almighty God always will hear a devout, unselfish prayer for His guidance, and answer it.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

A little extra effort in harvesting corn to keep it clean will speed up drying in the crib, suggests Louis Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

Clean corn will permit a more thorough air flow through the corn for either natural or mechanical drying. And Agent Hall says that ear corn should normally be down to 25 per cent to keep safely in a six-foot wide conventional crib. If the corn is up to 35 per cent, then four-foot wide cribs are the absolute maximum for natural drying.

Carl Hall, agricultural engineer, has these storing tips for improving air flow through corn.

Use a fan to remove husks and fine and light material. Place the fan to remove the material as it comes off the elevator into the crib.

Remove small nubbins, green ears and stalks.

Make good use of the provisions your elevator may have for screening out the kernels as the corn moves into the crib.

Move the elevator periodically to prevent the accumulation of Kernels and fine material in one spot in the crib.

If you don't take a few precautions now, someone else may be working in your orchard after you leave it for the winter.

Mice and other rodents can slip in under the cover of mulch and girdle your trees, damaging and even killing them, points out Louis Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

Strychnine treated oats will control these rodents very effectively if they are placed in runways or concentration stations, recommends Paul Larsen, extension specialist in horticulture.

One handy way to make these concentration stations is to place the straw bales that you plan to use for mulch next spring near the trees and then put the poisoned oats under them.

If you can find the runways of the mice, poisoned oats in them will also help put an end to many of the troubles from these bothersome little rodents, believes Larsen.

If provisions are not made for keeping orchards free of mice, you may be faced with the alternative of expensive bridge grafting or dead trees in the spring.

Law Changes May Aid Farmer

New changes in the social security law may benefit low income farmers.

If their gross farm earnings are between $600 and $1,800 they now can pay half employment tax on two-thirds instead of one-half of gross earnings, regardless of whether federal income taxes are reported on the cash or on the accrual basis.

E. B. Hill, farm economist, says this means that if a farmer's gross income from agricultural self-employment is not more than $1,800 he may count his net earnings as either (1) his actual net earnings or (2) two-thirds of his gross farm income.

If a farmer's gross income is more than 1,800 and his net farm earnings are less than $1,200, he may use either (1) his actual net earnings or (2) $1,200 as his self-employment net income.

If a farmer's gross income is more than $1,800 and his net farm earnings are $1,200 or more, he must report and use his actual net income when figuring his social security tax.

Another new ruling provides that landlords who rent their farms for cash or on a crop basis are covered by the law if, by agreement with their tenants, they take an important part in the management decisions or in the actual production of crop or livestock.

Income received as rent by landlords, Hill points out, is not classified as self-employment income if they do not "participate materially" in making management decisions, or in the actual production of crops or livestock on their farms. Therefore, it cannot be included in figuring income for social security purposes.

4-H'ers Aim for 1956 National Club Congress

FOR the 35th consecutive year the nation's top 4-H youth are setting their sights high to reach their goal and the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, where they will be honored and rewarded for outstanding accomplishment.

More than 1300 boys and girls representing over two million 4-H Club members from 48 states, Alaska, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico will attend the Congress. In addition to an all-expense trip, these state, sectional and national winners will receive other rewards climaxing several years of diligent 4-H project work.

"While the annual value of products resulting from 4-H members' projects amounts to an estimated $115,000,000, this gain is probably the least of the benefits arising from 4-H Club experience," said Guy L. Noble, director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work.

"The greater and more lasting benefits are the personal satisfactions derived from real achievement such as making friends, practicing democratic procedures through organized 4-H Club work, and developing spiritual values from day-to-day living with 4-H ideals," he stated.

Immediate rewards for the Congress-bound 4-H'ers will be 212 college scholarships worth $67,000; U. S. savings bonds valued at $11,250; special cash awards totaling $15,700. Many will be presented with engraved watches and other handsome gifts. All will be entertained at gala breakfasts, luncheons, and dinners.

In the overall National 4-H Award Programs a total of nearly $360,000 is expended annually to recognize boys and girls who have excelled in "improving family and community living."

These award programs are made possible through the combined efforts of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, the Cooperative Extension Service, civic spirited individuals, business firms and foundations.

Those providing 4-H awards and support this year are: the President of the United States, Mrs. Charles R. Walgreen, Thos. E. Wilson, Edward Foss Wilson.

Others are the Ford Motor Co., Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., International Harvester, Standard Brands, Kerr Glass Mfg., Coats & Clark, Inc., Larro Sure Feed Division of General Mills, Carnation Co.

Simplicity Pattern Co., Westinghouse Educational Foundation, Hercules Powder Co., Arcadian Products Dept. of Allied Chemical & Dye Corp., Kelvinator Division of American Motors, American Forest Products Industries, Whirlpool-Seeger Corp., Tractor Group of Allis-Chalmers, Montgomery Ward, Eli Lilly & Co., Sears-Roebuck Foundation, U. Others are Chicago Board of Trade, Cities Service Oil Co., Cudahy Packing Co., Sunbeam Corp., Armour & Co.

Michigan 4-H'ers Can Get Awards

Michigan 4-H Club members will be eligible for two educational awards this fall provided by the Chicago and Northwestern Railway. The 1956 winners will be judged on the basis of 4-H project work, and will be selected by the State Extension Service.

One of the 4-H'ers selected will be from among the regular Michigan delegation to the 35th National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Nov. 25-29, and will receive a $100 college scholarship. The other winner will attend the Congress as a delegate. Both will be honored guests of the railroad at their annual Club Congress breakfast.

The 1955 scholarship award went to James Elmleaf, Iron County and winner of the Congress trip was Robert Dahlvik of Delta County.

Additional funds made available by C & NW through the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work will provide similar awards this year for 4-H Club members in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Farm-City Cooperation Week

Rural and urban people are no longer self-sufficient and have many mutual as well as different problems.

The goal of Farm-City Week, Nov. 16-22 is to bring about a better understanding of these different problems and provide a chance to talk over mutual problems, according to Paul A. Miller, chairman of the state Farm-City Week steering committee.

The committee is urging each Michigan community to hold a rural-urban meeting during the week and to make plans for continuing efforts for farm-city cooperation throughout the entire year.

Farm and factory tours, exchanging of speakers between farm and city groups, and joint organization meetings can help rural and urban people gain understanding of common and individual interests.

The Farm-City Week observance is being held on a national as well as local basis. President Dwight D. Eisenhower proclaimed the week after Congress had designated the dates. The national program is being coordinated by Kiwanis International, a service organization.

A committee of about 30 representatives of various rural and urban organizations is leading the Michigan program. The steering committee of this group includes: William R. Keasey, Michigan Food Dealers' association; John Hanks, New York Central railroad; Dan Reed, Michigan Farm Bureau; Milton Grinnell, editor of Michigan Farmer and chairman Paul A. Miller.

At least 25 per cent of Michigan farms have inadequate wiring to handle the boost in use of electrical appliances and motors.

The deadline to sign 1956 soil bank conservation reserve agreements has been extended until Nov. 30.

Parent-Son FFA Banquet Held Monday

The fifteenth annual parent and son FFA banquet was held Monday, November 5, at the Tecumseh Grange Hall. It was attended by 130 parents, teachers, implement dealers and FFA members. The dinner was prepared by the boys' sisters.

After the dinner a program to acquaint the parents and teachers with the Ag. program was presented. The program included a film entitled that Inspiring Task as well as Treasurers Report by Bill Lopshire, Broiler Project, Melvin Scheffler, Feeder Pigs, Ron Roe, Pig Chain, LeRoy Burleson and Darrell Lowery, FFA Crop Projects reports; Corn, Sylvan Echellbarger and Melvin Scheffler, Soybeans, Ray Aylesworth, Oats, Richard Neidermier, Wheat, Bill Lopshire, Slides on FFA group and student projects by Mr. Burns, and Point system awards by Darrell Lowery.

About 60,000 of Michigan's 139,000 farms are large enough to provide full employment for a farmer and his family plus a small amount of additional help. These farms should give a reasonable level of living under normal conditions.

Michigan 4-H Club members will observe National 4-H Achievement Day, Nov. 10.

Hens With Pullets Cause Of Losses

If you're thinking of mixing your pullets with the old laying flock you can probably count on taking some losses.

That's the word from Extension Veterinarian Glen W. Reed. He points out that hens often recover from a disease, then become carriers of the malady.

They can pass to younger pullets such disease as roup, fowl cholera, chronic respiratory diseases and leucosis. And to keep young pullets from getting such diseases older hens should be kept separate and there should be strict sanitary management.

Phosphate Best For Barn Floors

Superphosphates will be better than lime for use in the dairy stanchion barn this winter, says D. L. Murray, Michigan State University extension dairyman.

Lime releases nitrogen and makes the barn floor slippery, says Murray. Phosphate ties up the nitrogen. This cuts down on the smell in the barn and so gives the cows better footing. The manure will be worth more in the spring, too.

Murray recommends about a half-pound of phosphate fertilizer per cow per day, spread in and a short distance behind the gutter.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!
They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultramodern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

$125 Collected By Halloween With A Heart

A collection of $125.79 was made by the "Halloween with a Heart" children for clothing, food and drugs to be sent overseas. Fifty-six children from the six participating churches met at the Methodist church the day before Holloween to pick up their cannisters for the U.N.I.F.E.C. drive. Mrs. Elmer Bryan, chairman of the drive, said that for the short length of time this new kind of Holloween has been in effect, it is felt by the people working on the committee that Tecumseh has been contributing very well in relation to other nearby cities. However it is hoped that next year a film can be obtained to show the public exactly how the U.N.I.F.E.C. money is used, and perhaps more people will encourage their children to participate in "Holloween with a Heart".

Salvation Army No Longer Uses Tambourines

Captain Heaver, of the Salvation Army in Adrian, and Lenawee County, wishes to remind the people of the County that, a few years ago, the old familiar tambourine was officially retired as a collecting device.

Due to the fact that other groups were often mistaken for Salvation Army workers, because of similarity of dress and use of the tambourine, the Salvation Army patented a red plastic box molded in the shape of a shield, and carrying on the front surface the name, in white, The Salvation Army.

The people of the County are hereby informed that no business collections are being taken at present by the Salvation Army in any community except Adrian. At no time will any public business collections be asked with a tambourine. The official red box will be used.

Legion Auxiliary Orders Another Hospital Bed

Another hospital bed for use in the community is being ordered this week by the American Legion Auxiliary. This is made possible by the proceeds from the Crowell-Collier magazine sale sponsored by the Auxiliary this summer. A number of beds are made available for use of both members and non-members, as well as wheel chairs and other equipment, by the Auxiliary.

Mrs. Donald Wood presided at the business meeting Monday evening, when Mrs. Charles Howe was presented with a Past President's ring by members of the Auxiliary installation team represented by Mrs. Bartlette Aiuto. Mrs. Howe has spent several years working with this team since they were organized, and the Auxiliary is very proud of the work they have been doing.

The Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. Larry Cote, reported a very successful sale of the flags to date, and anyone wishing one of these flags for their home may purchase one from Mrs. Charles Howe at Bancrofts, or call Mrs. Cote 7028-R.

The Auxiliary voted to sponsor Girl Scout Troop 16 again this year as soon as a leader is available for them.

Girl Scout Vesper Service November 11

The Girl Scout Vesper service will be held Sunday, Nov. 11 in the Presbyterian church from 4 until 5 p.m. All Girl Scouts and Brownies are asked to be at the church at 3:30 p.m. for instruction and this will relieve them of attending the rehearsal held on Saturday, Nov. 10 at 2:00 p.m., to which all leaders and co-leaders are asked to be present. Mrs. Robert Smith, chairman of the service has said that a very interesting speaker has been engaged. It is a short service, and she is looking for a fine attendance among the girls and their parents.

The Junior Choir, consisting of Jean Ann Hoag, Mary Ann Hunter, Lana Wright, Carol Greiman, and Dorothy Mackey sang the selection entitled: "In the Valley" which was recently composed by Mr. Jeschke, who also sang the lyric in the Hebrew language and played several accordion selections.

Several games of shuffleboard were enjoyed by some of the visitors. A sound film, describing the Bethesda House of Mercy, a home for the handicapped, in Watertown, Wisconsin, was greatly enjoyed. The evening came to a close at about 8:30 p.m.

Tri. Town Ext. Group Met

The Tri Town Extension Club met Oct. 29 at the home of Mrs. Ted Sisson. The topic was "Traffic Safety" with Mrs. David Ousterhout and Mrs. Ted Sisson presiding. The members came in costume and after the meeting charades and pumpkin carving were enjoyed; prizes were awarded to Mrs. Duane Bihlmyer for the best costume and to Mrs. John Robinson for the best pumpkin. Refreshments were enjoyed served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held Nov. 19th at 8 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Duaine Murphy; the project "Meeting the Meat Ball."

Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

I wonder why many parents object to the idea of teaching our young people the concepts of the communist and socialist dogma? How else can they be made to see how basically illogical and against human nature these dogmas are?

I believe most of the objections stem from the fear that familiarity with these beliefs will bring acceptance of them. A secondary consideration is that, in many cases, the parent knows little about the dogmas himself because they were brought up to think that communism and socialism are a pair of those "dirty unmentionable words" that it is best to fear and not understand. I agree that they are terrible concepts but I feel they must be understood to be rejected in the long run.

Most of our colleges and universities do an excellent job in preparing the student to see for himself that these concepts are not feasible or workable in the long run. However few institutions of secondary education go beyond the point of saying that communism is "from each according to his ability and to each according to his needs." This is not enough. As a matter of fact, this is not even remotely related to communism as it ever has been practiced to date. (or as it would ever be possible to practice it.) I believe that most educators realize this but are unable to act because of the "parential axe".

If the "American System" is to survive, the battle of ideas, it will be through a prepared citizenry. We must have citizens that thoroughly understand our system as well as the opposing systems that might prevail at any particular time. We have the best social, economic and political system in the world today. There is lots of room for improvement in many areas. However, we have a framework that will enable us to bring about improvements. It is flexible and dynamic and can give us more of anything good that any other system might be able to offer.

Adult Education Classes Started

The adult education classes for the people of the Tecumseh area got underway successfully this week. Classes which started this week and their instructors are: Typing, Mrs. H. Lee Pretyman; Business Machines, Miss Waggoner; Oil Painting and Drawing, Mr. Steinke; Dressmaking and Slipcovering, Mrs. H. Clark; Driver Education, Mr. John Pobuda; Women's Recreation, Miss Sheffer; Square Dancing, Mr. Dermott Poley. Other classes will begin at a later date.

It is hoped that if enough interest is shown that a Community Chorus Group will be activated. The conductor of the course, Mr. Lester Bennett of the high school staff has studied conducting under Mr. Maynard Klein of the University of Michigan, has organized and directed several church choirs, a Community Variety Show and several choral concerts. Mr. Bennett states that the chorus group is open to all who are interested in fine choral singing and that the music performed will be both sacred and secular. Also that this group may be the nucleus for an Easter Messiah Chorus. A program

The Senior Class of Tecumseh High School will present "Desperate Hours" November 30 and December 1. A matinee will be held November 29. Two members of the cast are shown in one of the nightly rehearsals in the above picture. They are Ruth Meads and Harry Teets.

Hard work and the excellent direction of Miss Egan has the play running "like clockwork". The presentation of a play such as the "Desperate Hours" should prove to be a real challenge to the senior class.

Athletic Banquet To Feature Hank Fonde

The Tecumseh Jaycees will hold their Annual Football Banquet Thursday, November 29, at the Products Union Hall. It will start at 6:30 p.m.

Last year, 440 meals were served at this very successful event. It is expected that it will be an even bigger and better event this year. The speaker for the evening will be Hank Fonde, football coach at Ann Arber High School. Mr. Fonde has not only achieved considerable acclaim for his excellent coaching records at Ann Arbor, but is widely known as an interesting and inspiring speaker. It can be promised that he will, not only give the team members' inspiration, but give everybody in the audience an interesting evening.

All Freshmen through Seniors who were out for football this year at Tecumseh High School, are invited to the banquet as guests. The public is also invited and urged to attend this tribute to our fine football team. Adult tickets are

Estimates Indicate Overcrowding Imminent

Enrollment estimates for the local junior-senior high school, based upon pupils actually enrolled in the school system at this time, indicate that serious over-crowding is imminent. Estimated enrollment in grades seven through twelve in the fall of 1957 is estimated at 949 pupils; in 1958, 1026. The capacity of the present high school building is 575, based upon an average of thirty pupils to a classroom. This means that next fall (1957) 949 pupils will be attending school in a building which is designed for 575 pupils. Large classes will be predominant along with a full noon hour schedule.

Secondary School Principal, N. L. Hart, states that this situation has not been caused by the recent annexation, since the high school has enrolled the boys and girls from these annexed districts for many years. The quality of education our youths receive will be seriously impaired if this condition is not remedied soon.

The North Central Association of Universities, Colleges and Secondary Schools, of which Tecumseh High School has been a member since 1920, recommends that class sizes be held to a maximum of thirty-five. Failure to follow the recommendations of the Associations will place Tecumseh High School on the unqualified list.

The Board of Education and the Administration are considering presenting to the district plans for alleviating the crowded conditions by building needed new elementary since it is cheaper to build elemen- schools and converting the Central building to a junior high school, tary schools. If this is done, the high school will have an enrollment of 635 in the fall of 1958 according to the estimates. Each succeeding year it is expected that the high school enrollment will increase until 1963, when it will reach a total of 947. The above fig-

Tecumseh Indians End Season In 2nd Place In The League

A combination of speedy, hard-running backs and a line which expertly carried out its blocking and tackling assignments was the downfall of the Tecumseh Indians last Friday night. The Milan Big Reds swept to a 12-0 victory over the Indians in the last gridiron battle of the season.

Tecumseh, expecting their opponents to run the ball mostly through the line as they had been known to do in previous contests, used, during most of the game, a defense especially designed to cope with this. But the Big Reds surprised the Indians by sweeping the ends. These end sweeps accounted for Milan's two touchdowns and almost all of the yardage which they gained in the game.

The Tecumseh eleven apparently hadn't yet recovered from the attack of fumble-itis which cost them the Southeastern League championship in the previous week's contest with Hillsdale. The Indians fumbled three times in the game, —once on the Milan 7, again on the Milan 13, and a third time on the Milan 40. Milan recovered all three bobbles.

Tecumseh came close to scoring a touchdown twice in the first period. In the seventh play of the game, Bill Hansen flipped a pass to Al Dickinson for a touchdown. However, this play, covering 45 yards, was nullified by a penalty assessed against the Indians. Later in the quarter, Tecumseh drove 45 yards to the Milan 7, only to fumble away their chance to score.

The only score of the second quarter was made by the Big Reds, who, after recovering an Indian fumble on the Milan 13, went 87 yards for the touchdown. This drive was sparked by halfback Ken McCleery, who moved the ball 62 yards from his own 13 to the Tecumseh 25 on an end sweep. Milan quarterback Earl Thompson tallied the touchdown from one yard out to make it 6-0. The try for the extra point was no good.

In the third period, the Big Reds scored again. This time it only took them six plays to move the ball 72 yards for the tally. Sixty-four of those 72 yards were covered by Thompson on another end sweep. Thompson also scored the touchdown on a one yard plunge through the line. Milan missed the extra point, leaving the score at 12-0.

One last attempt to close the gap in the score was made by the Indians in the last quarter.

Community Fund Pushed Over The Top Tuesday

Jack Osburn, Chairman of the Jaycees Sponsored Community Fund Drive reports it has been pushed over the goal of $13,244. The grand total at the present time is $14,750. Until Tuesday of this week, the drive was short of the goal set for Tecumseh.

However, a drive was started at the Tecumseh Products plant that enabled us to surpass the goal. Vic Humble and Clarence Champanois teamed with the United Products Workers Union and raised $4,950.50. All together, management and workers at the Products plant combined to raise $10,883.50 for the Community Fund.

The remaining $3,866.50 was raised by the business men and the residential solicitation. This figure is not complete since some downtown areas are not in as yet. All of the receipts collected by the Community Fund Drive will be split among 44 different agencies None of the agencies included in the Fund will solicit separately in Tecumseh. The Community Fund enables donators to give once for many charities.

Deer Season Will Open Thursday November 15

A check of Hite's Hardware, Baldwin's Hardware and the Gamble Store shows that a total of 360 deer licenses have been sold so far. Thus, the City of Tecumseh will fall at least 360 in population this week since the season opens today.

Results are expected to be poor unless Fall decides to give up it's tenacious grasp to Old Man Winter. At the time of publication this didn't look likely.

Due to the Thanksgiving holiday next Thursday, the Herald will be printed earlier next week. Will all correspondents please have their copy in this office one day earlier than usual. Advertising copy should also be in a day earlier. Your cooperation will be appreciated. Thank you.

R. B. Comfort Leaves On World Tour

Ralph B. Comfort, on the right above, a local citizen and owner of Comfort Brick and Tile Co. leaves today from Willow Run Airport for a tour which will take him around the world. He will be accompanied from Idlewild Airport, New York City, by the Rev. Chester G. Stanley on the left above, of Damascus, Ohio. The tour, which will be by air, will take them to Glasgow, London, Paris, Frankfurt, Geneva, Zurich, Milan, Rome and Athens.

Because of conditions in the Middle East, their plans to visit Cairo and Jerusalem have had to be abandoned. Leaving Athens, they will fly to Istanbul, Turkey and then on to Karachi, Pakistan and New Delhi, India. After spending about a month in India, they will fly to Rangoon, Burma. There they will visit Mr. Joseph C. Satterthwaite of Tecumseh, the United States ambassador to Burma, a cousin of Mr. Comfort.

From Rangoon, Mr. Comfort and Mr. Stanley will fly to Hong Kong then they will fly to the Philippine Islands; Formosa; Japan; and back to the United States, after a stopover in the Hawaiian Islands.

The purpose of the tour is to visit the mission stations of the American Friends Mission in Central India and in Formosa. Mr. Stanley is the superintendent of the Friends Foreign Missionary Society of the Ohio Yearly Meeting of the Friends Church, and Mr. Comfort is the treasurer. In response to a request from the missionaries in India these two men were appointed as a commission to visit the mission there.

The American Friends Mission in India is now in the second year of a five-year plan that looks to the complete Indianization of the work. Instead of an American mission, the hope is to organize the work so that it will be self-governing, self-propagating, and self-supporting. Because of world conditions it may be necessary to greatly speed up this five-year plan. Mr. Comfort and Mr. Stanley will hold conferences with the American missionaries connected with the Friends work in Central India and together they will seek to take steps to conserve the work of over sixty years. The problems that will confront the members of this commission in Formosa are those of a new but fast-growing mission. They will give consideration to recommended sites and plans for additional buildings for church and Sunday school work and housing for personnel. It is expected that Mr. Comfort and Mr. Stanley will return to the United States the latter part of January.

Tecumseh Rotary Members Hear Dr. Roger Hanna

The September, October and November birthdays were honored at the Tuesday night meeting of the Rotary Club. President James McDowell presided at the meeting.

Virgil Tucker, program chairman, turned the meeting over to Roy Titley. Mr. Titley introduced the speaker of the evening, Dr. Roger Hanna of the Lenawee County Health Department and a past president of the Jackson Rotary Club.

Dr. Hanna spoke on the loss of hearing of school children, stating that about 3 per cent of the school children have a hearing loss which seriously handicaps them. The department received a subsidy from a prominent county couple recently. This is helping considerably with the work to correct these handicapped. He said that every child who missed a grade costs the school administration about $3000.

The department has screened about 3,000 children this year. Of those found to be suffering loss of hearing, about 70 per cent can be restored to perfect hearing.

Dr. Hanna mentioned the TB program and said that TB cases can be checked now at the county department instead of traveling to Howell or some other clinic. The county is receiving about $8500 yearly as its part of a state appropriation for this work.

Plans are being completed for a Mort Neff program to be held by the local Rotarians on December 11.

Herald Installs Ludlow Machine

Foreman Carl Panck, of the Tecumseh Herald, is shown standing in front of the Herald's latest innovation to improve reader and customer satisfaction. The machine is a typesetting machine called a Ludlow.

The Ludlow virtually makes handtypesetting of large letters a thing of the past. There is no further need to have large bulky cases of handset type cluttering up the plant. This machine casts new type each week as it is needed. Broken and worn letters are no longer a problem as far as the Herald is concerned.

This machine, in combination with the linotype, will insure that all reading and advertising material in the Herald will have the most modern and readable letter faces available.

SCHOOL

ures do not take into consideration the loss or gain of any pupils. Judging by current conditions in Tecumseh, the trend will probably reflect an increase rather than a loss.

The Board of Education, Administration, Faculty and PTA members have discussed various types of school organization for some time and have concluded that they favor a Kindergarten through sixth grade, a seventh and eighth grade junior high school, and a ninth through twelfth grade high school type of organization. Some of the reasons for this choice should be considered under a heading of educational advantages rather than one necessitated by the overcrowding of our present buildings.

It is felt that there are many problems of early adolescents with which the senior high school cannot cope adequately. It is important that boys and girls of this age (12-14) be grouped together in learning situations. They feel left out in the planning and activities of the youth fifteen to eighteen years of age, who dominate student life in the high schools. Young adolescents like to feel that they are in "high school", even though it carries the prefix "junior". This sense of status — of belonging — helps to keep them in school and to motivate their interest during this explosive period of their lives.

Junior high schools emphasize pupil activities. Pupils of this age group need to participate in more such activities — self-government, school management, community projects, clubs, and discussion groups. They need to exercise more responsibility than is commonly given them in the elementary schools, but less than is commonly given them in the high schools. They need learning experiences to help them mature gradually and under favorable conditions, both with regard to pupils of their own age and to their teachers.

The junior high school is in a strong position to provide for individual differences which become accentuated during adolescense and to deal with problems of pubescence and maladjustment which appear in greater numbers. Additional opportunities for educational and vocational guidance are offered. These need to be recognized and planned for in the school's program and schedule.

An organization of this type makes possible greater flexibility in building-space management. If the grade schools are crowded, the upper grades—or parts of them—can without radical changes be shifted from the elementary schools to the junior high school; if the senior high school is crowded, part or all of the lower high-school grade can be sent temporarily to utilize any available space in the junior high school, or temporary reverse shifts can be made if necessary. The resulting grade arrangements, may not be ideal, but, with rapid shifts among the various age groups needing schoolroom space, due to high mobility of population and rapid economic changes, greater elasticity in control of school building space is desirable.

Recent years have witnessed an insistent demand for far reaching changes in the program and services of the senior high schools. One source of this demand stems from the rapid increase in the number and type of youth who desire entrance to these schools. In the face of the growing pressure for more and better education for youth of high school age, there has been much resistence to rising costs of education. Reorganization of systems along junior high school lines has become the most acceptable way of bringing about desired improvements and of doing this within reasonable costs for more buildings, equipment, and teaching staff.

The six years to be devoted to secondary education may well be divided into two periods, which may be designated as the junior and senior periods. In the junior period Mr. Hart feels emphasis should be placed upon the attempt to help the student explore his own aptitudes and to make at least provisional choice of the kinds of work to which he will devote himself. In the senior period Mr. Hart feels emphasis should be given to training in the field thus chosen. The other school of thought is that the primary and secondary education should be general instruction for prepared citizenship. In the junior high school, there should be the gradual introduction of departmental instruction, some choice of subjects under guidance, promotion by subjects, prevocational courses, and a social organization that calls forth initiative and develops the sense of personal responsibility for the welfare of the group.

Thus, even if the school were not overcrowded, it seems that this proposed separation of grades 7 and 8 from grades 9 through 12 would provide a more satisfactory educational and social program for all pupils concerned.

EDUCATION

will be given at the end of the eight weeks sessions. It is necessary that a minimum of twenty-four people register to start the chorus class. Those interested should meet with Mr. Bennett in the chorus room of the high school next Monday evening November 19 at 7 p.m.

The Women's Recreation class has been rescheduled to meet on Thursdays instead of Wednesdays and will not meet this week due to observance of American Education Week this Thursday evening. There is still room for more people in the Women's Recreation, Oil-painting and Square Dancing classes. About six more people are needed to join the State and Community Problems Class under the direction of Mr. Brazee.

INDIANS

Taking the ball on their own 42, they marched down the field deep into Milan territory. However, they were stopped on the five yard line where, on third down, a pass thrown by Hansen was intercepted, ending the scoring threat.

Although beaten 12-0, Tecumseh tallied 11 first downs to Milan's 9.

In the second period of the game, Tecumseh's senior halfback Al Dickinson was taken to the hospital with a hip injury. Dickinson returned from the hospital late in the game, but did not see any more action in the contest.

This defeat gave Tecumseh an all-season record of four wins and four losses. In total points the Indians out-tallied their opponents, 125 to 78. In league standings, Tecumseh ranked second with a three won, one lost league record.

Central P. T. A. Open House Thurs. November 15th

The Central P.T.A. will hold Open House Thursday, November 15, 1956. This is being done in connection with National Education Week whereby parents will have the opportunity of visiting the rooms of their children, learn the general goals for the year, examine the text books and converse with the teachers. If any parents have a specific problem about their child, the teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8:00 for this purpose, before the general Open House.

A short business meeting will be held in the Auditorium after the individual rooms have been visited. Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. As this is the last meeting of this year, a record attendance is expected.

A prize will be awarded to the room which has the greater percentage of attendance for the meeting.

At the duplicate bridge tournament held Monday evening Nov. 12, the winners were Mr. William Snook and Mr. Russell Langham. The bridge tournament will be held every Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Country Club, and cash prizes will be awarded according to the number of people attending.

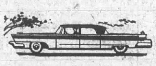
Fall Pussy Willows Believe It Or Not

Mrs. Phillip Miller of Occidental Highway brought some branches from one of her three pussy willow trees into the Herald office this week. The trees became confused this year and produced their blossoms in the fall instead of in the spring. All three trees are bursting with pussy willows. She brought some of the blossoms along to prove it!

Police Report For This Week

Things were quiet with the Tecumseh Police Department this last week. Only two incidents were reported.

Jack Welt, Tecumseh, was apprehended for having a loud muffler on his car. Cars driven by Richard Dale Miller, Adrian and Lawrence Price, Tecumseh, collided on S. Evans Street, with considerable damage to both cars.



Big, wide, bulky cars like this are typical of American design. But, to get room inside, they are too big outside for today's traffic, too wasteful of gasoline.

Small, light cars like this are typical of European design. They are economical and easy to handle in traffic, but they don't have the room most American families want.

FACTORS AFFECTING FALLOUT distribution over countryside downwind from a nuclear blast are the size of the earth particles carrying the radioactivity, their altitude and the speed and direction of the wind. Generally, in the United States, the winds which would dominate the direction of fallout would be the strong, usually west-to-east winds at about 40,000 feet. For this reason, the Federal Civil Defense Administration warns that only weather experts, with their methods of tracking high-altitude winds, can predict with reasonable accuracy the area to be affected by fallout. Men with radiation monitoring instruments are also required to determine whether an area is "safe" from radio active fallout after a nuclear attack. (FCDA Photos)

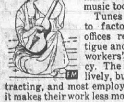
SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

Music Hath Charms

Back in the 18th Century, when sleeping pills were unknown, an insomniac count ordered some "sleeping music" from Johann Sebastian Bach. The famous composer responded with the "Goldberg Variations." Every evening the compositions were performed in the count's bedchamber—with the desired sleep-inducing effect.



There is even more method to music today.

Tunes piped into factories and offices reduce fatigue and improve workers' efficiency. The music is lively, but not distracting, and most employees agree it makes their work less monotonous.

Gentle strains relax mothers in childbirth. A survey of 100 mothers at Johns Hopkins and Sinai Hospital in Baltimore showed nearly half the women thought music was the first or second most important factor in easing labor.

Melody in some operating rooms has replaced heavy doses of morphine and barbiturates for surgery under local or spinal anesthesia. And music has become an important tool of therapy in mental hospitals, where it penetrates walls of silence and helps draw emotionally-disturbed people back into the world.

The Seventh Lively Art figured prominently in a "Peace of Mind" room at this years meeting of the American Medical Association in Chicago. J. B. Roerig and Company, producers of the anti-tension drug Atarax, invited 15,000 doctors touring the convention exhibits to pause in an air-conditioned lounge. The room was designed for relaxation — from quiet-textured upholstery and calm wall colors to Cole Porter compositions.

According to Dr. Max Shoen of the Carnegie Institute of Technology, music's effect is always positive. According to Matthew Green (1696-1737): "Music hath charms, we all may find, ingratiate deeply with the mind."

Hospital Ball December 1

Invitations for the annual Hospital Ball were in the mail the first of the week. The ball will be held December 1 at the Country Club, tickets are five dollars a couple and the ticket chairman is Mrs. Charles Stevenson. The ball will be open to Hospital Auxiliary members and their friends.

Owners Throw Away A Fortune In Fertilizer

Every fall millions of homeowners throw away a fortune in organic fertilizers. Through the dangerous and destructive practice of burning leaves and garden debris, tons of potential humus go up in smoke.

Humus is nature's complete plant food and soil conditioner. It supplies appreciable amounts of nitrogen, sulphur and phosphorus, and also oxygen, carbon, hydrogen and other plant nutrients. Its capacities for absorbing and holding both water and commercial fertilizers make it the most useful material that can be added to the soil.

Few homeowners realize that it takes less time to make a compost than to burn the organic matter accumulated in the annual fall clean-up. Equally few realize that humus is readily taken up by growing plants. To maintain a good lawn or garden, humus must be added at frequent intervals to the soil.

A backyard compost pile, started in the fall, is an easy and economical way to develop a home source of humus. Grass clippings, vegetable stalks and other non-woody plant refuse can be added throughout the year.

Salk Vaccine Has Proved Effective

"The Salk vaccine has proved effective," Dr. Heustis, Michigan Health Commissioner, said, "and it seems reasonable to assume Michigan will want to continue effective immunization in some way."

As to the vaccine's effectiveness, Dr. Heustis pointed to the 1954 vaccine field trials in Michigan. In those trials only three children of the 26,000 given Salk vaccine contracted paralytic polio while 13 of the 26,000 given placebo (harmless substance) shots developed paralytic polio.

After the mass immunization program was launched in Michigan in 1955, the incidence of paralytic polio dropped to four cases among 100,000 vaccinated children as against 31 per 100,000 unvaccinated children.

This year a total of 580 cases of polio were reported through September(compared with 1,059 and 1,607 cases for the entire years of 1955 and 1954 respectively.

So far this year 16 Michigan residents have died from polio, as against 31 in all of 1955 and 89 in the entire 12 months of 1954. Dr. Heustis said the 1956 Michigan polio "season" has now passed its peak and conclusive figures for the disease year are expected to be available early in November.

Russia Producing More Scientists

Russia last year turned out nearly three times as many engineering graduates and twice as many natural scientists as did the United States.

This was the finding of G. Harris Collingwood, of the Library of Congress staff.

The Soviets, Collingwood said, are close to the U. S. in active scientific graduates.

RADIOLOGICAL monitor at Springfield, Ill., food store uses "survey meter" to measure mock "fallout" during Operation Alert 1956. Thousands of these and similar instruments are being stockpiled, and personnel are being trained by the Federal Civil Defense Administration against the day when they would provide the only way to detect "hot" areas and warn people to avoid contaminated articles.

LOCALS

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Green left this morning for Largo, Florida, where they will be spending the winter. Their last evening in Michigan before they left on their trip was spent in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Roger Gillispie.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. McConnell left Tuesday morning for their cabin at South Branch to spend a few days. They plan to be home for Thanksgiving.

Charles Howe and John Snyder will be hunting at Lupton this year. Jack Gooding, Judson Miles and Joseph O'Pravil will also be at Lupton.

Tecumseh Grange Hosts Thirty Foreign Students

Tecumseh Grange members and friends were hosts to a group of thirty foreign students from the English Language Institute in Ann Arbor, at a potluck supper, meeting, and program which followed.

Mr. and Mrs. James Marr and Mr. and Mrs, Earl Kimbal of North Rome Grange were also present.

When the bus arrived with the foreign educators, they were first escorted to the assembly hall where they along with their instructor, Mr. George Luther, were welcomed. The students and the Grange members formed a double line as they approached the dining hall thus forming table partners for the supper.

At the business meeting which followed, Dow Bilby presided at the Master's station in the absence of the Master. In membership the Grange members are honored to have five who have been members for 25 consecutive years as of last October. They are Mr. and Mrs. William Grigg, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hunt, and Mrs. Erma Haviland Lindsay. The latter is now spending the winter in Florida. Mr. Marr was asked to make the presentation of the Silver 25 year pins.

Following this, each foreign guest was then asked to introduce himself giving his name, the country he was from, and anything they cared to tell about his country. This group spoke very fluently. They remarked how proud we should be of our country and all it has to offer, and what a privilege it was for them to be able to share a small portion of it with us. We were then entertained by little Vickie Davis with two numbers of song and tap dance. Judy Rohrback and Judy McClure each presented two tap dance numbers. Mrs. Carl McClue furnished piano accompaniment for all. Mrs. Bilby sang two lovely solos. The foreign guests then presented several songs in their native language. They formed groups who spoke like languages for these. The evening's entertainment was concluded by our group taking the visiting group as partners for an hour of square dancing. This was wholeheartedly enjoyed by everyone.

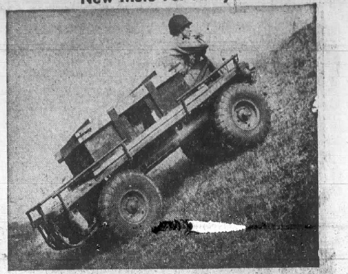
New Mule For Army!



The "Mechanical Mule," modern gasoline burning version of the traditional old Army hay-burner, is going into service to "take the load off the foot soldier's back." Equipped with 4-wheel drive, it can carry more than its own weight up hills, across streams and over the roughest terrain. It also can be transported by helicopter and dropped by parachute for airborne troop operations. Designed by Willys Motors, Inc., under Army Ordnance supervision, the Mechanical Mule will go into production at the Willys Jeep plant in Toledo with first deliveries scheduled to be made to the famed "Screaming Eagles" 101st Airborne Division.

Whose Goose Was Cooked?

The football season ended this week with a defeat at the hands of Milan (see story page 1). The Junior Homecoming Float (above) would have been more factual if its title were "Our Goose is Cooked", at least as far as the last two games were concerned.

However, to take second place in the league is a real honor for Tecumseh and the team. First place isn't the most important object of the football season.

"Attack" Is Realistic Film

Representative Melvin Price, a member of the House Armed Services Committee, charged the Department of Defense with attempted censorship in its refusal to cooperate in the production of "Attack!," a controversial film drama of World War II presenting a cowardly American officer as one of its principal characters.

"Attack,!" which stars Jack Palance, was produced by Robert Aldrich without any of the technical and material assistance customarily supplied by the Defense Department for motion pictures about the armed services.

Congressman Price, a Democrat of Illinois, made his criticism in a statement issued after he had seen a pre-view of the film which opens Nov. 20 at the Strand Theatre through United Artists release.

Referring to the refusal of Defense officials to extend "Attack!" any production assistance, Rep. Price's statement declared, "I consider it a shameful attempt to impose censorship on a film because it dares to present an officer whose character is marred by the human failings of weakness and cowardice."

Produced and directed by Robert Aldrich, "Attack!" is based on the Broadway stage play "Fragile Fox," by Norman Brooks. The UA release stars Jack Palance and Eddie Albert with Lee Marvin and Robert Strauss. It is an Associates and Aldrich Company presentation.

Skeleton Of Indian Found Near Macon

Bob Stone of 9233 Ford Highway, Macon Township, recently had an interesting experience. He was digging on a high piece of ground, with a manure loader, to get fill dirt for his barnyard. While scooping up a load, he thought he noticed an add shaped stone. He found it to be a skull.

The State Police were called and found more pieces of a skeleton. Some of the bones were sent to the State Pathologist. He reported that they were remains of an Indian and estimated that they had been there approximately 50-100 years.

Field and Stream

Conservation officer Harold Peters of Germfask recently apprehended two fishermen who found that fishing in the upper peninsula can be "too good."

The men, arrested by Peters, had 815 pan-ready perch in their posession—just 765 over the legal limit. The fish were taken from the Tahquamenon River in Chippewa county.

Some Conservation Department installations report increased pheasant kill, in comparison with last year. Rose Lake wildlife experiment station, near East Lansing, reported a 13 percent increase in hunters and a four percent increase in pheasant kill. Hunters at Rose Lake took 154 ringnecks through November 4, compared with 153 birds during the entire 1955 season.

A similar increase was recorded at Fennville state game area where hunters bagged 312 ringnecks through November 4. Last year, 303 birds were taken during the entire season. Hunting pressure at Fennville is difficult to estimate because of goose hunters active in the area.

At a department checking station at the Prairie Farm in Saginaw county, 658 hunters reported taking 208 birds. Last year 378 hunters bagged 186 pheasants.

Three new public fishing sites and 444 acres of additional public hunting lands may be established by the state Conservation Commission, scheduled to meet November 8-9 in Lansing.

The fishing sites to be considered for purchase are on Green Lake, Grand Traverse county; and Sturgeon Lake, St. Joseph county. The third site, on Portage ship canal in the city of Hancock, would be acquired on a lease basis.

The Commission also will consider purchase of 240 acres of hunting lands through the game and fish protection fund. These purchases would include 160 acres for addition to [illegible] annissing wildlife flooding project, Chippewa county; 40 acres at the Mud Lake wildlife flooding project, Grand Traverse county; and 40 acres at Hardwood state forest, Cheboygan county.

Purchase of another 204 acres under the Pittman-Robertson program, the state-federal cooperative program, also will be considered. These proposed purchases include 110 acres at Murphy Lake state game area, Tuscola county; and 94 acres at Maple River state game area, Gratiot county.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

There'll Always Be An "Expert"

Drove out to see how they're getting along with the new superhighway that's going to pass through town.

While I was there a fussy little guy—a spectator, like me—came up to the foreman on the job and started making all sorts of suggestions: "Shouldn't it go a little farther left there? . . . Why don't you bank the curves more? . . . Those ditches are awful close" . . . and so, on and on.

The foreman took it as long as he could, then asked politely, "How does she look for length?"

From where I sit, free advice is called "free" because it's usually not worth much. That little fellow was typical of the kind of "expert" who can't resist getting in digs—about how you work, what you wear, why you happen to prefer a glass of beer with your supper. People like that don't mean to be troublemakers . . . but the road to real intolerance is paved with their good intentions.

What puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of FORD?

Here's what puts the Mark of Tomorrow in the new kind of Ford!

It's the sculptured look. You'll see it the moment you let your eyes wander over this fine car. In a '57 Ford you belong . . . anywhere.

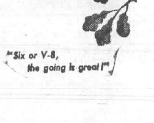
It's the long, lean lines. There's a greyhound grace to the new Ford. No useless "fat," no showy "padding." Ford is as trim as a jet fighter.

It's the hardtop styling. Fairlane sedans have the hardtop look of Victorias! Superthin center pillars are smartly concealed to give hardtop beauty when doors are closed.

It's the freedom of choice. Colors? Fabrics? Accessories? Far more! Ford gives you a choice of two new, bigger sizes . . . longer, lower, roomier!

It's the ride that stays gentle. With a new frame that rides sweeter and lower, new springs, new suspension all around, even the rudest roads can't ruffle the poise of the new Ford.

It's the Thunderbird power. Ford celebrates its Silver Anniversary of V-8 leadership with the biggest selection of V-8's in Ford history.* In addition to all this Thunderbird GO, there's a new and more powerful Mileage Maker Six.



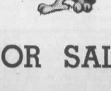
"Six or V-8, the going is great!"

Just looking at this Fairlane Club Sedan is a special kind of fun!

It's the record-breaking performance. On the Salt Flats at Bonneville, Utah, a '57 Ford traveled 50,000 miles in less than 20 days . . . an average speed of 108.16 mph, including all pit stops! Another Ford averaged over 107 mph. Altogether, 458 national and international performance records were smashed as Ford rewrote the record book.

It's the big dollar value that lasts and lasts. Styled for tomorrow, a new Ford keeps its value longer. And wonder of wonders, all this extra strength, extra beauty, extra length is yours at low Ford prices!

*Included is a special 270-hp Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 engine available at extra cost. Also, an extra-high-performance Thunderbird 312 Super V-8 delivering up to 285 hp.



Wise man say:
"Don't wait for TOMORROW when you can get it today!"

EXPLOITATION !!!

A basic Marxian dogma is that, under capitalism, the owners of enterprise get tremendous rewards while the workers half-starve on the crumbs that are tossed to them.

It's interesting to put that idea beside a set of facts concerning what the 100 largest U. S. industrial companies spent their incomes for last year.

Wages, salaries, and other labor benefits consumed 26.7 per cent of total revenues from sales and all other sources. Taxes took 9.7 per cent. The owners, by contrast, received 3.5 per cent in preferred and common stock dividends.

In other words, workers got about eight times as much as the owners—and government got almost three times as much. That's what happens under capitalist exploitation!

TWO KINDS OF WORLD TRADE

Just about everybody agrees that international trade is a good and necessary thing, and that the world in general needs more of it. Trade can build and strengthen the economies of nations, and improve the living standards of their peoples. Of at least equal importance, it can lead to a better understanding and a climate of friendliness between nations —which is certainly something this chaotic world can use.

But there are some important qualifications that must be added. One is that trade should be a two-way street—those who want to sell must also be willing to buy. Another is that our efforts should be given to stimulating trade with our friends, not our enemies.

The case of Poland is in point — a country which, despite its current troubles with the Soviet Union, has a Communist, anti-Western government. During the first eight months of this year Poland exported 18,210,000 pounds of canned pork, mostly ham, to the United States. That marked an increase of more than 3 million pounds over the same period in 1955. In return, Poland got dollars, which every Communist as well as non-Communist country urgently wants. What Poland does with those dollars seems to be something of a mystery. One thing is sure — she does not buy American agricultural products with them.

By contrast, three of our European friends — Denmark, Germany and Holland — sell canned pork here and they too get dollars in return. But they follow the two-way street principle, and are substantial purchasers of American products ,including meat and animal products.

We need more of the kind of trade that benefits us and the rest of the free world — and less of the other kind.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

For quite some time the nation's advertising men have been questioning the value of television advertising.

* * *

And it is perhaps an indication of that thinking that the use of television advertising, which was increasing by leaps and bounds, appears to have levelled off, while newspaper advertising is showing consistent new gains.

C. W. Harder

The current investigation of television network practices explains a great many things about the television industry. This probe was started by the House Judiciary Committee, headed by Rep. Emanuel Celler, and has been taken up by the anti trust division of the Justice Dept. So complicated did the investigation become that the FBI was called into the situation.

* * *

In a statement to the House Judiciary committee, Victor Hansen, Assistant Attorney General in charge of anti trust matters, brought interesting facts to light.

Of the 457 television stations in the nation, only 35 are independent. The rest are either owned, or affiliated with one of the three networks.

The choice times on all these stations are controlled by the networks. Thus, depending on the network, to get good time, the advertiser must buy the complete network at a cost of from $50,000 to $90,000 per hour. Thus, local and regional independent business firms are arbitrarily ruled out of the "good" times when audiences are high, leaving only the so-called "dog" times available to them.

But there is another angle. In addition to the time costs, there is also the cost of the show, usually referred to as production costs. These usually either equal, or exceed the time costs. But networks are not only in the business of selling air time, they also own a great many shows.

Therefore, it often works out that an advertiser to get a time, say 8:00 P.M. on Tuesday nights, must also accept the network owned show. Take it or leave it, is the method of doing business.

* * *

Mr. Hansen also informed the committee that of the amount received by the network for time charges, half is kept by network owned stations, the rest divided among affiliated stations.

Thus CBS net has 55 stations, but owns only four of them. These four stations get half of the money paid for time by the advertiser, the other half is split up among 51 other stations. Another network has 100 stations, but owns only six, with the same arrangement prevailing.

* * *

Thus, network affiliated stations, receiving such a small share of the time charges for their best hours, try to make up for it by selling local advertisers the less desirable times at rates which make up for the losses they suffer on the time controlled on the station by the network.

* * *

In other words, in effect, local and regional independent advertisers are being asked by television stations to help subsidize the advertising of a few huge corporations who can afford to use network television. This is causing many advertisers to take a new, hard, long look at just what they are getting for money put into television. And at the same time, the anti trust division of the Justice Dept. is taking a hard look at practices which on the present evidence, appear to conform very closely to monopoly tactics.

Realty Views

Among the real benefits of home ownership is the "permanency and security" it provides. Owning a home helps hold a family together as an independent and responsible unit.

Perhaps that is what a wife in a much-cited divorce case was thinking about as she wrote movingly to the husband from whom she separated: "I would be willing to start again. We have both made mistakes and it was due to the fact that we have never had a home of our own. Our marriage has not had a fair chance. If we had had a home there would have been so much to bind us together. I would love to make curtains, have friends in to visit, and get out of the narrow and restricted life we have led due to a lack of a home."

Divorce court judges agree that marriages are less apt to break up if the couple owns a home. And marriage conselors often advise a couple contemplating a divorce, due to the tension created by living with in-laws or in a cramped apartment to "get a fresh start, with a home of your own."

So, buying a home is a logical step in achieving family security and happiness.

If you don't own a home, think this over. Then, you'll undoubtedly agree with the lyrics of a current popular song: "A home with love in it, is where we'll stay."

May we help you find a suitable home of your own?

"MAGNIFICENT PROMISES ARE ALWAYS TO BE SUSPECTED"
*(Author's name below)

There appears to be a growing tendency toward advertising seemingly low bargain prices by certain radio, television, and door-to-door salesmen. The products they sell are usually made by a manufacturer unknown to you, or newcomers to drug manufacturing.

Before buying such medicines or vitamins, make certain these magnificent promises are true. Only a pharmacy is licensed, and regularly state inspected, to protect you. Usually the prices we charge for comparable quality are less.

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Central building has been an unusally active place during the past week. The individual pictures taken by Inter-State Studio arrived and caused quite a stir. The election was the main topic of interest, with campaign buttons being worn and political views being freely discussed. Many rooms had mock elections with favorable results for the Republicans.

As the months go by a few changes in decorations have taken place in Miss Luken's first grade room. Witches, bats and pumpkins disappeared and in their places have come Indian designs, turkeys and Pilgrim children.

The color train which the children used when they needed help with color words has also left the room and most of the children were delighted to find they didn't need it any more—as they had mastered the words for themselves.

Through art, stories and conversation, the children have shared Indian tales, customs and replicas of Indian belongings. One of the enjoyable lessons was picture writing, or symbols the Indians might have used to write with—as we use words. The children are also enjoying a few Indian songs.

Mrs. Neitling's first graders are learning about Indians, too. They have done some Indian writing and are going to learn lots more about Indians.

In numbers they are learning the groups that make up eight.

Squeeks were heard from Mrs. Thomas' third grade room. Carolyn Loar brought her five-week old puppy, Penny, to show the room. Ricky Gartie showed some beautiful pictures of the Upper Peninsula. The pet parakeet is still in the room. One day it got out of its cage and flew around the room to get a better look at the children.

Since the children are learning to add and subtract large numbers, they find, that if they know the combinations, it is fun.

Mrs. Whiting's fourth grade has been busy—the showcase in the hall is filled with a Hobby display. They hope their parents will all see it at the next P.T.A. meeting.

Mrs. Callihan's fourth graders are happy to be ready for the new fourth grade readers. They hope these extra weeks of work will make it possible to do a better job of reading.

They are also puzzled by the mysteries of air in Science experiments. Then too, the mysteries of multiplying and dividing by four, along with two place carrying, are being solved.

Mr. White's fifth grade is taking a part of each day to use as a time for the pupils to show their interesting collections. A few of the contributions have been given by Donna Grigg who showed dolls and figurines, Kathy James brought her rocks, Sharon Korth brought a variety of fossils and Linda Staulter displayed a highly representative shell collection.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade had some fun with cross-words puzzles in relation to our social studies. This also helped us to review state abreviations. We are studying about the Oregon Country and the compromise between the United States and Great Britain for the Oregon Territory. The children are making a frieze which shows how the pioneers traveled to Oregon.

In Language, we are learning to use books in finding information for reports. We have had some interesting reports about such things as the koala (teddy bear) of Australia! horses; China; types of fish; and St. Nicholas.

Ronald Jones shot a 12 pound 5 ounce racoon and brought the tail in to prove it.

Pat Schwede showed the class some string tricks.

Vickie Lord brought some Thanksgiving poems to read to the class.

With Pat Schwede singing a tune Connie Harrison and Carolyn Fletcher showed us how to do the bunny-hop. Then Connie, Carolyn, Dickie Graham, and Dick Fielder did the old and new bunny-hop for us.

Mrs. Becker's sixth grade arranged an election bulletin board with posters, newspaper clippings and pictures of the candidates. The Republicans won in a mock election.

Kathleen Wagner moved to River Acres from Holloway and they are pleased to have her in their room.

In Science they are studying electricity and interesting experiments have been made with magnets and dry cells.

Mr. Trailey from the Automobile Club showed a movie on school safety to the Safety Patrol and the Service Squad.

Each year there are many articles of clothing, lunch boxes, etc. found here at school. These are placed on a table or hung on hooks in the lower hall. Many of these articles remain unclaimed week after week. If such articles had been marked with the loser's name, they could be returned. It will help your child and the school if parents will mark clothing, lunch pails aud sack lunches, boots, towels, etc.

Tonight, November 15, is P.T.A. open house at Central. You are all invited to come and view the children's work. At 8 p.m. the teachers will explain the course of study and discuss general problems. There will be a brief business meeting at 8:45 in the auditorium. Teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8:00 to discuss individual problems.

Postmaster General Tells How To Help Mail Delivery

Postal patrons this coming Christmas season can speed the processing and assure quicker delivery of their Christmas parcels and cards by availing themselves of various postal services and free postal information pamphlets, Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield announced today.

The services mentioned by the Postmaster General include:

1. This year, for the first time, sealed parcels may be mailed at the third- or fourth-class postage rates without labels, notations, endorsements, or hieroglyphics of any kind authorizing the opening of the parcels for postal inspection. Packages sealed with modern sealing materials or even with just plain Christmas seals should carry better in the mail than unsealed ones. Strong cord should also be used.

2. Combination Mail, which was used for the first time during last Christmas season, and which permits a mailer to enclose a letter or message inside a gift parcel and pay the appropriate postage on it plus the postage for the package itself.

3. Certified Mail, also used for the first time in the 1955 season, which permits mailers to have proof of delivery of Christmas letters, cards or parcels having no intrinsic value for a postal fee of 15 cents plus first-class postage.

4. Registered mail which provides gerater security protection to letters and parcels carrying items of real financial value.

5. Special Delivery mail which is given imediate delivery at the office of address during prescribed hours.

6. Airmail and air parcel post which provides quick delivery of cards and parcels to all sections of the country.

The free postal pamphlets — available at all post offices — are entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels for Mailing" and "Domestic Postage Rates and Fees." Used together these pamphlets should answer practically all questions any Christmas mailer might have on fees, rates, special services and protection of Christmas parcels in transit.

The Postmaster General emphasized the importance of separating local and out-of-town mail. Free labels for that purpose are available at post offices.

Gift Copies Sent To Libraries

As reported in last week's Herald, several people in the area have received their copies of the genealogy of "John and Willnina Hoagland" and their descendants compiled by Marion Foot Stone.

Gift copies are being sent to the State Library at Lansing, the Burton General Library in Detroit, the Library of the D.A.R. in Washington and perhaps to the Chicago Library.

Mrs. Stone is also writing a history of the Culbertson School and has written a history of the Ridgeway Church. She also copies family records from Bibles to send to the above libraries.

Future Teachers Held Their Monthly Meeting

The newly organized Future Teachers club of Tecumseh High school held their monthly meeting last Tuesday. The officers of the organization are Janet Martin, President; Ray Larned, Vice President; Kay McClure, Secretary; Carol Kapnick, Treasurer; Sue Ann Rebottaro, Student Council representative; Cathy Cornell, Historian. The group now has 24 members and are anxious to have more. The club honored Lois D. Service, English teacher at Tecumseh High by naming their club after her because she has taught at Tecumseh for thirty years. Each member was presented with an FTA membership pin. A group discussion was part of the program with Mrs. Boltz as discussion leader and Mrs. Thomas, Mr. Breniff and Mrs. Whiting participating. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. The meetings are held the first Tuesday of each month in the school cafeteria and any student who is interested is invited to join.

New Here! New There! New Everywhere!

Newest Buick Yet

We've introduced a lot of new Buicks to the local scene—but never before one as new as this.

Inside and outside, top to toe, end to end—this is the newest Buick yet.

And it's not just new for newness itself—but new in ways that make driving more comfortable, safer and more fun.

You'll see what we mean when you study these gorgeous new Buicks close up.

They're inches lower and stunningly styled from stem to stern—yet each is wondrously roomy inside.

They bring a wide-eyed new visibility of the road ahead with a rakish windshield that adds hundreds more square inches of glass area.

They're new in ride, with a new contour frame chassis that "nests" your going—giving new roadability with a lower center of gravity—yet road clearance is unchanged.

They're new in handling with a new Buick-developed ball-joint suspension that makes steering and cornering easier while it levelizes braking.

But above and beyond all else—these 1957 Buicks are brand new in performance:

—with a V8 engine that's completely new from the crankshaft up, to give you the highest horsepower and compression ratios in all Buick annals.

—with an advanced new Variable Pitch Dynaflow* that brings you such instant response, such smoothness, such a full range of fluid motion in "Drive" that the need for "Low" is all but eliminated.

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

The gift market for turkeys is growing and Clayton C. Ingerson Ass't. Lenawee county agricultural agent urges growers to take advantage of this trend during the coming holiday season.

In a group of 250 central Michigan families, turkeys received as Christmas gifts accounted for 27 per cent of the turkeys these families used. At Thanksgiving, 13 per cent of the turkeys used were received as gifts.

Employers often buy a group of turkeys for use as holiday gifts and Agent Ingerson believes time spent in looking for such buyers would be worthwhile in addition to the regular sales channels.

People buy larger amounts of turkey during the holiday season than the rest of the year, too. Christmas purchases averaged 14.5 pounds each last year while Thanksgiving purchases averaged 12.3 pounds each. Non-holiday buying averaged about three pounds per purchase.

There is still time to clean out the vacuum line on the milking machine before the cows get back into the barn, says Clayton C. Ingerson, Ass't. Lenawee county agricultural agent.

The lines should be cleaned every six months, Ingerson says. Scale, bedding and milk plug them up.

The first thing to do is prepare a lye solution by adding one can of lye to each pail of water. Use no more total solution than the capacity of the pump on the milking machine.

Suck a quart up the hose cock nearest the pump, then do the same at each cock, working away from the pump. If you clean the line monthly, you will need to draw the lye in at only one cock.

Then drain the pump tank of the lye solution and rinse the line with hot water, using the same procedure as for the lye solution.

Dry the line by letting the pump run for a little while with the cocks open.

Your milking machine service man can tell you if your line needs cleaning, Ingerson says.

Next year's peach season is some time away but steps should be taken now to prevent peach leaf curl form damaging the 1957 crop.

This disease wasn't a problem in Michigan orchards this year but it's unpredictable from one year to the next. As a result a spray is recommended during the dormant season every year.

For home gardners, specialist recommend using a spray of two tablespoons of ferbam per gallon of water.

Complete spray coverage is a must for effective peach leaf curl control.

The spray may be applied after all the leaves have fallen. The temperature must be above freezing and the drying conditions good.

Control is also possible with a spray applied in the spring before the peach buds begin to swell.

Small Rodents Are Expensive For Area Farms

Small rodents can be a mighty expensive plague to the Michigan farmer!

"Most of the estimates of the damage done to crops by such rodents as the house mouse or meadow vole run into astronomical figures," says William H. Burt, curator of mammals and professor of Zoology at The University of Michigan.

"The work of these pests goes on unnoticed in the dark recesses of a granary or inside a shock of unhusked corn," Professor Burt points out. "It is estimated that meadow voles, if present, may destroy at least one-half of the corn left in the shock over winter. This loss can be avoided by husking in the autumn," he states.

The house mouse, according to the U-M curator, does most of its destructive work in and around buildings. "The wise farmer will keep them at a minimum by the constant use of snap traps. Inasmuch as they reproduce rapidly under favorable conditions, it is futile, in most instances, to attempt to destroy them with poisoned baits or by mechanical means.

Professor Burt points out that the best and simpliest way to control the meadow vole is to destroy their habitat in the immediate area of anticipated destruction. "For wild mice, an orchard with a heavy growth of grass and weeds is an ideal spot in which to winter. Under a protective cover of grass and snow they go about their destructive activities of girdling trees.

What to do?

Professor Burt advises, "If the ground cover in and immediately surrounding the orchard is destroyed in the autumn, the danger from mice will be eliminated or reduced to a minimum. Except in years of extreme abundance, voles do not customarily live where there is no ground cover."

Superphosphates used on dairy barn floors give the cows better footing and cut down on the dairy barn smell.

Vacuum lines on milking machines should be cleaned every six months to keep them clear of scale, bedding and milk.

Vegetable growers from all over the U. S. will gather in Grand Rapids, Nov. 27-30 for the annual convention of the Vegetable Growers Association of America.

Shipping Fever Great Threat

Shipping fever is the number one problem in getting feeder cattle from the range country to the feedlots of the nation, according to the American Veterinary Medical Association.

Studies reported by veterinary medical authorities indicate death losses can be kept down when certain treatments are given. More serious and costly are the economic losses caused by loss of weight and delay in getting the animals started on regular feed.

Shipping fever is basically a disease of the respiratory system of the animals. It is aggravated by the excitement, the exhaustion and the change of feed and water that goes with moving the stock long distances.

A variety of germs may become secondary invaders so treatment is best left to a local veterinarian who can properly evaluate local conditions before prescribing treatment, the association says. Newly arrived cattle should be placed in quiet surroundings, given good shelter and plenty of fresh pure water. They also should be started on grass or prairie hay to avoid a marked change in feed, and watched carefully so treatment can be started promptly if they become sick.

Raisin Farm Bureau To Meet Friday

The Raisin Farm Bureau will hold their next meeting Friday Nov. 16 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Bryan on Dinius road. The discussion topic will be "The Growing Job of Keeping Rural Representation in Our Michigan Legislature". Members are asked to bring doughnuts and rolls or bread for hamburger.

IT'S A FACT

Bumper Potato Crop This Year In Michigan

One of the best quality potato crops in years and one that is a third larger than last year's small yield is being offered from Michigan farms now. Growing conditions were favorable. The crop is estimated at 7,421,000 hundredweight. Careful adherance to grading laws by packers should result in good market acceptance from housewives, according to Director G. S. McIntyre, of the Michigan Department of Agriculture. Most Michigan potatoes are packed either U. S. No. 1 grade or U. S. No. 2 grade although there are two superior grades—U. S. Fancy and U. S. Extra No. 1—that are seldom used. Potatoes grading below U. S. No. 2 may not be offered for sale in Michigan.

Grade has little to do with irregularity in size in U. S. No. 1 or U. S. No. 2 grades. Potatoes of varying dimension may be found in the same container unless minimum size is declared on the package. The name and address of the packer must appear on the container together with net weight and U. S. grade declaration.

Recently there have been several arrests for shortweight in potatoes with fines meted out as high as $100. Some retail packs have been as much as a half pound short on a 15-pound bag. At no level in the marketing process may the net weight fall below the weight declared on the container. The Department welcomes complaints of suspected violations of grade or weight.

Packers of Michigan potatoes tend to pack under the U. S. No. 1 grade. Requirements for this grade assure a fairly desirable product, although not as high as the two seldom-used superior grades. Among U. S. No. 1 requirements are a well-shaped and fairly good looking potato that has very little dirt on it and shall have no growth cracks. There shall not be over 5 percent loss from such defects as scab, rot, discoloration, mechanical injury or hollow heart. Sprouts may not be more than 3/4 inch long, and there shall not be more than 10 percent loss from this cause.

Check Content Of Fertilizer For Beans

A check of the biuret content of urea fertilizer to be put on beans may be a good practice.

Too large amounts of biuret may have damaging effect on the crop. Although the amount of biuret in urea usually isn't specified, a chemical company can make the test easily.

Scientists made these recommendations after some experiments with the material on beans. And they say the material affects other crops, too.

They found that biuret suppressed the growth of bean plants. The crop was seriously injured on clay loam soil, less seriously on muck and sandy soil.

The researchers have not made recommendations on how much biuret the urea can safely contain. The amount would depend on the rate and time of application of the fertilizer.

In the bean tests they found that the higher the application rate, the greater the injury.

The applications of biuret increased the nitrogen and phosphorus content of the bean tissue. But the scientists explained it this way. Plants absorbed the biuret even though it was toxic. And because the substance prevented growth, the percentage of nitrogen and phosphorus in the plant would be greater than in normal growing beans.

Pruning the lower branches off young pine trees can boost the value of each as much as $15 to $20 by allowing the development of clear, knot-free wood.

Even though Michigan farmers spent some $33 million on fertilizer in 1954, farm economists believe this amount can be doubled profitably.

Alfalfa Seed Is Light State Crop

Alfalfa seed may be scarce next spring with Michigan harvesting the smallest amount of seed since 1929 and national production 23 percent under last year's record production.

This is indicated by the Crop Reporting Service, operated at Lansing co-operatively between the U. S. and the Michigan departments of agriculture.

Michigan farmers intend to harvest less than a quarter million pounds of alfalfa seed this fall. This would be only about a seventh of the 1955 crop or about the 1945-54 average. The total national crop is expected to be nearly 163 million pounds. Reduction in acreage is given for this year's smaller crop.

Farm Houses Getting Older

A national survey discloses that 73 percent of all farm homes are 15 years old or older. The vast majority are frame construction which lends itself easily to modernization and enlarging. At least one third of all farmers contacted said they planned some major remodelling projects to bring their well-built older homes up to present-day styles and conveniences.

Contour cultivation may save as much as one half of the soil and water that might run off fields while they are being cultivated in the summer, according to research.

Swine specialists recommend feeding mixed rations to fattening hogs until they weigh about 75 pounds and then switching them to free choice rations for most profit.

Total Eclipse Of The Moon To Occur November 17-18

A total eclipse of the Moon promises to be the outstanding event in the heavens for the month of November, according to University of Michigan astronomer Hazel M. Losh. The eclipse will be visible in Michigan.

"Although not nearly as dramatic as a total eclipse of the Sun," Professor Losh reports, "The passage of the Moon through the Earth's long shadow is fascinating to watch." This particular eclipse will occur under unusually advantageous circumstances because its entire course will be observable from the time of the Moon's first entry into the shadow until its final emergence.

Of the four eclipses scheduled for 1956, two of the Sun and two of the Moon, only this one will be visible in North America, the astronomer explains.

"At exactly 12:02 a.m. on the night of Nov. 17-18, the Moon's eastern edge will make the first contact with the earth's shadow," Professor Losh says. More than an hour later, at 1:08 a.m., it will be completely immersed and totality will begin. The eclipse will end at 3:32 a.m.

For amateur astronomers, both the partial and total phases of the eclipse may be easily observed with the unaided eye, the professor reports. However, binoculars or a small telescope will add much to the view.

During the partial phase, the Earth's shadow will appear dark in contrast with the remaining section of the full moon, but when the Moon is completely immersed, it will not be entirely hidden. "It will shine dimly with a dull reddish, or copper-colored light," Professor Losh says. "This is due to the sunlight being bent into the shadow cone by the Earth's atmosphere."

During November, the length of the day will grow noticeably shorter. "By the end of the month," the astronomer points out, "the day will have shortened to about nine hours and 20 minutes with the shortest day in December only 15 minutes shorter."

Among planets of interest this month, Jupiter will rise about four hours before the Sun by the middle of the month, and will also be a bright planet in the eastern morning sky.

The eastern sky will be full of bright stars during the long evenings of November. Rising in the northeast at about the same hour as the Sun's setting in the southwest, Professor Losh reports, is Capella, the bright yellow star in the constellation of Auriga, the big five-sided figure. "This star resembles our sun in color and temperature," she says.

Three meteor showers are also scheduled for the month, coming on Nov. 10, Nov. 14-15, and Nov. 17-27. Although no unusual displays are predicted, more than the ordinary number of shooting stars are expected to be seen.

37 Million To Move This Year

Nearly thirty-seven million Americans will have changed their addresses by the first of the year.

This is contrary to what many people think, but the next two months are the peak moving days of the year. This is the finding of research groups in the country, substantiated by most of the financial experts.

"There are many problems for the housewife when moving, but none that equal the problem of what to leave behind and what to do with it when that decision is made," said Harold H. McKinnon, Executive Secretary of Goodwill Industries of Detroit.

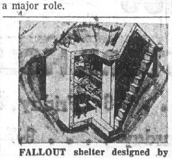
"The first problem can be decided only by each individual housewife. They can be aided by the suggestions of others who have found it more economical to move only the necessary household items and clothing and to discard all other materials. Goodwill Industries has always benefited by thoughtful housewives who remember the handicapped workers, to whom these discards mean jobs. It is only as a reminder that Goodwill Industries is asking at this time that housewives keep one or two bags in the corner, and when some toy, small appliance, or outgrown piece of clothing, including shoes, is to be left behind, that instead of throwing them away or leaving them in a pile, the housewives place them in a bag and call Goodwill."

When these bags are filled, the housewife who follows this procedure will find that the work of moving is cut in half, and her new residence will not be cluttered with items that will never be used," said McKinnon.

21½ Million New Homes Built

Paced by the United States, the 13 principal nations of the Western World built a total of 21½ million new dwelling units in the decade from 1946 through 1955 to meet the needs of expanding populations and, in the case of European countries, to make up for housing destruction and damage during World War II.

Exactly half this total, or 10¾ million new dwelling units, were built in the United States alone in this period though the American population is less than 40 per cent of the 13-nation total. This country's showing reflected a combination of favorable circumstances in which an abundance of mortgage money made available by the growth of life insurance and other thrift institutions played a major role.



FALLOUT shelter designed by the Federal Civil Defense Administration would provide almost complete protection from fallout at low cost if built as a do-it-yourself project. It would also be a welcome tornado and hurricane haven. (FCDA Photo)

Tips on Touring

By Carol Lane

Women's Travel Authority

Faith of a Nation

To understand America, you should understand her faith. It is part of our greatness that we give each other freedom to find our own explanations of life and death and man's place in nature —freedom to worship as we please.

You can see this freedom dramatically portrayed in the places we have built for worship. Here are a few I've found.

In New Bedford, Massachusetts—Seamen's Bethel, the church with the ship-like pulpit where the preacher delivered the fiery sermon in "Moby Dick."

In Putnam Valley, New York —Shrine of the North American Martyr, a mission, built like an Indian community house, dedicated to early Jesuit Fathers in the New World.

In Madison, Wisconsin — the spectacular, modern church designed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

In Wilmette, Illinois (just north of Chicago) — the Bahai House of Worship, a breathtaking dome of pale gray stonework tracery and glass rising from a symbolic nine-sided base.

At Acoma, New Mexico—San Estaban Rey Church. To build this, women carried stone and adobe up the 357 foot high mesa, and men hauled roof beams 30 miles.

In Cincinnati — Plum Street Temple of Congregation Bene Yeshurun, with its magnificent Moorish interior. Reform Judaism in the New World was started here.

In California — the Spanish missions from San Diego to Sonoma.

I'm sure you know others. Visit one on your next drive. It's inspiring to see these varied, enduring monuments to American belief—a blend of faith in freedom and freedom in faith.

Am. Education Week Celebrated With Open House

This is American Education Week, and to celebrate the occasion, there will be an open house November 15 at 8:00 p.m. at the Tecumseh High School.

This will not be an ordinary open house, but a "miniature" school day. Upon arriving at the school, parents will receive their child's schedule card. They will then follow that schedule as if they were going through the class day. Each period will last ten minutes, and during that time the teacher will explain what is being done in his subject. When the bell rings, they will go to the next class. At the end of the school day, parents and teachers will meet in the cafeteria for refreshments. If there are teachers with whom parents wish to speak, they will have an opportunity to talk with them at this time.

My Favorite Prayer

SUBMITTED TO

THE LAYMENS' NATIONAL COMMITTEE

BY CECIL B. DeMILLE

(Mr. DeMille is the Producer of the film dramatization of "THE TEN COMMANDMENTS," just released. In submitting this prayer, Mr. DeMille advises that he holds it most dear after the Lord's Prayer.)

Lord, teach me to pray
Not for myself alone, but for all who need You
Not with my lips alone, but with Your Mind in me
Seeking not only Your gifts, but, above all, You
Not my will, but Yours
Not my feverish pursuit of things, but Your Grace
Make my mind a channel for the Divine Mind—and let the spirit of truth speak through my lips
Whether I work or play or eat or sleep or read or talk or whatever I do
Even when I forget You
Abide in me
Use me
Always
Not for myself alone, but for all who need You
Increase my faith
Dear God—I thank You for Your Wonder and Your Glory
I thank You that You hear our prayers
So be it—always.

Sunday Services For November 18

How Christ Jesus healed sickness and discord of every kind will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

The Master's healing of the woman who had "a spirit of infirmity eighteen years, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up herself." (Luke 13), will be included in the scriptural readings in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Soul and Body."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following selection will be among those read (210:11-16): "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action of the divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation."

It's that new V8 in the '57 Chevrolet. It's as quiet as a contented cat and as smooth as cream . . . and it's cat-quick in response when you call for action!

No household tabby sitting in a sunny window ever purred more softly than Chevy's new V8 engine. It's so kitten-quiet and cream-smooth that you can scarcely even tell when it's idling.

But when you nudge the accelerator, you know it's there, all right! Its right-now response keeps you out of highway emergencies. It overpowers steep hills with such ease they seem like level landscape.

This new Chevrolet V8 puts up to 245 high-compression horsepower* under your command! It's sassy, sure—but as tame to your touch as a purring pussycat.

Come try the smoothest V8 you ever put a toe to, and all the good things that go with it. Like new Turboglide—the first and only triple-turbine automatic drive (an extra-cost option). And Chevy's own special sweet and solid way of going.

Letter To The Editor

Just last night I was reminded again of a pre-election incident that to me should be aired. Here it is. We received through the mail appeals for financial help for the political parties not only on the local level but on the state level as well regardless of whether or not we were their affiliates. Let that be as it was but here is the inconsistency about which I am complaining. We know the price of paper and we know the price of printing. However, one day when I was down town the air was cluttered with political pamphlets falling from a plane. Remember that in one breath the party asks for money and in the next breath here is exidence of the waste. I ask you just how many of these pamphlets got into the hands of the people? Keep these facts in mind for the next part. (Oh yes, I shook my head at this deal because the CROP, CARE, UNICEF, and similar programs were too fresh in my mind) Now comes the next. Almost daily, if not more than once during the day, we hear on the radio about the Litter Bugs and how we should "bag 'em". Put the two together and you will get a general idea of my feelings on how to beautify our fair city. Last spring we had a litter of paper from the skies during the Girl Scouts' Easter Egg Hunt and the kids had plenty to say about the adults. How about asking those same adults to pick up all of the pamphlets and literature that they have so freely dropped from the sky? That is what they would expect Junior and Mary to do. How do the rest of you feel about such doings? Many of you say that, if I had been watching the TV, I wouldn't have seen these two clouds of litter and you are right.

Sorry but this is the way I feel.

D.A.R. Heard Informative Talk November 9

The November meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Elliot the evening of Nov. 9th. Mrs. Wallace Whiting, Mrs. Harold Hall, Mrs. Purnell Osborn and Mrs. Joseph Russell were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Herbert Munger presented a very informative program on the D.A.R. approved schools. These schools are for students from broken homes, who are living in the mountains. The students earn a part of the cost, this teaches them to assume responsibility and become good citizens. Some of these schools are namely: Crossner in North Carolina, Blue Ridge School in St. George, Virginia, Berry Schools at Mt. Berry, Georgia, Berea College, also a grade school at Berea, Kentucky, Hillside School at Marlborough, Mass., Northland, in Minnesota, St. Mary's in South Dakota, one at Balvane, Indiana, and the only all Indian school in Arizona. These schools are assisted with gifts and money while Kate Duncan Smith school in Alabama and Tamassee school in South Carolina are entirely supported by the Daughters.

Mrs. Francis Stone has been a guest at Tamassee and said that she thought they are very worthwhile.

The Elliot home was beautifully decorated with fall flowers as was the table from which the regent Mrs. Ray Whiting and Mrs. Joseph Rice poured.

The next meeting will be held Dec. 14 in the evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph McLaughlin, 719 Outer Drive. The co-hostesses will be Mrs. Cecile Smith, Mrs. George Elliot, Mrs. Clayton Greenwald, and Miss Irene Wisner.

We Have Much To Be Thankful For . . . .

This Thanksgiving day of 1956 is a day on which we truly have much to be thankful for. Never in the history of our great country have we been blessed as we are at the present time.

Materially, our standard of living has reached an all time high. Every man hour of labor worked will produce more fruits of life, for the average man, this year than it would at any past time during our countries lifetime. Perhaps the part of this fact that we should be most thankful for is that everybody's standard of living will increase approximately 3% per year if the historical rate of economic growth continues. (There is absolutely no reason to think that it won't continue). The average American citizen has a higher standard of living and can enjoy more of the material fruits of life than could be enjoyed by a king in the days gone by.

I believe that man is becoming increasingly well off Spiritually also. Not so many years ago, religion and science were opposite poles. To believe in one was to automatically deny the other. Today their differences are of a much lesser degree. Science has matured in its concepts to the point where many scientists are devoutly religious men. "If you do happen to meet a young scientist who is overimpressed with his own importance or, more likely, with a non-scientist who has been oversold on the abilities of science — just ask him when science is going to duplicate the human eye. This delicate organ combines the functions of a TV camera and a transmitter of unbelievable fidelity, including both color and stereoscopic effects, in a single cubic inch of volume!" (Robert E. Wilson Chairman of the Board Standard Oil Co.)

Last year, church attendance in our land reached nearly fifty million adults a week and indications are that the 1956 attendance will exceed even that great multitude. We hear more about crime today

These letters were received by Santa Claus at the North Pole this week.

It will be the Heralds policy this year to print the text of these letters as they are received each week. One and possibly more of those judged to be the cutest each week will be reproduced in picture form as the above two are. Santa requests that letters be written on paper four inches wide. This will help ease his work considerably.

zoning ordinance on West Chicago to restricted area A. Restricted area A extends from Ben's Market to Cairns Street on West Chicago Blvd.

A request was received from Mr. Weston Hauessler for curb and gutter on Seminole Street and extreme end of West Brown Street on the South side was read. Mr. Hauessler was referred to the ordinance whereby the contractor pays for installation until taxes can be collected after one year.

City Manager, E. J. Nelson, gave the Manager's report. He reported that the water test hole at Occidental and Munger Rd. turned out to be no good. Permission has been obtained from Meyers Brothers to test drill on the southeast corner of the airport. According to the Geologist and the State Health Department, this should be an excellent spot for water. Drilling will probably start this week.

The water department has been busy repairing hydrants and valve leaks. A small building has been built under the standpipe to house the pressure switches. The previous wet condition had been causing trouble.

The storm sewer on North Union Street has been completed and a pipe is now being run into the Cemetery. There was a storm sewer there but the tile was filled up and there was no way to clean it. Some time has been spent on Russell Rd. to establish a new grade between the railroad and Green Highway. Sidewalks around town have been checked and cards have been made so that each property owner can have a card indicating what should be done with his sidewalk, if it needs attention. A number of the bad walks are being replaced.

than in previous years, however, this is due more to the innovations in communication and increased public information than to an increased crime rate.

We have vast and inclusive schemes of Social Security for our countrymen and the promise of more to come. (perhaps to much to come) This reflects material gains as well as spiritual gains. The belief that every individual deserves an adequate standard of living in this country of plenty shows truly that we believe in the value of God and man. Not only are we concerned with our countrymen, we are concerned with unfortunate people in foreign lands. CARE and other private governmental plans reveal daily the spiritual value we place in man. Of course we have unlimited needs for improvement in such areas as our segregation problem.

All in all, I repeat, we have much to be thankful for every day and hour of the year.

Flood Named '57 Captain For Boysville Team

Last Thursday night over seventy-five Knight supporters journeyed to Boysville for the Eighth Annual Football Banquet.

Following a tasteful dinner of fried chicken, guests settled down to listen to a program of brief speeches made by Toastmaster Fr. Gathwohl of Coldwater, Michigan; State Deputy, W. T. Connelly of the Knights of Columbus; and Coach George Roman of Boysville, who said goodbye to the seniors, and encouraging returning players to a better '57 season. Mr. Roman also expressed his thanks to the faculty of Boysville for the cooperation and inspiration they had given him.

The Toastmaster then introduced Brother Romain, C.S.C., Director of Athletics at Boysville, who proceeded to read off awards made to the team this season, and voted on by the team members, themselves. Vern Tourangeau swept the outstanding back and player awards, with Tom Martin taking the Sportsmanship award and Keith Flood the Outstanding Lineman's award. Keith Flood was also presented with the football representing next season's captaincy of the Knights. Varsity monograms were also presented

Mr. Tim M. Neil of Tecumseh, the former "Big Ten" all-star from Illinois, was the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Neil emphasized that a good athlete need seldom work about the health of his body or his soul. He encouraged Knights to rugged football, punctuating his talk with humorous stories.

The cheerleaders closed the program.

Wild Turkey's Gobble Gone From Mich.

Gone is the "gobble" from Michigan's forest.

"There's no record of wild turkeys in Michigan since about 1895," says Professor Warren W. Chase, chairman of the Department of Wildlife Management at The University of Michigan.

The Indians called October "turkey month" because the large handsome birds were so abundant in the oak forests of southern Michigan.

Once found in great numbers around the Lake Erie Area, the birds roamed in flocks through the woods and fields, getting much of their food from oak forests as far north as the Bay City-Muskegon line. They were never known to be common farther north than that area.

In 1673, when Father Marquette began his great voyage from Montreal to the Illinois Indians, he is reported to have related a story about killing wild turkeys in the extensive forests of southwestern Michigan. LaSalle, in a description of Great Lakes country, a few years later said he saw an abundance of game, particularly turkeys, deer, and bears in the flat country along the Detroit River.

Why did the wild turkeys vanish from Michigan? Professor Chase gives two reasons. "It was common practice," he says, "to purchase turkeys from the Indians even as early as 1701, when Cadillac formed the forerunner of the city of Detroit. As late as 1815 the settlers were still buying turkeys from the Indians. The birds were selling in the Detroit market for some 2 to 20 shillings apiece.

"The other reason for their disappearance was the opening of the heavy oak woodlands in Michigan for farm clearings and the great increase in settlers using the bird for food. Near the time of their virtual disappearance, the wild turkeys were found only in the isolated swamps of the Saginaw-Bay area and in Berrien County in southwestern Michigan," he says.

According to Professor Chase, wild turkeys have been re-stocked in Michigan at several different times but attempts to re-establish the bird have never proved too successful. During the last three years, wild turkeys imported from Pennsylvania have been stocked in the Allegan State Forest and in the forest areas near Baldwin. These efforts have been somewhat more successful because our forest areas are in better condition than they have been in some time, the wildlife professor explains.

"We'll still be using domestic turkey for our Thanksgiving meals but this festive occasion does remind us of early days when our forebears could step out of the back door and snare a wild turkey for the table," he concludes.

Bill Desormier and his son Freddy tell their story to show the need for buying tuberculosis Christmas Seals. "I'd never been sick a day in my life," the former Class A softball pitcher said, but this year he found he had far advanced TB. He and his son are hospitalized and three other of his children are infected. "TB strikes when least expected," Desormier warns. "Be sure you have a chest X-ray, and buy Christmas Seals."

Everything's New including the View

in each '57 Buick—SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER, ROADMASTER

WHEN we tell you the 1957 Buick is new, we're not kidding.

Because we don't mean just new this or new that. We mean new everything.

We mean everything you can't see, as well as everything you can.

And even the "seeing" is new from both the front seat and the rear seat—for the new, wider, rakishly angled panoramic windshield with its 200 more square inches of glass area widens the forward view of all passengers.

Take other examples.

Its styling is new. Never before have you seen a Buick like this one—sleek and stunning, and low as a cat-crouch.

Its engine is new. Never has any Buick boasted so big, so powerful, so obedient an engine as the purring V8 engine that gingers every '57 Buick.

Its performance is new—and right here we mean new like nothing else you ever experienced before.

For now, with Buick's new record horsepower, there's a new advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow that's so instant in action, so vividly responsive, so smooth and flexible and full-torque throughout the entire "Drive" range—the need for "Low" is virtually eliminated.*

But there's even more than all this to the newness of every '57 Buick—SPECIAL, CENTURY, SUPER and ROADMASTER.

There's a completely new chassis that gives the car the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—for a steadier, safer ride. And a new kind of ball-joint suspension for surer handling, safer cornering, and a wonderful new levelized braking.

There are safety features galore—new safety-padded instrument panel, new dip-center safety steering wheel, new controls recessed out of harm's way—even an ingenious new Safety-Minder* that lets you know when you reach the miles-per-hour you've preset for yourself.

Of course, the only way to get the whole, new wonderful story is to take the wheel and let this big new car do its own talking.

And that's something we'll be most happy to arrange first chance you get. Come in today.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.*

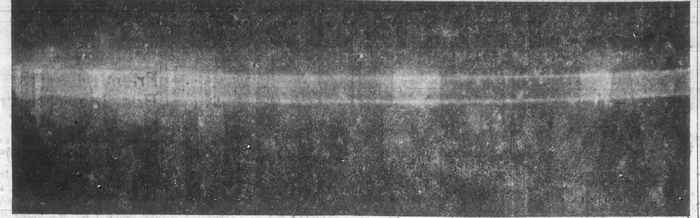
Local Man Takes Picture Of Lunar Eclipse



Richard Woodcox of 108 N. Maiden Lane shot this unusual picture with his Busch Pressman Camera. It is a 3½ hour time exposure of the total eclipse of the moon that occurred the night of November 17-18. An eclipse of the moon is caused when the moon, earth and sun are lined up on the same plane so that the shadow of the earth passes over the moon thus cutting off its reflected light from the sun. This can be demonstrated by using a flashlight and two balls. Turn the flashlight on and line the two balls up on the table in front of it. Call the ball in the center the earth, the ball on the outside the moon and the flashlight the sun.

You notice that the ball in the center cuts off the light to the outside one and casts a shadow on it when they are in this position. This illustrates the principals of a lunar eclipse. You can see by this little experiment that the three bodies all have to be on the same plane and on a straight line.

Mr. Woodcox is an employee of the Tecumseh Products Co. Photography is his hobby. He has a darkroom in his basement. In the above picture, the bright spot on the left is the moon before it entered into the earths shadow. As you move toward the right in the picture you notice that the trail gets darker and darker until in the center part only a little light on the top and on the bottom show. This was when the moon was totally eclipsed. Then on the far right, you see that the moon is emerging from the shadow again. The light blotches of light are stars. Probably some of them could not be seen by the human eye and are visible only because of the light absorbed during the long time exposure.

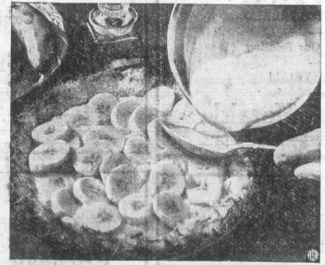
Quick and Easy Party Pie



There's no extra work to make a banana cream pie party-style when you use vanilla pudding and pie filling mix. A dream to prepare and a joy to eat, this luscious dessert with its toasty coconut crust and creamy banana filling will delight even the most hard-to-please guests.

Banana Delight Coconut Pie

1 package vanilla pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
1 baked 8-inch Quick Coconut Crust
1 cup sliced bananas (2 bananas)
Cinnamon
½ cup whipping cream
1 teaspoon sugar

Combine pie filling mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Cool only about 5 minutes, stirring once or twice.

Pour half of pie filling into coconut crust. Cover with layer of sliced bananas. Add remaining pie filling. Sprinkle with cinnamon. Chill. Just before serving, whip cream, sweeten with sugar, and spread over top of pie.

Quick Coconut Crust. Spread 2 tablespoons soft butter evenly on bottom and sides of 8-inch pie pan. Sprinkle 1½ cups shredded coconut in pan, pressing evenly into the butter. Bake in slow oven (300°F.) 15 to 20 minutes, or until golden brown. Cool.

Cub Scout Program On Puerto Rico

The November Pack meeting of Cub Scouts No. 73 was centered around the theme "Life in Puerto Rico." Scout master, Irwin Richardson opened the meeting by greeting the members with "Saludos Amigos" which means "Greetings Friends" in Puerto Rico. The opening flag ceremony was impressive as the boys used the Puerto Rican flags they had made in their dens. As the American flag bearer from Den 4 approached, the Puerto Rican flags were lowered. The American flag was held high as the assembly sang the "Star Spangled Banner" and gave the pledge to the flag.

The following program was presented; Den 10 gave sentence descriptions of Puerto Rico, Den 12 presented three kings in costume and some laborers with huge hats, playing instruments and singing a song about Puerto Rico. Den 16 presented "The Landing of Columbus at Puerto Rico" with a nicely constructed ship made by the cubs, and Den 14 presented Ernesto and Eddie Sanchez who sang a Spanish song which is the language of Puerto Rico. Then the whole den took part in a cock fight contest which is a game the Puerto Rican children play.

Displays of products, Morro Castle, games, and many things concerning Puerto Rico were made by the other dens who did not present the program. It was quite obvious that the cubs had learned much about the country they have been studying about. Mr. Carl Barnes of the local police station presented John Saling, who in turn presented a film on "Bike Safety."

Mr. and Mrs. Wagner, a cub master and his wife, from Adrian along with Mr. Barnes were the judges for the "Get out the Vote" poster contest. First prize was won by Terry Haughn, second by the Goodman boy, and third by Glenn Green.

It was announced that the Boys Life magazine may be ordered from Mr. Roy Beasley.

Awards were presented to the following: Thomas Cobb, the wolf badge and one year service star; James Oberlin, a one year service star; Walter Zarnoch, a silver arrow under the wolf badge and a one year service star; John Oberlin, a lion badge and a gold and silver arrow, and a two year service star; Steven Lasky, a two year service star; Glenn Green III, a wolf badge and a gold arrow; Terry Haughn, a gold arrow and 2 silver arrows; Tom Matteson ,a bear badge and a gold and silver arrow; Richard Milosh, a silver arrow under the bear badge, and a one year service star; James Brown, a lion badge; Paul Kruse, a two year service star; Richard Hadsell, a silver arrow under the bear badge; James Newell, a lion badge; Douglas Beasley, a silver arrow under the wolf badge; Richard Graham, a lion badge; Jack Dick, a lion badge; Robert Titley, a wolf badge; King Dunn, a one year service star; Barry Roe, a one year service star; John Roe, a one year service star and a wolf badge; Gregg Shultz, a wolf badge and a one year service star; James Cook a bear badge and a two year service star; James Osburn, a two year service star; and Stanley Wise, a one year service star. Mrs. Ella Mary King, den mother for Den 3, received her one year service star amid the applause of the Cub Scouts.

Two new American flags were presented to Pack 73 by the V.F.W. represented by Carson House who gave the flags to the Den mothers of Dens 14 and 16 for their use.

Field and Stream

Early returns from Michigan's program of planting "steelhead trout" at the mouths of Great Lakes streams indicate at least two possibilities: one, that rainbow trout in the Great Lakes gain weight and size rapidly before spawning up inland streams and, two, that instead of all these fish returning to the stream where planted, many migrate long distances and choose different streams for their spawning runs.

The planting experiment is patterned after a State of Washington program in which trout are planted at the mouths of streams tributary to Pacific Ocean waters. Research found that these trout gained weight and size rapidly before returning to spawn in the stream where they were planted. Michigan fish workers started a similar pilot program to see if this would be the case with rainbows using the Great Lakes as a feeding ground.

In 1955, Michigan planted 28,000 young tagged rainbows, ranging in length from nine to 12 inches, at the mouths of streams entering the Great Lakes. In 1956, another 28,000 were planted. Since these plantings, about 440 tagged fish have been returned. In addition, fisheries workers say many other tagged fish have probably been caught by anglers but not reported to the Conservation Department.

But the returned fish all show a growth of from five to ten inches in a single year. Also, weights went from three to 12 ounces up to two to three pounds.

However, while most of these fish were caught in streams where planted, a curious interest in travel seemed to touch many of the tagged 'bows.

One fish, planted at the mouth of Black Mallard River, Presque Isle county, was taken near Port Clinton, Ohio, 325 miles away. Another from the same planting was taken east of Toledo, Ohio, 300 miles away.

The average distance traveled by 19 "exceptional" traveling rainbows was 150 miles, and many others traveled shorter distances.

A group of 13 archery deer hunter, all members of the Holland Archery Club, recently set an enviable hunting record.

Hunting in the Seney region of the upper peninsula, the band of bow and arrow enthusiasts bagged six deer in the first four days of the October 1-November 5 season.

One of the deer was taken just 15 minutes after the season opened by Juke Ten Cate of Holland—and it was his first experience with bow hunting.

With 13 hunters bagging six deer, the group had a 46 percent hunting success mark. By contrast, statewide archery success for the entire season last year was about six percent. During the 16-day firearm deer season in 1955, about 17 percent of the state's hunters were successful.

HASHED BROWNS

To make hashed brown potatoes, mix two cups cooked and chopped Michigan potatoes with 1 tablespoon flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Heat two tablespoons butter in a fry pan and pour in the potato mixture. Spread it out evenly and cook slowly until brown underneath. Invert on a plate, add another tablespoon butter to the pan and gently slide the potatoes back, cooked side up. Brown, and serve in four portions.

Harder They Fall Packs A Wallop

With the wallop of "On the Waterfront," Columbia Pictures' "The Harder They Fall" currently is the year's heavyweight picture, and the new champion, according to Hollywood critics and audiences everywhere. Starring Humphrey Bogart and co-starring Rod Steiger and Jan Sterling, "The Harder They Fall" opens Nov. 27 at the Strand Theatre. Featured in the hard-hitting expose of the fight racket are Mike Lane as Toro Moreno, former titleholders Max Baer and Jersey Joe Walcott, and Edward Andrews. Budd Schulberg, Academy Award-winning writer of "On the Waterfront," pulled no punches in the best-selling novel on which "The Harder They Fall" is based.

"The Harder They Fall" reportedly gives Bogart his most power-packed role, as an out-of-work sports writer who reluctantly plays footsie with a crooked betting syndicate when it tries to parlay a glass-jawed man mountain into a million dollar gate and a heavyweight championship fight. The callous cruelty of the racket, when he learns to know it from the inside and sees how it rides roughshod over human flesh and blood, turns Bogart to cold fury.

Rod Steiger, one of the most sought-after actors in Hollywood since his spectacular appearance as Marlon Brando's racketeer brother in On the Waterfront," plays the ring's Mr. Fix," who buys fighters by the pound and fights by the round to make boxing a dirty word. Beautiful blonde Jan Sterling plays Bogart's wife, the girl who finally is sickened by the dirty money of the ring racket.

SPIRIT OF THANKSGIVING

The spirit of Thanksgivng seems to be symbolized by dining room tables stuffed to overflowing with turkey, sweet potatoes and all the trimmings. Families gather, tuck their napkins under their chins, offer thanks and . . dig in!

On the same day, in Asian rice paddies, Berlin refugee camps, Italian caves, Korean orphanages, Israeli settlements, Gaza Strip tents and Hong Kong gutters — there are no such tables groaning with food . . . no such happy families gathered.

In answer to the crying need of refugees, orphans, war victims and starving millions throughout the world, CARE, the overseas relief agency, has launched its 1956 Food Crusade.

Using farm surplus donated by the U. S. Government, CARE is distributing five million special food packages to the world's needy in the name of the American people. Each package, containing 22 pounds of nourishing staples, will feed a family of four for one month.

In order to carry out this ambitious and humanitarian program, CARE needs your help! Your contribution of one dollar will deliver one 22 pound package, bearing your name, to a needy family in one of 18 countries of Europe, Asia, the Middle East, or Latin America. Multiply that dollar by 100 and you can deliver one ton of food abroad to an orphanage, refugee camp, needy village, or institution.

No one is suggesting that you go without your turkey and trimmings but, if you can spare a dollar or more, you can invite an entire family to share your blessings. We recommend CARE's Food Crusade as your opportunity to put real meaning into Thanksgiving. And . . . we think you'll enjoy your own meal the more for having given to someone less fortunate. The place to send your contribution is: CARE, Chicago.

WANT TO WIN A BET?

Citizens Public Expenditure Survey suggests that "if you want to win a bet, bet your neighbor he can't tell you how much taxes he pays in a year." The odds are overwhelming that he can't—because of the vast number of hidden, indirect, and so-called "painless" taxes that exist.

Here's the way the tax bill works out, according to a recent authoritative computaition. If you make $67.30 a week, you pay $1,043 a year in taxes. If you make $86.54 a week, you pay $1,425 a year. And if you've got a job paying $7,500 a year, the tax collectors will get $2,637 of it—more than a third.

The Survey states: "At $86.54 a week, you work more hours to pay your taxes than for food and clothing combined!" Tell that to those who still say that taxation is a serious problem only to the rich!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Sometimes in the course of events, it is possible to observe chickens coming home to roost.

Such an occurrence took place recently concerning some big American magazines. In addition, these are big American magazines that have long and loudly propogandized for free trade, taking the stand that U. S. business and labor should not be protected by effective tariff laws.

C. W. Harder

These magazines had some circulation in Canada; in fact, quite a substantial circulation. With most of these magazines their Canadian circulation reached a point where it was more profitable to either print editions in Canada, or print special Canadian editions. The editorial format remained the same.

The biggest difference was that their Canadian editions were attractive to Canadian advertisers seeking to reach their fellow Canadians. In addition, some American firms also wished to advertise in Canada.

Thus, apparently, everybody was happy.

But there are two or three all-Canada magazines which have been published for many years in Canada.

Apparently, they were not happy, and became still less happy when they found that these Canadian editions of American magazines not only attracted more readers in Canada than Canadian magazines, but because of that fact, were taking substantial shares of the Canadian advertising dollar.

So the Canadian government acted, with a law providing for a whopping 20% tax on advertising rates in the Canadian editions of American magazines.

In explaining this action the Canadian officials took a very candid and forthright stand.

They not only admitted that American magazines are better than the Canadian publications, but tacitly admitted that more Canadians prefer American magazines than those of their own nation.

But Canada does not think this is the issue.

The big issue boiled down to this. Canadian magazines, their publishers and employees are Canadians. As such, they deserve protection against American products, or any other foreign product.

Some American publishers have discontinued their Canadian editions, some continue.

The interesting fact about all this is that Canada is not only a small nation, in the sense of population, but it must export for a healthy economy. Canada is also fiercely anti-communist, and in wars for freedom has done more than its share in expenditures of both money and lives. Despite the richness of their land, the Canadians have never embarked on any foreign giveaway schemes, and do not hesitate, as illustrated by the magazine incident, to protect home industry.

In addition, Canada shortly after the war made huge reductions in income taxes, has a booming economy, and discounts American money when exchanged for Canadian money.

In other words, Canada does very nicely by following the old American customs and methods that prevailed before the internationalist clique moved in on the banks of the Potomac.

"I can't help it," Mr. Martin said, "but I'm worried. In fact, I'm a chronic worrier. And right now my chief worry is selling my house. Because of all the stairs, the doctor says I must sell it. I'm worried sick."

"Relax a moment," I replied. "Worrying doesn't help! It tears down morale, ruins your appetite, shortens your life. Worry is the most useless thing in the world."

"I've heard those arguments before," Mr. Martin said, "but I'm still worried. I've got to sell my house."

"The best way to forget a worry like that is to be objective. Step aside mentally and ask yourself what you would recommend to a friend facing a similar problem."

Mr. Martin smiled, "That's easy. I'd tell him to discuss it with you."

"O.K., and the next step is to be constructive. Get rid of the worry by definite action, such as turning it over to someone else."

Mr. Martin smiled again. "I get the point. I'll let you worry about it. You sell our house for us. Do you think you can?"

"Sure," I replied. You've got a nice home. And it's fairly priced. Just relax. We will sell it quickly and defficiently."

"Whew," sighed Mr. Martin, "that's a load off my mind."

Now, don't WORRY. We can sell your home too!

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL NEWS

The Thanksgiving story is well portrayed in all the rooms here at Central School. We know all our youngsters have much to be thankful for and we are glad to be able to show these feelings.

Mrs. Neitling's first grade is busy making an Indian village for our turn to display in the showcase. Many of the first graders are reading out of the third pre-primer We Come and Go. In numbers we have been learning to find and recognize groups of eight.

The children in Miss Luken's first grade room were happy to have Barry Lamkin's mother return and draw a nice chalk mural on one of their blackboards. It is based on the theme of Thanksgiving Thoughts and she has certainly done a lovely job on it. The children have begun work in an entirely new workbook called We Talk, Spell and Write and think it really looks quite enjoyable. It not only gives them more opportunities to talk about Dick and Jane and the exciting things that happen to them, but soon they will actually have a chance to write and spell many of the words they have already learned to read.

Howard Miller is back in Mrs. Puffer's room following a tonsellectomy.

Mrs. Puffer's second grade children kept diaries for six days. They made covers for them and displayed them during P.T.A. open house. These same children made book markers for souvenirs for their parents for National Education Week.

As we look into Mrs. VanWinkle's room we can see a display of Indian headdresses, drums and other treasures the children brought. Over on the board is a lively Pilgrim and Indian mural drawn by the children. Those Indian children really show action in their dances.

At the other end of the hall Mrs. Thomas' room is writing reports in their Language class. Everyone is trying to make his interesting.

They have been learning about wholesale houses and retail stores in social studies.

In Art they did a "Follow Your Pencil" drawings and decorations for Thanksgiving.

Across the hall Mrs. Scwartz third graders enjoyed making chalk drawings. They want to work with colored chalk again very soon.

They are trying to learn the addition combinations so well that they can say the sums very fast.

Douglas Wilcox brought his cat to visit last week. After she had looked the room over, she settled down in the corner and took a long nap.

The fourth grade in Mrs. Whiting's room have been saving all of our papers for two weeks so we can show them to our parents when they come to the P.T.A. Open House. We hope many can come to see our work.

Mrs. Bailey's room is decorating for Thanksgiving. We are sorry to loose Donna Norman as she left for Adrian.

All fourth graders have been studying the beginning of the Colonies. They can feel now how these brave people must have felt to have come all the way over the ocean to an unknown place. Mrs. Callihan's group showed some scenes from the Pilgrims and Thanksgiving study in some spatter prints. They were lots of fun to make. We will try not to see the paint "blots"!

We let our imaginations run wild on some stories we made up about some pictures of Thanksgiving.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade have been working on Thanksgiving decorations. We have some nice scissor pictures of Pilgrim men and women on display in our room. On the blackboard, we have a colored chalk drawing of a Thanksgiving scene.

In Social Studies, we have completed a frieze depicting the "Pioneers Journely to the Oregon Country".

In Science, we are studying about energy and force. We have found that water power is one source of making electricity. Also we are learning some of the harmful and useful effects of moving air.

Learning to use the index of books is part of our Language lesson currently.

In band, Mr. Johnson has been teaching us ho wto direct with a baton while others play their song flutes.

Dick Fielder has the "Ripley's Believe It or Not" book and read us a quite convincing article entitled "Buffalo Bill Never Shot a Buffalo".

Sharon Gillen brought a magnetic puzzle to class. Patricia Roe showed us some arithmetic teasers on the board. Keith Kruse brought a walking turtle which he made in Cub Scouts. Dick Fielder showed the class a skeleton of a calf head. An interesting extra credit report "The Olvmpic Elk" was given by Sharon Gillen.

As we went past Mr. Kelty's room we saw the paper mache animals have gained a coat or two of paint and some eyes.

This is a busy time, but with all the excitement of the coming holiday we are doing much school work. We want to thank all the parents who helped make the P.T.A. successful and wish all our readers a most happy Thanksgiving.

PATTERSON NEWS

KINDERGARTEN:

We are making plans on going to a farm. We hope that we will be able to go next week. We have made a large chart showing the names and pictures of all of the things that we want to see.

Our two Pilgrim villages are finished with log cabins, Pilgrims, trees and forts. We made wigwams for the friendly Indians, too.

One day we made butter and we spread it on crackers to have with our milk. We all agreed that it was the best butter that we had ever tasted. We are understanding why the farmer is so important to us.

FIRST GRADE:

The first grade very proudly reports that most of us have learned so far this year nearly forty words. We have been working on our numbers up to fifteen. We can, also, make all our letters.

Recently Kathy Jo Hammack celebrated her sixth birthday. She brought a treat for all of us to enjoy.

SECOND GRADE:

Second grade enjoyed treats brought by Sue Illeck and Jimmy Pihl for their birthdays.

We are learning to tell time in our Arithmetic class. We each have a small cardboard clock-face with hands which move. We all know the hours and many of us the quarter hours and half hours. We are also learning to recognize the number of tens and ones in the numbers to 100.

THIRD GRADE:

Marilyn Dick fell during our third grade gym clas and fractured her ankle.

Linda Gilbert had her tonsils removed.

In social studies we were talking about traffic signs and decided to make some. We made note of the different signs we saw over a weekend and then made the signs of construction paper. We have quite a few.

We made some dioramas of the Mayflower and the first Thanksgiving. We also drew Thanksgiving pictures on squared paper. Our trees and people are quite comical because they are all squared off according to the squares.

In arithmetic we are learning to add and subtract two place numbers.

FOURTH GRADE:

The fourth grade has the display case again this month. We chose Our Book Friends for a subject, and have a mural showing pygmies in the jungle of Malaya. We made an Eskimo village with igloos, kayaks and dog sleds. We also made an African village with cutouts.

In Art class last week we had fun making potato prints. Some of us used our prints on folders in which we keep our Art work.

Linda Spooner had a birthday last week. She brought us each a treat which we enjoyed very much.

This week we have been decorating napkins and a paper tablecloth for the P.T.A. meeting. The fourth brade mothers are serving refreshments.

FIFTH GRADE:

Barbara Colgrove has been in the hospital in Ann Arbor having her tonsils removed.

Guy Boss is back in school after an absence of three weeks.

We are using the Wild Bill Hickok Breakfast game, hoping everyone will eat a better breakfast and do better work at school.

SIXTH GRADE:

In Geography we have just finished reading about the three great religions, Jewish, Christian, and Moslem. We found it very interesting.

In our reading books we are starting a unit called Man-Made Wonders. It has exciting stories about coast guard rescues, fire fighters and train wrecks.

On our bulletin board we have silhouettes of Indians, Pilgrims and turkeys. They are getting the entire class in a Thanksgiving mood.

Our mural of the coming of the Pilgrims is coming along very well. We have some fine pictures finished and will soon start copying them onto a large sheet of paper for a wall mural.

Each week two people put the hygrometer, barometer, thermometer and the cloud formation readings on a large weather chart. This gives us a daily weather prediction.

Potatoes need not be fattening. It's the gravy, butter and other "additions" that pile up the calories. There are no more calories in a medium sized potato than in an apple or banana. Remember—it's the total of all the food we eat that adds pounds.

There's "food for thought" in a Thanksgiving Day visit to your house of worship

TODAY far too many of us think of Thanksgiving in terms of food and football—overlooking the fact that there is so much more food offered than that which is placed on the family table. For there is much "food for thought" as well.

Thanksgiving is a time to take stock of life's blessings . . . to take a bright-eyed child on your knee and talk to him quietly of things that really matter . . . of his great American heritage and the promise it holds for him. It's a time to take your whole family to your church or synagogue for an hour of prayer and thanks that will make your holiday mean so much more.

True, our lives are far removed from those of the Pilgrim Fathers. We live in the uncertainty of the Atomic Age. But we also live in the abundance of 20th Century America. Has any one of us so much or so little that he cannot find room or time in his heart for thanks?

This Thanksgiving, why not take your family to your church or synagogue? Wherever you are . . . whatever your beliefs may be . . . take time to offer your word of thanks.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

Thinking about self-feeding corn silage to dairy cattle this winter? Better be sure you have enough, advises Clayton C. Ingerson, Ass't. Lenawee county agricultural agent.

You can't ration the amount of silage consumed when you're self-feeding, points out Frank Gendron, extension dairyman. Cows may eat a lot of silage and very little hay, especially if the hay is of poor quality. A 30 cow herd, for instance, may consume as much as a ton of silage per day when self fed.

Cows may also waste a lot of silage by dragging it out and trampling it.

The self-feeding will save labor, but it makes it difficult to balance the cows' ration, because the dairyman has no way of knowing how much each cow consumes. She may eat up to 60 pounds of silage per day.

She will need extra protein supplement to balance her ration if she eats large amounts of silage. Corn silage is lower in portein content than hay.

Gendron says that under a self-feeding program, high producers tend to be under-fed, and low producers over-fed.

Under average laying house management, many of the eggs become dirty before they are gathered from the nests, points out Clayton C. Ingersen, Ass't. Lenawee county agricultural agent.

In a study made by L. E. Dawson, poultry researcer, less than half of the eggs gathered on a large commercial farm were clean enough for practical purposes.

Proper nest litter management was an important method of reducing the number of dirty eggs Dawson found. Generally, keeping adequate litter in the nests, replacing soiled litter or adding clean litter were even more important than was the specific type of litter used.

Dawson reports that when whole or chopped straw or excelsior pads are used for nest litter, the material should be changed often or added to frequently. Because of the time needed to do this, and the total amount used these materials are rather expensive. Materials such as cane pulp, crushed corn cobs, shavings or similar commercial litter do not need to be changed as often and are cheaper as a result.

But in cases where nests are not too tightly constructed, Dawson believes that excelsior pads or straw are best.

With well constructed nests, cane pulp, shavings, corn cobs and similar materials are the most efficient and lowest in cost.

Delay Berry Mulch Until The Growth Stops

Strawberries should be mulched right after the first good freeze in the fall, advises Harry Bell, extension specialist in horticulture.

Mulching prevents heaving of plants caused by alternate freezing and thawing on heavy soils, and general ice damage on sandy soils. Strawberries harvested from mulched fields are cleaner in the spring and the mulch will help to hold soil moisture.

Strawberries should be completely dormant before they are mulched, Bell says. If they are still making any growth, they will give off some heat and smother themselves under the mulch. A frost isn't enough to make them dormant. Wait until the ground is frozen an inch or so deep.

Any clean material makes good mulch, but grain straw presents the fewest problems. Two inches of loose, fluffy straw will do the job. That means about one to one and one-half tons per acre.

If you use shavings or leaves they may mat over the plants. To prevent this, spread the mulch thinner, about an inch deep. Watch to see that it doesn't blow around and pile up. Mulching will cost from $35 to $65 per acre, but higher yields and better quality fruit usually more than pay for the labor and mulch, according to Bell.

Chicago Stock Show Opens November 23

The International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock yards, the nation's largest show building, is being readied to house the continent's largest show.

The 57th International Live Stock Exposition and Horse Show will be held there November 23 to December 1 and in a large area of the adjoining Stock Yards.

It is expected to attract more than 10,000 of the world's finest farm animals in competition for $100,000 in cash prizes and the coveted renown that prize winners attain.

Greater emphasis will be placed this year on the Exposition's Carcass competitions, wherein prime meat animals are judged alive and their carcasses then evaluated after slaughter.

The prize winning carcasses will be on view to show visitors in a specially constructed Turbo-Chill refrigerated glass-enclosed trailer and the champion carcasses of beef, pork, and lamb will be auctioned as a feature of the Tuesday Horse Show, November 27, before an audience of 10,000.

Farm youth will be in the lime light the first two days of the Show. A national 4-H Live Stock Judging Contest will start the activities of the week on Friday, November 23, and the Junior Live stock Feeding Contest, where farm boys and girls will exhibit beef cattle and hogs of their own raising, will be held on November 24 as will the Exposition's Collegiate Live Stock Judging Contest in which agricultural college students match their skill in livestock judging.

Star feature of the International Horse Show, scheduled for 14 performances, will be the world-famed Royal Canadian Mounted Police Musical Ride, consisting of 36 riders in scarlet coats on matching black horses. It will be the first time this famous precision riding event has ever appeared in Chicago.

New and spectacular jumping courses have been constructed this year which the Horse Show management predicts will add much spectacular interest and color to each performance.

Taste Sells Milk Survey Shows

Taste is one of the big reasons why people drink milk.

At least, that was the reason named by a majority of city milk drinkers in a survey taken recently by two Michigan State University research workers.

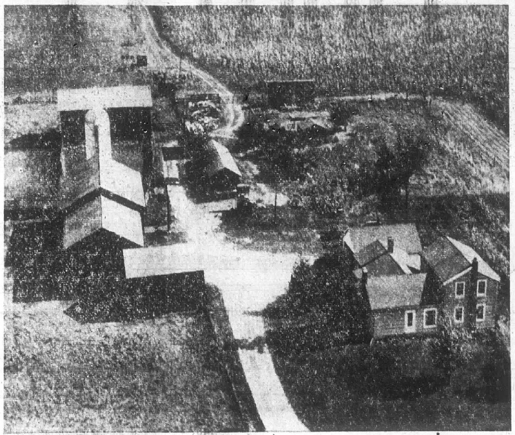
Duane Gibson and Charles Hoffer of the sociology and anthropology department surveyed 101 families to find answers to a variety of questions on milk drinking habits of urban people.

The majority answer to the first question is more convincing evidence that dairymen would be wise to guard constantly against off-flavors in their milk. The families listed their other answers although they were a minority:

Because milk has a high food value; because milk is important to restore health; because there were children in the home.

Fifty-five of the 101 families had one or more members who drank no milk. In many cases, the researchers found, the dislike for milk was acquired in childhood. The dislike for milk ranged all the way from the homemaker who would drink it only with chocolate in it to the man who not only disliked milk in all forms (such as in soups, pies and cakes) but who wouldn't even eat a meal with milk near him at the table.

Mystery Farm Was Gordon McKee's



The mystery Farm in last week's paper was identified as Gordon McKee's of Route No. 1 Tecumseh. The 80 acre farm is located on Matthews Highway.

The farm, previously owned by Merle Cummings, was purchased by Gordon McKee eight and one half years ago. The McKee's have remodeled the house, built a garage and a silo.

Mrs. McKee is the former Betty Bliesner of Blissfield. The McKee's have three children: Nancy 8, Patti 5 and Susan 6. Mr. McKee is employed at the Tecumseh Products Plant in Tecumseh.

They raise feeder cattle and do general farming. The McKee's have received their free photo from the Herald and will receive $5.00 worth of free merchandise from Helm's Furniture Store.

Glenn Lake Reelected to MPA

The Board of Directors of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association unanimously re-elected Glenn Lake, of North Branch, as president of the 17,000 member farmers' milk marketing cooperative.

Lake, who as president last year guided the MMPA through one of the stormiest years in its history, was re-elected to the Board of Directors at the Association's Annual Meeting in November by an overwhelming delegate vote of 438 to 27.

Re-elected to serve as Vice-president was Theodore Laursen of Marlette. Jack Harvey of Utica was again chosen to act as treasurer, and H. F. Simmons of Pontiac to serve as Secretary-Manager.

In its first meeting since the election of five new members, the Board of Directors also announced that a rebate of $361,000 will be made to MMPA members in the Detroit marketing area in February of next year. The dividend represents money earned in 1947, 1948 and 1949 by the MMPA's receiving stations, transportation fleet, and manufacturing plants, plus averages in money set aside for sales promotion work.

The dividends will be pro-rated according to the amount of milk shipped by members who were supplying milk to Detroit during the three above years.

Prompt Corn Harvest Cuts The Loss And Danger

Leaving corn in the field from now on is both expensive and dangerous, says Bob Maddex, specialist in agricultural engineering.

After corn is ready to harvest, losses amount to about one to one and one-half bushels per acre per week, Maddex says. Extra clothing needed to keep warm and the rush of getting the crop harvested make the picking operation more dangerous.

Two things cause losses when corn is not picked when it should be: first, stalk breaking and lodging, along with muddy fields, make efficient harvesting more difficult. Second, shelling losses increase as the corn stays in the field past the ripe stage.

If you shut off the picker before leaving the tractor, extra clothing and gloves that may be worn as the weather gets colder can't make the picking operation any more dangerous, points out Maddex. No one ever got hurt in a picker that was stopped.

Burlap, cornstalks or hands go through the picking rolls at 12 feet per second. You can't let go in time to free yourself if the stalk you are pulling on starts to go through the machine.

Maddex points out that corn isn't drying if it is left in the field after temperatures go below 50 degrees. If the corn is still wet, you can preserve the quality of it with force heated air storage at a very nominal cost.

Did you know that three glasses of milk each day can provide more than one-third of the protein you need to maintain good health and vigor.

Melon-Seed Fight at White House
It happened one suppertime in the White House dining room between the President and Mrs. Truman. Margaret Truman reveals many such warm, human incidents in Souvenir, the open-hearted story of her life. You'll chuckle at the frank way Margaret discusses her mother and father—and what it's like to hobnob with royalty, to live in high Washington society. Souvenir comes to you in your Detroit Free Press on Monday, Nov. 26.

Franklin Maples Farm Bureau Met Nov. 14

Ten families of the Franklin Maples Farm Bureau group met on Nov. 14 in the Don Muckenstrum home. A letter from the Easy Street group, about changing the date of the county fair, was read. After considerable discussion, Eva Hunt made a motion to endorse the resolution made by Fairfield Grange No. 278 with the following addtions:

The school children who exhibit at the fair in 4-H, FFA, and FHA are in it for an educational venture should help as much as posible. We and teachers and schools in favor, resolve that county heads of the Farm Bureau, Pomona Grange, and the Fair Board have a meeting with the school officials and work out some agreement. We feel that the people as a whole, including merchants, industries and schools should have an interest in the fair. Seconded by Lester Munger and carried.

Mr. Munger then led the discussion on "A State Constitutional Convention in 1959."

The December meeting will be a planned potluck supper at the Kenneth Ernst home with a Christmas gift exchange.

Services For This Sunday

The inability of eveil to withstand spiritual understanding of the Christ, Truth, will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" will include the following (Philippians 2:5,13): "Let this mind be in you, which was also in Christ Jesus . . . . For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will be read the following (287:27): "The five material senses testify to truth and error as united in a mind both good and evil. Their false evidence will finally yield to Truth,—to the recognition of Spirit and of the spiritual creation."

The Golden Text is from III John (1:11): "Beloved, follow not that which is evil, but that which is good."

Bobcat hunting has become a favorite winter sport for many Michigan outdoorsmen. This 'cat, backed into a corner, is ready for anything and would probably get his share of eyes, ears and noses if any dogs—or hunters—ventured too close. The Conservation Department has caught, tagged and released a number of bobcats in recent years in a continuing study of this rugged woodland creature.

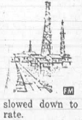
SCIENCE IN YOUR LIFE

New Life For Oil Wells

Recent Middle Eastern events threatening the transport of the West's major supplies of crude petroleum focussed new attention on the increasing efforts to boost oil production in the United States.

One concept which has excited particular interest is that of secondary oil recovery using citric acid, now being studied by major oil producers and by Pfizer, the leading citric acid producer. Secondary oil recovery, usually by waterflooding an underground reservoir, is used for wells in which production has slowed down to an uneconomical rate.



Recovery by flooding, however, is hampered by the formation of insoluble iron compounds in the water which clog the underground "pores" in the rock between the oil and the well proper.

To get rid of this iron, oil men use a chemical called a "chelating agent", from the Greek word for "claw", which combines with the iron and snatches it out of the rock pores into solution.

Some chelating agents are relatively expensive, and most of them are not selective enough: they will "grab" several other elements besides iron, But Citric acid—a common chemical in nature, particularly in citrus fruits—is cheaper. Pfizer makes it by the ton by a mold fermentation process. And, as chelating agent, citric acid is highly selective, preferring iron to any other element likely to be prevalent in an oil well.

Trials of citric acid in a number of old tired wells have shown that it works. Thus chemistry is adding still another contribution to the productivity of our industrial civilization.

And when thou makest a feast, call the poor, the maimed, the lame, the blind: and thou shalt be blessed. . . . —(St. Luke 14, 13-14.)

Editor's Corner . . .

By Phil Belleville

A law has recently been passed by the State Legislature that to the editor seems less than a hoax. This law states that persons under 18 will not be licensed to drive after February 2, 1957 unless they have taken and passed a course in driver education approved by the Superintendent of Public Instruction. This law to me seems to be a very bad attempt at dealing with the problem.

In the first place, the successful completion of a driver education course does not necessarily mean that the student is ready and mentally able to safely drive an automobile. It merely means that he has been exposed to the principles of safe driving with a few hours of actual practice under the guidance of a trained instructor. One can readily point out that knowledge of principles is not a guarantee of practicing them. It is also easy to point out that practice under an instructor will not show the "driving personality" of the student.

This editorial is not meant to point out that driver education classes are worthless. Quite to the contrary, I feel that they are very beneficial to many students and should be a continuing part of the High School curriculum. However, I feel that the recent law explained above is unrealistic. Application for driver licenses should depend on the individual applying rather than on an inflexible principle.

Some individuals are capable of being safe drivers at a much earlier age than 18. Other individuals are never capable of being safe drivers. I would recommend a rigid system of mental and practical examinations to be used as the main determinants of whether the applicant is qualified to drive or not. There are at the present time many excellent psychological tests that would go a long way toward determining the maturity and "driving personality" of the applicant. A qualification such as making a successful score on such a test would help stop trouble before it started. An improved and much more inclusive written test on procedure and traffic law should also be used in screening persons applying for licenses. It would also help to make the applicant wait 30 days or more before taking the examination over if he

ELEMENTARY PLANS BEING MADE

Tecumseh Sneaks By Clinton In Cage Opener

This is the 1956-57 Tecumseh High School varsity basketball team, managers and coach. From left to right starting on the top row is manager Fred Deaner, forward John Weakly, forward Scott Harvey, guard Ray Larned, center Dave Elliott, guard Terry Holdridge and manager Bob Hersh.

BY JOHN BARTON

The opening games of the Tecumseh High Basketball season, played on their home court, ended happily for both the Varsity and J.V.'s, although they were non-league games.

The first score for Tecumseh was on 2 free throws by Hansen. It was nip and tuck all through the quarter, with Clinton's Redskins leading by a score of 8-7 at the end of the first quarter. Miller was not hitting in his usual manner.

Elliott and Hansen warmed up in the second quarter. Again the score was close all the way but found the Indians leading, 27 to 22 at half time. Elliott and Hansen tied for scoring honors with 17 points each.

Covell was a sure shot from behind the free throw line and he rung up a good score. The Clinton Redskins were consistent scorers. Chase was high scorer for Clinton and it was suicide to let him get the ball in shooting territory.

The game was pretty race horsey in the last quarter. Tecumseh finally began to get the rebounds and forged ahead ton win by a score of 57 to 49.

(The score by quarters)	(total)
Clinton	8—14—16—11—49
Tecumseh	7—20—15—15—57

The Clinton J.V.'s took a whipping in the first game of the evening. The score by quarters for Clinton, 2-1-5-4 for a total of 12 points. The score by quarters for Tecumseh 19-14-10-21 for a total of 64. Bob O'Neill was high scorer for Tecumseh and all the boys saw action.

Next Tuesday evening, Dec. 4, the Indians will travel, hoping to conquer Dundee, with the first game scheduled for 6:45, another non-league contest.

Elementary Supervisor Describes Program

Mr. Earl Greene, Elementary School Supervisor, today gave the Tecumseh Herald the following background and plans for the Tecumseh Public Schools elementary program. "As the school year 1956-57 began there were 1645 elementary children (kindergarten through sixth grade) in the Tecumseh Public Schools. These children are housed in the Central School, Patterson School, West Branch School, Brownville School, the Baptist Church, the Library and fourteen rural schools.

Teaching these children is a staff of forty-nine teachers, two Art teachers, two Music teachers, two Gym teachers, a Band Instructor, two building Principals and an Elementary Supervisor.

In the Spring of 1956, fifteen rural schools voted to annex with the Tecumseh Public Schools. During the summer the Bradley District voted to annex; and early this fall the Kelly District joined with Tecumseh.

This year these schools are operated with seventeen teachers, not as a one room rural school, with kindergarten through the eighth grade, but a school with not more than two grades in a building. All of the seventh and eighth graders have been brought into town. The Pink School and the Colvin School are operated with only one grade in the building. First and second grades respectively. The Kelly School has grades one, two, three and the Centennial School has grades four, five and six.

A teacher can do a much better job of teaching children, when she has fewer grades. The children are much happier playing with children of their own age. There is, also, less danger of accidents when children are the same age and size, especially when only one teacher is present to supervise playgrounds and other facilities.

With the annexation of the Kelly District the Centennial School has been opened and the Holloway School closed. The reasons for closing the Holloway School were, (1) the school was located on a main road with a great amount of traffic, especially between 3:30 and 4:00 p.m., the time of dismissal; (2) while the school was supplied with a water system it did not have the flush type toilets.

In the rural areas there are four sections of the kindergarten with an enrollment of 136; seven sections of the first and second grades, with an enrollment of 185. There are five sections of the third and fourth grades with an enrollment of 141. There are six sections of the fifth and sixth grades, with an enrollment of 166.

The Newburg School was selected for a kindergarten building be-

New Policy Announced Regarding Parking

City Manager, Ed Nelson, today announced the following new policy regarding the practice of double parking which has become so frequent during this busy season of the year.

"We have had several complaints in regards to double parking on Chicago Blvd. between Pearl and Oneida Streets." It is understood "that we are all guilty of this at one time or another. The police have tried to curb this parking, but, when tickets were given to people, there are so many complaints about them that" the police didn't give tickets unless it was for double parking for a prolonged period.

"We realize that if you want a small item and there is no parking available at the curb, you don't feel like parking a block or two away and walking that distance if it would only take a minute to pick up your item.

However, sometimes it takes longer to get this item thus "no one should double park without someone at the wheel to move the car" in case someone wants to move from the curb.

Beginning December 15, 1956, everyone caught double parking without a driver at the wheel, will receive a ticket.

We want to help citizens and merchants, but we don't want any accidents due to double parking.

Your cooperation in helping to solve our problem will be greatly appreciated."

Holiday Mailing System Explained

Local Postmaster Jack Metcalf is shown above with the new mailing system to be used for the Christmas rush. The system will start in operation sometime after the 12th of December so be sure and watch for it.

As you can see, there is a special bag for Tecumseh, Clinton, Adrian, Britton and all other out of town mail. Mail is to be sorted by the sender into separate bundles for each of the appropriate bags. By bundling or facing, the post office means to stack mail designated for the various bags in piles with the stamp in the upper right hand corner and tying them. The post office will furnish labels for out of town bundles upon request.

Cooperation with this system will assure faster and more efficient mail service during the holiday season. Remember also that improper and incomplete addresses will greatly slow down delivery service. Postmaster Metcalf wishes to thank people for their co-operation last year in seperating and bundling.

Stores Announce Hours

Tecumseh is getting ready for the Christmas season, as local merchants start to decorate their stores and display Christmas merchandise. Some of the largest stocks of gifts in many years can be seen in the stores in your home-town this year.

Residents of the area will do well to shop at home, thus saving time as well as money, because Tecumseh merchants have gone all-out to stock their stores with the merchandise the shoppers want.

For the convenience of Tecumseh shoppers, most of the stores with gift merchandise will be open Friday and Saturday nights until 9 o'clock commencing November 30; and every night the week of December 17-22 until 9. See the large advertisement in this issue giving a list of merchants participating.

Barton-Clark Vows Were Exchanged In Pres. Church

MRS. JERRY W. BARTON

Connie M. Clark, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clark of 1000 E. Chicago Blvd., and Jerry W. Barton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Barton of 515 W. Pottawatamie St., Tecumseh, were married during a very beautiful ceremony at the First Presbyterian church Friday, Nov. 23, at 7:30 p.m. Large white hampers of white mums and white Snowdrift pompoms formed the setting for the candlelight ceremony, and the gold vases in the sanctuary were also filled with white Snowdrift pompoms. The candelighted pews were marked with large white satin bows.

The Rev. George Walworth performed the double ring ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her parents. The bride's attendants were Mrs. Ritchie Davis of Tecumseh as matron of honor, Miss Betty Barton, sister of the groom, and Miss Jane Smith of Tecumseh and Florida as bridesmaids. Miss Sally White, cousin of the groom from Stockbridge, Michigan, was the flower girl, and Lee Cheever, cousin of the bride, was the ring bearery. David Glenn, uncle of the groom from Stockbridge, assisted as best man, and the ushers were John Barton, brother of the groom, Phillip Surratt, and James Bowser all of Tecumseh.

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of imported white, Italian velveteen designed with scalloped neckline and sleeves outlined in seed pearls, and seed pearl medalions. The bouffant skirt in three scalloped tiers was worn over a hoop. A shoulder length veil of silk illusion fell from a heart shaped white velveteen headpiece which was edged in loops of seed pearls. She carried a petite crescent arrangement of white Butterfly roses and white Frenched mums accented with ivy caught with loops of white velvet tubing on her white velvet muff. At her throat she wore a tiny pearl chocker, a gift from the groom.

The gowns of the matron of honor and the bridesmaids were fashioned in similar design to the brides in cherry red, imported Italian velveteen and they wore white velveteen, bow, headpieces, white satin slippers, and carried white velvet muffs with a red poinsettia bloom with sprigs of white pine, enhanced with a touch of gold and loops of white velvet tubing. The brides attendants wore tiny pearl chokers and earrings which were gifts of the bride. The flower girl was gowned in white similar to the bridal gown with a matching headpiece, the same as the bridesmaids, and she carried a small white wicker basket trimmed with white velvet ribbon and filled with white petals which she daintily strewed in the pathway of the bride as they came down the aisle. The rings were carried on a heart shaped velveteen pillow by Lee Cheever, the ring bearer. Mrs. Robert Van Evra, Jr., cousin of the bride from Chicago, Illinois, sang "Because," "Walk Hand in Hand With Me," and then "The Lord's Prayer" as the couple knelt at the altar. Mrs. George Seline, aunt of the bride from Chicago, played the nuptial music on the organ.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Clark wore a sheath dress of Doir blue, imported Italian velveteen, embroidered at the neckline with crystal beads, and a cumberband and overskirt in the same shade of crystalette with a matching hat. Mrs. Barton wore a sheath dress of turquoise metallic with a floating back panel and a matching hat. Both mothers wore corsages of Honeygold roses and Frenched mums.

A reception, following the ceremony, was held at the home of the bride's parents for 125 guests. The table was centered with a beautiful four tiered wedding cake topped with a lace heart and a satin bell outlined with pearls. The miniature wedding party and candelabra decorating the table was trimmed with small white bells. The home was decorated throughout with white bells, white mums, and white Snowdrift pompoms. Bells of ice and fruit floated in the punch bowls. The cake was served by Mrs. David Glenn of Stockbridge, and Miss Linda Wonnell of Detroit, and Miss Linda Sisson of Tecumseh served the punch. Miss Barbara Ousterhout of Tecumseh took charge of the guest book, and Mrs. John Sisson was in charge of the gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pence of Tecumseh were host and hostess for the reception, and others assisting were Mrs. Jack Metcalf, Mrs. Ted Ehinger, Mrs. Cecile Viele, Mrs. Charles Stephenson, and Mrs. Edna Biederman. A reception for the children was held in the Barton home with Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hendricks and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyatt assisting.

Guests for the wedding included the two great grandmothers of the groom, Mrs. Nellie Glenn, and Mrs. Mary Wright both from Stockbridge, Michigan, and the godmother of the bride, Mrs. Connie DeGroff of St. Joseph, Michigan and her mother Mrs. Ross Phillips. Other out-of-town guests came from Byran, Ohio, Toledo, Ohio, Detroit, Michigan, Stockbridge, Trenton, Gregory, Fowlerville, Chicago, Illinois, and Defiance, Ohio.

The newly married couple went on a short honeymoon to the Mammoth Cave, in Kentucky. When they return to Tecumseh, they will reside at 115 E. Logan St. For her wedding trip the bride wore a nile green, wool dress with brown accessories, and a corsage of white Butterfly roses and Red Rosette sweetheart roses. The bridal party gowns were designed and made by the bride's mother, Mrs. Clark.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Stautzenberger Business School in Toledo. She is now employed by the Tecumseh Products Company. Mr. Barton is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is still attending the Stautzenberger Business School He is employed by the accounting firm of Nicoli and Schippers in Adrian and the Truesdale Plumbing Co. in Tecumseh.

The Rotary Club Met Tuesday

There was a good attendance at Tuesday night's Rotary Club meeting held in the Methodist Church.

give the testing officer a chance to see if the applicant can do more than steer the automobile.

In summary, I feel that the new law is unrealistic in basing so much on successful completion of a driver education course. I feel a realistic approach would be to base qualification on the applicant himself with perhaps a minimum age of 15. This could be done with tests devised to indicate the maturity and responsibility of the applicant, improved and more rigid application of tests designed to show if the applicant knows the traffic rules and regulations and a much more comprehensive driving test with an officer or other trained individual. The present physical qualifications are adequate if they are enforced. No two individuals are alike and an inflexible law treating individuals as though they were can be successful. If you feel this way about the matter, write your Congressman and let him know.

did not pass it. A further improvement over the present testing system would be never to give the applicant the same test on succeeding tries after a failure. Lastly, I think a more inclusive and thorough driving test should be given the applicant in an automobile of the type that he will be driving. Hypothetical and realistic situations should be worked out (perhaps on a course designed for such a purpose) that will cause of its location. The school is not located on a main highway, hence there is no traffic problem. The yard is large, making a nice play area. As the school is not near any other school there is no problem of older children bothering the little folks.

Arrangements were made with a local dairy to supply milk to all the schools. All children can now buy milk at a nominal cost.

This year a music supervisor and an art supervisor for our rural areas visit each school at least once each week, actually teaching the class and working with the teacher helping her to plan her work.

Early this fall an invitation was extended to all fifth and sixth grade pupils (and their parents) interested in instrumental lessons, inviting them to meet for tests and discussion. About fifty pupils, with their parents, accepted the invitation. These pupils are now meeting twice weekly for lessons.

With this plan of operation for these schools it has become necessary to transport children from one district to another. This has been brought about by a very close schedule of bus operation. An attempt has been made to arrange the schedule so that no child rides on a bus for more than forty-five minutes. In some cases it has been necessary for a bus to meet another bus and transfer pupils.

P.T.A.'s have been organized for each of the areas. The West Tecumseh P.T.A. serves the following districts: Colvin, Lanning, Pink, Paragon, Grubb, Tipton, Lamkin, and Newburg. The Ridgeway area P.T.A. serves: Culbertson, Macon, Ridgeway, Centennial and Kelly. The Sutton group is organized with the Booster's Club. The mothers of the children at Newburg have organized the Newburg Mothers' Club. Each of these groups holds regular meetings.

In order that greater opportunities for learning may be given the pupil, plans are being formulated, which include the construction of several elementary buildings. These new buildings or additions are planned in six projects as follows:

1. Tipton Area—new building including six classrooms, library, and multi-purpose room.
2. Patterson School — six additional class rooms.
3. Tecumseh Acres Area and South Union Area — twelve class rooms, library, multi-purpose room, and kindergarten located on Adrian Street District property.
4. Macon Area — new addition of two class rooms, library and multi-purpose room.
5. Ridgeway Area — two class rooms, kindergarten, library, and multi-purpose room.
6. Herrick Park Area — six class rooms, kindergarten, library, and multi-purpose room.

With these new schools the same type of program could be offered in all areas, thus penalizing no child in his education because of the geographic location of his home."

Elementary Supervisor

Men's Club Host To Wives Mon. Evening

The Men's Club of the St. Peter's Episcopal Church entertained their wives last Monday evening when Lucy Marshall of the Public Relations office of the Bell Telephone Co., in Detroit, gave a very interesting address. She chose as her subject "Todays Headlines as might be interpreted by Aunt Laura Haviland". She related so many interesting incidents in Aunt Laura's life and spoke so familiarly about this character, whom many Tecumseh people have felt that they were quite familiar with, and then amazed the audience by revealing that though she spoke of Aunt Laura as "aunt" she was in reality her "Great Grandmother Haviland".

The following officers were elected for the coming year: Mrs. A. C. Hamaker, president; Mr. Herman H. Koelbel, Jr. vice president; Mr. Gibbs Barber, secretary; Mr. Seymour Barritt, treasurer; and Glen Driscoll, chaplain. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Homemakers Of Tomorrow Day Is Tuesday, Dec. 4

Girls of this city will join 300,000 others throughout the United States in observing "Homemaker of Tomorrow Day" Tuesday, Dec. 4.

Simultaneously in more than 11,600 of the nation's high schools, graduating girls will test their homemaking knowledge and attitude in a 50-minute written examination. A total of $106,000 in scholarships is offered by General Mills in this third annual Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Participating here will be the senior girls of Tecumseh High School.

The girl with the highest test score in each school will be named Homemaker of Tomorrow for her school and will receive an award pin designed by Trifari of New York. Her test will be entered in competition for $1,500 and $500 scholarships which will be awarded each state Homemaker of Tomorrow and the runner-up respectively. The school of each state winner will receive a complete set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The 48 state winners and the representative from the District of Columbia will receive an expense-paid educational tour to Washington, D.C., colonial Williamsburg, Va., and New York, where on May 2 at a Waldorf-Astoria hotel banquet one of them will be announced as the 1957 All-American Homemaker of Tomorrow. Her scholarship will be increased to $5,000. This year for the first time girls who rank second, third and fourth in the national finals will receive $4,000, $3,000, and $2,000 scholarships respectively.

The test, prepared and judged by Science Research Associates of Chicago and administered by the schools, will be the basis for awards until the national selections when personal observation and personal interviews will be included.

Tecumseh Will Receive $972.40 From Act 87 Taxes

The City of Tecumseh will receive $972.40 for the 1956 Third Quarter Act 87 collections of weight and gas taxes.

Act 87 provided for an increase in certain weight taxes on certain types of trucks and raised the state gasoline tax from 4½ cents to 6 cents a gallon, effective June 1, 1955. The 1½ cents a gallon gas tax and additional weight tax collected under this statute, known as the Highway Finance Act of 1955, are placed in a new "Highway Construction Fund" so as to be kept separate from the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund set up by the 1951 act.

Under Act 87, the amount raised by the extra 1½ cent gas tax and the additional weight taxes levied under its provisions is divided on the basis of 75 per cent to the State Highway Department and 25 per cent to the counties, cities and incorporated villages.

Legion Auxiliary Needs Addresses

Parents of service men in the States or overseas are asked to please submit the addresses of their sons to the American Legion Auxiliary so that the committee may send Christmas remembrances to them. Although the committee is making every effort to contact the parents, it will make their work much easier if the addresses are called in to 956 or 162-R. Please take the time to do this so that the Auxiliary may have the privilege of greeting every service man in the Tecumseh area at Christmas time.

Field and Stream

Deer may be widely hunted, but the black bear is still Michigan's most prized hunting trophy.

So states an article in the November-December issue of Michigan Conservation, the Conservation Department's bimonthly magazine.

Author Warren Shapton of the Department's game division points out that the thought probably uppermost in the minds of deer hunters is that maybe this year they'll get a shot at a bear. Relative scarcity makes the bear a favored target, says Shapton, pointing out that the state's bear population numbers only about 10,000.

A galling, quiver-full of frustration dogged the traces of an archer hunting deer near Trenary in the upper peninsula recently but failed to dampen his determination to bag a whitetail with his bow and arrows.

The archer reported to Conservation officer Gilbert Larsen, Trenary, that he shot six times at a spike horn buck at a distance of 22 paces—and missed every time.

"But I'm going back," he told Larsen, "and I expect to get a deer—someday."

Transporting loaded firearms in automobiles — a highly dangerous practice—is one of the most frequent conservation law violations during hunting seasons.

In the latest weekly report of conservation law convictions, this violation accounted for 40 of the 110 convictions. Conservation Department law enforcement officials point out that loaded guns in automobiles are both hazardous and illegal.

The 110 violators paid fines totaling $2892, in addition to $876 in court costs in justice courts throughout the state.

Money from fines for conservation law violations goes into a fund for the library or libraries in the county where the fine is assessed.

TWO GIRLS, A CHEVY AND A RECORD!

A meaningful achievement in automobile performance

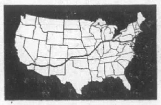
Most automobile performance records you read about these days are set on a track or closed course. The results are usually pretty difficult to relate to the kind of day-in, day-out driving most of us do. Running at safe and legal speeds, a '57 Chevrolet recently chalked up a new coast-to-coast record on the road. And the way it set this record is even more important than the record itself!



A new '57 Chevrolet recently proved it has the qualities most people look for in a car—and proved it on the roads you travel, under the same conditions you drive in every day. It broke the record for the coast-to-coast run from New York to Los Angeles (certified by NASCAR). It was a strictly stock, V8-powered Chevy. It was driven by two young ladies.

This last fact, we think, is even more important than the impressive new record set by Chevrolet. Oh sure, it's nice to know that a Chevrolet can cross the country in one uninterrupted span—and do it in less than 57 hours. It's a tribute to Chevrolet's great-hearted V8 engine and solid road-worthiness that it could travel day and night for 2,913 miles at safe and legal speeds—and better the existing record for the trip by more than three hours. But it's only when you consider that all the driving was done by 98-pound Betty Skelton and her friend Caroline Russ that the true significance of this record run becomes apparent.

When a pair of young ladies step into a car and drive it round the clock to a new transcontinental record, you know that car is easy to drive. You begin to see what we mean by smooth-cruising comfort . . . by nailed-to-the-road stability by sweet-feeling sureness of control . . . by quicksilver responsiveness.

We'd like you to get to know this new Chevy. Stop in and see how beautifully it does all the things a car should do.

Editorials

"JUST WHITEWASH"

The editor of the Salem, Indiana, Leader, is one of the many who find no virtue in socialized, government-operated business.

After pointing out that utility companies pay a substantial share of local taxes, he writes: "This will probably come as surprising news to a lot of folks, particularly those who have given little thought to the value of our one railroad in the county, or our electric and telephone concerns, other than the way in which they serve us. When we consider this aspect of our public utilities it is surprising that there are those who seem to think 'the government' ought to own and operate all utilities because they could then give cheaper rates.

"Of course, the joker is that the government-owned utilities pay no taxes. So, of course, they can provide lower rates. They also frequently operate at a loss through mismanagement or squanderous spending . . .

"Thus you have a double evil—a utility that contributes nothing in the way of taxes, but also takes part of the other tax money raised. . . .

"The glitter of government utilities is not gold—it's generally just white-wash."

In fairness, it should be pointed out that some socialized systems contribute some money to local government in lieu of taxes. But these sums amount to but a small fraction of the tax payments an independent utility company doing a comparable business would make. And then the socialized systems get all manner of direct and indirect subsidies—also at the taxpayer's expense.

Socialism is an almighty expensive luxury. And the worst part of it isn't found in just the dollar cost. It is found in the precious coin of lost freedom.

PURCHASING AGENT

The housewife is the purchasing agent in most American homes. So every producer and seller of goods must be vitally concerned with what advertising medium she finds most influential when it comes to making out her shopping list.

The Illinois Consumer Analysis recently conducted 5,000 interviews in 15 Illinois markets in which this question was asked: "What form of advertising do you find most helpful in buying general merchandise?" The answers were: newspapers, 50 per cent; television, 8.5 per cent; magazine, 6.7; radio, 1.1 per cent.

The newer media serve their purpose and are here to stay—but nothing can supplant or equal the local newspaper in the esteem and interest of the public at large.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Another evidence of the control the internationalists exercise in Washington through the machinations of the Acheson-Dulles clique is the action now being taken by the Federal Trade Commission against the American tuna industry.

C. W. Harder

For perhaps the first time in American history a government agency is taking action against an American industry on the basis that it is conspiring to protect itself from cheap foreign imports. While trade conspiracy is illegal, there seems to be enough conspiring of Americans against Americans for FTC to get exercised about before taking up possible conspiracy of Americans against foreigners.

Out on the West Coast there is a substantial industry in the catching and canning of tuna fish. A little over 25 years ago a few pioneers saw the opportunity to bring to the consumer a high protein sea food.

* * *

But tuna production did not really hit its big stride until after the defeat of the Japs.

And that was when the Japs started invasion of the American market. No one seems to know just what the volume of Jap tuna in the U. S. market really is. Surveys show in areas as New England, Jap tuna is accounting for half the volume.

For several years the American industry has been seeking relief through adjustments of tariff rates as obviously American labor rates cannot compete with 7c an hour Jap labor rates.

* * *

The result has been in this year alone American packers have reduced prices as much as 40% in a frantic effort just to keep their brands on the market in competition with Jap Tuna.

* * *

There is also this added handicap. American packers must pack tuna according to rigid sanitation laws by both federal and local governments. Jap packers are not so hindered.

* * *

So far, no one seems to know just who got the FTC to take action. Surely U. S. packers did not complain on each other.

* * *

So it appears to boil down to two possibilities. One is that a couple of the huge grocery chains in the nation who have been pushing Jap tuna under labels they control may have complained to the FTC.

* * *

Or it is possible, some feel, that someone deep in the labyrinths of the State Dept. may have influenced FTC to take up the case of Jap interests versus American enterprise. Possibly, unless either some champion of free enterprise such as Rep. Wright Patman, or Sen. Edward Thye get either the House or Senate Small Business Committee to investigate, it will never be known who initiated this action.

It is difficult to shed light on behind-the-scenes maneuvers.

For example, it makes little difference what anyone thought, or thinks now of Sen Joseph McCarthy. For long the senator was apparently obnoxious to some; strongly supported by others.

* * *

But it is significant that despite the outcries against him, a ton of bricks was not dropped on the Wisconsin senator until he announced plans to investigate the State Dept. From that time on, sporadic, unorganized outbursts turned into a concerted, organized drive to stop McCarthy.

Christmas Tree Law Explained

With the yule season near at hand, Christmas trees soon will be moving into channels of trade and representatives of the Michigan Department of Agriculture already are in producing section of the state to see that the Christmas Tree law is obeyed. Later inspectors will check sales lots downstate.

Anyone cutting, moving or transporting Christmas trees or evergreen boughs must have a bill of sale from the land owner. Bill of sale forms may be had free from the Department, state police posts, sheriff's offices, Conservation department offices or from agricultural agents.

An exception is when a person buys trees from someone who is not the original owner. In such cases the person transporting the trees must have a simple bill of sale showing number of trees and the name and address of the person from whom purchase was made.

Property owners moving their own trees must carry a deed or tax receipt proving ownership of property on which the trees or evergreen boughs were cut.

"Come on out and list our acreage home," Matty Rowen pleaded, "we really want to sell."

Upon arriving, I asked Matty "What's your reason for selling? You sounded like it was urgent."

"It is nearly," Matty replied with a grin. "I've changed jobs. Now I have to work evenings and Saturdays. That leaves me too little free time to do the work an acreage requires. Even when I have a little time, I'd rather do other things. My interests have changed."

"That happens frequently, one way or the other," I replied. "What kind of place do you want now?"

"I'd like to find a home in town similar to this one. But as to the yard, that's a different story. I'd like about a foot of lawn in front, maybe three feet in back, and the rest in concrete painted green."

Within a few months we sold Matty's place to a couple who wanted "more room, fresh air, and plenty of garden space."

Matty's comfortable in a nice home on a snug lot.

Messiah To Be Presented Dec. 1-2

"Messiah," Handel's Christmas oratorio, will inaugurate the Christmas season at The University of Michigan with two performances at 8:30 p.m. on Saturday, Dec. 1, and at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 2 in Hill Auditorium. They are given under the auspices of the University Musical Society.

Highlight of the Christmas season for many, "Messiah" has been in such great public demand that it has been necessary to schedule two performances each season for the past 15 years.

Distinguished soloists are brought in each year to supplement the work of the University Choral Union of 330 voices and the University Musical Society Orchestra. Soloists appearing in "Messiah" this year are: Soprano Adele Addison, one of the finest young singers on the concert stage today, now on her fifth nation-wide concert tour. Eunice Alberts, American-born contralto, a native of Boston, already recognized and acclaimed for her outstanding art. She is widely known in music circles for her work with many leading orchestras. Howard Jarratt, American tenor who has won a distinguished position in the field of oratorio. He has been heard more than 150 times in Handel's "Messiah" in Carnegie Hall and in other music centers through the country. Kenneth Smith, bass-baritone, born in Leeds, England, and brought to this country by his parents at the age of four. Before serving four years in the Air Force, he made a splendid reputation in the concert field. At the conclusion of the war, he continued his musical studies and has been winning high honors as a singer.

Mary McCall Stubbins and the Musical Society Orchestra will accompany the Choral Union and soloists at the two performances. The orchestra is assembled from townspeople, students, and musicians from the area. Lester McCoy, conductor, has a solid musical background, gained by years of supervising and participating in both educational and professional music groups throughout the Midwest.

The "Messiah" performances are presented by the University Musical Society as a Christmas offering to the community at admission prices of 50 and 75 cents.

NEWS OF THE FARM

Lenawee Co. Agricultural Agent's Column - - - - -

A new manufacturing plant, a school or a shop or store springs up in or near your community. Every day you can see these and other indications that the city is overflowing into the country. These trends are pointed out by Louis G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent. These developments, brought about by the great growth of population and industry in America, have been gathering force for many years.

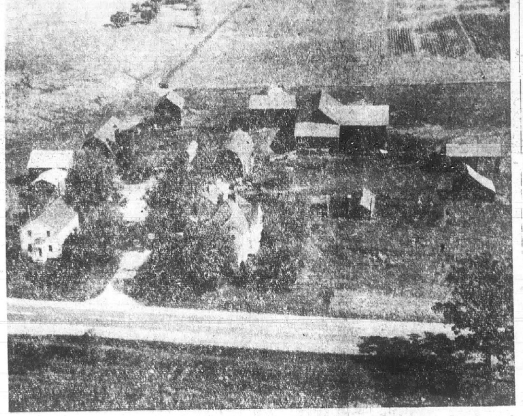
Unless we are careful, unwise uses of our land may accompany this urban expansion. Here he names some of the consequences of unplanned and unguided developments. Frequently, unwelcome land uses pop up near our homes, farms or business enterprises. These developments should be in their own part of the community just as a living room table should be in the living room. When homes are crowded into a rural area, safe water and safe sewage disposal become problems because the soil can't properly absorb the increased sewage. Buildings standards are often low and fire protection inadequate. Rural schools overflow. When new schools are built or old ones enlarged, taxes go up. Farmers' taxes go especially high because of their above-average property values.

Unless he is protected by careful planning, the suburban resident is in an unstable position. He never knows what may happen to his home or business. Thus, he may be unable to get credit at reasonable rates. As towns and cities overflow into the surrounding area, they occupy good farmland that we may need to help feed our ever-increasing population.

It is stressed that urban as well as rural land is valuable. [illegible] farmland, one area may be fitted for one purpose and a second for an entirely different purpose. It is important that we avoid wasteful intermingling of stores, homes and factories. How can we be sure that our land is used wisely? Michigan counties and townships are entitled by law to plan and establish zoning ordinances.

If these laws are to work, we must understand them, emphasizes Agent Hall. These laws will be discussed in following articles.

Mystery Farm Belonged To Mr. And Mrs. Kenneth Ives



The Mystery Farm last week belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ives. It is located on M-52 South of Billington's Corner.

The 329 acre farm has been in the family over 100 years. It was first put under plow early in 1300 by the Grandfather of Mr. Ives. Douglas Ives now works the farm assisted by his father Kenneth. The house has been remodeled in the past few years. General crop rotation farming is done on the farm. Livestock consists of sheep, hogs, and feeder steers.

Kenneth Ives married the former Florence Baldwin in 1925. They have one son and three daughters. They are Douglas Ives, Mrs. Frances Fox of Onsted, Mrs. Mary Renner of Onsted and Mrs. Gayle Anderson who lives in an apartment at home. They have five grandchildren.

The family has received their aerial photo from the Herald and will receive $5.00 worth of free merchandise as a gift from John's Gulf Service.

High Production For Fall Milk

This is the time of year when dairymen are interested in high milk production, both from the standpoint of establishing a larger base quota as well as the fact that prices are usually better during the next few months.

To keep the cows in high production it will be necessary to check and balance the dairy rations according to the quality and type of roughage our dairy cows are consuming. In the fall and winter seasons your dairy cows must rely upon you to supply them with an adequate ration. Don't save the best feed until later. The cows in production need it now to give a maximum flow of milk. Once the cow's production drops it is hard to raise.

Be sure to supply ample roughage. The major portion of the dairy cow's feed should come from home grown roughage, if the greatest profit is going to be made. Good roughage will supply all the cow's requirements to maintain her body and the first 10 pounds of milk. Thus, grain should be fed according to milk production, condition of individual cows and quality of roughage. When cows are under fed, production suffers, however, cows waste grain when they are over fed.

Sheep Disease Found In U. S.

A sheep disease never before reported in the United States was found in a flock of sheep in Kansas recently, according to a report in the Journal of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

The disease, anaplasmosis, caused by the organism Anaplasma ovis, was discovered in a flock which contained animals that had originated from three Rocky Mountain states.

The disease shows itself by reducing blood values to the point of marked anemia. Appetite and temperatures were not noticeably affected.

Conditions of heavy parasitism, malnutrition, and debilitating diseases may predispose to the acute form of the disease, the report indicated.

First Ten Local Contributors Are Announced

The Michigan Tuberculosis Association today announced the first Tecumseh contributors to the 1956 Christmas Seal Sale.

The first ten donors from Tecumseh are Francis Packard, 511 S. Evans St.; George A. Foos, 416 N. Evans St.; F. E. French, 112 Patterson W.; R. E. VanValkenburg, 108 S. Van Buren St.; Miss Phoebe Wagner, cor. Maumee & Shawnee; Harvey Dinse, 409 E. Shawnee; Ambrose C. Hamaker, 518 N. Evans St.; Mrs. Earl Lindsley, 301 W. Shawnee; Walter Nichols, 131 W. Chicago St.; Dr. Richard E. Dustin, 103 W. Brown St.

"These Christmas Seal dollars," said Theo. J. Werle, executive secretary of the TB association, "work year-round to fight TB. Ninety-four per cent of the money raised in Michigan will remain in this state to finance work in health education, tuberculosis case finding, and research."

The cost of tuberculosis is high. Dr. Albert Heustis, Michigan's health commissioner, says, "In terms of broken homes, loss of productive living, and in actual dollars and cents, tuberculosis is by far the most costly infectious disease we face today."

Michigan still averages about 100 new cases of TB each week, meaning years of dangerous illness for the victims. While the deaths caused by tuberculosis have dropped considerably in recent years, TB kills more people than all other infectious diseases combined.

The Christmas Seals, themselves, are a message about tuberculosis with their symbolic double-barred cross which has been the battle flag of the fight against TB through the years. Each seal carries the symbol—a reminded that the fight is not yet won. The TB association urges everyone to use their Christmas Seals to help remind their friends of the need for fighting TB.

Postmaster Urges Citizens To Mail Early

Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf today urged the citizens of Tecumseh to shop early and mail early this Christmas season to facilitate the processing of the largest Christmas mailing in the history of the Tecumseh post office.

To put off mailing Christmas cards and parcels until the last moment results in an extra burden being placed on the postal employees and on the postal facilities, Mr. Metcalf pointed out.

Every facility of the post office will be pressed into maximum service so that again this year, as in the past. It will be cleared, if possible, of all Christmas mail by Christmas.

"There are still some people who retain the mistaken idea that a gift or card arriving on Christmas Eve has a special significance," Postmaster Metcalf said. "It is the thought behind the gift or card, not the time of arrival which is the important consideration."

In an appeal to all the citizens of Tecumseh, Postmaster Metcalf praised the fine cooperation of past years when record mail loads were processed and delivered and asked that this same cooperation be again in evidence this year.

"By following the simple sug gesitons of mailing early, wrapping carefully and addressing plainly the citizens will be assured of the safe and timely arrival of their Christmas mail," Postmaster Metcalf added.

Old Locomotives Draw Crowds

To film "The Great Locomotive Chase" in CinemaScope and Technicolor authentically on location in Clayton, Georgia, Walt Disney underwrote one of the biggest airlifts in the annals of the motion picture industry. The airlift, comprising camera crews, actors, technicians and location experts, came to more than 200 people who were flown from the Disnew studios in California to the picturesque Georgia city in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

The biggest drawing cards for the curious were, of course, the ancient locomotives portraying the "General" and the "Texas." Engine crews manning the locomotives reported that they handled as many as 100 visitors per engine per day; the visitors, incidentally, were given Grade-A treatment so that they were able to carefully inspect the two locomotives which run a race at breakneck speed in the picture. Also a center of attraction were the two yellow Civil War type coaches, a baggage car and two iron ammunition cars.

Globe Trotters To Meet Dec. 5

The Globe Trotters Club met recently in the home of Mrs. Paul Linehan in Adrian. Mrs. Charlotte Drisolly from Germany was introduced as a new member. The members had a nice collection of dolls which they had dressed to give to the Kiwanis Club for distribution at Christmas time to the needy children. This is a project which they do every year. After the meeting a stork shower was held for Mrs. Merritt Wattles of Tipton.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party held Dec. 5 at the Country Club in Adrian.

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Guess what I am—where I come from and where I go! I cannot tell you—I cannot even show you my picture for I am just a little something that spends many hours in the Central School Building. I go from room to room observing and listening. Was I busy during National Education Week! I fitted around to the different rooms every day. I saw mothers visiting classes and talking with teachers. I was in the building early the night of the P.T.A. meeting and saw parents in all the rooms. The teachers did very well explaining the school curriculum and showing some of the children's work. I was sorry not to see more parents there. They missed something.

One day recently I had the urge to go down to the lowest floor. The door was open to Mr. White's fifth grade room so I paused and did I have a treat! The children were showing various things to each other. Mike Wilson showed two coon tails and a missle. John Oberlin—a stamp book and a 1910 penny. Jim Cubberly—movie star pictures. Harry King—pictures of the north based on Sgt. Preston. Glenn Green—model car and magnet. Tom Matteson—guided missles and coin holder also shells from the sea and book on space. Cliff Doyle—rocks. Paul Kurse, rocks, flashlight, and magnet. Mike Higgins—nature book and flowers and his picture in paper. Jim Brown—rocks. Gerald Carpenter—colored viewmaster, animal book, missle, and a very fine collection of spiders.

From this room, I went down the hall to see what the first graders were doing. I found out many things and I am going to pass them on to you.

Mrs. Neitling's children have finished a unit on Indians and have put some of their work in the show case on the main floor. Of course I rushed up to see that—very pretty—but came right back, because I wanted to hear more about Indians.

I went into Miss Luken's first grade room and found that the children had learned a lot concerning Indians, their homes, writing and tools. They had learned how the white man and the Indians helped each other and showed their friendliness and thanks for a plentiful harvest by having a "thanksgiving party" together.

High points in this project were when Patrice Damon and her father brought in an Indian headdress actually made by Indians today and real tomahawks, a large bow and some arrows. Mr. Damon told how the Indians made their arrowheads by heating the stone and flaking out chips to form a sharp point. He also told a story to the children The first graders from Mrs. Neitling's room were invited to this. They were very interested in these articles and appreciated his coming in.

Miss Luken's children also gave a short program for Mrs. Neitling's first graders. It consisted of a narration of how the Pilgrims came to America, found the Indians, shared ideas with them and together had a Thanksgiving feast. Steven Maples was the story teller for the program, John Hamilton represented King James who persecuted the Pilgrims while Linda Oberlin, Joyce Peterson, Patricia Damon, Sonja Sprague, Brad Brees, Mike Smith, Buddy Work, and Gary Easton danced a folk-dance that the Pilgrims might have danced at the feast. All the rest of the children were Pilgrims or Indians and showed pictures of Indian homes and picture writing they had made, and sang a few songs.

Several of the children have completed their second pre-primer and are ready to begin another called We Come and Go.

After this wonderful time I went upstairs to see what was going on there. I found that the children in Mrs. Puffer's second grade room had been having company in their room. Carol and John Hamilton's grandfather Waldron had found a baby 'possum on his farm. He built it a fine cage and the children brought it to school so that almost all the boys and girls in Central had the opportunity to see it.

Jeanette Maninna had chickenpox so her second grade classmates and Mrs. Puffer wrote letters and drew some pictures to cheer her up. They walked to the Post Office and mailed them.

These children had also been to the public library to see the exciting Children's Books Week display. Mrs. Fosbender explained library rules and invited all the boys and girls to come back often. They found the big library to be a wonderful place!

From this room I went down the hall to Mrs. Thomas' third grade room. Here the jets have been racing the airplanes around the room. They have been helping the airplanes "fly" a little faster on their arithmetic combinations.

Recently they finished the story Old Bones. They are now listening to the story of Black Beauty. They enjoy books about horses.

Steve Butler brought a pot full of plants to school. The children are taking care of them and watching them grow. Since they have been studying about farming, Tom Drake brought some silage. The boys and girls decided they liked their dinner much better than a cow's dinner.

Pam Brooks celebrated her birthday with the children. They had a nice treat and played games. Kris Kittel also brought them a treat in honor of her birthday.

For Thanksgiving the children made potato turkeys. It was lots of fun.

I had not been up on the third floor for some time so I flew up there.

Mr. Sawyer's fifth grade have prepared reports for language using various reference sources. The subject matter was centered around each individual's interests to arouse enthusiastic query in a quest for further study. Some very interesting topics were contrived as a result.

This week we completed our unit of "Texas and the Spanish Southwest." We enjoyed especially the story of the "Forty-niners" and were overwhelmed by the amount of gold which was mined in the Sutter mines of California.

We had a spell down in preparation for our six weeks tests.

Starting November 26th, the children will be playing their band instruments instead of song flutes.

From here I went to Mr. Kelty's fifth grade room and found that several of the girls are learning to take care of the library work. The sixth graders appreciate their help as there is always a lot to do. The circulation in October was 1,724 books. Each of those books must be checked out and returned to the shelves by the librarian.

Twelve members of the Service Squad enjoyed a hike, games, and a delicious lunch at Diane Mitzner's farm last Saturday.

From here I visited Mrs. Becker's sixth grade room. They are writing "This Is My Life" for English. Many are bringing pictures to put in their booklet. They are planning on finger painting the cover.

They have just completed book reports for English.

Susan Snyder and Marcella Spivey are new students in the room.

In art they made scissor pictures. They used the handles of scissors for eyes and drew the mouth between the tips of the blades.

Bruce King drew a large horn which all the class enjoyed filling with fruits and vegetables.

Larry Harper, Dean McCarley, and Paul Decker made working models of a telegraph set for science.

This is all I can tell you this week. Don't you think I am busy?

For '57 Styled long and low —with lots of GO!

(Try the instant response of Buick's New Dynaflow*)

We'll admit it quite frankly.

"New" is a word that's used a lot. But seldom has it meant so much that's fresh and different and better-than-before—as here in the newest Buick yet.

Take the new styling, because that's obvious at a glance. To get it so sweepingly low, the engineers started from the bottom, with a brand-new type of chassis.

It's an ingenious "nested" chassis that reduced car height as much as 3.4 inches, giving new lowness and raciness—without reducing road clearance or room.

It's a massive I-beam, X-frame chassis that's stronger and sturdier—and permits a new low center of gravity for far surer, far safer roadability.

That's the picture on style, beauty and brawn in every '57 Buick.

But no such picture can give you the feel of this new instant go.

Only when you take the wheel can you appreciate the new era of motoring pleasure and ease and safety brought about by Buick's new power-pitch response.

It's instant response—response set off by the hair-trigger action of a new 364-cubic-inch engine and the full-range flexibility of a new Variable Pitch Dynaflow.

It's response so eager, this Buick seems to anticipate your every command. Power flashes to the rear wheels so quickly and smoothly in "Drive," that the need for "Low" has virtually been eliminated. Even Dynaflow's famous switch of the pitch is seldom needed.

Come try it. Come see and feel the tremendous difference the newest Buick yet can make in your driving enjoyment.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Civil Air Patrol Plans To Launch Flight Program

The Civil Air Patrol's plans to launch a nation-wide CAP cadet flight training program were announced here tonight by Maj. Gen. Walter R. Agee, CAP National Comander, in a major address delivered before some 600 members of the National Aviation Trades Association.

"I am taking this opportunity to announce that the Civil Air Patrol is at the present time developing plans to expand its cadet aviation education program to include actual flight training," said General Agee. In his address, General Agee scored the "alarming lack of motivation" currently evident among young people in respect to aviation. "This lack of interest in aviation and in technology may well prove to be the Achilles heel of American freedom," he told his audience. General Agee went on to point out that the Russians are continuing to graduate great numbers of scientists and engineers. "We are falling behind them in brainpower," he warned. The CAP program, in recent year, has been improved and expanded and now reaches over 51,000 young men and women, 14 to 18 years of age. Of this number one-third graduate each year.

Under present plans, the flight training program calls for a private-pilot cross-country course of 35 to 42 hours flying time. The objective will be to turn out a pilot with the minimum CAA qualifications as far as flying a plane is concerned, but with as near as possible commercial qualifications so far as the basic principles of navigation, weather recognition, use of radio for communication and navigation, planning and cross country are concerned.

Money for this program, which General Agee said has the indorsement of the United States Air Force, will come from a Federal appropriation. Legislation will be introduced into Congress at the next session. Upon passage, the program will be first put into action in CAP's Southwestern Region, embracing the states of Mississippi, Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma. The second year the program will be launched nation-wide and in Hawaii, Puerto Rico, and Alaska where CAP units are also located.

The flight scholarships will be awarded to qualified graduates of CAP's aviation education curriculum. Approximately 2000 such scholarships will be presented annually in the second year of the program. Later a level of 10,000 scholarships per year is anticipated, meaning "some five million dollars of new flight training business for the nation's fixed base operators each year," according to General Agee.

General Agee concluded his address by calling upon the members of NATA to support this flight training program.

"If you and I and all the (fixed base) operators and Civil Air Patrol members and other patriotic, air-minded citizens rally behind this program, America will get rich from it—rich in the young blood of a new generation of air-minded, air-trained Americans to help preserve our way of life through airpower," he said.

For Polio Protection Start Salk Shots Now

Persons desiring protection against polio during the disease's peak months next summer were urged by the Lenawee County Department of Health today to start their vaccine shots immediately.

Dr. Roger J. Hanna, Director of the Health Department, said the three shots given as a series to provide immunity against polio should cover at least a seven-month interval with a one-month wait between the first and second shots and a six-month wait between the second and third shots.

Full beneficial effects of the vaccine are not afforded until after the third shot, Dr. Hanna pointed out. To date in 1956, only one case of paralytic polio has been reported over the state among persons who have received all three shots.

The polio "season" in Michigan begins about July 1, when the number of polio cases usually begins a climb toward a high for the year in mid-August.

Dr. Hanna said that in order for a person to obtain maximum protection against polio by next July 1 he should receive his first shot in the series by December 1.

Sixteen polio deaths have been reported in Michigan so far this year. Fifteen of the 16 had not received polio shots and the 16th had not received a full course of the shots.

About 300,000 persons in Michigan — most of them between 6 and 10 years of age — have received their third polio shots, and 1,500,000 persons have received at least two shots.

Polio vaccine is now in plentiful supply and no one need go without protection.

Want Your Child To Get A Letter From Santa Claus?

A conspiracy to maintain childhood faith in Santa Claus is offered again this year by Pan American World Airways.

This deep-dyed plot to maintain the illusions of the young produces a letter signed personally by Santa Claus bearing a special cancellation post mark "North Pole Station, Fairbanks, Alaska," nearest post office to the North Pole.

Last year more than 10,000 Michigan children found such letters in their mail boxes just before Christmas.

Tens of thousands of parents fell in with the plot. But also kindly people all over the country saw it as a way to bring cheer to children and adults whose Christmases were a little on the short side.

A Detroiter obtained the names of 50 youngsters and wrote each a cheerful letter. A nurse in a California home for the aged surprised all of her patients with a personal greeting from St. Nick.

Here's how to go about enlivening the Christmas season for the young or the old:

1. Writing paper and envelopes with the Santa Claus imprint are available at the Detroit office of Pan American at 1231 Washington Boulevard or any authorized travel agent. It's free: just go and get it.
2. Write the letter on the stationery and sign it Santa Claus. A word of warning here: The promises are your own.
3. Put the letter in the envelope and address it to your offspring, or if have none, to the one next door. Don't forget to put a 6-cent airmail stamp on it.
4. In another envelope, mail the Santa letter or return it before December 15 to the Pan American office in Detroit or your travel agent who will forward it to Alaska for mailing.

Milk Production At All Time High M.P.A. Says

Milk production continues at an all time high in the Detroit milk shed with an increase in October over last year of 5-1/4 per cent, according to figures released by the Michigan Milk Producers' Association at a recent meeting of the Detroit Area Sales Committee. Although the number of farmers shipping milk dropped by 324 during the year, the average amount of milk produced each day was 28 pounds per farm above last year's figure.

The trend in consumption showed a reversal of the past few months, with sales of Class I (drinking) milk up 3.74 per cent over a year ago, which is attributed largely to higher employment and better economic conditions in Detroit. Improvement in farm income also was shown in the report which stated average monthly income per shipper has risen $116 during the 12 month period.

The price paid to farmers for drinking milk, f.o.b. Detroit, remained at $5.35 per hundred pounds in accordance with the agreement obtained by the MMPA from dealers and handlers on September 1st. The price is 65.8 cents a hundred pounds above the price determined by the Federal Milk Marketing Order. The total of all milk shipped to the Detroit market during October was just over 150-1/2 million pounds.

A Capacity Crowd Watches Tories Down Wolves, 48-40

By Frank Prochaska

A capacity crowd was on hand last Tuesday night for the first Britton basketball game of the season against Cement City. The 48-40 Britton win, also marked the first game played in the newly built gymnasium.

The Tories, sparked by probably the tallest trio in the Tri-County League, center Merl Sanch and forwards J. McClue and J. Benedict, held the lead throughout the whole game.

At halftime, Britton led by only 2 points, but in the second half, they out scored Cement City, 28-22.

Sanch took scoring honors, with 16 points, making 8 for 8 free thgrows. Britton's other high scorer was Jerry Benedict, who hit 14 points.

Hill and Houghton came through with 14 and 13 points respectively for the Wolves top scorers.

In the reserve game, the young Wolves rap all over the little Tories, beating them 38-14.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

The Kid's Learned to "Take Charge"

I was down at Buck Benson's store the other day when a fellow came in with a six-year-old boy—obviously his son.

While the fellow was looking over some stuff on the counter, Buck handed a free peppermint stick to the boy, who promptly tore off the wrapper and went to work on it.

The father seemed quite put out about his son's lack of manners and held up his hand to stop him. "What do we say when Mr. Benson gives us something?" he demanded. "Charge it," replied the kid without hesitation.

From where I sit, children aren't the only ones who "repeat things" without knowing what they're talking about. For instance, I'm convinced that many of those who speak out against the old American custom of enjoying a glass of beer after work are just parroting what they've heard others say. It's better to get the facts—then make up our own minds—and persuade our neighbors to do the same.

Rotarians Hear Hospital Admin. Give Program

There was a good attendance at last Tuesday night's (Nov. 20) Rotary Club meeting. President James McDowell presided. Perry Satterthwaite, introduced Mr. Orrie Gilbert, Jr., administrator of the Herrick Memorial Hospital who gave a very interesting and instructive talk. He stated that the hospital averaged 87.9 percent in occupancy. Through the month of October there was an increase in patient days of about 50 per cent.

Mr. Gilbert told that the expenses at the institution was $37,500 per month, 65 per cent of this being payroll. It costs the hospital $22.53 per day for each patient.

Effective December 1, there will be a salary increase making a dollar an hour minimum to employees.

Two thousand and five patients have been admitted so far this year Mr. Gilbert stated.

Two new members were admitted at the meeting: Herman Koelbel and Fred Belleville.

An interesting meeting is coming for December 4 when Dr. Howard Y. McClusky in charge of Community and Adult Education, School of Education, University of Michigan will be the speaker and will use for his subject: "What are the things which make up a good community?"

Mort Neff will be a special feature at the December 11 meeting, with the public invited. There will be door prizes galore which will be on display at the United Savings Bank.

God Is The Only Cause And Creator

The supremacy of spiritual law will be set forth at Christian Science services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Only Cause and Creator."

Scriptural selections will include Paul's statement to the Galatians (3:21): "Is the law then against the promises of God? God forbid: for if there had been a law given which could have given life, verily righteousness should have been by the law."

Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (273:-21-24): "God never ordained a material law to annul the spiritual law. If there were such a material law, it would oppose thfe supremacy of Spirit, God, and impugn the wisdom of the creator."

The Golden Text is from Jeremiah (10:10,12): "The Lord is the true God, he is the living God, and an everlasting king . . . He hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdom, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion."

Man himself is the crowning wonder of creation; the study of his nature the noblest study the world affords.

Is World War III imminent? At the present time it is not an immediate danger. However, certainly an unqualified no cannot be given for the future.

At the present time, Russia is not in a position to aggravate the NATO countries into a shooting war. The average Russian citizen all too well remembers the terror, destruction and loss of life brought about by the last war. The unity necessary to fight a successful war (especially on foreign soil) could not be accomplished. It must be remembered that considerably less than 10 per cent of the Russian people are members of the Communist party and have the fanatic zeal for world domination. Even dictatorial leaders in an undemocratic country are bound in the end somewhat by the will of the people. The Russian people (non Communists) are interested more in their standard of living than in world domination. It is doubtful that the mass of the Russian people will ever be psychologically ready for another war. Even in WW II, the Russian army was riddled by desertion until the fighting had advanced well into their own soil and the populace took note that the Germans were not liberators but enslavers. This is not opinion, this is history.

Even if the Russian powermongers thought that the populace could be kept in line, there are many reasons why they would not dare start a shooting war at this time. The satellite countries are trying to loosen the Moscow choker from their throats. This is a matter of deep concern to those in Moscow that thought that world Communism had grown a firm root system. Russian leaders could not give full attention to a World War when half of their attention is needed to keep their projected boarders in tact. The threat of volunteers for Egypt was only a "tactic" to draw attention away from their troubles in Hungary.

School Tax Rates Were Reduced By The Board

The following article, written by Superintendent of Tecumseh Public Schools James McDowell, was released to the Herald today. "The school tax rates were reduced by the local Board of Education from $27.70/1000 in 1955 to $15.82 per thousand for 1956. This was made possible by the reassessment program of the City, new property assessed for the first time this year, and the addition of 16 new districts to help pay for the school bonds of 1952 which provided the Patterson School and the High School Additions.

Elliott Construction Co. was the general contractor. Young and Yost, of Milan, did the plumbing and heating work. The heat is supplìey by a gas hot water system. Perry Cook, of Tecumseh, did the lighting. Special lighting features include a dimmer system and a system of individual spotlights. F. E. French did the painting. The color scheme includes white sidewalls and a light violet ceiling in the main section of the church. The beautiful red carpeting was installed by Tecumseh Floor Covering.

275 People Attended The Baptist Church Dedication

About 275 people attended the morning worship service at the Tecumseh Baptist Church last Sunday when the newly remodeled sanctuary was used for the first time.

The minister, Rev. B. O. Bashore, chose for his sermon topic "The Unique Galilean," and the Choir sang the anthem "Quiet Moments" with Mrs. Edwin Gannaway as soloist. A number of special gifts and memorials were dedicated during this service. Among them were the dossal curtain made by Mrs. Floyd Bryan, a five piece altar set including the cross, candlesticks, and flower vases, a beautiful communion service, collection plates and alms basin, the lovely sanctuary lights, a fine clock, a permanent guest and record book, hymn boards, and a number of hymnals. The altar flowers were given in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bryan, parents of Floyd Bryan.

The church was filled for the dedication service in the afternoon at 3 o'clock. Most of the churches in the Lenawee Baptist Association were represented as well as the local pastors and many members of the other churches in Tecumseh. Rev. Herbert C. Carnell, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Monroe, was present to give the call to worship, and Rev. Raymond Taylor, of the First Baptist Church in Adrian, extended greetings from the Lenawee Baptist Association. Warren Peck was the soloist singing "The Lord's Prayer," and the Chancel choir sang one of the favorite anthems "Jacobs Ladder" with Mrs. McConnell directing and Mrs. Herbert Dillon at the organ. The Bethlehem choir sang "A Thanksgiving." There were about forty voices in the two choirs. During the service the congregation and minister entered into the act of dedication together in a responsive reading.

The sanctuary and youth house were both lovely with the floral pieces of congratulations from friends of the church. During the social hour, following the service, several ladies from the Women's Society alternately poured from the lace covered table, with a lovely centerpiece. They were Mrs. R. W. Herrick and Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. D. B. Finch and Mrs. Fred Sheldon, and Mrs. Ernest VanVleet and Mrs. Anna Morse. Mrs. Earl Woods and her committee made the arrangements for the social hour. The architect, Mr. Arthur E. Bates of Kalamazoo, and the general contractors including Mr. Max Elliott were also present for the dedicatorial services.

Rotary Club Hears Dr. Howard McClusky Speak

Dr. Howard McClusky was the speaker of the evening at Tuesday nights Rotary Club meeting. He was introduced by John Surratt, who had charge of the program.

Dr. McClusky spoke on the subject "What makes a good community." He said we live in a period of large scale operation. Jobs are being done by specialists today. These twin forces, large scale operations and specialists are responsible for the high production we have today.

He stressed the evils of a community as attitudes of irresponsibility and sense of insignifiance. However the ideal community provides good education with ideal schools, high health standards, good sanitation, plenty of recreation, no social islands, cultural opportunities,, commercial entertainment at a high level, effective religious instruction for youth, full employment, good wages and honest government performed by good public officials. There should be city planning, landscaping and beautification.

Dr. McCluskys talk was very interesting and well worth while.

He ended his talk by saying "Just living in a community will teach people how to deal with life's problems."

After next weeks dinner, the Rotarians will leave for the school auditorium for the Mort Neff program.

The December 18 meeting program will be in charge of Rev. B. O. Bashore.

On the reverse side of the coin, the Russian leaders are not scared enough to start a war of desperation. (at the present time) However it is conceivable that internal troubles and external continuing unity could drive the leaders to start a shooting war, even in the face of an inevitable defeat. After all, if they get into a situation where they realize defeat is in the offing without a war, they will have nothing to loose and plenty to gain by starting one. War can bring about many startling developments.

I have mentioned only a few of the most important reasons why ,in my opinion, World War III is not imminent. However, this does not mean that peace is assured in the immediate future. It is to Moscow's advantage to aggravate world problems and involve the NATO nations in local wars and so called "police actions". The more they can make us fight, the weaker and more involved they feel we will get (and they are right) You can be assured that their policy will be to give economic aid at any time to anybody who is aggravated into a small scale war with us. They are playing with a dangerous policy since they must not anger us to the point where we feel their aggression (direct or indirect) justifies a World War.

Russian Communists are not in a hurry. They feel they might be able to defeat us or weaken us into submission without directly fighting us. In Korea, it made us realize our weakness and take steps to remedy the situation. However, their policy is bound to work better in the future. The great task facing this country today is to take the appropriate steps to meet such a policy.

Christmas gifts were presented to each one there with Mrs. Cecile Smith in charge. The balance of the evening was spent wrapping gifts for the Church school.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 9 at the home of Mrs. Cecile Smith. At this time, the new officers will be installed.

School Tax Rates Were Reduced

The Board decided that since the bonds could not be retired this year without exceeding the voted limitation that it would be easier on the taxpayers to reduce the millage from $13.60/1000 to $6.50/1000 and pay the debt off by Christmas of 1957. It would, therefore, appear the EVERYONE would pay less school tax this year than last year BUT this is not true. Propertyowners whose evaluations were not changed by the reassessment program last summer will save 38 per cent on their school tax alone; those whose evaluations were decreased will save even more; BUT those whose assessed evaluations were increased may pay more, especially those whose evaluations were raised more than 38 per cent.

Winter taxes consist of county, public library and school taxes and notices are sent out in December. Summer taxes are for city purposes only and are mailed in July. Below is a complete summary of the tax picture for the City of Tecumseh for 1955, BEFORE reassessment and the annexation of sixteen new districts to the Tecumseh School District, and for 1956, AFTER. Please keep in mind that this does not apply outside the City Limits as the School District is much greater than the City in area. Also, the county, school and library taxes are levied on state equalized evaluations and have been translated into millage on local evaluations.

1955 Local Assessed evaluation of city $9,717,900 as released by County Superintendent of Schools for school purposes.

School Tax	Millage	Levy
Operation	$12.10/1000	$117,586.59
Bonds (1952)	13.60/1000	132,163.44
Public Library	1.00/1000	9,717.90
County Tax	6.80/1000	66,081.72
City of Tecumseh	15.00/1000	145,768.50
Total	$48.40/100	471,318.15

1956 Assessed evaluation $15,683,100 as released by the County Superintendent of Schools for school purposes.

School Tax	Millage	Levy
Operation	$ 9.375/1000	$147,020.76
Bonds (1952)	6.449/1000	101,140.24
Public Library	1.000/1000	15,683.10
County Tax	4.210/1000	66,025.85
City of Tecumseh	10.000/1000	156,831.00
Total	$31.034/1000	$486,700.95

Although the Board of Education was able to reduce the amount collected for the 1952 Bond Issue within the City from $132,163.44 to $101,140.24 or $31,023.20, it was necessary because of increased operational costs to raise the operational levy from $117,586.59 to $147,020.76 or $22,434.17 which was used primarily to hire additional teachers to instruct the increased schol population within the City of Tecumseh and not in the annexed districts. There is, however, an overall reduction of $8,589.03 in school taxes in the city for this year. Due to overcrowding of the schools it is already necessary to rent two rooms within the city for school purposes. The Board will be requesting a vote soon on a new bond issue to begin after December 1957 when the present one is retired for the purpose of eliminating overcrowding and providing more advantageous educational programs for the children. As being planned the millage to be collected will not be more than that for the 1948 and 1952 bond issues.

Cause of Hotel Fire Unknown

not been determined.

The management would not estimate the amount of damage, but it is a high figure. At least 6 rooms were gutted as well as the top portion of the building. The insurance coverage is approximately $25,000.

The United Savings Bank in the lower front part of the building was badly damaged by water and smoke. Mr. John Thompson, president of the bank, stated that about $5,000 worth of damage was done to equipment and decorating. Despite the damage, the bank was open for business as usual Wednesday morning.

The alertness of the participating fire departments helped prevent the blaze spreading. Fire Chief, Cecil Alderdyce, stated "all of the volunteers from all of the departments did a swell job." Yale Kerby furnished coffee and doughnuts free to all of the persons involved. This was greatly appreciated.

Wit And Wisdom Club Held Christmas Dinner Party

The Wit and Wisdom Club held their Christmas dinner party in the St. Peter's Episcopal Parish House with 48 members and guests present. The dinner was prepared by ladies of the Episcopal Church and other arrangements were made by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw and Dr. and Mrs. Mast. The tables were beautifully decorated with individual Christmas arrangements for each place setting, and also lovely centerpieces. The dinner was begun in the light from the candles of these arrangements.

After a short business meeting, Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Jones were welcomed as new members to the Club, and the program was presented by Mr. James McDowell. The singing of carols, led by Mr. Dennett with Mrs. Kenton Hunt at the piano, opened the program. Mr. Bennett sang two tenor solos which were very well accepted, and then colored slides were shown by Mr. Harold Kelso. Scenes of Tecumseh and beautiful winter scenes; also autumn foliage of the upper peninsula were included. The Tacquemanon Falls, the locks, and the construction of the new bridge across the Straits were also of much interest to the members and guests.

The next meeting will be held Jan. 7 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dickinson on Maiden Lane with Mrs. Ruth Dustin, Mr. and Mrs. Vandenbergh, and Mrs. Elizabeth Hayden assisting. Mrs. Fred Rector will have charge of the program.

Hank Fonde Addresses Banquet

Hank Fonde, football coach at Ann Arbor High School is shown above addressing an approximate crowd of 250 people attending the Junior Chamber of Commerce Football Banquet. From left to right in the above picture is football coach Robert Breniff, Hank Fonde, Mrs. Breniff and Dermont Poley.

The Banquet was opened with Invocation by Reverend Bashore. Then a baked ham dinner was served by Jaycee members and their wives. The honored guests of the evening were the 1956 Tecumseh Indians football team. After the dinner, Director of the Tecumseh High School Chorus, Charles Bennett, led his group in a series of songs.

Merlyn Downing, Tecumseh Jaycee president, then welcomed the group and introduced coach Breniff. The freshman football team was introduced by Jack Trudeau, the junior varsity by Charles Gross and the Varsity by Robert Breniff. Following the introductions, trophies were awarded. (See page 1)

Victor Lawson, Tecumseh High School Athletic Director, introduced Mr. Fonde who was the speaker of the evening. Mr. Fonde, in an interesting talk, told the audience what it takes to make a good athlete and citizen. Following the speaker, football coach Breniff showed moving pictures of the highlights of the 1956 football season.

Field and Stream

If there is any animal with an ideal existence, it is probably the porcupine — a slow, lazy and unworried little character.

The well-adapted porky has achieved something most of us desire — cheap housing, an unending supply of food, a built-in bomb shelter, and relatively few enemies.

The outstanding characteristic of the porcupine, of course, is his coat of quills, which can number about 30,000, and vary in length from 1/2" to 5". This defense teaches a stern lesson to any animal foolish enough to attack the porky.

There are many stories of porcupines throwing their quills, but it would be a rare occurrence, according to Conservation Department biologist D. H. Jenkins.

"The quills aren't thrown like spears, although there may be a loose one or two that will fly from the whipping tail," says Jenkins.

Porcupines start life in late winter or early spring, weighing about one pound at birth, and normally are born as singletons, rarely twins. Adult porkys weight from 10 to 20 pounds.

The porcupine usually makes its home in a hollow tree or log, or in a cave. Although chiefly vegetarians, porkys will eat meat much like any other rodent. They eat berries and aquatic vegetation when possible, but often climb trees to chew bark from the uppermost branches.

Porkys used to be common throughout Michigan, but now are rarely seen south of Saginaw. They are easily found up north, in spite of being year-round targets for hunters. The animal has a low rate of reproduction, but shows no signs of disappearing—because its formidable defense keeps losses to other animals at a minimum.

NO SATURATION

"What a Country!" is the happy title of a feature article in the October issue of Fortune, written by Gilbert Burck and Sanford Parker. It has to do, primarily, with the ever-changing American market and consumer spending.

As everyone knows, this spending has increased at a great rate. It was $200 billion in 1950, and this year, the Fortune article says, it will come to $242 billion. In 1960 it is expected to reach $282 billion (in terms of constant 1956 dollars). Family cash income, after taxes, now averages $5,400—the projected 1960 figure is $6,000.

But this increase is not all of the story of "What a Country!" by any means. Equally impressive is a change in direction of the spending—toward what is called "spend better." For instance, the famous Paris fashion showings are traditionally attended only by representatives of a comparatively few high-priced specialty shops. But last summer, to the amazement of many, a representative of a leading mail-order house was present. As Messrs. Burck and Parker write, "What it amounted to was an announcement to the world that the U. S. had achieved a living standard so high and a prosperity so widely distributed that the nation's largest purveyor to the average man, simply to keep abreast of the market, had found itself obliged to keep abreast of the latest in haute couture . . . The vast majority of American consumers are no longer content with minimum standards, but demand the abundance, quality, and style that used to differentiate the good life from ordinary living." The typical consumer is getting more and more demanding—because he can afford to be.

This is changing old concepts of "saturated" markets. As an example, the Fortune article says that the electric iron market has been considered more than 90 per cent "saturated" for 25 years. Yet more and more irons are sold—sold in much greater quantity than the replacement factor alone demands. This is becoming true of all manner of commodities.

As part and parcel of the trend, a new kind of competition has appeared and become a powerful force. It is inter-industry competition, and was relatively unimportant in past times. The Burck-Parker article makes its workings plain in these words: "The new Buick competes with that vacation in Florida, the desire to move from a three-bedroom house to a four-bedroom house competes with the urge to buy a bigger power boat next spring, and in countless smaller decisions every day there is competition between better-quality food and better-quality clothes, more high-fi records and the new camera, etc., etc." This advanced state of discretionary spending has led economists astray. For example, when auto sales sagged badly last spring some felt that the economy as a whole was due for a hard blow. But that did not happen—because people spent the money for other things, and total spending remained high.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There is considerable evidence to merit the belief that when the new Congress convenes, the problems of small business will be foremost on the agenda.

* * *

During the political conventions the National Federation of Independent Business outlined to the platform-making committees of both major parties the problems of independent business, and both parties adopted strong planks on small business.

* * *

And as is well known now, both parties triumphed in the recent election in different ways; one retaining control of the administrative branch, the other maintaining control of the legislative branch.

C. W. Harder

In his message to Congress in January, President Eisenhower is slated to include a request for tax relief for small business.

* * *

At the present time, it is not known just what form this request will take, but those professing to be closest to the situation say the White House will ask that the Federal levy on the first $25,000 of corporate income be reduced to 20%.

* * *

Many legislators have informed the Federation that they are in favor of tax relief for small business along these lines.

* * *

The problem is this. There is no thought in mind that special consideration is to be given small business as some sort of subsidy.

* * *

Rather, the problem is one of leaving small business with sufficient earnings to invest in the expansion and development of the business. The tightening of credit by the Federal Reserve Board has made such measures even more imperative.

* * *

It is perhaps quite trite to mention that most businesses fail because of a lack of cash. If a business cannot hold back enough from earnings to meet competition, or cannot borrow the money needed to compete, the padlock inevitably must adorn the front door.

* * *

In 1955 11,000 business firms were forced to the wall; in the first eight months of this year over 8,000 more were forced out. Failures are running double the 1952 rate. Of course, there are many reasons for business failure, but a large share of this alarming rate is due to lack of cash to keep heads above water.

* * *

And often even borrowing will not solve the situation on the present tax structure. Here is the way that works.

Suppose, for example, a small business to keep competitive has to make a $5,000 capital investment in a new building, and borrows the money. Actually, that business must pay $10,000 for that building, because out of each dollar of earnings, taxes only leave 50 cents to be paid back to the lending agency. Of course, the business can take depreciation, but this is usually offset by the interest rate.

* * *

The problem has probably been allowed to exist too long.

* * *

If it exists much longer there will be a declining problem, due to the fact small businesses still operating will be declining.

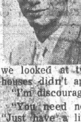
A friendly fellow, whom I knew, called one day. "We'd like to buy a home. Can you show us what $1,500 down will buy?"



I made an appointment and went out to talk things over with "Woody". After a few minutes I realized we didn't have the right kind of home listed. But, at their insistence, we looked at two or three. The houses didn't appeal to them.

"I'm discouraged," said Woody.

"You need not be," I replied. "Just have a little patience. The right home will appear before long. Unfortunately, I can't call up a wholesaler and order the house you want. But my experience tells me it'll show up soon."

"I hope so," said Woody.

Believe it or not, the next morning a man came in to list a house for sale with $1,500 down. He wanted a quick sale since he was leaving town in 10 days. I drove out to inspect it. The house had "Woody" written all over it. It was made to order.

Woody looked it over excitedly. "This is the one," he said with a wide grin. "How did you know it would appear today?"

Now, maybe we are "psychic", or perhaps "lucky". But we've succeeded time after time in filling the specific home wants of Tecumseh residents.

Grade School News . . . . . .

CENTRAL SCHOOL NEWS

Mrs. Puffer's second grade saved seeds of various kinds from their seed project last Autumn and now that the snow has come they are using them in a bird-feeding program. The children have cleared a spot in a corner of the school lawn and feed the birds there each morning.

Mr. White's fifth grade reports that they have had some experiments in Science. They were able to make some gunpowder and were able to make various colors by certain chemicals which were all ignited so the different colors could be seen. We were also able to make a fuse which we thought worked rather well. It was discovered that sulphur burned with a blue frame, which was very pretty. Our experiments will continue for at least the next month and we hope to make eventually some oxygen and hydrogen.

Our school had a chalk talk by a very skilled lady, Mrs. Margaret Bradfield. The pupils were able to see how art work was done for the new books. We were able to get one of her drawings for each class which pleased us all very much. These drawings were of animals, and one extinct bird had a delightful pair of red flannels.

The spread of communicable diseases is always a problem, but the parents can help to solve it if they make sure that their children have written permission from a medical doctor when the child returns to school. Teachers can not re-admit a child that has had a communicable disease unless the child has written permission from the doctor. Some of the most common communicable diseases reported at school are: chicken pox, measles, mumps, ringworm, and impetigo.

PATTERSON SCHOOL

Kindergarten—Mrs. Updike

We have had to postpone our trip to the farm for awhile. So many of our children are home with chicken pox and we would not want them to miss the fun. However, we will go later.

We have been enjoying the snow these winter days. Many of us are making fat snow men with hats and neck-ties. We find that an oatmeal box is just the right size to start a snow-man.

Mrs. Updike brought us a real ginger-bread house. It looks like it has snow on the roof but it is really frosting. Candy trims the windows and a good friend of ours (Old Santa) is, peeking out the door. We would love to eat it but we know that it would not look pretty in our show case if we all had a bite. Mrs. Updike said that she would bring us another one some day that we can eat.

First Grade—Mrs. Buttolph

Last Wednesday Tommy Horton celebrated his sixth birthday. His mother brought ice cream, cup cakes, and wrapped surprises for us all to enjoy. It surely was a nice party.

Most of us have finished our second pre-primer. Next week we will start our third pre-primer.

In numbers we are working on number groups of ten. We are, also, learning to write and identify our numbers to twenty.

Now that we have taken down our Thanksgiving decorations we are beginning to put up our Christmas decorations. We have many of Santa's helpers watching us, and so we are being very careful what we do so that Santa will be sure to remember us.

Second Grade—Mrs. Garlick

Jimmy Goodman brought a birthday treat for the second grade last week. Jimmy's birthday is in the summer time so he treated us now. We thing that was a real good idea and enjoyed it very much.

Second grade is making plans for the trip to the Ford Rotunda next week. Some of us have seen the Christmas Festival display in previous years and we are all eagerly looking forward to seeing it this year.

We are hearing some stories about Christmas which we have never heard before. These include stories of Christmas in other lands and stories explaining some of our Christmas customs. We are illustrating these stories and the pictures are being used on our bulletin board.

Third Grade—Miss Baker

We are very happy to welcome Carol Woodby to our third grade class.

Our first reading group have finished one basic reader and are now enjoying the stories in a book entitled Tall Tales.

In language we are learning how to tell and to write stories. We have to know how to use such words as is, are, was, were, did, done, etc. correctly.

We enjoyed a movie for science called Farm Animals in Summer and Winter.

For art we are busy making all kinds of Christmas decorations.

Fourth Grade—Mrs. Colson

Carroll Messick has joined our fourth grade. William Schulze, who has been coming only in the morning because of illness, is now able to be with us all day.

We are starting a mural of Christmas scenes for our large bulletin board. We are all taking turns working on it.

We are planning to visit the Book Fair at the library on Friday.

Fifth Grade—Mrs. Osburn

Guy Boss is ill and out of school again.

We are through with our Song Flutes and have organized a fifth grade band. Twenty-one of us are in that band.

Next Monday we are going to have our eyes tested in our own rooms.

We have started to make Christmas decorations in our room. For art we made ornaments for our trees from string and kept them in shape with wall paper paste until they were stiff. Some of us put glitter on them and they are real pretty.

The catfish in our aquarium is not a proper catfish. He is supposed to stay at the bottom of the tank and keep it clean. However, he swims around near the top of the water, most of the time. We think, mayge, he thinks he is a guppy.

We won the Attendance Award at the last P.T.A. meeting.

Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Margaret Bradfield and Mrs. Conrad Fosbender visited our room. The fourth grade girls and all of the sixth grade came in. Mrs. Fosbended gave us a short talk about Book Week and introduced Mrs. Bradfield, an illustrator of children's books, who gave us an interesting chalk talk. She left us the pictures she drew.

Sixth Grade—Mr. Gillam

We are starting to decorate our room for Christmas. We are singing carols for music. We have practiced our Christmas play which we will give in Patterson's Christmas assembly.

Some of the girls are building a paper castle which resembles those the nobles used to live in.

A boy living in Richland Center, Wisconsin wrote to our room for an English project. His name is Dick Hansen. Some of the people in our room are going to write to him.

"High Society" Here Dec. 11

Bing Crosby, Grace Kelly and Frank Sinatra, each an Academy Award winner, topping the year's outstanding cast. Cole Porter's first original score for a motion picture in ten years. Louis Armstrong and His Band. Crosby and Sinatra singing together on the screen for the first time. Grace Kelly making her debut in a musical.

That's the unbeatable entertainment offered in Col C. Siegel's production of "High Society." The big attraction, filmed in Vista-Vision and color and released by M-G-M, opens Dec. 11 at the Strand Theater.

Laid against a glittering background of Newport's social world and its summer jazz festival, the story of "High Society" has a full quota of laughs in a plot revolving around a beautiful society girl who can't make up her mind about which husband she wants, the respective happy-go-lucky sportsman and stuffy careerman who vie for her affections, and the snoopy magazine reporter who appears on the scene in quest of scandal but ends up in arranging for the right romantic parties to get together.

It's a Whiz at Everything
a car should do

It turns out that the 1957 Buick is far more than just a brand-new automobile.

It turns out that this stunningly low-styled beauty is a wonderful new whiz at everything a car should do.

It turns out that this new '57 Buick is winning the raves with a new kind of going and a new kind of stopping—a new kind of handling and a new kind of road sureness—a new kind of safety and a new kind of comfort.

We'll be specific.

When you press the pedal of a new '57 Buick, the response is literally instant...

Because the high-torque power of a new 364-cubic-inch V8 engine is delivered in the split of a second through a new full-range Variable Pitch Dynaflow that's immediate in its oil-smooth action.*

When you brake to a stop, you and the car stay on a level plane...

Because an ingenious new ball-joint suspension in every '57 Buick virtually ends the down-in-front dip that cars have on sudden stops.

When you take a turn or swing into an "S" curve, you still hug the road like a streamliner on rails—

Because under you is a massive wide-frame new chassis that "nests" the whole car inches closer to the road with the lowest center of gravity in Buick history—yet with no change in road clearance.

And when you sit in the deep comfort of those soft wide seats, you can drive with the pleasant ease of a clear conscience, without watching the speedometer...

Because only in Buick today can you have an ingenious new Safety-Minder that acts as a warning sentinel for the miles-per-hour you preset for yourself.*

There are many other new things that make this gorgeous Buick a car of limitless wonders—from the bigger and more rakish windshield that makes seeing more relieving, to the extra roominess that's so surprising in this beauty with the sports-car lowness.

But there's nothing like a firsthand sampling to know how modern the newest thing on wheels really is. Come in today for your meeting with the newest Buick yet.

New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Minder standard on Roadmaster, optional other Series.*

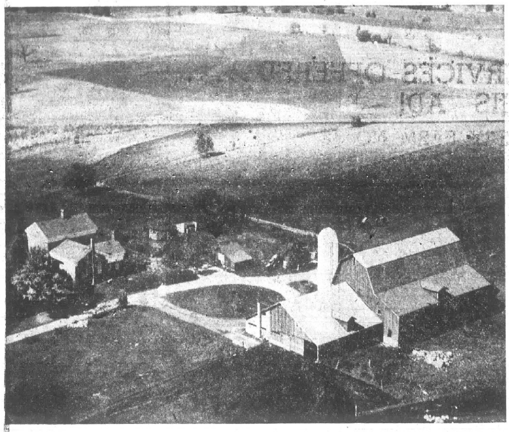
NEWS OF THE FARM

Mystery Farm Belonged To Mr. And Mrs. M. M. Halley



Mr. M. M. Halley of Staib Road, north and west of Tecumseh about 3 miles, was the owner of last week's Mystery Farm. He has owned the 133 acre farm for the past 9 years.

The farm is the former Wesley B. Keyser homestead. Mr. Keyser bought the farm in 1881 from Ralph W. Hillman. The farm was sold in 1941 to Mr. Claud Knifen of Detroit and later to Arthur Gray. Mr. Halley bought the farm in 1947 from Arthur Gray. The exact date of settlement is unknown. However it is known that the house was built in 1855.

Mr. Halley married the former Ruth Erwin in 1925. The have 4 children: Katharine (Senior Yr. of nursing at St. Joseph's in Ann Arbor), Rodger (2nd yr. at the University of Michigan), Margaret Bless (elementary teacher in Tecumseh Public Schools) and Marlynn (freshman in Tecumseh High School).

The Halley's belong to the Lenawee County Farm Bureau, the Tecumseh Grange, and the Friends Church. They raise Holstein dairy cattle and do general farming on their 133 acres. Mr. Halley is very interested in soil conservation in conjunction with the Lenawee Soil Conservation District. He has started many soil conservation practices on his farm since he has owned it.

The Halley's have received their free aerial photo from the Herald and wifl ge given $5.00 worth of free merchandise from Jerry's Mkt.

Better Farming Decisions In '57

"1957 farm incomes down" has been heard quite often in recent months. Yet some farm incomes are highest yet. This is possible only by having the best information on what decisions are correct for your farm. All farmers are asking; "can I use the Soil Bank program?"; "What prices can I expect in 1957?"; "How does Social Security affect me?".

This is what will be discussed by Leonard Kyle extension specialist in Agricultural Economics, at a meeting to be held December 11 at 8:00 p.m., Adrian High School. Recent changes in the Social Security Law will be pointed out. Some pointers will be given on how this affects farm families. No one but you can decide how the Soil Bank program will affect your farm. However, facts which are important to such decisions will be given at the Barnyard Economics meeting being held in Lenawee County. Examples will be used to show how it might affect the income position of different farm operation.

Poor ventilation in dairy barns can cause big veterinary bills, cut milk production, decrease the life of the barn, and make working in the barn unpleasant.

A fan, properly installed, along with tight doors and windows, and places for fresh air to get in and stale air to get out, can solve ventilating problems at an operating cost of $1.50 to $2.50 per month.

Animals of all ages often go off feed if they are hit with drafts or are subjected to high temperatures and humidity. This will cause cows to go down in production. Calves may get colds or pneumonia.

Ventilation won't actually increase production, but it will help to keep it level, and you will get more money from your cows than if they went off feed.

If poor ventilation forces moisture through the walls of the barn and into the structural members, paint will peel off the barn and the wooden parts will rot.

Stagnant air forces stale odors that hang in the barn through your clothes, and makes it uncomfortable for you and your wife when you go into the house.

If you can see wet walls, or find frost in the haymow, you can be pretty sure that you need some ventilation in your barn.

Fertilizer applied in the fall to meadows and pastures can save mone, and time for Lenawee county farmers, says Louis G. Hall, Lenawee county agricultural agent.

Farmers often have more time in the fall than during the spring rush, and spreaders or trucks can get onto fields now that will be too wet and soft in the spring.

Often farmers can get the analysis and amount of feltilizer they want easier in the fall than they can during the spring rush, Hall points out. And fertilizer put on in the fall will be carried to the roots of the plants by fall and spring rains, and will be ready to go to work when the weather warms up in the spring.

How About That Flavor Quality In Milk (20.5)

Dairymen generally have made much progress in the production of high quality milk as measured by such quality tests as sediment and bacteria numbers. However, flavor is the first quality test given to the product by the consumer. Greater attention must be given to the production of fine flavored milk as evidenced by a recent scoring of individual produced samples of one of the large dairy plants in the state. This is one direct concern to the producer if the market for his product is to be expanded.

In general over half the samples had a feed flavor present varying in intensity from slight to very pronounced. Much of this could be avoided during this time of the year if cows were removed from pasture for an hour or two before milking.

Another off-flavor frequently detected was "malty" or "grape-nut" flavor.

Less Leaching Loss In Future Plant Foods

Fertilizers a lot better than they used to be, but even more improved materials can be expected in the future, report Michigan State University soil scientists.

One of these improvements will be the development of slower acting or less soluble forms of chemical fertilizer that will not leach out of the soil so rapidly. Enough fertilizer can then be applied in one operation to meet the demands for a long season crop, eliminating the need for repeated applications.

Excessive potash comsumption, now a problem in alfalfa and certain other crops in some parts of the country, would also be prevented.

Other improvements will change the physical makeup of fertilizer material for easier storage and application. The development of some granular products is a start in this direction. These granular fertilizers have less tendency to cake and harden during storage and distribute more easily and uniformly in the field than older materials.

Higher analysis fertilizers containing more nutrients and less bulky inert matter, and soluble or liquid fertilizers — all now on the market — also have made storage and application easier through reduced weight and bulk. Research now being carried on will undoubtedly lead to further improvements, say the soil scientists.

More work needs to be done in developing these better fertilizers. But farmers are urged to be alert for new developments in the field because they will help increase efficiency of production and result in greater farm profits.

Local Man Hears General Gruenther Speak

Ambrose C. Hamaker of Tecumseh, while attending the Annual Conference of the Public Relations Society of America in Milwaukee last week had opportunity to meet and to hear Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, Former Supreme Allied Commander in Europe.

While he does not as yet have a copy of the text of the address, Mr. Hamaker reports that the speech was most reassuring. Working from a large map of Europe specially, colored for the purpose, the General disclosed the strategic bases from which NATO retaliatory power could be dispatched. While openly uncertain about NATO's ability to resist a full scale attack, he explained the terrific retaliatory power of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and expressed the hope that this would be a deterent to war for many years ahead.

Disappointed In Your Christmas Tree?

Does your Christmas tree shed its needles long before you want to take it down?

Lester Bell, Michigan State University extension forester, offers advice on the selection and care of your Christmas tree to help you get the most enjoyment from it.

Some trees hold their needles much longer than others. Red, white and Scotch pines have excellent needle holding ability. In the low humidity and high temperature of your home, you may expect these trees to hold their needles from the second week of December into January. Firs will hold their needles through the holidays; spruce are the first to shed their needles.

Its fragrance is one of the most noticeable features of an evergreen. All of the pines, the white pine in particular, have a very pleasant fragrance. Firs have quite a pleasing fragrance but that of the spruces is sometimes objectionable.

After you have decided whether a pine, spruce or fir best suit your needs, you must choose your individual tree. Bell lists a few important things to consider in your selection. The most attractive tree is quite dense and has good balance. The setting for the tree will dictate what type of balance you need.

A tree with three full sides and one rather flat side is perfect to use against a wall. A tree in a corner needs only two full sides while a tree in a picture window must have four attractive sides. A good taper is also important. The sides of a perfect tree taper at a 30 degree angle from the bottom straight to the top. The more closely a tree resembles a symmetrical cone the more attractive is its shape.

A dark green to blue-green tree is the most beautiful, while a greenish-yellow tree may look pale. Watch for trees that look pressed together; they probably have been cut very early and stored. These trees are not fresh and will not be attractive very long.

Bell reminds you that the average ceiling is eight feet high; when you have to cut the top off to make it fit, the tree looks chopped off. Unless you plan to cut the bottom off to use as foliage, buy a tree that fits the room.

After you choose just the right tree, take care of it. Bell directs you to cut one and one-half inches from the trunk and place the tree in a pail of water until you are ready to set it up. Use a stand which holds water to keep the tree fresh and safe, and replenish the water frequently. Water is as effective a fire retardant as the latex base sprays.

For the safest, most attractive tree, make a wise selection and give it lots of water, Bell concludes.

Girl Scout Troop Took Excursion Trip Saturday

Girl Scout Troop No. 16 took a Wabash excursion trip to Detroit last Saturday to see Cinerama, the "Seven Wonders of the World." Included in the picture were scenes of many Biblical cities including Mt. Sinai, and the Pyramids which the girls found very interesting. Also included in the Wabash Tour was a bus excursion to Belle Isle where the girls had their dinner at the Casino and visited the aquarium, the green houses, and viewed the animal life on the Island. They were then taken by bus through the tunnel into Canada, where they spent an hour and a half shopping in Windsor, before returning to Detroit over the Ambassador Bridge when both cities were beautifully lighted in the evening. Accompanying the girls were their leader, Mrs. Robert Smith, co-leader Mrs. Charles Beland, and Mrs. John Surratt.

Mail Carriers And Farm People Aid Ag. Report

How would you like to have the job of counting all the cattle and calves, hogs, sheep, poultry and horses and mules in Michigan?

That is the task facing C. J. Borum, of Lansing, chief statistician for the Crop Reporting Service which is a joint project of the Michigan Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

But of course Borum gets a lot of valuable support from farm people throughout the state, and the Post Office department. In fact rural mail carriers have just finished distributing 22,000 livestock and poultry inventory cards to farm operators in all of Michigan's 83 counties.

When farm operators co-operate by filling out the questionnaires regarding their own operations, figures are compiled at the Crop Reporting office in Lansing from these returns. From these sampling returns state and county estimates are prepared. The same process is going on in all states at this time.

Borum lauded farm operators and rural mail carriers for their fine co-operation in the past.

"Every farm operator", said Borum, "can help to provide an accurate picture of our state's livestock and poultry holdings if on receiving a card he will fill it out promptly and get it in the mail before December 7.

Local Teacher Hears Explanation Of Program

Last week Mr. Albert O'Rourke, an Executive of the Pure Oil Company, conferred with Mr. John Pobuda, local Tecumseh High School Director of Guidance, and explained the facts concerning the new 2 year Petroleum Distribution Curriculum which is a cooperative program being conducted by Western Michigan College of Education at Kalamazoo and the major oil companies, oil jobbers, gasoline dealers and related manufacturers. The cooperative work-study program at Western Michigan College is a combination of school and work, on an alternating basis. The student attends classes on the campus part-time and works on an assigned job in a business or industrial establishment part-time. In the petroleum curriculum, the students are assigned in pairs to cover one job or work station. When one student is attending classes, the other is at work on the job and the rotation takes place at the middle of each semester.

During the student's stay on the program he receives a variety of planned work experiences in the distribution of petroleum products in wholesale, retail and related areas. Students on work-study programs come into contact with the realities about which textbooks are written and can see how theory is transplanted into practice. As near as possible, each student is assigned to a job in the area nearest his home. The Petroleum Distribution curriculum is designed to prepare young people for petroleum sales, distribution and traffic management, storage and handling, promotion and advertising and service station management.

The next Petroleum Distribution groups will enroll in February with the beginning of the second semester at Western Michigan College. Recent High School graduates of the area and returning service men with High School diplomas interested in this Curriculum may get further information by making an appointment with Mr. John Pobuda at the Tecumseh High School.

Soy Beans In The Dairy Ration Are Effective

Frequently during this time of the year we hear the question from dairymen "Can we use soybeans and cull beans in our dairy rations effectively?" The answer is yes, if they are a good buy.

Ground raw soybeans are an excellent protein supplement for dairy cows and are well liked by dairy cattle when fed in such amounts that are needed to balance the ration. As would be expected they compare very favorably with soybean oil meal. In regard to TDN, soybeans contain 87.6 per cent as compared to 78.4 per cent for S.O.M. (expeller process). Soybeans contain slightly less protein 33.7 per cent as against 38.1 per cent for S.O.M.

Soybeans, however, do have a laxative effect when fed in large amounts. Therefore, for best results a ration should not exceed 20 to 25 per cent. Reports show that when 4 pounds per day were fed good results were obtained, however, when 9 pounds per day were fed some laxative effects were observed.

Apple Wood Makes Good Fire Wood

When it's cold and blowing during the holidays, what could be nicer than a roaring fire in the fireplace?

Apple wood is one of the finest fireplace woods. It holds well in the fireplace and gives a lot of heat. Apple wood also has a very pleasant aroma.

If you like a crackling fire, white birch is what you need. Elm and aspen are rather poor burning woods, but oak is highly desirable.

Though limb wood is less expensive it is more porous and body or trunk wood is a better buy. You will get more units of heat from the trunk wood so you can use less of it. Bark removed at the sawmill is sold very inexpensively as slab wood. As a bargain product it is reasonably good. The thick bark and this wood burn with a smoky fire.

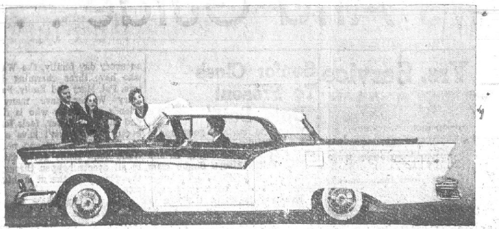
Ford Introduces Retractable Steel Top



One of the most revolutionary new idea in automotive design since the development of the closed car 40 years ago was unveiled by Ford Division of Ford Motor Company. It is a hardtop model with a fully retractable steel top which at the touch of a button slides automatically into the car's trunk, according to C. O. Butler of Butler Motor Sales in Tecumseh.

The functional design of the first automatic all-weather car has resulted in a distinctive appearance previously unattained by any hardtop model. The new car combines the advantages of both a hardtop and a convertible.

Publication of photographs of a finished model of the Ford Retractable ended nearly five years of secrecy. In that time, Ford's stylists and engineers perfected a design which has been a long-sought goal of the auto industry. The six passenger two door car is scheduled for production starting in January, and it will be sold by Ford dealers. It will be the featured car at the New York Automobile Show opening Dec. 8.

Jean Barton Got Her First Deer

Jean and Jim Barton thought they were coming home from the Hiawatha Sportsmans Club disappointed, because they did not have a deer the morning they went over to the Howard Truesdale's cabin to bid them goodbye. After leaving the Truesdales they drove most of the four or five miles out from the Club to the highway, when there by the roadway stood a deer. Before Jim could get the car stopped Jean was out loading and shooting her rifle.

Much to their amazement "Mr. Deer" waited for her to take another shot at him amid Jims loud noises to "hurry, hurry up." Well, now a proud and happy Jean is home with the first deer she ever shot, and of course she is planning to have the head mounted as proof that "Mama really dood it".

Christian Science SundayService

Man's God-given protection and power will be brought out at Christian Science services Sunday.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God the Preserver of Man" is the Golden Text from Ephesions (2:8): "By grace are yet saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God."

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

Scriptural passages will include the following from Psalms (16:5, 6, 8,): "The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance and of my cup: thou maintainest my lot. The lines are fallen unto me in pleasant places; yea, I have a goodly heritage . . . I have set the Lord always before me: because he is at my right hand, I shall not be moved."

Face Fears To Lose Them

Shocked rats are helping a psychologist at Michigan State University to demonstrate that fear is best overcome by facing the situation.

In a controlled experiment rats were found to lose their fear of being shocked electrically much faster in surroundings similar to those in which the original shock occurred. It took them more than twice as long to lose the fear in new surroundings.

"What's true of rats in this case apparently applies to humans as well," says Dr. M. Ray Denny, associate professor of psychology.

"A person freightened of public speaking or fearful of selling from door to door has to face those situations to extinguish his fears. Londoners who moved to the country to escape bombings in World War II remained scared stiff while those who stayed behind and were not harmed overcame their fear."
